CHEST LEADERS PLAN CAMPAIGN

Preliminary plans for the campaign in October were made at a meeting of the local leaders of the United Community Chest recently in the meeting rooms of the Hawthorne Methodist Church. Twelve district captains, representing most of the areas of the town pledged their support to John Younz, of Diamond Bridge Avenue, who will head the campaign again this year.

Those present at the meeting heard Carlton W. Cox, president of the United Community Chest, give high praise to the local group who last year raised $6,600 to exceed the town goal. He urged early organization this year as the key to a successful campaign. He told local leaders how the chest was further cutting administrative cost, and of the assistance local workers would receive during the campaign.

Among the honored guests at the meeting were Mayor Louis Bay, who served as honorary chairman of the drive last year, and Chief of Police Ryan VanderValk. Both Mayor Bay and Chief VanderValk pledged their official and personal support to the campaign in October.

Campaign plans were outlined by Henry DeHaan, suburban chairman and Max B. Stuart, executive director of the United Community Chest, and workers contributed suggestions for improving the campaign this year.

Present at the meeting were: John Younz, chairman; Carlton W. Cox, president of the United Community Chest; Mayor Louis Bay, Chief of Police Ryan VanderValk, Max Bx. Stuart, executive director of the United Community Chest; Henry De Haan, suburban chairman; Rev. Paul E. Spiecker, pastor of the Hawthorne Methodist Church; George Barrowclough, Llewellyn Carrodus, Mrs. E. Coleman, William De Haan, Jacob De Roze, Charles Kara, Rene Muller, James H. Rose, A. Uncle Sam Says,

Some of my nephews and nieces want to save regularly and actually do it. Others mean to save but don't always get around to it. These latter are the ones who only think about a budget. The best way to save is to do it on a regular basis, every payday. And the best investment is U. S. Savings Bonds.

If you're on a payroll, enroll for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, sign up for the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. Either way, you're building future security in the soundest way possible. And your money increases, four dollars for three in 10 years' time.

Hawthornotes For Hawthornites - - - -

Ascortmentions: Hohokus Garden Club is busy with a town beautification project and Wyckoff, our neighbor to the north, may arrange a community dogwood planting project . . . In Hawthorne there is need for a schoolground beautification project, especially at Franklin and Roosevelt Schools . . . The friendly interest of our local garden clubbers could probably be enlisted . . . The grounds of Wayne Junior High School had a beautiful display of tulips this spring . . . The bulbs were planted and cared for by the students . . If approved by the state, Ramsey High School will include a home buildng course in its curriculum this fall Sounds interesting! . . . The Haledon Board of Education has declared a ban upon American Legion and other social awards to outstanding students. The Haledon Board, yielding to an approved trend in education, has discovered that jealousy and ill feeling results among students because of the awards and has decided that happiness and brotherhood are more desirable for the students than the awards. Perhaps the American Legion Committee on Education will investigate and discover that an award to the entire student body of an outstanding school in a community or area would now be considered more desirable. An award for co-operative community action is now in preference to an award for individual accomplishment . . . A survey of local school population tells us that peak kindergarten enrollment is anticipated enrollment of 279. Seems like kindergarten teachers are going to have a busy season unless our school board can find a solution . . . New school design puts twenty-five seats in a classroom, has lighter colored chalk boards, has good natural lighting aided by clerestory windows and properly placed fluorescent lighting for dark days, places an activity center with sink and work counter in each class room, puts a great deal of emphasis on colors used in decorating both for protection of vision and for attractiveness, puts quiet work rooms in one section of the building and noisy areas, such as gymnasium and shop, in another section, allows an adequate space for each school pupil, etc. etc. . . . We see that Glen Rock, Fair Lawn and several other neighboring communities are planning school additions.

Public Service Generating Station At Sewaren Will Open On June 8

1—New Sewaren Generating Station, the latest addition to the electrical system of Public Service Electric and Gas Company. Two 100,000-kilowatt turbine-generators are now in operation. This is the first station in the country to use steam at 1,050 degrees Fahrenheit. 2—The semi-outdoor boilers at this station are unique in this latitude. The steam from these boilers is so hot that it makes the [illegible] through which it flows, glow a dull red. 3—One of the two turbine-generators now in operation at Sewaren.

The new Sewaren Generating Station of Public Service Electric and Gas Company which will cost upwards of $60,000,000 when completed, will be formally opened June 8. This electric generating station is on the Arthur Kill, in Woodbridge Township eight miles above Perth Amboy, New Jersey.

Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, members of the New Jersey Public Utility Commission and other state officials and leaders in industry, commerce and finance in New Jersey have been invited to be guests of the company at the station on the opening day and will be conducted on a tour of inspection.

Upon completion, Sewaren Generating Station will have an installed capacity of approximately 450,000 kilowatts and will be the largest of the five major generating stations which serve the Public Service electric system. Two 100,000-kilowatt turbine-generators are now in operation at Sewaren. The third generating unit is scheduled to be placed in operation there in the Fall of this year and orders have been placed for the fourth unit, scheduled for 1951.

When the station is completed in 1951 and all four generating units are in operation the Public Service electric system capacity will be 1,615,300 kilowatts.

SPENDING TOO MUCH MONEY

Washington, D. C.—A group of Senators and Representatives in Congress have been trying without much success to trim government spending. Of course no one gets very much frightened over appropriations for rivers and harbors and flood control. But the expense of keeping up with demands on us from all parts of the world is staggering.

Senator Tydings of Maryland figures it out than an over-all 5 per cent cut on total appropriations would save our government two and onehalf billions and avoid a deficit.

Senator Ferguson of Michigan proposed cutting the appropriations 10 per cent.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska was defeated when he proposed a 5 per cent reduction.

River and harbor bills are opposed by Senator Mcellar who says these measures are loaded down with too much local "fat." Senator Douglas is old-fashioned. He says these bids are 'pork barrel."

Meanwhile Uncle Sam is on the biggest spending spree in all history.

Deficit Financing

The President of the United States has asked Congress to approve a budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 of $42 billion to $44 billion dollars. The budget for the year ending July 1, 1948 was $33,800,000,000. Are we going nutty?

Let's face the facts: Tax receipts are falling off. The business volume is slipping. The President stands pat for his tax plan. "We, the people" can't understand all of this.

And apparently the political powers that rule the Nation evidently ignore the fact that we are going deeper into the hole. At least one outstanding publication in Washington predicts that the new victory loan drive will not bring enough money into the government treasury to meet its financial needs. In short, it is charged the new bond drive is "about to embark on an era of deficit financing."

Won't Get Excited

There are multitudes of scare stories about the careless management of our atomic energy plants and most of the criticism is being aimed at Atomic Commission Chairman Lilienthal. All sorts of accusations regarding the loose management are being made at the present time. Some of our Senators are demanding the resignation of Lilienthal. Senators Connally of Texas and Vandenberg of Michigan and Taft of Ohio have called for a full inquiry into Lilienthal's administration of the Atomic Program. The whole blow-up centers in the charges that Lilienthal has not handled the atomic program very well. Specifically there has been a disappearance of a small amount of Uranium 235 from the Chicago laboratory; besides there is a charge of the surreptious removal of some of the materials from the atomic energy plant. Don't form hasty opinions—the probabilities are that Lilienthal will clear up the puzzles and be cleared of suspicions.

Bum "Home Rule"

Strange as it may seem the residents of the District of Columbia were deprived of the rights of citizens to vote and to elect their own officials to rule the Capital City of the United States. This took place in 1874. Practically every natinal convention of the Republican and Democratic party promises the politicians to restore "Democracy," and restore freedom.

Sit Easy In the Boat

Calamity howlers—those who say the country is on the skids because you no longer have to pay black market prices and can afford to wait to have a salesman convince you—can pick up a little common sense from the closing remarks of Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board of General Motors, as he talked to GM stockholders at the company's annual meeting the other day.

He reviewed briefly his remarks of the two previous years, which were in the way of forecasts, then brought the picture down to the present in on of the most sensible pronouncements to come from American industry recently. He said.

"In my previous years' remarks on this subject I have made two general observations. The first is that, in a situation such as has existed, prices of necessity are in a state of unstable equilibrium, both specifically and in relation to each other. This distortion, in the very nature of things, must necessarily raise the question of the inevitable adjustment—how and when? The second is, that such adjustment can only be brought about by the pressure of goods on prices. It cannot be brought about by political propaganda on such economic relationships.

"I now pass to a third observation. These adjustments that I have referred to in previous years are now with us. Practically all goods are in ample supply, and prices are feeling the pressure and will continue to do so until a reasonable balance is reached.

"Capital goods expenditures as a pattern, are a most significant factor in the whole economy. As they go, so goes the economy, so to speak. Such expenditures are now falling off. This, together with the fact that consumer needs, urgent and not so urgent, are becoming well satisfied and all goods are moving into ample supply, means that we must now move to a lower level. It is a natural and logical phenonmenon. Nobody knows when the new level will be reached or where it will be. But it is my opinion that the new level will be, in terms of physical volume of production, considerably higher than the general prewar level.

"I hope we will let things follow their normal course rather than interfere through new wage increases or some form of panacea. Such only serves to prolong the operation and, in the end, increase its intensity. I can see not basis whatsoever for a real depression or even a recession of considerable consequence. Of course, if we do foolish things nationally in the economic area—such as a substantial increase in taxes or in other ways, which is not impossible—we might accelerate the adjustment into something worse.' '

In other words, Mr. Sloan's advice is not to rock the boat but to sit down and keep on fishing.

Travelogues

Airline economics are discussed in the U. S. Senate because public opinion has been raised against high subsidy payments. In a few short years the airlines have become million dollar institutions and air mail payments actually fly as high as the planes. Senator Brewster told his fellow lawmakers that one airplane concern made a net profit of 20 per cent in carrying mail to and from the United States.

The railroads are bumping. They have plenty of time to continue their fight against the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project, which they have frusthated for half a century.

While the Ford strike at Detroit has made almost 300,000 persons idle the government in Washington has hesitated to step in and demand a settlement of the whole busines. This could be done by oiling up the machinery of the present labor-relations act.

Well, the shipping business on the high seas has improved slightly in the last few months but it seems to be a long look ahead to discover improvements that will again give the general public trips from "anywhere to anywhere." The steamship companies have a tough job ahead to regain their position.

Finally, we could not talk about travelogues without advocating more and better highways all over the United States.

American Business

There is a steady decline in most kinds of business activity and fewer people are holding satisfactory jobs today than they were at the beginning of the year. Besides incomes are less than they were four months ago.

While raw materials are beginning to fall our farm prices have been leveling off.

All the evidences indicate that what we called the "boom" is over.

Why Not Leave Well Enough Alone?

The State of the Union hasn't improved since the President described it to Congress on January. He expressed the belief that the "economic system should rest on a Democratic foundation." But the foundation has been tumbling down. He said "economy" faced the evils of "boom and bust"—but that all would be well.

He specified a number of things that the Congress should strengthen. Among these necessities he listed consumer credit and bank control credit by the government; rent control should eb extended and strengthened; the government should be given power to make loans for the expansion of production facilities to relieve shortages; government construction of facilities should be speeded up if private industry fails to meet the public needs.

He hammered away at the Taft-Hartley Act and demanded its repeal. He expressed the idea that the Department of Labor could be rebuilt and strengthened and a minimum wage fixed by law at 75 cents an hour.

The Chief went to considerable length to defend farm price supports. He told Congress to help raise the standard of living of our citizens, specifically in the fields of social security, health, education, housing and civil rights. From the day he laid down these recommendations he has specialized in demanding that the Taft-Hartley Act should be repealed — and the Wagner Act restored. So far the President's fight to repeal the present labor management relations act has not aroused support in Congress.

What is this TaftHartley Act that Congress deliberated, studied and passed after five months struggle?

Each of the two Chambers finally agreed upon the Taft-Hartley Act. The House passed the measure by a vote of 320 to 79. The Senate approved the Act by a vote of 54 to 17. The President vetoed the bill twice. The vetoes were promptly over-ridden by Congress.

As this is the top question (from a political standpoint) let us store up, for reference, the foregoing record, and decide for ourselves whether this labor legislation is good enough to keep and be left alone.

The Taft-Hartley Act of 1947 has among its outstanding provisions the following features:

The right of employers to organize and bargain collectively.

The labor organizations and the employes have the right to seek collective bargaining elections.

In cases where labor disputes involve an interstate or a nationwide industry, the government and the courts may step in and bring the labor strikes to a close.

Officers of the unions file affidavits that Communists are not in control of the local unions.

Strikes by employes of the United States Government and of Government-owned corporations are forbidden.

Labor unions and their top officials may be hauled into court. The arrest and conviction of John L. Lewis showed very clearly that the labor unions can be hauled into courts under the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

These and a hundred other reasons are matters which the American public should understand. The history of labor legislation for all these long years produced the existing Labor-Management Relations Act. Republicans, Democrats and Dixiecrats have made it very plain that they intend to keep the Taft-Hartley Labor Laws in force.

Congress has made it clear that the President's demands to outlaw the present labor act will not succeed.

To sum up the long battle the answer is that the United States Government should "Leave Well Enough Alone"—which means that the Taft-Hartley Act will remain in force.

It may be strengthened by some changes, among which are the recommendtations by Senator Taft. Why? Because he seems to know more about the subject of fair and just legislation than anybody else in Washington.

Sheer Waste

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D La.) complains because the Senate talks economy but is planning to spend $20,000,000 on a second office building for itself. "It's a waste of money," Senator Ellender shouted, shaking his fist and jumping up and down. "The Senate is preparing to indulge itself in luxury it would never permit to any other government branch."

PLENTY MADE IN New Jersey

They served first as ornaments, then as early as the fifteenth century they were used as fasteners and since that time they have played a dual role. Throughout their long history, buttons have been fashioned from many materials or covered with the different fabrics that have been in fashion. They have been made of metal, of silver, of gold, of ivory (these are among the earliest on record) of wood and of pearl. They have sparkled with jewels and sometimes they have been cut from a single precious gem. Today, many of the most attractive buttons you see are made from the popular new plastics.

With a flourishing ready-to-wear industry and close proximity to the metropolitan fashion center, New Jersey is a logical place to carry on the manufacture of buttons. This industry rates both its value of products and the value added by manufacture in the millions. Electricity performs many intricate and important manufacturing tasks.

Veterans' News

The veterans' television program "Operation: Success!" presented everey Thursday evening at 8:00 p. m., on Channel 5, has received commendation as an outstanding program.

Ohio State University's Institute for Education by Radio has given this program an award as an outstanding television show. The award, made annually, is the top award for the radio and television industry.

This is the third award made to "Operation: Success", the others being presented by The Television Broadcasters Association and the New York State Department of the American Legion.

"Operation: Success!" is a cooperative effort of the Veterans Administration and Television Station WABD to show the public how seriously handicapped veterans with war disabilities have developed into potential productive employees.

The New Jersey Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, under the managership of Joseph F. O'Hern, has actively participated in the program "Operation: Success!". A recent show comprised of New Jersey veterans and employees of the Newark Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, received very favorable comment throughout the State resulting in employment opportunities from several establishments.

Employers interested in hiring disabled veterans who have been rehabilitated to take their place in industry, may write or telephone their needs to Mr. O'Hern at the Newark Regional Office of the Veterans Administration—MArket 3-6800.

JOB PLACEMENTS PYRAMID DURING MONTH OF APRIL

Placement of jobless workers in this area this year reached a new high for the month of April totaling 977 persons who found jobs through the New Jersey State Employment Service, Fulton and Paterson Streets, Paterson, as announced by Edward M. Schlaefer, manager.

Some employers are recalling former help and in most cases these firms list job openings with the local State Employment Service to insure filling of vacancies caused by non-returning employees who obtain employment elsewhere during a layoff.

Included in the above placement report are 13 agricultural placements. It is anticipated that this activity will increase with the coming summer months. The farmer will require more help for harvest time and additional workers will be available to man these jobs. Furthermore, seasonal unemployment in several local industries and the customary desire of many youth to work on farms during the summer months while vacationing from school will stimulate this activity.

Of the 977 persons placed, 110 were veterans. Continued emphasis is maintained to give the G.I. the first available job provided his qualifications are equal to the nonveteran.

All major occupational groups participated in the placement of the 977 persons; professional and managerial, clerical and sales, service, skilled, semi-skilled and unskilled. Approximately 36,000 persons visited the local office during April for both claims and job seeking activity.

The Paterson Labor Market area which includes Passaic County, Bergen County excepting North Arlington, Hudson County from Union City north and a small segment of Northeastern Morris County indicated a decline in non-agricultural employment for the fourth consecutive month, forcing the total from 295,100 in mid-January down to 291,400 in mid-March.

Unemployment continued to pyramid having risen from a low of 14,500 in mid-November 1948 to 23,500 in mid-January and 27,200 on March 15th, 1949.

Labor requirements are for about 4,500 workers by mid-May. Primarily, recall of former workers accounts for this figure. Job openings continue to exist for sewing machine operators, and skilled machine shop workers. A few of the other job opportunities available will be for television repairmen, automobile body repairmen, upholsterers, nursery workers, spanners, menders (embroidery), pressers, hand and machine (apparel and laundry), secretaries, stenographers, clerks, clerk-typists, and approximately 350 farm workers will be needed for agricultural employment.

Some Naval Reservists travel as much as 40 miles to attend weekly meetings.

Chevrolet's trade-mark, which has appeared literally billions of times through its use on products, in advertising and literature, has as its inspiration a piece of hotel wall paper. According to the story, W. C. Durant copied the design from a wall paper figure after weeks of fruitless search for an emblem that would be both simple and distinctive.

County Planners Report to Freeholders On Homes Developments

The Passaic County Panning Board, will submit its report "County Review of Subdivisions in Passaic County" to the Board of Chosen Freeholders at the latters meeting today. The report outlines the procedure to be followed in submitting development maps to the county planning board for its study. It also includes "Recommended Subdivision Standards" to be applied by the Board in its evaluation of each development, and a digest of the pertinent sections of the state enabling legislation. In his letter of transmittal, R. Paul Lippman of Paterson, Chairman of the Planning Board said, in part: "In its latest report 'Living Space for a Million People' the Planning Board focused attention on the increased amount of close urban development which is likely to occur in the next two decades . . . To insure that this (development) will be of greatest benefit to the County and its component municipalities requires the close cooperation of the land developer, the local platting authority and the County Planning Board . . . This pamphlet is presented as a guide to land developers and municipal officials to speed the submission of plats . . . for . . . review."

According to the report only the final map is submitted to the planning board. "Although the state enabling legislation provides only for the review of the final plat," said Mr. Lippman, "we can be of greatest service to the developer and the municipality during the preliminary stages of laying out a development. We therefore urge the developer and the municipal officials to confer with our technical staff."

The "Recommended Subdivision Standards" cover minimum lot sizes, block sizes, building setbacks, street widths, grade and drainage, sanitary sewer and water systems.

The procedure is outlined in a two-page flow diagram, followed by a sample checklist. A copy of the completed checklist for a development will be kept on file at the planning board office, one copy will be sent to the municipality and one copy sent to the developer.

Rather than delay action on each development until the Board's regular monthly meetings, Mr. Lippman appointed a committee of himself, Vice Chairman Frederick J. Wright and Commissioner Fred S. Childs to make the recommendations for the Board. The Committee will consider the maps as they are received, thus avoiding delay in the approval of maps.

Other members of the Board, all of whom have cooperated to work out the procedure, are: Freeholder Carl Unger, and Mrs. Mabel Denike, Paterson; Mrs. Clara DeKoyer, Clifton; Neil Kort and Ferdinand A. Friedrich, Hawthorne.

Army Reservists Urged to Enroll In the Army Extension Courses

Reservists are urged to enroll in the Army Extension Courses in order to maintain a high level of military preparedness.

Colonel Irving C. Avery, Headquarters, Office of the Senior Army Instructor for New Jersey, Organized Reserve Corps, Kearny Navy Yard, reported today that more than 8,000 reservists are taking extension courses in the First Army area. New Jersey is one of eight states in the First Army which includes the New England States and New York.

The extension courses are conducted by various general and special service school in accordance with the rank of the applicant, Colonel Avery explained. They consist of not more than six series of subcourses of approximately 250 to 300 credit hours each.

An examination covers the range of subject matter in the subcourse. Textbooks, maps and other necessary items are furnished free to the student.

Applicants assigned to organizations in the Reserve should apply for courses through their unit instructors. Unassigned personnel should apply to the Training Section at the Kearny Navy Yard.

Setting a standard for Chevrolet owners, the company's drivers have for the third consecutive year won industrial fleet safety honors in their home city of Flint, Mich.

PARENTS WORRY TOO MUCH IF SONS AREN'T "AVERAGE"

Adolescents vary tremendously in the rate and manner of their development, and parents shouldn't worry if their son is larger or smaller than the supposed "average" for his age, or seems slow to mature "There is no average boy," declares Dr. J. Roswell Gallagher, school physician at Phillips Andover Academy, in The Reader's Digest for June. "There is no correct average weight, height, or grade level in school for any age; nor is there an average age at which boys should take responsibility, drive cars, stay out late or shave."

In an article condensed from The Atlantic Monthly Dr. Gallagher assures parents that their son "can be well and happy and turn out to be a fine adult" even though he is smaller or has grown six inches in the last year. Real abnormalities in growth are rare.

It is sensible to be interested in your boys growth and degree of maturity, Dr. Gallagher says, but neither the rate of his growth nor his conformity to "average" is of any significance. A boys sense of his parents' confidence in him may be destroyed by parents, "Over-solicitude, constant critical appraisal and too frequent comparison with a chart or a neighbor's son."

The average weight of one group of schoolboys was found to be 127 pounds, but the range in weight was 80 to 199, the author reports. Equally wide variations are noted in intellectual interests, control of emotions, quality of judgment The parent or teacher who complains, "I wish he'd grow up," is unknowingly criticizing the boy for being his real age.

It is the rare boy who doesnt want to grow up and behave in an adult fashion, Dr. Gallagher contends, and the maturing process is often rapid. "A rowdy this month may next month be viewing with disgust his classmates' uproarious behavior."

35 COURSES AT STATE COLLEGE

Paterson State Teachers College will offer 35 courses in elementary education, business education, and general background courses for teachers at the college's 1949 summer session according to a recent announcement by Benjamin Matelson, assistant professor of social science and secretary of the summer session. A nine-weeks session will be conducted from June 20 until August 17. Most of the courses, however, will be offered in the seven-weeks session starting July 5 and closing August 17.

Paterson State is cooperating with the New Jersey State Department of Education in offering courses in elementary education to help meet the critical shortage of teachers in the elementary grades. College graduates with a standard bachelor's degree can take three courses in elementary education during the summer to qualify for an emergency certificate to teach the elementary grades this fall. These courses are Child Growth and Development. The Elementary School Curriculum, and Principles and Practices in Elementary Education.

All courses offered will be in charge of the regular staff of Paterson State Teachers College. Registration for the nine-weeks session is scheduled for Friday, June 17 from 9:30 a.m. to 12.00 noon. June 30 and July 1, Thursday and Friday 9:30 to 12:00 noon has been designated as registration time for the seven-week session.

For further information write or call Professor Benjamin Matelson, New Jersey State Teachers College, Paterson 3, New Jersey.

not only for their capacity to carry load, but also for their economy of operation. They are the first steam turbines in the country to operate with steam at 1,050 F. temperature.

One of the outstanding features of the new station is the use of the semi-outdoor type of steam boiler, unique in this latitude. This type of construction reduced the cost of the building. The three boilers are so constructed that about half the heat radiating surface, which tends to heat up the building, will have outside exposure, therby simplifying the problem of adequate ventilation for the comfort of operating personnel. Although the boilers will be normally fired with pulverized coal, they are also designed to burn oil and can be quickly switched from one fuel to the other.

100-mile Race At New Jersey State Fairgrounds

A 100-mile National championship big car auto race for Indianapolis Speedway drivers and cars will be staged here on the New Jersey fairgrounds mile track, Sunday, June 19.

The race will be directed by Sam Nunis, leading producer of big car speed vents in the nation, who superrised the National championship 100-miler at the Langhorne, Pa., mile speedway in 1947. The event, won by Bill Holland, of Reading, Pa., attracted the largest crowd in the history of the Langhorne track.

In issuing a sanction for the Trenton 100-miler, J. H. Lamb, secretary of the AAA contest board, said the race probably would be the only national championship affair of the year east of Milwaukee, Wis. It will be the first time in history that Indianapolis Speedway race cars have appeared on the New Jersey state fairgrounds track.

Nunis, meanwhile, has spent the past week at Indianapolis in signing drivers for the big event. He was slated to witness the 500-mile race there on Memorial Day.

The Trenton track, only one-mile dual purpose race course in the North Atlantic seaboard region, provides grandstand accommodations for more than 10,000. All the grandstands are covered to protect fans from the ravages of the weather.

Workmen have already begun grooming the track for the 100-mile race. A large grader has been at work for more than three weeks, and 40 tons of calcium chloride will be applied to the track before the race to assure a fast, dustless race course.

Much praise can be given to these eight grade boys for their splendid co-operation and faithful application to duty during his school year.

Bob Disbrow Seeks Second Victory In Row

Bob Disbrow, the Poughkeepsie, N. Y. chauffeur who captured the feature victory in last week's meet, will be trying to capture a repeat triumph in the midget auto races at Hinchliffe Stadium, Paterson, Friday night when Promoter Ed Otto sends the doodlebugs into weekly competition.

The midget cars are seen on the Paterson track every Friday night while stock-car auto races are viewed every Tuesday night. This pattern will be maintained throughout the season, on the fifth-of-a-mile oval where the speed shows have attracted record attendances down through the years. All the meets start 8:30 p. m.

It was Disbrow who won the feature 25-lapper at the Paterson midget car meet last week, posting his first main-event triumph of the campaign on this track. He will be seeking a repeat decision Friday night as he matches speed and skill with the crack field of chauffeurs under the American Race Drivers Club banner.

Other winners of the Paterson features this season will be among those in the lineup for this meet, these being Len Duncan who took the inaugural 25-lapper; Don Morris of Flushing, N. Y.; Art Cross of East Rutherford, Mike Nazaruk of East Meadow, N. Y.; Ernie McCoy of Reading, Pa. who annexed a double win early last month, and then Disbrow of the Poughkeepsie racing brothers.

When the stock-car races are presented at Hinchliffe Stadium Tuesday night, the field will include the drivers who have clicked in the early competition at the Paterson track. Among them will be seen Lew Volk, the Newark ace; Rocky Di Natale, Eastern champion; Eddie Ader who stems from the well-known Jersey racing family; and Nelson Applegate along with the many chauffeurs who carry the banner of the Eastern Stock Car Drivers Club.

Di Natale is the defending Eastern champion and he will be hunting for a title defense triumph as he seeks to add precious points in the standings Tuesday night. The Trenton favorite wants to best Volk who took him in tow during the inaugural meet on the Paterson track in a bitter battle. With stock cars brand new to the Hinchliffe Stadium speedway, the drivers are gaining momentum as they become more familiar with the track surface. They have been burning up the oval with their spectacular speed with no holds barred and they are posting blading performances in their wild pursuit of victory. The 25-lap race will feature these Tuesday-night meets, too.

OPPORTUNITY DRIVE IN JUNE

That bankers, more than any other profession, "are personally interested in the welfare of all citizens" was assured today by Mr. Roy G. McKnight, Vice-President and Cashier, Peoples Bank of Hawthorne in discussing the leadership of the New Jersey Bankers Association in the May-June "OPPORTUNITY DRIVE" biggest peacetime savings-bonds campaign of the Treasury Department.

Mr. McKnight voiced the message of Frank F. Allen, president of the Jersey Bankers' group and president of the Seacoast Trust Co., Asbury Park. Allen, one of the key state leaders summoned by Governor Driscoll and N. J. Treasury Bond Director Raymond A. Glennon of the New Jersey Treasury Salute in Newark, wrote to Secretary Snyder and to his fellow New Jersey bankers yesterday: "Bankers, by their very position, are the financial leaders in their communities. Everyone who has a financial problem comes to them for advice. To accomplish this practical requirement, they must have first in mind the welfare of their citizens, all their citizens."

Our future success is contingent on the continued success of —not only our customers but each and every person in the community with whom we hope to do business. We must, as bankers, concentrate on insuring the continued prosperity of all our customers. The Treasury's Opportunity Drive points the way and we can assist in many ways; encouraging stored up purchasing power, thrift plans in payroll savings; advertising, to carry the savings bonds message to everyone in our community.

Twin boys were born recently to an economics professor. Could that be construed as an optimistic trend for the future?

FAMED NEW JERSEY INFANTRY REGIMENT AGAIN ORGANIZED

The New Jersey National Guard has completed the organization of another of its major components, the 114th Infantry Regiment.

Twenty units of the regiment have been federally recognized since the establishment of the first unit, Headquarters and Headquarters Company in Trenton during October, 1946. The present strength of the regiment is 1709 officers and men.

Major General Donald W. McGowan, Commanding General of the 50th Armored Division, NJ NG, complimented the regiment's commander, Colonel Walter D. Fetterly, on the achievement.

"Organization of the Heavy Mortar Company marks the successful completion of the reorganization of New Jersey's famed 114th Infantry, and is a long step forward in New Jersey's contribution to national preparedness," General McGowan said. "Colonel Fetterly's accomplishment is indicative of the vigorous leadership and splendid organizing ability which the present-day mission of the National Guard requires."

The reorganized 114th is at present attached to the 50th Armored Division. During World War II it was part of the 44th Division, and fought in the European Theatre of Operations. The president'al Unit Citation was awarded to the 2nd Battalion of the regiment for successfully repulsing a critical German counterattack at Schalbach, France, in November, 1944.

The 2nd Battalion at that time was commanded by Fetterly, then a lieutenant colonel.

Colonel Fetterly assumed command of the regiment shortly after the establishment of its headquarters in 1946. By March 30, 1949, twenty units of the regiment had successfully met federal requirements for recognition. The last unit to be completed was the Heavy Mortar Company in Trenton.

Major units of the regiment are dispersed throughout various sectors of the state. Besides Headquarters and Headquarters Co., there are also stationed at Trenton, the headquarters section of the Medical Company, the Service Company, and the Heavy Mortar Company. The regimental Tank Company is located in Lakewood. Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, Medical Section, and Companies A and B are located in Camden. Other 1st Battalion units are Company C in Burlington, and Company D in Mt. Holly. The 1st Battalion began organization December 1946 with Headquarters Company and Company A, and completed it in January 1499 with the establishment of Company B.

Second Battalion began organization in June, 1947, with Company F in Somerville. The Battalion was completed with the recognition of Company G in Woodbridge in December, 1948. Headquarters Company 2nd Battalion Medical Section, and Company E are located in New Brunswick, and Company H is in Princeton.

The entire 3rd Battalion is in Elizabeth, where it began organizing in February, 1947, with Company K. Company I was the last to be completed, in January 1949. Other 3rd Battalion units in Elizabeth are the Medical Section Company I and H.

Prior to his assignment to the 114th, Colonel Fetterly was commanding officer of Reserve Command, Paterson, another major component of the 50th Armored Division.

Farmers Take On Hot Weather Job; Keeping Perishable Products Cool

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

It's not enough for the farmer to keep himself cool in the summer. He must think about his perishable products too. And that goes for family use, as well as for market. For there's neither food value nor profit in milk, butter, eggs, meat and fruit which are unprotected against summer heat. Vegetables, also, unless marketed from 24 to 36 hours after harvesting in hot weather, lose their saleable freshness.

For these reasons, proper refrigeration on the farm is not only desirable, but necessary. There was a time when the cellar was about the only cool place available on the farmstead for "storing" perishable produce. However, cellars, generally, get no cooler than about 50 degrees Fahrenheit—not cool enough for safe storage purposes. Also, many of them are damp or poorly ventilated. None are just right to perform the job expected of them. That's why electrical refrigeration has had such a welcome reception on farms. It provides controlled temperature and humidity, makes the use of ice unnecessary, saves time, and effectively prevents hot weather spoilage losses.

Household refrigerators eliminate miles of walking and tiresome trips up and down stairs to "cold storage" rooms in farm basements. They cost only a few cents a day to operate and save food worth many times that sum.

The farm and home freezer is a super cold appliance. It use enables farm families, with a minimum of time and work, to freeze and preserve fruits and vegetables as they ripen, thus eliminating waste. Meat, too, can be frozen and kept in top condition until ready for use. Instructions for using freezers are provided by the manufacturer, and should be followed closely. Food must be correctly prepared and correctly packaged so it will emerge as fine flavored as when placed in the freezer.

A number of farmers also have walk-in coolers for the storage of large quantities of marketable perishable produce. These storage coolers may be purchased commercially or built on the farm. Among other advantages, their use permits farmers to harvest over a longer period of time, and to have animals butchered for food and resale during all seasons.

Diamond Gloves Championships Start June 15

Something new in the pre-tournament preparations will be introduced in The 1949 Paterson Diamond Gloves Championships. Sunday, June 5, at the City Hall Annex, Paterson, when "screenings" will be held for all amateur boxers from Bergen and Passaic Counties.

This is done to provide better punching programs and smoother pre-show arrangements for the tournament sponsored by The Paterson Evening News Athletic Association, Inc., and the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Local No. 1 of Paterson. The first show will be staked outdoors Wednesday night, June 15 in Hinchliffe Stadium, Paterson.

In previous years, the procedure has been to notify the boxers scheduled to compete, to report at the stadium the night they are to see action. His AAU registration must be checked, he must be weighed to determine the class he will compete in, and must submit to a physical examination.

These time-consuming details, result in considerable confusion. The net result is that some boxers who come to the stadium, expecting to box, wind up as spectators. This is unfortunate for them and their friends who expect to see their favorites in competition.

"Screenings" will also eliminate the fictitious entries received by The Diamond Gloves committee.

To eliminate as much confusion as possible, the Paterson News-PBA tourney officials will hold the "screening" of all boxers on June 5 in the Paterson City Hall Annex, 141 Ellison Street, Paterson.

All boys who will compete in The Diamond Gloves must appear that day between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. They must bring with them proof of the fact that they are at least 15 years old in the form of a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, driver's license, draft card, or similar papers, plus two small head photos of themselves.

This "screening" process will not eliminate the weigh-in or physical examination the night the Diamond Glover reports to box. Through this special "screening" the tourney officials feel they will know beforehand who will compete on a designated night and few, if any, will be denied a chance to participate because some technicality may have been violated.

This arrangement will be fairer to everyone concerned.

In the meantime, tickets have been placed on sale for the first and all succeeding shows. They ar popularly priced and may be purchased or reserved now at the Paterson Evening News office or Paterson Police Headquarters.

Entry blanks and further information pertaining to the Paterson Diamond Gloves Championships may be obtained from Henry C. Schwartz, Sports Department, Paterson Evening News, Paterson.

A major overhaul is given to Navy flying boats, MARS, every 5,000 flight hours.

New Jersey S.E.S. Announce New Summer Schedule

New schedule of summer hours or operation for the New Jersey State Employment Service office at Fulton and Paterson Streets, Paterson, N. J. will begin June 1, Manager Edward H. Schlaefer announced Tuesday. From that date through September 30, the office will remain open from 8:30 a. m. until 4:00 p. m., five days each week, Monday through Friday.

The normal schedule will be resumed Monday, October 3.

Chevrolet began advertising in 1919 with a campaign in 13 newspapers in six cities. Today, the company uses approximately 7,500 newspapers in 6,000 cities.

GRADUATION GIFTS SHOULD BE PRECIOUS AND PRACTICAL

The idea of rewarding young people for educational achievement is an old one, but from its beginning, people seem to have following the custom of giving something both precious and practical.

According to the Jewelry Industry Council, this habit of rewarding the good student dates back to the Renaissance. In those days the gift was apt to be a heavy gold buckle to adorn the youth's elegant attire, or a gem encrusted sword to hang at his side. But it was always something to be worn or used with pride in both its value and good looks.

Happily, today's young male has no use for a sword to dangle from his belt. But you can expect to see his eyes shine with real pleasure at the sight of a fine watch, a gold bound wallet or a smart new ring. Your Jeweler will be full of suggestions that will please the graduate, whether you have a little money to spend or whether this is an occasion where you can indulge in a really expensive reward for work well done.

Jewelry store sales indicate that watches, watch bracelets, necklaces, rings, compacts and silverware are the top choices of most shoppers who are looking for a girl graduate's gift.

There is an interesting trend toward starting a really good charm bracelet for the girl graduate. One which she can add to throughout her "courting" days. A similar sentiment guides the starting of a set of fine silverware for the young woman who likes to plan lovely things for the home she hopes to have one day. A place setting or two of her favorite pattern will get her off to an excellent start and will encourage her to use her pin money wisely toward building her collection from time to time.

CONDEMNED TO NEGLECT

"Although each year tuberculosis strikes down five thousand youngsters of high school age, not one in twenty school tests its students for tuberculosis. A standard tuberculosis test or a chest X-ray takes only a few minutes and costs less than two dollars. But only the rare school provides either of these services. Only one state—New Jersey—has a compulsory tuberculin-testing program in all its high schools." From: "Condemned to Neglect"—Women's Home Companion, April 1949.

More Navy-assisted amphibious landings took place during World War II than ever before in the history of warfare.

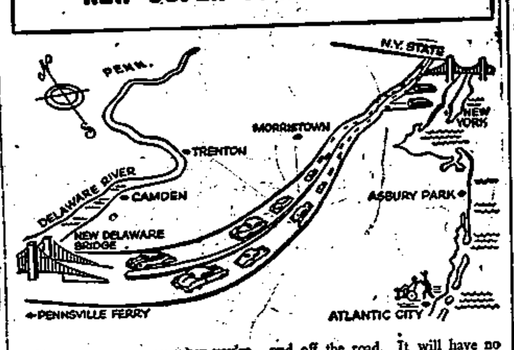
WORK BEGUN ON NEW JERSEY'S NEW SUPER TOLL HIGHWAY



If someone stops you when you're driving along one of New Jersey's traffic arteries and asks where you came from and where you're going, don't be worried. The chances are that your questioner will be a traffic analyst gathering detailed information about traffic flow as part of the engineering studies for the New Jersey Turnpike.

This 130-mile super-highway, which was authorized by the last session of the state legislature, will run from a point near Alpine, north of the George Washington Bridge, to Deepwater, between Camden and Pennsville. It will sweep across the New Jersey meadows and will cross the Pulaski Skyway, wending its concrete ribbons in a southerly direction through Bergen, Hudson or Passaic Counties, or both, through Essex and Union to Middlesex. Then it will take a southerly and westerly course through Middlesex, Monmouth or Mercer Counties, or both, into Burlington, Camden, Gloucester and Salem to its southwestern terminus.

The work on this vital new traffic artery has already started. A number of consulting engineering firms are engaged simultaneously in test-boring the meadows, studying traffic, investigating the geological conditions which will affect highway foundations, planning traffic interchanges and estimating construction costs. Other experts are at work on bridge engineering surveys.

This new road will be what is known as a limited access highway, with traffic interchanges at strategic points to allow vehicles to get on and off the road. It will have no traffic lights and no grade crossings. A division strip will separate traffic flowing in opposite directions. It will incorporate every possible safety factor. It is too soon to say just how many lanes it will have initially, but a right-of-way sufficient for many lanes will be purchased.

The New Jersey Turnpike, as the new super-road will be known, will connect with free highways to various points of New Jersey. It will have connecting free roads to the Holland Tunnel, the Lincoln Tunnel and the George Washington Bridge, as well as to such cities as Trenton, Camden, Atlantic City and many other New Jersey cities. At Deepwater it will connect with a new bridge now being built across the Delaware River.

The new highway will be financed by revenue bonds to be issued by the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, a three-man, non-salaried body named by Governor Driscoll and made up of Paul L. Troast, Passaic builder; George Smith, New Brunswick industrialist; and Maxwell Lester, Jr., Summit banker. The highway bonds will be redeemed from tolls paid by vehicles using the new road, which is expected to be a large time-saver for motor vehicles.

Drivers who prefer can use free highways which parallel the route of the new super-highway. But only those who use the new road will pay for it: all costs of construction, operation and maintenance must be paid solely from tolls. Thus, out-of-state vehicles, which are expected to be large-scale users of this road, will also help pay for it.

Don't forget to plan for your TELEPHONES!

● Building or remodeling? While your plans are in the blueprint stage it's a good idea to decide where you want telephones placed.
● During construction it's a simple and inexpensive matter to have telephone conduit (ordinary iron pipe) placed in the walls. Then when your telephones are installed, all wires will be concealed, and every instrument will be where you planned to have it.
● Our "Architects and Builders Service" will be glad to assist you, without charge, in planning telephone conduits. Just call your telephone Business Office.

WASHINGTON WEEK

Washington, D. C.—The distorted expressions on certain faces around this town are the result of the stench from that red herring."

Because today its decayed carcass is right back in the laps of President Truman and Attorney General Tom Clark.

Mr. Clark doesn't like to have this thing brought up because of fear somebody will recall how he once indirectly called the President a crackpot on the subject of communism.

On June 21, 1946, in a warning against Communist activities, Mr. Clark said:

"No one but a complete 'crackpot' can be deluded by what we are going on today."

Truman Termed Communism "Bugaboo"

Less than a year later, on April ..., 1947 it was revealed that President Truman had written a letter to Pennsylvania's former Governor, George Earle, under date of February 28, 1947, in which the Chief Executive scoffed at fears of Communism in the following manner:

"People are very much wrought up about the Communit 'bugaboo' but Iam of the opinion that the country is perfectly safe as far as communism is concerned —we have too many sane people. Our government is made for the welfare of the people and I don't believe there will ever come a time when anyone will really want to overturn it."

Undoubtedly, Mr. Clark was striving in desperation to get out from under his "crackpot" inference against "his boss" when he advised Mr. Truman to use the "red herring" gimmick in his campaign last year.

Maybe so, but the latest startling revelations of Communist activities in this country only serves to emphasize Mr. Clark's "crackpot" evaluation of people who think as President Truman.

Results of Communist Plot Seen Directly

Gerhard Eisler escaped from America's greatest security forces under the control of Mr. Clark.

The Atomic Energy Commission doled out costly atomic scholarships to known Communists and then its chairman, David Lilienthal, had the effrontery to defend its action before the public.

A batch of U-235, the world's most precious material, disappeared from an AEC laboratory. Seven weeks later the FBI was notified that the U. S. had "lost" more uranium than it possessed when the 2 billion atomic program was put underway.

These things bring to life another ghost of the 1948 presidential campaign. Mr. Truman told folks at Oklahoma City on Sept. 28, 1948:

"I regret to say that there are some people in the Republican Party who are trying to create the false impression that Communism is a powerful force in American life. These Republicans know that this is not true."

"Our government is not endangered by Communist infiltration. It has preserved its integrity and it will continue to preserve its integrity as long as I'm Presiddent."

Public Service News

Changes in organization in the electric department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, effective June 1, are announced as follows by President George H. Blake:

Edmund J. Thimme, to be industrial relations manager.

Carlton L. Dudley, to be assistant general superintendent of distribution.

Oscar Bauhan, to be transmission and substation engineer.

Theodore Seely, to be division superintendent. Essex Division.

Joseph J. Glatzel, to be division superintendent, Passaic Division.

Theodore G. Pierson, to be assistant division superintendent. Passaic division.

David E. McFarland, to be division distribution engineer, Passaic Division.

These changes follow the previously announced promotion of Arthhr R. Nelson from assistant general superintendent of electric distribution. Mr. Nelson succeeds John S. Ware, who died April 23.

(Brief sketches of the above-mentioned men are given herewith.)

A graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree in electrical engineering in 1923, Mr. Thimme started with Public Service as a draftsman in the company's Bergen Division, July 3, 1922. The following year he was appointed a cadet engineer and upon completion of that course in August, 1926, he was made an engineer in the company's Passaic Division. On February 1, 1929 he was promoted to division distribution engineer and was named assistant to the division supereintendent, Passaic Division, October 16, 1937. Mr. Thimme became division superintendent in that division June 16, 1945. Mr. Thimme lives at Valley View Terrace, Packanack Lake.

Mr. Dudley is a graduate of Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University in the class of 1919. He also had one year of graduate work in engineering. He started with Public Service as a cadet engineer in 1920 and upon completion of his cadet training course was made engineer in the company's Essex Division. In 1926 he was transferred to the general office as an engineer, five years later became assistant distribution engineer. He served as division superintendent, Southern Division, until April 20, 1942, when he was transferred to Essex Division in the same capacity. Mr. Dudley lives at 410 Richmond Avenue, Maplewood.

Following graduation from Stevens Institute of Technology in 1923, Mr. Bauhan started with the company as district substation operator in the New Brunswick district. He was transferred to the general office in 1924, and from then, until 1942, served as engineer and installation engineer for the transmission and substation engineer on the design and construction of substations and switching stations. Because of the large increase in industrial power demand following this country's entry into World War II, Mr. Bauahn, in 1942, was assigned the job of coordinating the engineering of Public Service facilities with the equipment of the various war industries. On May 1, 1945 he was promoted to assistant transmission and substation engineer. Mr. Bauhan lives at 63 Coolidge Avenue, West Caldwell.

Starting with Public Service as a cadet engineer following his graduation from Stevens Institute of Technology with the degree of mechanical engineer in 1923, Mr. Seely, upon completion of his cadet training course, was assigned to the Electric Distribution Department, Central Division. After one year in the Perth Amboy District, Mr. Seely was transferred to the Elizabeth district. In 1930, he entered the office of the distribution engineer of the general office, as assistant engineer. He was advanced to distribution planning engineer in 1937, and to assistant distribution engineer in 1940. In 1943, Mr. Seely was transferred to the transmission and substation engineer's office as assistant transmission and substation engineer, and, on May 1, 1945, he was made transmission and substation engineer. Mr. Seely lives at 42 Glen Ridge Parkway, Glen Ridge.

Mr. Glatzel started with Public Service in 1926 as division substation engineer, Passaic Division, after having been associated with General Electric Company. He was made division substation engineer, Central Division, on April 1, 1937, and returned to Passaic Division as assistant division superintendent. June 16, 1945. Mr. Glatzel lives at 13 Sunset Terrace, Packanack Lake.

He was graduated from Rutgers University with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering in 1923 and later took graduate work in engineering at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute.

Mr. Pierson started with Public Service as a cadet engineer July 2, 1928 after being graduated by Lehigh University. Upon completion of the cadet training course, he was assigned to Passaic Division in 1931. Four years later he became district distribution engineer and on January 1938 was made division distribution engineer, Passaic Division. He lives at 231 Bamford Avenue, Hawthorne.

After being graduated by Stevens Institute of Technology in 1925 with a mechanical engineering degree, Mr. McFarland started with Public Service as a cadet engineer July 1, 1925. Upon completion of his cadet training course he was assigned to Passaic Division and on March 1, 1936, was made district distribution engineer. Two years later he was made assistant engineer and on December 1, 1940 became assistant division distribution engineer. He lives at 2 Audubon Place, Fair Lawn.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

THERE IS BUT ONE CHOICE

Government — Federal, state and local—is now taking more than 31 per cent of the national income. This means that the average American taxpayer is paying almost one-third of his earnings to support government.

Many people, including numerous tax experts, say that if the upward trend in taxation continues:

1. The nation's entire economy will be disrupted.

2. Taxation will be beyond the ability of the people to pay.

Either of these happenings will play our nation right into the lap of communism. In England, where government is taxing about 40 per cent of the national income, there is real fear that government spending is strangling the British economy, and state socialism is already far advanced. In this country, tax authorities agree that most income sources are already being taxed "up to the hilt" and that any further taxation will fall heaviest on the "average man," and breed doctrines that would spell the end of orderly government.

What is the answer?

As the New Jersey Taxpayers Association points out: Federal, state, and some of the larger local governments must adopt a new kind of spending program. Time was when the best budgeting required the setting up of an operating program. Then the cost of this was estimated and the necessary taxes are levied.

Today, the association points out governmental wants seem endless—far beyond the ability of the taxpayers to support. So government today must set a limit on its income demands. Then it must seem maximum economy through improved administration and business procedures. It must then prepare an operating program that stays within the available income.

To do otherwise will lay on America the curse of improvidence. We have, the association says, but one choice—if government is to remain at the service of the people, and not the people at the service of the government. We must live within our income.

Since air expands with temperature increases, the Chevrolet Service Department advises a close check on tire pressures during hot weather months. Recommended front and rear pressures on the 1949 Chevrolets are 24 pounds per tire.

Green Pasture Entry Blanks Being Mailed

Entry blanks and descriptive literature for the New Jersey Green Pasture Program are being mailed this week from the office of Agricultural Agent, Robert R. Windeler to Passaic County dairy and beef cattle farmers.

The Green Pasture Program is being sponsored by the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture, Rutgers University, in co-operation with a number of agricultural organizations and commercial firms in New Jersey.

Patterned after the Green Pasture Program which proved so successful in the New England States last year, it is designed to encourage the growing of better pastures and cropland in New Jersey. The sponsoring committee recognizes the importance of grass and legumes in keeping Garden State livestock farms prosperous.

County and state champions will be selected and honored with certificates and suitable awards.

Windeler urges Passaic County farmers to get their entry blanks to him promptly. The deadline for entries is June 10. Any farmer who maintains livestock on pasture is eligible to enter.

Navyman George Sanderson, 87, from Richmond Calif., spent 44 years on active duty.

Of 35,700 beneficial suggestions submitted by Navy civilian employees in 1948 almost 11,000 were adopted.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO CRASH VICTIM

Richard F. Sweeney, 21-year-old Hawthorne college student who was killed in an auto accident on Greenwood Lake West Shore Road Sunday morning was buried yesterday in Maryrest Cemetery, Darlington.

Early in the morning relatives friends and college classmates of the popular Seton Hall student gathered in the John J. Feeney funeral home, 385 Park Avenue, to pay their last respects before the start of the funeral to the church.

St. Anthony's R. C. Church in Hawthorne was filled with mourners for the high requiem Mass. Most of these joined the long procession when it started up Lafayette Avenue, in Hawthorne toward Darlington. Patrolman Robert Rollo was assigned by the Hawthorne Police Department to handle traffic in front of the church on Diamond Bridge Avenue.

Among the more than 700 persons who gathered at the funeral home Tuesday night to recite the Rosary was the Most Rev. Thomas A. Boland, Bishop of Paterson; Rev. Lurin Trudel, S.D.P., who attended with the group from St. Anthony's Paris Council of the National Council of Catholic Women; Rev. Ladislaus J. Flek, who attended with a group from St. Anthony's Holy Name Society, and the St. Anthony's Mothers' Group; the Rev. Dennis Hayes, who attended with a group from the National Council of Catholic Women in Paterson.

Among others present were Sheriff Chris Edell, Mayor Louis Bay II and Commissioner John L. Titus of Hawthorne, and classmates of the youth from Seton Hall College, relatives and many friends.

At the church, the casket was carried past the youth's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Sweeney, his sister, Carol J., and a brother, Leo Jr., all of 180 Bamford Avenue, Hawthorne, by classmates of the youth who acted as pallbearers, John Tackels, Felix Salerno, Joseph Naughton, Thomas Gavin, Jack O'Brien and

Some of my nephews and nieces want to save regularly and actually do it. Others mean to save but don't do it. Others always get around to it. These latter are the ones who only think about a budget. The best way to save is to do it on a regular basis, every payday. And the best investment is U. S. Savings Bonds.

If you're on a payroll, enroll for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, sign up for the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. Either way, you're building future security in the soundest way possible. And your money increases, four dollars for three in 10 years' time.

Dear Zeke:

It's all right tew pull sumbody else's chestnuts out'n the fire if'n yew first git tow buy yerself sum asbestos gloves and a pair of tongs. It pays tew be prepared, becuz a feller kin sumtimes git burned pretty bad by the coals in sum other feller's fire.

No matter how yew look at it, it doesn't make sense tew drag chestnuts out'n sumbudy's fire unless yew manage tew git a taste of 'em. When chestnuts are roastin', they have a full flavor some odor that tantalizes the appytite and it isn't much fun tew have it waftin' past yer nose if'n yew are buildin' it up fer a letdown.

Sumtimes yew may get tew pull chestnuts out'n an oven instead of a fire and this looks safe and pretty classy until yew gits yer head stuck in the oven door. Chestnuts are chestnuts and no matter how yew roast 'em, it's a risky business and yew should be prepared tew face the consequences.

Sum fellers are smart. They gits so good at takin' t'other fellers chestnuts out'n the fire that they figger out a way tew start another fire so they kin roast sum chestnuts of their own. This is a good way tew pull a fast one and teach t'other feller a trick or two. After he gits his own blisters, he will sit down and contemplate what a handy asset yew have bin.

No matter how yew figger it, the experience yew get from pullin' chestnuts out'n fire always pays dividends. Once yew burn yer fingers and singe yer eyebrows, yew are goin' tew be downright careful about the chestnuts you pick, yew are goin' tew be sure tew pull them out'n the right fire and yew are goin' tew make sure yew get a share fer yer efforts. You might even start roastin' yer own so that yew kin have the fun of hearin' 'em pop.

Rhodes Praises Fire And Police Departments At Annual Dinner

Characterizing the Hawthorne Police and Fire Departments of Hawthorne as among the finest in the state, County Treasurer Raymond L. Rhodes, urged both departments to keep up their high degree of efficiency as an example for the younger men who will some day take over the duties of the department.

Rhodes spoke at the annual dinner of the departments after the inspection which was held in the Lafayette Fire Hall last Monday evening.

He traced the history and the accomplishments of the departments to the present day and paid a tribute to the men, many of them with as high as thirty years service to their credit, for the fine department as it exists today. He stated that Hawthorne which is free of crime was proud of the police department and one low fire rate in the borough was a tribute to the fire department.

Mayor Louis Bay under whose department the fire and police departments included stated that he was also proud of the record made by the men. He stated that in going throughout the state he had observed other departments and that when he returned to Hawthorne he felt that ours was the best of them all. He also urged that the men maintain the present rate of efficiency and loyalty they had shown in the performance of their duties.

Commissioners John L. Titus and William E. Fairhurst also extended their congratulations to the departments.

The program was opened with the invocation by the Rev. L. Flek of St. Anthony's Church. The Hawthorne Firemen's Band then played America. The presentation of the police department was made by Chief Ryan VanderValk and the fire department by Chief Dominick Mele; acceptance of the departments by Mayor Louis Bay, director of public safety. Inspection of both departments by the mayor and borough commissioners.

Roll call by clerk Edward de Jager of the police and fire board.

At this point in the program a moment of silent prayer was offered by the Rev. Andrew M. Van Dyke of St. Clement's Church for two departed members Fireman Thomas Petty and Officer John L. Meyer and Fireman Frank Lanterman while taps were played by the Hawthorne Fire Department band.

The "Star Spangled Banner" by the fire department band and benediction by the Rev. John S. Moore of the First Reformed Church of Hawthorne.

Two years later the store was moved to East Ridgewood Avenue, occupying what is now two stores and part of another, at which time beds, bedding and linoleum were added to the stock.

The next move was in 1930 to the present quarters on Chestnut Street where a complete stock of furniture was made available to the ever increasing patronage. In 1942 needing additional space, a large area extending to the Edward J. Garisa of 93 Horton Avenue was given a summons by Officer Walter Vandenberg for driving an auto without a license and leaving the scene of an accident Sunday morning at 12:50 o'clock.

An extensive search began for Garisa after police had traced the number of the car to that of his wife, Delta Mary Garisa of 93 Horton Avenue and Officers Vandenberg and Salisbury went to the home and found the damaged car.

Garisa admitted driving south on Lincoln Avenue when a car traveling in the opposite direction with high headlight beams blinded him and he struck the left rear fender of the other car. He stated that he drove to the intersection of Parker and Lincoln Avenues, looked back and

Here's one big, safe resolution for 1949: "Resolved, I will take advantage of the opportunity presented by my government to buy U. S. Savings Bonds regularly; the finest, safest and most convenient investment in the world." If you stop to think of it there's no better time than right now to start building a comfortable cushion for later years. Upon maturity, U. S. They can be bought regularly under two convenient purchasing plans, the Payroll Savings Plan where you are employed or the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

Protection for Taxpayers

To the "average citizen," one of the less glamorous sides of government is the operation of the municipal budget. Yet, the budget has much to do with the cost of government. For instance, it is the foundation for determining municipal property tax rates. It is through the local budget that the municipality determines the amount citizens must take from their pocketbooks to pay their share of local taxes.

The wise taxpayer knows that in the municipality, as in his own household, the budget must be well-conceived. As a guide to local expenditures, it must be observed carefully. He knows that it represents protection. There must not be any deviation or short-cutting of budgeting principles.

There was one such attempt in the State Legislature this year. A proposal, which passed both houses, would have permitted New Jersey municipalities to purchase parking meters without first providing the necessary expenditure in the local budgets. As Governor Driscoll stated last week when he vetoed the bill, "It is unwise in my judgment to begin to make exceptions to proper control provisions of the local budget laws."

Authorities on budgeting agree that a municipal budget should represent the complete financial plan of the municipality. As the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, which opposed the parking meter measure, states: "If New Jersey's local budgets are to fulfill their two major purposes (administrative control and protection to taxpayers) they must be complete. The Governor's veto means that parking meter expenditures, just as those for all other purposes will first have to be budgeted. This gives notice to the public that the expenditure is planned, and guides public officials as to the amount of money available for the purpose."

Veterans' News

Joseph F. O'Hern, Regional Manager of the Veterans Administration, announced today that he had been instructed by the Washington office of the Veterans Administration to effect changes in the collection of insurance premiums of New Jersey veterans.

After Friday, June 24, 1949, payment of life insurance premiums on policies administered by the Veterans Administration will no longer be accepted in the Veterans Administration Offices located in Union City, Trenton, Camden and Paterson. Veterans may continue to pay their insurance premiums in person at the Newark Regional Office as heretofore.

Veterans residing in New Jersey are encouraged by Mr. O'Hern to mail their insurance premiums to the Veterans Administration District Office, 5000 Wissahickon Avenue, Philadelphia 1, Pennsylvania. O'Hern further stated that veterans, remitting payments on their U. S. Government of National Service Life Insurance, should be very careful to give full identification of their policies for which payments are being made.

New Jersey Taxpayers

Unless New Jersey local government is strengthened, both citizens and public officials may find more and more municipal functions under control of the State and Federal Governments.

So warned the New Jersey Taxpayer Association today as it urged adoption of legislation to improve the State's municipal government structure. Governor Driscoll has tentatively scheduled a special session of the Legislature this Fall to consider the proposals of the State Commission on Municipal Government. The Association said:

"Both citizens and public officials alike must take a united stand for improvements of forms of municipal government to prevent control of local affairs from the outside.

"Already some New Jersey municipalities are placing excessive reliance on higher levels of government to solve local problems. This can only result in:

"1. A loss of fundamental freedom by local citizens to determine what they want in local government and community services.

"2. A greater laxity on the part of public officials who are freed from direct personal and financial responsibility to their communities.

"3. An increasing tendency towards government by propaganda and pressure rather than by discussion and choice.

"Legislation embodying the proposals of the State Commission on Municipal Government would open the way for New Jersey citizens to adopt the most modern forms of municipal government which can adequately handle present day local problems, rather than shift them to higher levels of government and out of reach of the people most concerned with them—the citizens and public officials of the municipalities."

New Folder Describes State Forests, Parks and Historic Sites

A new illustrated folder entitled "Visit New Jersey's State Forests, Parks and Historic Sites" is available for free distribution from the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, according to an announcement recently by Commissioner Charles R. Erdman, Jr.

This general folder covers for the first time a complete listing of all 46 State-owned areas administered by the Forestry, Parks and Historic Sites Section of the Department. Also included is information on other National, Interstate and County Parks within New Jersey. Of a convenient size (4x3 inches when folded), it will serve as a handy reference in planning an afternoon's visit, a day's outing or a week's camping trip with minimum travel. The historic sites, parks and forest are fairly well distributed throughout the State from High Point Park, in Sussex County, to the Belleplain Forest, in Cape May County. One or more of these areas are within an hour's driving time from nearly any section of the State.

Briefly, describing each of the 17 Historic Sites, 20 State Parks and 9 State Forests, it summarizes the recreational opportunities available. An outline map of the State is included, together with a map key which gives the location, mailing address and facilities at each area. Scenic views, historic spots and museums, information on where to camp, picnic, hunt, fish, boat or bathe on these areas are all contained in the folder.

Free copies of the folder are available at any part of forest office or at any of the historic site museums. They may also be obtained by writing the Department of Conservation and Economic Development, 411 State House Annex, Trenton 7, N. J.

HOMEMAKING

By MARGARET STROME

Home Economics Adviser, Public Service Electric and Gas Company

Wedding Reception for Fifty

Conversation these days turns quickly to weddings, what to wear, how to decorate, what to serve are important topics and much discussed. For a reception for fifty we suggest the following menu.

Stuffed Celery, Radish Roses
Carrot Curls
Chicken Salad
Buttered Parkerhouse Rolls
Olives, Pickled Watermelon Rind
Bride's Cake
Strawberry Ice Cream
Party Punch, Coffee

Chicken Salad

- 5 lbs. diced cooked chicken (4-4½ to 5 lb. chickens)
- 1 cup French dressing
- 4 qts. chopped endive
- 3½ cups drained crushed pineapple
- ½ lb. blanched almonds, shredded
- 2 cups mayonnaise
- ½ lb. pistachio nuts, chopped

Marinate chicken in French dressing for 1 hour. Drain off excess dressing and add remaining ingredients, except pistachio nuts. Mix thoroughly. Chill. Serve on crisp lettuce cups. Top with pistachio nuts. Yield: 50 servings.

Bride's Cake

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 2 cups sugar
- 5 cups sifted enriched flour
- ½ tsp. salt
- 2 tbsp. baking powder
- 1½ cups milk
- ½ tsp. cream of tartar
- 12 egg whites
- 2 tsp. vanilla

Cream butter or margarine and sugar. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until stiff. Fold egg whites into cake mixture. Add flavoring. Grease and line with waxed paper pans 10", 8" and 6" in diameter and 3" deep. Pour batter in pans. Bake at 325°F. for 60 minutes. When cool frost lightly with Ornamental Frosting. When dry, refrost cake with a generous amount of icing. Decorate cake with Pearl Frosting.

Ornamental Frosting

- 4 egg whites
- 3 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
- ¼ tsp. cream of tartar
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Beat egg whites with 2 tablespoons sugar for 3 minutes. Add cream of tartar. Continue to beat adding small amount of sugar at a time. Beat thoroughly after each addition, until a knife cut down into frosting makes a clean cut. Add vanilla. The success depends entirely on the thorough beating after each addition of sugar. Keep frosting bowl covered with a damp cloth to prevent crust forming.

Pearl Frosting

- 2 egg whites
- 2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
- ¼ cup vegetable shortening
- 1 tsp. glycerine
- ½ tsp. vanilla

Beat egg whites stiff, gradually add 1 cup sugar. Beat until smooth and thick. Cream shortening. Add ½ cup sugar. Mix well. Combine two mixtures. Add glycerine and flavoring. Gradually add remaining sugar, beating thoroughly, until a knife cut down into frosting makes a clear cut.

Party Punch

- 3 cups sugar
- 3 qts. water
- 1 cup strong tea
- 1 doz. lemons
- 1 doz. oranges
- 1 qt. grape juice
- 1 cup crushed pineapple
- 2 qts. ginger ale
- 1 cup maraschino cherries

Boil sugar and water for 5 minutes. Cool. Add tea, lemon, orange, grape juice and pineapple. Place in refrigerator, cover and let stand for a few hours. Pour over ice cubes, add ginger ale and cherries. Slices of orange and pineapple may be used as a garnish. Serves 50.

WASHINGTON WEEK

Washington, D. C.—"With a Democrat President and a Democrat Congress, we will have the right kind of unity in this country."

President Truman said it October 13, 1948, in St. Paul, Minnesota.

The best example of the kind of "unity" he predicted for his administration and the 81st Democrat Congress developed here a few days ago when neither the administration nor the Democrat Congress knew exactly what the other was doing.

Illinois Senator Scott Lucas, floor leader of that Democrat Congress, told a press conference May 24 that Congress would adjourn July 31. He added that many key measures of the President's legislative program would be postponed until the second session of the 81st Congress because "the program is very extensive and cannot all be carried out in a single session."

The present session would run seven months according to Mr. Lucas' timetable.

Truman Accuses Press

Yet, President Truman, glibly offered the same program in his convention speech in Philadelphia on July 15 as the program for the special session of the Republican 80th Congress and said: "They can do this job in 15 days, if they want to do it. They will still have time to go out and run for office."

Before Senator Lucas' July 31 deadline had barely made the newspapers, President Truman appeared in the press and announced flatly that Congress would be kept in session until the job was done no matter what Senator Lucas had to say about it.

Then confusion piled upon confusion when President Truman charged the press had failed to publish "all" of Senator Lucas' statement.

Could this confusion within the Democrat Party be what Mr. Truman meant when he said in Duluth, Minnesota, October 13, 1948:

"There are a great many things you will get if you elect a Democrat Congress and a Democrat administration."

What Did He Mean?

He couldn't possibly have meant what he said in the next breath: "The Taft-Hartley Act will be repealed."

He couldn't have meant, either, the equal-pay-for-equal-work plank in the Democrat platform; or the 75cent minimum wage he said the Democrat Congress would vote.

He couldn't have meant federal housing because the bill that was passed was almost wholly Republican.

He might have meant what he said in Oklahoma City on September 28, 1948. There he said: "We are deporting subversive aliens. We shall continue to do so to the limit of the law."

However, we didn't know the limit of the law would be extended to the manner in which we got rid of Gerhard Eisler, who incidentally, observed upon his arrival behind the iron curtain, that President Truman's attorney general, Tom Clark "is the biggest fool in America!"

First Diamond Gloves Bouts on June 15

Back under the starlit skies, the first show of The 1949 Paterson Diamond Gloves Championships will be staged Wednesday night, June 15, in Hinchliffe Stadium, Paterson. The leading Bergen and Passaic County amateur boxers will compete.

With its thrilling fistic bouts, and attendant appearances by leading personalities from the sports and entertainment world, the tournament has become the biggest independent amateur boxing competition in the nation.

This will be the sixteenth annual tourney sponsored by The Paterson Evening News Athletic Association, Inc., and The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Local No. 1 of Paterson. Proceeds of the tournament are turned over to charity.

Outstanding this year will be the introduction of sub-novice class scraps for Bergen and Passaic county youngsters, who never before competed in the leather-pushing sport. The rookies will see ring action against inexperienced youngsters like themselves. Then, too, there will also be action for novice class and open division scrappers.

In all, 24 championships are to be decided during the thrilling Diamond Gloves action. These are the most sought-after honors for young boxers in this section, but a feature of long standing is that every contestant receives a prize for his efforts.

As added incentive for victory will be "outstanding boxer" awards. Extra prizes will be given the best scrappers in the sub-novice, novice and open divisions of the Paterson News-PBA tournament.

Then, too, prizes will be given the teams scoring the most points in The Paterson Diamond Gloves, with additional awards to the teams with the most participants.

The glamorous Paterson amateur fistic classic, one of this section's outstanding sports events, is sanctioned by The New Jersey Association of the AAU, of which The Paterson Evening News Athletic Association, Inc., has long been a member in good standing.

Tickets are on sale now. Popularly priced, they may be purchased or reserved now for the opening and succeeding shows of the big amateur boxing tournament. Persons desiring the same seats for all programs, including the finals, may buy them now. They are on sale at The Paterson Evening News office and Paterson Police Headquarters.

New Hope Seen in War Against Polio

The conquest of infantile paralysis is now within sight, Alton L. Blakeslee, noted science writer, predicts in a pamphlet published today by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., of New York.

"No one can predict just when the victory will come or in what way," he adds, "but medical science is making such progress that there is real cause for optimism."

Such striking progress has been made in treatment during the past ten years that only about 15 to 25 per cent of polio victims are now "left more or less severely handicapped . . . Forty to 60 per cent of the children or adults who get the illness in recognizable form will recover completely, or almost completely, without any visible evidence of paralysis."

Scientific study of means for preventing the disease has been slower, Mr. Blakeslee admits in the 20-cent pamphlet POLIO CAN Be CONQUERED, but he lists a number of recent developments that appear to carry great promise. Monkeys have been inoculated against polio safely and effectively, he points out. Unfortunately, the vaccine does not protect the monkeys against all strains of the virus and thus could not offer satisfactory protection for humans.

Top scientists are cited as believing that a safe vaccine for humans will someday be found. The recent success of scientists in almost completely purifying one kind of polio virus should hasten this day, Mr. Blakeslee declares.

"Drugs and other chemicals have been found," he reveals, which "protect mice against viruses like the polio virus, or which help the mice recover when they are given the viruses." So far, however, none has been used successfully on humans.

Although little is known about the way in which polio spreads, the pamphlet carries a number of tips for parents in the event that infantile paralysis breaks out in epidemic form in their neighborhood. Parents are urged to:

1. Watch for the symptoms that may be weathervanes of Polio, a tired feeling, headache, nausea, upset stomach, pains or stiffness in the muscles, or a fever. A big part of the victory in polio is immediate rest and immediate treatment.
2. Avoid crowds. There is no way of telling who has the virus, who is becoming sick, or who is a healthy, unaffected carrier.
3. Keep children from becoming overtired or chilled.
4. Do not let children swim in polluted waters. Attacks of polio have followed after such experiences.
5. Keep clean. Make sure that the children wash their hands before eating.
6. Keep garbage covered and screen the house against flies.

POLIO CAN BE CONQUERED, by Alton Lee Blakeslee, is Pamphlet No. 150 in the series of brief, popular, 20-cent pamphlets issued by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., a nonprofit, educational organization at 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

The Common Defense

by Rev. William C. Kernan

A Study In Contrasts

Communist propaganda, which has painted the Soviet Union as a worker's paradise, was suddenly unmasked by the brutal manner in which Soviet police suppressed the recent strike of Berlin railway workers. The American Federation of Labor, in a cable to the strikers, praised their "courageous fight against Russian totalitarian oppressors and Moscow's menial German stooges." The Congress of Industrial Organizations said that the Communists' effort to smash the strike proved (what every American ought to know that Communism gives only "lip service to the welfare of workers."

In contrast to this sorry state of affairs where Communism reigns the United States has the freest labor movement in the world, constitutional guarantees—more honored in the observance than in the breach—respecting freedom of worship, speech, press and assembly and, with it all, the highest standard of living any where on earth.

Yet, far from being complacent, we press forward daily toward the goal of making ours a better, freer, and stronger country for all the American people.

May 2 brought the news that the poll tax is dying out. Only seven states now have it and four of them—South Carolina, Arkansas, Virginia and Texas—have cleared the way for its repeal, while a fifth state, Tennessee, has reduced the application of the tax to a small group of voters.

On May 5, by court order, Miss Marjorie V. Toliver, a Negro student at Stowe Teachers College, St. Louis, prepared to transfer to Harris Teachers College, a white institution which had hitherto barred her for reasons of race only. Also on May 5 William Hatchett, a three-letter man, became the first Negro at Rutgers University to become president of his class.

On May 6 the New York Times commented editorially on the civil rights report of the Committee on Christian Relations of the Presbyterian Church of the United States (South). Said the Times, "The Presbyterian Church is not the only one that has raised its torch directly over the field of race relations. Its committee notes that 'the Roman Catholic Church, long committed to equality where racial rights are at issue, is pressing toward this goal with mounting zeal, 'and that other Protestant denominations are taking stands in both 'word and deed'."

On May 11 news broke about a new program among industrial executives and workers "to lessen the strains and tensions existing between members of different groups of Americans in industry"—and on the very same day Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson approved proposals of the Air Force to effectivate his directive asking for equality of treatment and opportunity for members of the armed services "without regard to race, color, religion or national origin."

On May 12 front pages of American newspapers told the story of how Levi Jackson, the Negro captain of Yale's football team, became the first member of his race to be chosen out of a junior class of 1,400, for one of Eli's six secret senior societies. At the same time the Catholic Committee of the South was urging Roman Catholics to accept leadership in eliminating the segregated school system.

We have no cliff dwellers today—but still plenty of bluffers.

Thinking

primitive emotional reations is that they often stir up fresh trouble, both in our external environment and within our bodies. This makes us feel more frightened or angrier than ever. Thus a vicious circle of cause and effect is maintained.

To control emotions for better health, the Journal of Living sums up Dr. Wolff's findings as follows: Avoid emotional upsets; don't harbor pent-up grudges and resentments; focus your thoughts on the right side of things.

Remember at all times that a serene, cheerful attitude toward life is good medicine for what ails you!

The rent control boys are still at it! We now bounce around a new set of rent control regulations and if you happen to be in the throes of a rent control argument, be you landlord or tenant, you will have to change boats in midstream by changing arrangements from one set of regulations to the other. This is a light-hearted procedure when taken from the control office angle, but it is expensive for John Q. Public because, he must pay his attorney for the additional hocus-pocus that is necessary to re-route arrangements.

This triple-action activity at the controls would be wonderful if it would serve to improve housing conditions but, the pre-war landlord, under the present arrangement, feels that he is discriminated against and has taken to the war path while his tenant defends himself helplessly under a legal smoke screen. This is a drain to pocketbooks on both sides of the fence and serves only to cause a detrimental effect on housing. Money that goes down the drain cannot be used to repair the plumbing and a tenant with an empty pocketbook cannot look to improve his rental status.

The rent control law divides landlords into two classes. The preferred, or post-war landlord is in the soup. The pre-war landlord is controlled and discriminated against and, even though he be willing to maintain the ceiling rental, cannot have complete jurisdiction of his property. He cannot freely control the type of tenant he desires to occupy his premises and is obliged to travel through a mess of expensive technicalities if he desires to command an equitable rental. If he leaves things as they are, his property suffers; if he decides on the red tape method, his pocketboo ksuffers; and either way, his tenant suffers.

Meanwhile, the post-war landlord, blithely collects his bonanza and, if at all, rents his pasteboard apartments at heartbreaking rentals. To attest to stupidity, the empty windows of newly constructed apartments stare in silent futility while the doors of pre-war housing burst wearily from their neglected hinges.

If teepees are the answer, why not give the country back to the Indians.

NEW JERSEY ONCE AGAIN LEADS IN BOND SALES

Mr. Roy G. McKnight reported today that figures received from Treasury Department officials show New Jersey 10 per cent over the national average in sales toward its qcota of $35,920,000 so far in the May-June drive. New Jersey, with $25,645,000 in sales up to June 11th, has attained 69.46 per cent of its quota.

State Director for the Treasury Bond activities, Raymond A. Glennon in his report to Mr. McKnight said 'early Federal Reserve Bank statistics are running far higher than expected because the figures do not reflect the bulk of the OPPORTUNITY DRIVE purchases." He also referred to the vast volume of "Payroll deduction "In-stallment purchases" of Bonds. These Bonds do not count in the official figures until paid for and delivered. Thousands of workers who signed for Bonds in May, won't own them until August or September.

Leon J. Markham National Director of sales, wired Glennon from Washington that New Jersey's record is particularly commendatory because the figures are topping the best previous post-war year. New Jersey last year had the second best record in the country, and now seems on its way to go 20 per cent above that, Markham noted.

Glennon said "County and City leaders throughout the State have done the best job of any post-war campaign and that sales reports are far better than last year's Security Drive." He cited the leadership of Mr. Carlton Cox, County Chairman who has a quota of $3,200,000, with just over $2,145,000 subscribed up to last Saturday.

There are scheduled several major municipal and community rallies and Savings Bond shows in local theatres for later this month to climax the OPPORTUNITY DRIVE.

One hundred tickets are available to the public and may be obtained by contacting President James Brone, Gabe Popper or John Huber of the Booster's organization.

Mrs. James Marquis is the chairman of the dinner.

THOUSANDS VIEW SECOND ANNUAL BABY, YOUTH PARADE

The second annual Baby and Youth parade was held last Sunday afternoon at the Hawthorne High School stadium which was viewed by thousands of borough and out of town residents. The parade was the most successful of its kind held in the borough and despite the intense heat the stadium was crowded by those who witnessed the affair.

Versatile costumes and floats made it difficult for the out-of-town judges to make their decision as the youngsters paraded before the reviewing stand.

The parade started at 2 p. m. from in the rear of the police station and then west down Warburton Avenue and turned into the stadium. The parade was led by the Hawthorne High School Band and the baton twirlers. The Kiltie Band with Mr. Moore and his son led the third division of the parade.

Upon reaching the stadium the audience sang the 'Star Spangled Banner" led by Miss Marilyn Walch with music by the high school band. This was followed with a word of welcome by Mayor Louis Bay II. Commissioner John Titus was introduced to the gathering.

Chairman Garry Westerhoff of the committee then extended his thanks to the business men and citizens who made the affair possible by their generosity. He extended his thanks to the committee who had worked so hard to make the affair a success.

An exhibition by the baton twirlers was then given and the girls received a splendid ovation for their performance.

A demonstration by the Scotch Kiltie Band, was also given during the program.

Increased Enrollment Brings 100 Parents To Protest Plan To Transfer Pupils Elsewhere

Committee Partial To Board

The possible increased enrollment at the Roosevelt School brought over a hundred mothers and fathers to the meeting of the Hawthorne Board of Education last Tuesday evening who protested any plan whereby their children would be transferred to the Washington School.

The parents who had as their spokesman Mrs. Leyman of Sunrise Drive stated that they had heard rumors to the effect that this transfer would effect their children. Mrs. Leyman stated that they had purchased their homes with the view of sending their children to the Roosevelt School and felt that some consideration should be given their plea.

The committee stressed the point that they did not feel that the board of education was responsible for the condition created by the new developments in the borough but hoped that some solution could be arrived at so that their children could remain in the school. The committee resides on the west side of Lafayette Avenue and the Goffle Road.

The group were told by the board that as things stood at the present time the children registered could be taken care of by the school. However, they stated that if an influx of children moved into the borough the school would become overcrowded and the board would have to settle on some solution.

However it was agreed that before any definite action was taken by the board the group's committee of five would be notified and they were invited to attend the first committee meeting in September so that a true appraisal could be made of the situation at that time.

Walter Blasberg of Mountain Avenue appeared before the board requesting transportation of seven children from that area to the Roosevelt School. Mr. Blasberg stated that the present road is a hazard and asked the board for consideration of the petitioners plea. The matter was referred to the board to be discussed in committee on June 28.

Mrs. Irma Lime of Hawthorne Avenue was appointed as the school nurse at last evening's meeting. Mrs. Lime who resigned as child and maternal health nurse at Monday's meeting of the board of health will take the place of Miss Evelyn Buseman.

A letter of commendation is to be sent to Coaches Joseph Foyle and James Wheator and to the Hawthorne High School baseball team for their fine showing on the ball diamond this past season. The team ended in a tie for the championship of the Passaic-Bergen Baseball League.

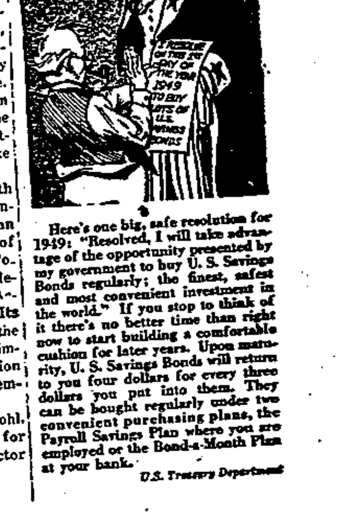
Uncle Sam Says



Here's one big, safe resolution for 1949: "Resolved, I will take advantage of the opportunity presented by my government to buy U. S. Savings Bonds regularly; the finest, safest and most convenient investment in the world." If you stop to think of it there's no better time than right now to start building a comfortable cushion for later years. Upon maturity, U. S. Savings Bonds will return to you four dollars for every three dollars you put into them. They can be bought regularly under two convenient purchasing plans, the Payroll Savings Plan where you are employed or the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank.

THE GOVERNMENT IS RUNNING IN THE RED

Washington. D. C.—The appropriations being voted by Congress for the Departments of State, Commerce and Justice are considerably lower than President Truman's "expenditure program." Congress is working over the recommendations made by President Truman and they have slashed millions of dollars.

While the Senate has slashed down hard against the President's recommendations; the mathematicians in Washington are predicting a deficit of $4.4 billion of which $400,000,000 budgeted for increased military pay may not be spent in view of the House's rejection of the pay bill.

Economy leaders appear now to have lost all their hopes for achieving a balanced budget for 1949. But having voted monstrous sums the Congress has made it plain that Mr. Truman may make slashes in government spending on his own hook. But the political prophets in the capital continue to predict that the Administration will spend all the money that they voted, thereby creating another annual deficit.

We Heartily Approve

At long last we have run across a contest that to us makes sense.

We have noted, for many years, that the prizes offered for twenty-five word compositions about "Why I like . . ." or finishing the last line of a jingle are usually such impractical things as a silverblue mink coat, a Rolls Rolls Royce limousine or a month's trip with all expenses paid to Arabia. Somehow or other this has struck us as a waste of money.

To our delight and surprise we note that a soap company—Colgate—is currently running a contest and they are offering as first prize a new home, completely furnished. This is more like it!

For the rest of the winner's life he can have something tangible. In addition, the house will be built with local materials and local labor, which will enrich the local community.

A home of his own is the fondest dream of every American. We know that the winner of "The Fabulous New Life Contest" will, by adding the missing line of the jingle, truly enjoy a fabulous new life.

New Labor Law Seems a Puzzle

Ever since Mr. Truman was elected he and his principal supporters have contended that the Taft-Hartley Act would be torn to pieces, with the probability that the old Wagner Act would be restored. It looks as though the Republicans will rally enough power in Congress and carry out the plan of Senator Taft to amend the measure that bears his name in a way that will be satisfactory to the labor unions. This man Taft has the support of practically every Republican in Congress, and besides that, large groups of Democrats have come to regard the measure as first class legislation which would not be repealed or hacked together so that it would be useful to politicians who want to satisfy President Truman and his backers in the different labor organizations.

So, the bosses in different labor unions are wearing long faces these days, because they and President Truman will have to continue to live under the protection of strong labor laws.

Industries In Ten States

Two-thirds of the Nation's industrial establishments are concentrated in 10 states, according to a preliminary summary report of the Census of Manufactures, released by the Census Bureau.

The 10 most important States were New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey, California, Massachusetts, Indiana and Wisconsin.

Taxes Must Be Lowered

The USA inflated tax balloon has sailed the high heavens. Now, its course is downward, instead of upwards. Another boost in taxes seems unlikely. And Mr. Taxpayer has reason to believe that his income will not be increased this year.

Before the war in 1939 corporation incomes were taxed 19 per cent. Then taxes jumped to 38 per cent during the war.

Of course individuals have known that taxes on their incomes have multiplied in recent years. Married persons and oldagers got pretty good breaks in the tax payments in recent years. Sooner or later, there will be a general revision of tax laws—and that revision must be downward.

Our Billion Dollar a Year Mystery

The Atomic Energy Commission is defending itself nobly in the investigation being carried on by Congress.

So far, the hearings indicate that Congressmen believe it impossible for any set of human beings to manage the billion dollars a year mystery.

Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa seems to think that the Atomic Energy Commission cannot possibly be continued.

Once in a while this correspondent agrees with the President of the United States. He says that everything is fair and honorable in the Atomic Energy Commission. And we believe he is right in standing up for Mr. Lilienthal.

Well, How About It?

Mr. George Meany, Secretary and Treasurer of the American Federation of Labor, predicts the success of organized labor in their efforts to raise political power "to carry out our great basic purpose of raising, maintaining, and protecting the standards of life for the workers relation." The gentleman believes that the power of political action by labor will win the battle for the unions and its bosses. He offers the opinion that "there could be no future progress made by labor unions unless it becomes an acting dynamic political force."

One naturally wonders whether the ancient American practice of employers to hire workers has petered out. Are we to accept the statement that the labor unions control all the jobs, despite the National Association of Manufactures? We think not.

Does the American Federation of Labor suppose that their control of jobs has turned "millions to look to the United States of America with faith and hope?" How about such a co-partnership? But the AFL backs the Secretary-Treasurer of the American Federation of Labor in his statement that the Federation is going to play a full part in what Meany calls "this fight." The gentleman says that he, for one, has no misgivings or doubts as to the outcome. He has another guess coming.

Strikes Do Not Always Pay

It appears that workers in the Ford strike at Detroit lost $18,000,000 in wages and gained very little.

If the Taft-Hartley Law is kept intact we may get some comfort out of the fact that the Government of the United States will bring many strikes to a dead end before they get going too far.

Federal Aid to Education

There seems to be very little partisanship in Congress over the question of Federal Aid to Education. In its modified form Federal Aid to schools will keep the schools going in all cases where the relative wealth and tax-paying ability of the different States need help from the Government. On the other hand, schools that are paying their own way in local communities will not be eligible to government payment.

What They Think of Each Other

Philip Murray recently sent telegrams to all of the United States Senators accusing John L. Lewis of false and malicious libel and lack of responsibility. He called his fellow labor boss a "rule-or-ruin" union official. At present the Senate is debating the labor law while waiting for the Administration leaders to get through amending their own bill.

Chamber Warns School Boards On Federal Aid to Education

Newark—Warning them that their powers are in danger of being "transferred to Washington," the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce today urged the State's 556 presidents of local school boards to join in registering vigorous opposition to the Federal Aid to Education Bill (Senate 246), now awaiting action in Washington. The bill awaits Senate action and is the subject of current hearings before the House Committee on Education and Labor.

In a letter to the school board presidents, Irving T. Gumb, executive president of the Chamber charged that a "vast amount of inaccurate information" has been given to the public on the subject of public school finance. Mr. Gumb's letter was accompanied by a six-page factual report prepared by the Council of State Chamber of Commerce, whose Research Director, Alvin Burger, is also Research Director of the New Jersey State Chamber.

In his message to the local groups, Mr. Gumb declared:

"The New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce is gravely concerned over the vast amount of inaccurate information which has been given the American people regarding the public school financing picture. It seems to us that Congress, before approving Federal school aid legislation, should make every effort to gather up-to-date factual evidence on the question of the need and desire of the so-called poorer States for Federal subsidies for schools. The Senate Labor and Welfare Committee has even refused to hold hearings for this purpose.

"Furthermore, Congress should make doubly sure that Federal aid for schools doesn't mean Federal control of schools. We do not want to see the powers of local and State boards of education transferred to Washington, D. C. We entertain some real fears that Senate 246 will help to do this.

"For example, Senate 246 now provides 'for a system of reports' by school boards and State Education Departments containing such information as the U.S. Commissioner of Education may require; it also gives the U. S. Commissioner 'access to the records on which such reports are based.' The same section also gives the Commissioner sweeping authority to recommend to Congress revisions of the Act 'arising from changing conditions in the national economy.'

"It is our belief that the States and school districts have demonstrated their capacity and willingness to finance public education. We believe that the States—including New Jersey—can, should and must meet the responsibility of providing funds for the expansion and improvement of public school operations and facilities to meet new demands upon them."

Taking issue with a recent declaration of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare that the present State-local arrangements for supporting schools are "critically inadequate," the report of the Council of the State Chamber of Commerce said,

"Between 1936, when the first real drive for $300 million Federal school subsidy began, and 1947, the last year for which office of Education figures are available, state-local support for schools rose from $1,656,800,000 to $3,124,550,000, an increase of $1,467,750,000, or five times the $300,000,000 sought in the school aid bill.

"Since early 1947, when Congress last held hearings on the Federal aid bill, state-local support has been further increased by over $90,000,000, which is three times the $300,000,000 sought from the Federal Treasury. Every state has shared in this increase, with the greatest progress being made in the so-called 'poorer' states in the South which have made the greatest general economic gains since 1940."

Referring to claims in the Senate report, the Council's study appended its own finding and comment. For example, the Senate report declared that at least 350,000 qualified teachers left the profession from 1941 to 1945, "many never to return."

The Council replied, "The implication is that poor pay caused a depletion of 350,000 in teachers' ranks during a four-year period. It should be noted that the years referred to, 1941-1945, were war years when many teachers enlisted in the armed forces or went into other war-time work. So did millions of school-age youth.'

Senator Hull On WPAT Program June 19

100-Mile Speed Classic at Fairgrounds, 19th

With Bill Holland, this year's Indianapolis Speedway winner heading the lineup, the 100-Mile National Championship speed classic at the New Jersey State Fairgrounds next Sunday (June 19) has developed into a "junior" Indianapolis race.

When Holland roars away from the starting line for qualifying trials at 12:45 o'clock it will mak his first Eastern appearance since he set his sensational record of 121.327 miles per hour to win the "500." The 100 mile race will start promptly at 3 p.m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time.

Like the other drivers, Holland will pilot one of the cars which set the blistering pace at Indianapolis. Adding to the interest in Holland's entry is the fact that it will be the first time since 1946 that an Indianapolis winner has competed outside of the "500."

Sunday's race is so important to the speed kings in their battle for the national championship title that the Indianapolis Speedway starter Seth Klein, will be here to handle the flag.

Only the big cars from the Indianapolis Speedway and their drivers are eligible for this outstanding classic. The field also includes Johnny Parsons, second at Indianapolis and winner of the title race at Dallas, Tex. in April; Myron Fohr, winner of the June 5 title race at Milwaukee; "Rapid Rex" Mays, one of the most sensational drivers of all time; Emil Andres and Paul Russo, driving the $30,000 Tuffy Offys; "Iron Man" Johnny Hantz, Mack Hellings, Jackie Holmes, with the six-wheel Clancy Special; Hal Cole, Walt Brown Buster Warke, Ed Haddad, Bill Gouso, Teddy Duncan, and other top stars of the Indianapolis classic.

Choice locations among the 10,000 individual chair seats under one roof may be ordered by mail by writing New Jersey State Fairgrounds, Trenton. Plenty of admission tickets and parking space still will be available on the spacious grounds race day. Forty tons of calcium chloride have been laid on the track to provide a dustless race.

Summer Desserts

Summer time is still dessert time. When the thermometer soars, we cut down on rich puddings and pies, and serve instead light puddings, feathery chiffon pies, and cooling, frozen desserts. These are just right for summer meals. They may be light or filling according to the requirements of the menu.

Ice cream, of course, is America's favorite dessert. Do not overlook all the fruit ices, sherbets and other variations of ice creams which are so easy to make in your automatic refrigerator. Fruit sauces which can be made easily dress up an ice cream, making it a festive or party dessert.

On a cool morning make up some cookie dough, and store it in your refrigerator. Then you can have freshly baked cookies in a few minutes.

Chiffon pies are tops for summer, and we find them topping many restaurant and hotel menus. Why not try serving them at home? Strawberry and mint are the favorites.

Surgery, x-ray and radium are the present known methods of cancer treatment.

A physician says a man is slightly taller in the morning than in the evening. We never checked on this theory but have noticed a tendency to become "short" before every payday.

Nurses Make 12,000 visits On Cancer Patients

Over 12,000 visits were made by nurses to homes of New Jersey cancer patients during the last eights months, the state division of the American Cancer Society disclosed today. The visits were made by nurses attached to visiting nurse associations and were financed by the cancer society. During the eight month period $21,370 was expended from society funds for 12,280 visits.

The home nursing care is part of the cancer society's broad service program, which provides aid to needy cancer patients. Through contracts with the various visiting nurse groups, the society pays the cost of visits to cancer patients. In some cases, daily visits are necessary, in others, the visits are made less frequently.

The nurses provide the usual visiting nurse care, aiding the patient and providing the family with information regarding necessary care.

The cancer society provides funds throughout the state, through its various county chapters, to subsidize home nursing care where visiting nurse groups exist.

Lack of funds prevent extending full assistance in terminal cases but arrangements have been made by the New Jersey Division with 47 visiting nurse organizations throughout the state to visit the patients at their home and aid in every possible way. Fourteen county chapters have signed agreements with the nurse associations.

The fees vary in the various counties with Bergen, Essex and Union taking greatest advantage of the program. In Bergen the nurses during the period paid 3,815 calls; in Essex, 2,973 and in Union 1,375 visits. Other counties in which the nurse associations are financially aided for care of cancer patients are Atlantic, Burlington Cumberland, Gloucester, Hudson, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Morris, Passaic, Salem and Somerset.

Statistics obtained from clinic records by the New Jersey Division show that during the same period 1,680 patients visited the clinics for their first examination and return visits totaled 8,293. For these visits the hospitals were paid $6,106 by the division.

Gene Stanlee, Michele Leone at Stadium June 22

Gene (The Body) Stanee, better known as "Mr. America," the sensational wrestling star and darling of the television mat fans, faces Michele Leone, the Italian Baron, in a one-fall to a finish match Wednesday night, June 22, in Hinchiffe Stadium, Paterson.

They will have it out in the Paterson Stadium ring on June 22 as a special added feature of the second program of The 1949 Paterson Diamond Goves Championships, sponsored by The Paterson Evening News Athetic Association, Inc., and The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, Local No. 1 of Paterson. Members of the New York Yankees baseball team will also attend the show.

The Mr. America-Michele Leone mat meeting will follow the regularly programmed thrilling Diamon Gloves scraps, which brings together the top amateur boxers from Bergen and Passaic Counties.

Youthful and fast Mr. America, the possessor of the body beautifu, is one of most colorful grapplers of the present day. So much so that he has become an idol of most female mat fans. Through television, he gained innumerable additional followers. As a result, he has become one of the best box-office magnets in the history of the grunt and groan sport.

In Michele Leone, matdom's idol of the bobby soxers faces a tough cookie. The International Nobleman, himself a master showman, is the Italian wrestling champion. A topflight grappler, Leone, like Mr. America, is a great showman. Likened to Samson of Bibliial times, the Italian Baron, has long black hair and also sports a moustache. In the ring, he is a rowdy, rough customer, and figures to give Mr. America a tough tussle when they clash Wednesday night, June 22 in Paterson's Hinlhliffe Stadium.

Preceding the thrilling Mr. America-Michele Leone mat joust, will be action-packed fistic encounters as the Diamond Glovers go all out to advance in the tourney, the biggest independent amateur show in the nation.

There will be no increase in the price of tickets.

Popularly priced, the pasteboards may be purchased or reserved now for this and all succeeding shows in The Diamond Gloves at The Paterson News office or Paterson Police Headquarters.

FATHER'S DAY GREETINGS TRACE BACK 4,000 YEARS

The whole family will pay an affectionate tribute to Dad on Sunday, June 19, with warm-hearted Father's Day greeting cards and gifts. Father's Day will be celebrated in Canada, Haiti, Honduras, China, and Sweden this year, as well as throughout the United States.

Father's Day was first proposed in 1909 by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington, as a tribute to fathers everywhere. She was one of six brothers and sisters raised by their father, William Smart, a Civil War veteran, after their mother's death.

The Spokane Ministers Association sponsored the first city-wide Father's Day in 1910. President Coolidge recommended its nationwide observance in 1924.

Dad is top man in America—but in some other parts of the world, he could stand a little recognition. On Palau Island in the South Seas, the ruling matriarchs can have any male executed if he even disturbs their contemplation. And near Sumatra, Dad has to go live with his wifes family, children take their mother's name—and only daughters inherit property!

In India, Dad's in even worse shape. If Father goes into debt, Mother can sell him into slavery to pay off the creditors. And in the African Sudan, Mama may return to her parents after bearing five children, leaving Papa to look after the kiddies!

Father hasn't always been low man on the tribal totem pole, though. In Biblical times, it was considered a crime punishable by death for a child to disagree with his Father. Throughout Northern Europe, a Father felt disgraced if a son in his teens appeared publicly in his presence. Greek Fathers even selected the wives for their sons—and no back talk allowed.

The champion Father of Ancient Days undoubtedly was King Solomon. He had 700 wives and 300 concubines, but the Bible doesn't mention how many youngsters played hide-and-seek in the royal palace.

Solomon had a little-known counterpart, however. Emperor Mulai Ismail of Morocco had 300 wives and 700 concubines, reversing Solomon's proportion out of deference to the Old Testament. He died in 1727 at the age of 81, leaving 548 sons and 340 daughters.

But whatever Dads social status or the size of his household, he's always enjoyed a warm and respected niche in the familys heart. Father's Day is only 40 years old, but tributes to Dad are an ancient tradition. Probably the oldest is a clay tablet written by Elmesu, a Babylonian, about 2,000 years before Christ. It implores the gods to grant his father good health and "enduring days"—wishes echoed in a thousand different ways on this year's affectionate Fathers Day greeting cards.

S. E. S., High Schools to Help Graduating Students Find Jobs

Edward M. Schlaefer manager of the Paterson office of the New Jersey State Employment Service located at the corner of Fulton and Paterson Streets, announced today that registration for employment of approximately 650 female and male high school students of both local and surrounding areas is nearing completion by the staff of the Employment Office. Included in this program are the following schools: Eastside, Central, Passaic Valley, Fair Lawn Hawthorne, Butler, Pompton Lakes, Eastern Academy, Saint Joseph, Saint Bonaventure, Saint John and Saint Mary.

Through the cooperation of the principals and vocational guidance directors at the schools, students who are seniors and who are interested in employment after graduation which will take place in the next several days, have completed application cards under the direction of a representative of the New Jersey State Employment Service. This arrangement was affected to aid these youngsters who must seek permanent employment and are not continuing their studies at this time or plan to take up studies evenings. Through this method of group registration, a more uniform and centralized service can be rendered to both employer and applicant.

Mr. Schlaefer stated that a review of the registration or application cards by the local office counselor indicated that these students show an interest in many fields of endeavor, clerical, mechanical, sales, and other miscellaneous occupations. Many of these students have had either part time or full time employment during vacations while attending schools and are now earnest to find suitable permanent employment.

The local employment office recognizes its responsibility of providing employment counseling and placement services to youths. These students are to be given individual personal attention by employment counselors located at the employment service office. Schools will furnish to the employment service upon request, in individual cases where it is available and needed for placement and counseling purposes, such information from school records or through personal consultation as may be helpful in estimating personality, interests, abilities and attainment. Likewise, the Employment Office will render to schools upon request the information concerning the results of its follow-up of counseled applicants, the current labor trends, and any technical and placement interpretations for use by the schools to provide assistance to future and current students.

Mr. Schlaefer urges employers in the area who may be interested in hiring these graduates to contact the New Jersey State Employment Service located at Fulton and Paterson Streets, Paterson, between 8:30 a.m. and 4.00 p.m., Monday through Friday, Telephone Sherwood 2-8690. Prompt and efficient referral and placement service will be rendered without any cost to employer and applicant.

H. S. Home Group Ends Season

With all teachers present but or two who were obligated otherwise, the members of the Hawthorne High Home and School Group bade Principal George Geier and his staff a goodbye and a happy summer.

The evening started with a wonderful dinner served in buffet style where turkey, salads, rolls and pies were served all prepared by the tireless work of many group members. Mr. Geier expressed his thanks to the group for the event.

The tables carried out the school colors, inexpensively done to cut down on costs, by a clever committee. Bouquets of roses, snowballs and daisies were placed attractively about by Mrs. T. De Noble's committee, while dolls made by hand and dressed in graduating caps and gowns carried diplomas. On the back of the dolls were imitation blackboards with writing on each, expressing in white ink, appreciation to the faculty for service rendered through the year.

About the tables could be seen many town notables, such as Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Moshier, the supervising principal, Mayor and Mrs. Louis Bay, Commissioner and Mrs. John Titus.

At the close of the dinner, Home School President Mrs. Edgar Coleman relegated the members to the auditorium where a brief business meeting took place. Committee heads were called upon to give a report. Miss Fahey of the faculty and treasurer for the organization reported that band uniform account to stand at $680.45. Principal Geier addressed the group on the problem of raising sufficient funds to meet the need for the uniforms in the fall. He stated loans were not available to a group such as they had and he had secured five signatures of good faith, on the outside, in order to make the loan legal. But 10 more signatures were needed that night. Without hesitation more than 10 people stepped forward ready to sign in good faith, for the group.

Since the old uniforms are 10 years old, this gift of the Home School Group will make it possible to secure 60 new uniforms for students who will be ready to wear them. The Home School Group will raise, next year, the money borrowed.

Mrs. Vernooy chairman of the ways and means committee, thanked everyone for helping during the year, while Mrs. Madeleine Woodham, chairman for publicity, thanked those who had co-operated with making her work successful, mentioning the month she was ill and Mrs. Bay and Mrs. De Noble took over. Membership committee was reported for by Mrs. Robertson who stated the year ended with 124 paid up members, 40 of which were teachers. Another year a drive will be put on to increase parent membership. She stated some people think the dues are 50 cents a month but they are not. That is the fee for a yearly membership.

A beautiful flower painting done by five junior girls was won by lucky Mrs. Burdina Brown of 344 Haledon Avenue, Prospect Park. The five girls who worked the piece in oils were: Gloria Schama, Joyce Knape, Katherine Kay, Joan Ochsnor and Lenore Graff.

At 8 o'clock sharp the entertainment started. Mrs. Josephine Martronardy's pupils put on a fashion show of work having been completed within the last four months at school. The narrator, Lucy Alvina, introduced each event and described each gown as it was presented. Between scenes the orchestra played and Mary Joosten was the curtain opener with her appropriate songs.

Then people milled to room 302 where Miss Misia Bush, art supervisor, had a display of exceptional work of all kinds on the walls of the room, oils, water-colors, crayon, textile designing, oil crayons and pastels, while stenciling designs onto dresses and other activities took place. In the hall a work shop had been set up where students actually ran off block prints, painted pictures, displayed illustrations for stories, paper sculptoring, etc.

Pupils who participated in same of these activities and were not previously mentioned are: Block printing, Joseph Valvino, Joseph Turic and George Snyder. Under story illustration, only Leora Motta alone held a truly remarkable display of her ability. Many students whose names are not mentioned ushered parents about explaining different things.

One of the outstanding are contributions was a mural in oils, outside of Mr. Geiers office at the foot of the stairs. Sir Galahad, arrayed in armour, stands, with the "strength of ten" as a parting gift to the school by the senior art students. Above the figure is enscribed in gold letters Tennyson's words, "My strength is as the strength of ten because my heart is pure."

The seniors who worked on the painting were: Sally Casper, Margaret Shaw, Denton Lund, Robert Fletcher and Frank Easterhoff, while the lettering at the top, done in gold, was done by a freshman, Mason Girardi. Miss Bush stated she selected the words as an ideal toward which all students could strive.

Ever notice how people buy things they don't want with money they don't have just to keep up with the neighbors?

Plans were also completed for a boat ride to Bridgeport, Conn. which will be held on July 14. All members and friends of the auxiliary who would like to make the trip are cordially invited to attend.

The auxiliard celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary on June 14 with a dinner at The Maples in Preakness. Cars left the church at 5:45 p. m. and transportation was provided for all.

velopment announced today.

The change in the loan provisions followed a meeting of the advisory council for the Division of Veterans Services where the Veterans Loan Authority is administered.

In the past, Erdman explained, a veteran who had been established in business 18 months or more was not eligible for a State-guaranteed loan. Under the new ruling, effective immediately, a veteran who has established or re-established himself in business, agriculture or a profession is not restricted by time limitations. He may apply at his local bank or lending institution for a State-guaranteed loan up to a maximum of $3,000. The money is to be used in the business for the purchase of inventory, stock, equipment or for additional working capital. After the bank has approved the loan application, it is forwarded to the Veterans Loan Authority in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development where it is guaranteed or insured.

Although six years is allowed the veteran ... considerable number ... is full and many others make payments far in advance of due dates, Commissioner Erdman reports.

of the campaign, classes will start on July 5th and will continue until July 29th. The increased demand for this instruction has necessitated the expansion of the entire program. Therefore, two teams of expert Red Cross swimming instructors will cover the entire chapter area. Classes are scheduled for Lakeside Swimming Park in Haledon; Rovero's on Route 23, Mountain View; Valley Spring Park in Riverdale; Green Valley Park in West Milford, Genader's White Birch Park in Echo Lake, Fair Lawn Bathing Beach on Saddle River Road, Fair Lawn; Rainbow Lake in Haskell; Hershfield Park in Pompton Lakes; Fair Lawn Memorial Park in Fair Lawn and Surprise Lake in Kinnelon. This expansive program will enable every youngster or adult to attend a class near to his home.

Civic, fraternal and PTA organizations have indicated that they will cooperate with the local Red Cross in this movement to waterproof the people of the Chapter area by offering transportation facilities to outlying territories.

The Federal Rock, Yaw Paw, Fair Lawn, Little Falls, Wayne, High Mountain, Hawthorne, East Paterson, West Milford Totowa and West Paterson branches of the Red Cross are sponsors of the campaign within their branch areas.

These free courses will be devoted to the actual fundamentals of swimming and to a survey of water safety techniques and when they are finished, Pohl said, both the citizens and the Red Cross can look forward to the most enjoyable healthful, and safe summer in history.

County Clerk Floyd E. Jones Installs Young G. O. P. Officials Slate At Meeting

Dinner Held At Shortman's Rest

County Clerk Floyd E. Jones installed new officers at the annual dinner meeting of the Hawthorne Unit. Passaic County Young Republican League, recently in Shortman's Rest.

Ray Van Valkenburgh, Jr., County Young Republican chairman, was master of ceremonies. He was introduced by Joseph Guarria dinner chairman.

The necessity of a two-party system to the very existence of a democracy was stressed by Jones. He urged the members to work for and participate in Republican activities, as Democratic Party members must do, to insure continued democratic government in the United States. He said the Republican Party could look forward to a "complete victory" in the coming elections only with the earnest cooperation of all of its party members.

"No one ever got his foot print in the sands of time by sitting," he observed.

Mayor Louis Bay, II. told of his pleasure in "calling the Hawthorne Unit my friends." He spoke of his fellow candidates, Robert C. Moore and Andrew Knapp, on the Republican ticket for freeholder and said he felt that, with support from other county groups such as that the borough Republicans voters have always demonstrated, he was confident of the outcome of the November elections. The mayor thanked the "young" Republicans for their "unfailing support and backing."

VanValkenburgh also introduced County Treasurer Raymond L. Rhodes, whom he called "the God-father of our group." Rhodes lauded Mayor Bay for his work within and outside the borough, and asked the members to pledge their fullest efforts toward the election of the G.O.P. freeholder slate.

Officers installed were. Honorary president, Raymond L. Rhodes; president, Ruth Z. Patton; first vice-president, Joseph Guarria; second vice-president, Helen Van Voorhies; recording secretary, Elsa Grossgebauer; financial secretary, Alice Hall; cor-

Some of my nephews and nieces want to save regularly and actually do it. Others mean to save but don't always get around to it. These latter are the ones who only think about a budget. The best way to save is to do it on a regular basis, every payday. And the best investment is U. S. Savings Bonds.

If you're on a payroll, enroll for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, sign up for the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. Either way, you're building future security in the soundest way possible. And your money increases, four dollars for three in 10 years' time.

Hawthornotes For Hawthornites - - - - -

This week we extend our congratulations to the graduates of our local schools, wishing them continued success and happiness. Three hundred and forty-three diplomas have been awarded: fifteen at Washington School, thirty-one at Franklin School, forty-seven at Roosevelt School, fifty-two at Lincoln School and two hundred at Hawthorne High School. Parents and friends attended commencement exercises and lingered to wish the graduates well, forming for them a tie and a memory that they will cherish as they grow old.

Class parties, autographs, flowers. congratulatory messages, caps and gowns, awards, graduation gifts, family parties, all join to contribute to the glowing spirit of restless youth as it forges ahead on the pathway of life.

COMMENCEMENT

Out of the realms of childhood,
There flows a laughing brook,
That you have bridged with stepping stones,
Of pages from a book.
You have laid your span securely,
Across the rippling stream,
And will follow the path to wisdom,
On the footsteps of a dream.
When you climb the rugged mountainside,
You will look from there to seek,
The silver of the threading brook,
As you stand upon the peak.
And your memory will broaden,
To find the stream below,
To see the bridge of stepping stones,
That led where you would go.

MISS RINGEL, DAVID STEPHENS WED IN CHURCH

A very pretty summer wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon when Miss Florence Ellen Ringel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ringel, 89 First Avenue, Hawthorne, was married to David Stephens, son of Mrs. David Stephens of Elm Street, Wharton, N. J. E. Jones

WHERE THE U.S.A. BEGAN

Washington, D. C.—The 250th Anniversary of Colonial Williamsburg is to be celebrated in that famous Virginia community with a round of activities throughout the year.

A good many years ago "We" (J. E. Jones and wife) drove over a long, poor highway until we came to a bend in the road where workmen were engaged in an unusual occupation. Naturally we stopped to inquire what was going on, and the men on the job enthusiastically informed us that they were uncovering the foundations of the Virginia Capitol building when England reigned and ruled nearly everything in that part of America. We promptly decided to stay around. The next morning we called at the printing office and began a warm friendship with Editor Osborne, who had re-established the Virginia Gazette—the oldest newspaper in America.

The next event on that trip was to Jamestown Island and down through the years we have gone again and again to Williamsburg—and Jamestown is always on our schedule.

On a Sunday morning we attended one of the most wonderful church services of our lifetime. The Bishop from Norfolk headed the entire membership of old Bruton Parish Church on this visit to Jamestown. Only the walls of the old church at Jamestown stand as mute evidence of the early days in our glorious history. Marble tablets, headstones and tombs remind us of the passing of Time. Pocahontas, the famous "Indian Princess' was married to John Rolfe at that church altar.

Just as our Sunday morning service was about to begin, a number of English Naval officers appeared in resplendent uniforms. The finest group of Americans, Englishmen and representatives of several nations partook in that service on that island where the first legislative assembly in America was held and—Captain John Smith lives in history as the Englishman who held possession of Jamestown Island. Today it is a Must to visit and accept it as the greatest of all symbols of the Birth of America.

Credit for the restoration of Williamsburg is due to John D. Rockefeller who has brought Colonial Williamsburg back to the front and rebuilt most of the city.

The Governor of Virginia and the Mayor of the City of Williamsburg have issued proclamations to inform the Nation of the great events that are happening in the pace that was at one time known as the Midde Pantation. That Middle Plantation is the most beloved spot in our Nation, for the simpe reason that it was the "good beginning."

"It is there fore fitting that this anniversary in the history of Wiliamsburg be observed," says the Governor, and he urges all the people of Virginia to join with the citizens of Williamsburg to commemorate this 20th anniversary.

Governor Tuck, several million of your fellow Americans are going to "come from everywhere" throughout this memorabe year to show their appreciation to "Od Virginny," the birthplace of Our America.

Enemies Abroad

The Paris meeting accomplished too little says President Truman, but he welcomed Secretary Acheson home and congratulated him on "an excellent job."

The United States and our associate nations stood by their guns and gave Russia to understand, very plainly, that the American people are not going to slacken their efforts to make the world safe from hellish wars.

As the official records stand today the Marshall Plan blockades the Communists. If there arises the necessity of a was with the Russians they will be crushed. Ordinarily that woud be just too bad, but during the lifetime of most of us the Russians have alwayse been enemies of civilization. They even murdered their own Czar and his family.

Drive With Caution

It is a very good idea for motorists to join in an effort to reduce the number of accidents on the highways. Any official can tell you how to drive.

Driving an automobie is safe, providing that the drivers on the highway use common sense and do not "burn up the roads."

There are good roads all over the United States. The main thing is: Drive with caution.

Figure it all out for yourself, and let your brains help in solving the problems of the highways.

Say What You Want To!

Nearly every part of the nation reports strikes. The whole American economic system is upset. When these strikes are over they simply leave conditions worse than they were before the strikes began.

The Ford Motor Company in Detroit told its workers that it cannot agree to the CIO unions in their demands for $100 pensions. Ford told the UAW union that the economy is on a downward trend, and that it would be utter folly to take action which would increase the prices of products. "The post-war buggy-ride of ever-higher wages, costs and prices is over," according to Ford.

There are strikes among labor organizations right in the National Capital and the building industry is upset. In fact there seems to be some kind of labor trouble in every part of the country — and these strikes are upsetting a very large part of all National activities.

Everyone knows that the Truman Administration is taking orders from the labor unions. Possibly the whole swing of events is a last ditch attempt to seal the program between President Truman and the labor bosses.

The repeal of the present law might bring back the old Wagner Act which was so elastic that former President Roosevelt took charge of the settlement of strikes—and the employers lost out in nearly every instance.

As time goes on the Taft-Hartley Act is gaining support in Congress—just because it is plain hardheaded common sense. The floods of strikes seem to make monkeys out of many Members of Congress, who are willing to sell their country down the river. Strikes are causing almost as much trouble in peace-ttime as Communism.

You might just as well make up your mind that your country and mine will never get back to the ways of good Government and peace until this warlike attitude right here at home between American employers and American workers is recognized as a threat against peace and prosperity.

How Can We Get That Way?

Some of the smartest guys in Washington are using big newspaper headlines under which they prophecy that new economy plans are expected to avoid a depression.

"Fair Deal" authors confidently predict that full production, high paid employment, and other stabilizers would keep the Nation steady and prosperous.

Most of this is "talking through the hats!" The crisis is not over and it will not give way to wishful thinking.

Russia abuses us week in and week out as a "capitalistic horror," trying to control the world. As a matter of fact we are trying to bring peace to every Nation.

We are spending our money like spendthrifts in our efforts to restore peace among the Nations. And that kind of spending is rocking our own foundations right here at home.

The Communists are being weeded out very slowly, because all kinds of radicals rarely ever give up easily. Franklin Delano Roosevelt carried his radicalism so far thaa men like Henry Wallace had very little trouble in rallying the wild men of America to the support of his notions which he received from Roosevelt.

And right up to this moment there isn't a thing in the attitude of Russia which supports the belief that they are to be trusted in any way.

The prophets cannot forecast what is going to happen. The key to all of our remedies still fails to unlock the troubled doors.

Where the Money Goes To

Most of the wealth that rolls into the Government Treasury can be accounted for, but the outgo is estimated to be at least $1,00,000,000 the present year. That's not the worst of it; the outgo of money for the next 12 months will exceed the income by at least $5 billion dollars. Most people in Washngton think there is going to be a slump. But well informed government leaders says that there will be "cushions" to ease the shock during coming years. Guess we will pull through somehow.

Understandable

Secretary of State Acheson told the Russian foreign minister Vishinsky that his proposal for a German peace treaty was as "full of propaganda as a dog is of fleas." That's the kind of language the Russians seem to understand. When Vishinsky and his fellow slanderers get going with speeches they certainly do not give out much hope of peace.

JUSTICE IN EMPLOYMENT PRACTICES

Nearly four years of experience with a fair employment practices law has shown the people of New York State that it is responsible for making marked progress in opening work opportunities to men and women regardless of their race, religion, color, or national origin. Quite as significant is the fact—by now beyond dispute—that the law does not violate the traditional American spirit of free enterprise, imposes no hardships on employers, and is in complete accord with American principles of justice and human rights.

In its 1948 report the New York State Commission Against Discrimination could affirm that its policy of cooperation with employers, unions, Boards of Education, and public and private agencies in many other fields, has "reduced the incidence of discrimination and created greater opportunities in employment for hitherto proscribed groups than ever before existed."

Said the Yale Law Journal in May, 1947, concerning the operation of the New York law against discrimination, "None of the predictions made by its original opponents has proved valid." Employers who are familiar with how the law works, agree with this appraisal. From the head of a statewide organization of retail merchants came a letter to the New York State Commission Against Discrimination. "Surely, the present law imposes no hardships on the employer," he stated. "It simply applies penalties to acts of discrimination when those acts deprive an inhabitant of our State of the fundamental human rights which he has; namely, the right to earn a living."

Testimony of this kind by employers is abundant. Typical is that of the Superintendent of Personnel Administration, Western Electric Company, New York. "It is my opinion," he said, "that the administration of the Fair Employment Practice law in the States of New York and New Jersey has been fair and reasonable and has not entailed any undue hardship on employers who are trying to do a conscientious job in their employee relations situations. We have not experienced any difficulty in meeting the requirements of these laws and so far as I know, they have been accepted generally by our employees."

In The Social Politics of FEPC, Louis Coleridge Kesselman writes, "In the states having laws with 'teeth' the record has been good. The much feared controls over the employer's freedom to select his own workers have not produced the dangerous situations predicted by opponents. Employers have not had to hire incompetents or crackpots, nor have they had to dismiss white employes to make room for Negroes."

No one need feel that fair employment practices laws, now in force in several states, violate American principles.

On the contrary, they are drawn primarily to give expression of these principles. For they recognize that one of the inalienable rights of all men, of which the Declaration of Independence speaks, is the right to work. It, like all other rights with which God has endowed men, is given to them in order that they may fulfill their duties and develop their talents. It is the function and obligation of Government, as the Declaration states again, to take account of the manner in which God has constituted human nature and to secure to men the rights which God gives them at birth.

There is no dispute about this principle where the issue is the Government's duty to protect the rights of men to speak, to print, and to worship. There can be no dispute about it either when it is a matter of the Government's responsibility to secure to men their inalienable right to work in the face of attempts by some to deny this right because of a man's race, religion, color, or national origin. In truth, the Government may not follow a dual course—recognize the law of God in human nature when it concerns the right to speak, to print, and to worship—while refusing to recognize the same aw of God in human nature when it concerns the right to work. The law of God is one—and the law of the State, which bows to it, but be one also.

Fair employment practices laws, now operative in several states, are showing the way to justice in employment procedure. Other states ought to follow their example by passing similar laws.

JUST RELAXING

GEORGIANNA KEMP, captain of the Philadelphia girls team of the Roller Derby now playing the New Jersey-Brooklyn skaters in a thirteen game series that ends Saturday nite, July 2, at Ruppert Stadium in Newark. Miss Kemp, handy with her fists, is relaxing on the track before an afternoon sprint training session. In private life, "Georgie" is the wife of teammate Bob Lewis.

Roller Derby Will End On July 2

New Jersey sports fans have taken to the Roller Derby now being presented at Ruppert Stadium in Newark. The mad whirl moved into the Bears ball yard on Monday, June 20 and has been paying to large crowds there. It winds up its stay on Saturday night, July 1 when it will leave these parts until the middle of Octotber when it returns to play indoors this winter.

At the present time the New Jersey-Brooklyn and Philadelphia teams are battling for the prize money with the gals outshining the men for the attention of the fans. Four of the Femme skaters are topping the others. Toughie Brashun and Fuzzy Buchek of New Jersey and Mary Youplle and Georgianna Kemp of the Philadelphia team.

Currently taking the country by storm, aided and abetted by television which has taken it right into American homes, Roller Derby is enjoying unprecedented success . . . which is what Leo Seltzer its originator, predicted back in 1935. "When you realize that more than 90 per cent of Americans have enjoyed roller skating at some time or otther in their lives, you can understand the present popularity of Roller Derby, says Seltzer. "All these people needed was a game to play on roller skates. That's what Roller Derby is."

Contrary to the belief of those who have never watched it at trackside, or seen it on television in their living rooms at home, Roller Derby is not a marathon; neither is it an endurance contest. It is a "game" played by two teams. A game consists of two halves, with four 15-minute periods in each half. A team is made up of five boy skaters and five girl skaters. Girls skate against girls twice and boys against boys likewise.

Roller Derby is played on a high banked track which is one eighteenth of a mile around. Object of the competition is to lap the field, as in six-day bike racing. One point is awarded for lapping one member of the opposing team; two points for passing three opponents; five for passing the entire rival team. Each team is made up of fast sprinters for the offense, and rough, tough, bodychecking blockers for the defenese.

In the normal course of events, defensive stars do not relish being passed by the opposition, and that's where boding, tripping some unnecessary roughness even their way in. There is a penalty box at either end of the track to take care of those who do not abide by the rules. Unnecessary roughness is considered taboo. It is also illegal to trip also illegal to trip or kick an opponent, which is often difficult to do while travelling at a speed of 35 miles an hour. At any rate rues violator are banished to the penalty box (as in ice hockey) to cool their flaring tempers. It's a great game!"

PERMIT WATER FOR GARDENS, NOT LAWNS

Commissioner William E. Fairhurst of the department of public works announced recently that resident of the borough may use water to water their gardens but not their lawns. The water may be used between 7 and 8 o'clock in the evening.

The commissioner extends his thanks to the residents of the borough for the splendid co-operation shown during the emergency.

It's a pretty good sign that the honeymoon is over when the bride starts complaining about the noise hubby makes getting breakfast.
