Taxpayer Ass'n Loses Status As Plaintiff

Last week the Hawthorne Homeowners and Taxpayers Association experienced some trying moments on the witness stand when relatively simple and direct questions about the organization went unanswered. This week, from a legal standpoint, it passed into oblivion. On a direct motion from Joseph M. Jacobs, counsellor for one of the defendants in the action, Waynefield, Inc., the group was dropped from the list of plaintiffs on the claim that it was neither citizen nor taxpayer and as such had no standing to sue. Superior Judge Worrall F. Mountain's ruling which eliminated them stated "Technically it (the group) may not be a legal entity. Rumors have been persistent that a group of tax minded citizens will ask the Borough Counsel to explore the possibility of bringing suit against those responsible for the loss of approximately $154,000 to property owners, as members of an incorporated town.

Costly Zone Suit Decision Reserved

Decision has been reserved on the costly suit, from the standpoint of the man on the street who is grateful for any tax relief; challenging two Hawthorne Garden Apartment Laws. Superior Court Judge Worrall F. Mountain said he will probably give a decision next week.

This is the fourth suit in three years by a group led by the president of the dwelling and four labelled illegal plaintiff, Hawthorne Homeowners and Taxpayers Association.

Poster Contest Marks First Step For Clean Water

Richard Luecker, President of the Hawthorne Jaycees, announced the first step of the public participation in the Jaycee Clean Water Program. It will involve the school children in a poster and essay contest.

The poster contest is open to all 6th, 7th and 8th grade students of the borough schools. First prize will be a trophy. Second and third prizes are certificates. Winning posters will be displayed throughout the borough.

The essay contest is open to all high school students. First prize is a $25.00 U. S. Savings Bond. Second and third prizes are certificates.

Complete details for these contests are available at all the schools or from the Hawthorne Jaycees, PO Box 222, Hawthorne.

Auxiliary Names Four to Girls' State

The New Jersey Girls' State will be held at Douglass College in New Brunswick, June 25 to 30.

The American Legion Auxiliary has named four students as delegates and four as alternates, all from Hawthorne High School.

Delegates are Barbara Cavanaugh, Shirley Clarfelds, Barbara Jehlen and Lois Lembo.

Sharon Hunter is first alternate; Susan Pohlman, second alternate; Nancy Terpstra, third alternate; and Maureen McGill fourth alternate.

The Raymond Rhodes Agency, Magic Mirror, and J. West Heating are sponsoring the delegates.

Two Are Elected To Phi Beta Kappa

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa, one of the highest scholastic honors available to college students, has been accorded to 164 young men and women at various divisions of the State University.

Two borough residents are among those named. They are Kathryn H. Florio of 18 Waverly Road, a senior at Douglass College and James M. Labough, Jr., (Continued on page five)

Lowering of Voting Age Gains in Popularity

Some months back the "Press" initiated its "From 21—Vote" editorial campaign. Several weeks ago a bill was introduced in the State Legislature to lower the age. Now, the latest Gallup poll states that public support for this measure has reached an all time high. The most recent poll shows that adults (24 years or more), who were asked whether 18, 19 and 20-year-olds should be permitted to vote answered in the affirmative. At present, only those 21 years of age or older can vote. In 1939 the affirmative vote was only 17 per cent.

One of the interesting sidelights on today's report is that the group presently denied the vote has a higher average level of schooling than any other age group in the population.

Republicans Look For Demo Defectors

Ray C. Bliss, Republican National Chairman, said last Saturday that big city Democrats must be converted into GOP voters and candidates if the Republicans are to win in the up-coming elections. He said, "We are a minority party." "Naturally, we are going to have to attract Democrats."

At a two day meeting of County chairmen in Washington, D.C. Bliss told a news conference that the GOP should welcome any converts from the Democratic party. He went on to say "My experience is that the converts are really enthusiastic. Techniques for the 1968 campaign were also discussed.

Romney Reticent - Nixon Nixed By Leonard Hall

Conjecture is still playing a dominant role in the almost too early GOP Presidential sweepstakes for 1968. Never have candidates emerged so early, never has there been so much premature "jockeying" for position, and never have there been so many aspirants. Two of the early starters have come up for criticism this week.

First under discussion was the position of Romney, usually a straight-from-the-shoulder politician, a sturdy character with no fancy footwork, finds himself unstable in his own beliefs. For his own reasons apparently he is vacillating on the Vietnam issue. Whether or not his backers are responsible is hard to say, though it seems that they are testing po-

Mrs. Wunsch Gets Honor for Service To Retarded

PARAMUS—Tonight we honor the hundreds of volunteers whose combined efforts make possible our programs to help mentally retarded children and adults," it was stated by Rabbi Bernard Wallish of Teaneck, President of the Bergen-Passaic Unit of the New Jersey Association for Retarded Children, at the group's meeting at the Bergen Mall Auditorium.

"We salute all the individuals and groups—local, civic, fraternal and religious clubs—whose generous support makes possible the nursery and day care classes, summer day camp, vocational training center, teen canteens and recreation activities now enjoyed by some 750 member families in the Bergen-Passaic area. We thank all of you for bringing real encouragement to families with a mentally handicapped child as we daily demonstrate our conviction that retarded children can be helped," Wallish noted.

Miss Hawthorne '66 Seeks County Title

Miss Joyce Perzychl, Miss Hawthorne for 1966 is seeking another title—that of Miss Passaic County 1967. She is planning and working hard for Pageant Night to be held April 15.

Prior to the final contest, a cavalcade will travel through the towns of the finalists. A full week of rehearsals will be held.

Irving Warhaftig, executive director of the pageant has announced that Miss Sharon Kay Ritchie, Miss America 1956 will be Mistress of Ceremonies.

Miss Passaic County will receive $300; the first runner-up will receive $50; and the second runner-up will receive $25. Miss Congeniality and the Most Talented Contestant will each receive $25.

Ticket Chairman Cy Jannarelli announced that tickets are now on sale and can be obtained from any Paterson Jaycee. Orders for tickets may be sent to Miss Passaic County Pageant, P.O. Box 1629, Paterson, N. J.

Billy Barnes Gets Nomination For President's Medal

Billy Barnes, a 21-year-old Paterson young man who has been confined to crutches since he was 8 years old, has been nominated for the President's Medal for Employment of the Handicapped.

This award is designed to honor a person for his outstanding service as a handicapped American. Billy's nomination is the climax of his over-all accomplishments.

At present he is employed as a clerk-typist for the Paterson Task Force. Prior to this he worked as a typist in St. Joseph's Hospital, receiving his training at the Sherwood School of Business and the Market Institute School. His quest to be self-supporting began when he gave up his relief payments and became a singer. He sang in over 200 churches.

Billy is also the author of a book, entitled "In Spite of My Handicap," which has been signed (Continued On Page 5)

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the American Cancer Society, under its symbol, the Sword of Hope, is a voluntary health organization fighting cancer through a most effective program of Research, Education and Services; and

WHEREAS, the New Jersey Division of the said American Cancer Society, through volunteers in the Passaic County Chapter, is carrying on a year-round effort to alert the public to the necessity of regular health check-ups and at the same time helping those already stricken; and

WHEREAS, in 1966 an estimated 12,300 men, women and children died of cancer in New Jersey alone; and

WHEREAS, more and more funds are needed if these programs are to be carried out and the cause of cancer found through Research, now, therefore,

I, Louis Bay, 2nd, Mayor of the Borough of Hawthorne, do declare the month of April to be Cancer Control Month in Hawthorne, Passaic County, New Jersey, and urge the residents to support through voluntary assistance and contributions the cancer control programs of the Passaic County Chapter, American Cancer Society, New Jersey Division, Inc.

Mrs. Leslie To Run As Independent

Mrs. Edith Leslie of 88 Bamford Ave. is the first woman ever to file as a candidate for Commissioner in the borough.

Mrs. Leslie will run as an Independent under the slogan "Positive, Representative Government."

She was born in Manchester, England, and came to Hawthorne as an English "War-Bride" on April 4, 1946. She has been a borough resident ever since. She is married to Peter Leslie, vice-president of Steelfab, Inc., Marshall Street, Paterson. The couple have two sons, Peter, Jr., 19, who attends Seton Hall University in Paterson, and James, 12, a 6th grade student at the local Franklin School.

This year's election marks another borough record for the lowest number of persons ever to run for the three seats.

Kenyon Receives Kiwanis Citation

Charles F. Kenyon Tuesday night received a Certificate of Merit in recognition for his work as secretary of Hawthorne Kiwanis. One of ten such awards given out by Mervin T. Haines, Governor of the N.J. District of Kiwanis, the award is the highest recognition a club secretary can receive.

Kenyon has been a member of Kiwanis since 1951 during which time he served as club secretary with one year out as president. Kenyon is Chief of Police for the borough and resides with his wife Ruth on Lafayette Avenue.

Junior Boys To Visit Lafayette

On April 16, 1967, a group of junior boys will visit Lafayette College in Easton, Penna. The program known as Junior Visiting Day is intended to acquaint interested juniors with the many aspects of Lafayette College. Under the direction of the National Schools Committee at the college the days activities will be a special convocation at which the director of admissions will speak, a luncheon, and a baseball game and lacrosse match in the afternoon.

The program in Hawthorne is under the direction of R. J. Soppelil, science teacher at the high school. All boys who are interested should contact Mr. Soppelil at the high school.

Malcolm Macfarlan

Malcolm V. Macfarlan, whose father was the first mayor of the borough of Hawthorne, will serve as campaign manager for Mayor Louis Bay II, Commissioner James A. Kirkman and Planning Board Chairman Harold Floyd who are running as a team in the May 9 commissioners election.

"It is a privilege to be able to work for the election of Mayor Bay, Commissioner Kirkman and Mr. Floyd," Macfarlan said today. "The record of accomplishment of the present administration speaks well of the community. Through the efforts of Mayor Bay, Commissioner Kirkman and Commissioner John G. Kozema we have had an administration that has given the people of our community the necessary services within their ability to pay. It is especially gratifying to see that the borough of Hawthorne has the third lowest tax rate in the county. For continued good government, I urge the re-election of Mayor Bay and Commissioner Kirkman and the election of Mr. Floyd."

GOP Should Not Use Viet Issue Says Sen. Case

Any 1968 Republican Presidential nominee who tries to make the Vietnam war a political issue, will not get the support of moderate Senator Clifford P. Case (R-N. J.). Case will undoubtedly be elected the 40-vote New Jersey delegation. His views on the Vietnam issue is not confined to the Republican party alone. He said "I've been hailing at the idea that Vietnam would be considered by either party as a political issue. And for myself, regardless of party, anyone who attempted to make it so would by that action take away any chance of my support." These views were expressed on a taped television interview. Case is expected to visit Vietnam in the near future.

As far as he was concerned, Case said he feels that "our objectives were great objectives" in Vietnam, for the sole purpose of bringing stability to Asia. The Senator felt that the U. S. has done the right thing and would accept an honorable peace.

Third Graders Hear Guest from Ghana

Mr. Norbert Aninsia, a citizen of Ghana, Africa, recently spoke to third grade classes of Mrs. Marilyn Herring and Miss Carol Fearns at the Lincoln School. Mr. Aninsia spoke of his native country, its history and development, and answered the many questions posed by pupils. Mr. Aninsia is a graduate student presently studying in the United States. He plans to teach upon his return to Ghana. The presentation was arranged by Miss Carol Fearns as part of their study of Africa in social studies.

YBOR CITY

Here is a city within a city. Ybor City is situated within the city of Tampa, Florida, and here you can find all of the old world charm of Spain and Italy without going abroad. Founded in 1886 by Vintente Martinez Ybor, a Cuban who induced a cigar industry to move from Havana to Key West and finally to Tampa, Ybor City, with some 48,000 Latins, now is the largest Latin colony in the South.

First Cuban and Spanish families came and then Italian, establishing a native identity that sets Ybor City apart today. Spanish and Italian are spoken in the city's stores, restaurants and coffee houses, often to the exclusion of English.

Social life in Tampa's Latin Quarter centers around such clubs as El Centro Espanol, the Cuban Club, the Unione Italiana and the Centro Asturiano. Not only do these clubs serve as the focal center for leisure-time activities but they have extended medical and hospital coverage to members since they were first founded in the 1890s. Ybor City residents have enjoyed medicare long before the word was even known.

Ybor City's cigar factories, which produce more than 800,000,000 cigars annually, are popular year-round sightseeing attractions, with many plants conducting daily tours. Although many factories now use complicated machinery for cigar making, some 5,000 persons are still employed in the industry. And there are still a few craftsmen who turn out cigars by hand. The original "coffee break" was first observed at the cigar factories when El Cafetero, The Coffee Man, made his periodic rounds to serve workers.

Over The . . . Fence

by lee missonellie

Though Easter is past I thought you might be interested in a few facts concerning this festive occasion. Peoples in foreign lands are astonished to learn that the traditional dinner of Americans usually features baked ham and not roast lamb. This is particularly true in France and Italy.

This may be true at Easter time but with the arrival of the vernal season our thoughts turn to spring lamb, for at no other time of year is this meat quite so delicate in flavor or tender in texture.

Spring lamb is usually three to five months old. Baby lamb, which in France is called "Pascal" lamb, is very young . . . not more than three months old. Winter lamb may range in age from five to twelve months. Since it has been grazing for sometime it's flavor is more pronounced. Older lamb is usually at it's best when roasted faintly pink, or medium rare. Lamb is not officially "Mutton" until the sheep reaches it's first birthday. This is not a favorite dish to many but the connoisseur contends that such well aged, highly flavored meat is choice when barbecued.

Here's a recipe for your Spring Lamb. Don't let the name throw you! It's a tongue twister . . . but a palate pleaser!

Gigot D'agneau a la boulangere

In English it all boils down to cooking vegetables while roasting meat.

Ingredients

A 6 to 7 pound leg of lamb, 1 teaspoon dried rosemary, 8 med. potatoes, 3 med. onions, ¼ lb. mushrooms, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, salt and pepper.

Rub the lamb with salt, place in a large roasting pan, and sprinkle it with rosemary. Brown the meat well on both sides, cooking in moderate oven (400) for about 1 hour, basting often. Peel and slice potatoes ¼ inch thick. Parboil in enough water to cover, for 2 minutes. Drain. Peel and slice onions and mushrooms, mixing all together gently but thoroughly. Sprinkle with parsley and season with salt and pepper. Slide the roasting pan out of the oven and arrange the vegetables around the lamb. Baste vegetables with the pan juices. Return pan to oven and continue roasting for another hour. (To test meat, pierce the thickest part with a fork. The juices that run out should be clear and colorless. A tinge of pink means more cooking is needed.)

Women flaggers at highway construction sites may be a future development, according to the AAA. A Montana contractor hired a few attractive young ladies to direct traffic as a publicity stunt and found such "enthusiastic response" the company plans to hire only women flaggers from now on.

The Appalachian highway program—an experiment to determine whether good roads can bring prosperity to isolated and depressed areas, is making good progress, according to the AAA. On September 30, 1966, about $170 million had been obligated, 220 miles were completed or under construction, while engineering and right-of-way acquisition were under way on 480 miles.

Roman . . . . Vocabulary

V—VATICANO (vah-tee-kahn'-oh). Concept includes: Pope Paul VI, who will bless you and several thousand others from his balcony on Sunday mornings; the world's vastest church with, among other treasures of art, Michelangelo's Pieta and the stunning gold Altar of the Holy Spirit by Bernini; handsome Swiss guards in dazzling orange and blue striped costume; the Vatican Museum and the Sistine Chapel. Properly exploring the Vatican usually consumes a whole day. Also under "V" note: Via Veneto (vee'-ah veh'nay-toh), street of the poshest hotels, nightclubs and bars, movie stars and gaping American tourists — plus, of course, the slickest con men and most exclusive women of pleasure.

X and Y—More letters Italians do very well without.

Z—ZOO (zoh). Just like in America, a carnival of tawny beasts, chattering chimps and wide-eyed youngsters with cotton-candy on their cheeks. But Rome's zoo is really a good one and worth a visit. Perhaps you'll have your picture taken at the zoo's gate holding a lion cub, which the photographer assures you is harmless as a baby.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

As you travel the Interstate highways this spring, remember there is a definite system in the numbering of the routes.

"This can be a help in orienting yourself as you travel along," according to Don Hughes, travel manager for the North Jersey Automobile Club of the AAA.

The AAA club official said the system works like this:

The north-south routes bear odd numbers. The east-west routes have even numbers. Routes with one or two digits are through routes.

Routes with three numbers, when the first number is even, are routes through or around cities — usually beltways. When the first number is odd in a three-digit route, it designates a spur route into the city.

Low number Interstate highways running north and south begin in the west and proceed with gradually higher numbers. For the east-west Interstate highways, the low numbers are in the south, the higher numbers in the north.

New Jersey Bank & Trust Co. Reports

The Index of Business in the Passaic Valley remained unchanged this period at 172 of the 1946-49 average, according to the current issue of the Newsletter of Business and Industry of the New Jersey Bank and Trust Company. Manufacturing as a whole showed a small improvement, with increases in durable goods, particularly electrical machinery. Non-durable activity declined slightly, reflecting small reductions in apparel and chemicals, but these were insufficient to offset the rise in durables. The changes in manufacturing are contrary to the national trend, where durable goods-output has been slipping for some months. Local retail sales also showed a small decline this month, but the general tone of business here is still good, and the unemployment level is well below that of a year ago.

The Newsletter outlines the differences between industrial mergers of the past, which had been of both horizontal and vertical types, with those of the current merger boom. Present mergers, it observes, are so different from those of the past that economists have coined a new word, "conglomerates," to describe them. A conglomerate merger is defined as one in which a company acquires another business or service completely unrelated to its own.

Among the reasons for the lack of greater concentration resulting from mergers, according to the Newsletter, are these three factors: 1) the growth of government activities—local, state and national; 2) the formation and survival of small companies, especially in the service industries, as a result of the long period of prosperity; and 3) the effects of government anti-trust activities.

The Newsletter concludes that conglomerate mergers in industry have raised total assets or sales of a conglomerating enterprise without increasing its share of a particular industry.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Last year, a bill was introduced in Congress that would have vastly expanded the mis-named rural electrification program — misnamed because rural electrification is virtually 100 per cent complete. The bill would have created what was called an electric bank under which rural electric co-operatives would have created what was called an electric bank under which rural electric co-operatives would have received supplemental financing at the direct or indirect expense of taxpayers running into billions of dollars. The bill was defeated, but it has been reintroduced in the current session of Congress. The issue it presents is no different than last year. The issue is whether the guise of rural electrification the philosophy of public ownership of a basic industry is to be pushed.

Aside from philosophical considerations, there is a very practical disadvantage that must be considered. Government subsidized co-op electric systems do not pay the same taxes as investor-owned business must pay. As the head of an investor-owned, taxpaying electric company points out, "If the rural electric co-ops built $10 billion of property with money borrowed from the federal electric bank, the loss because of the tax avoidance would amount to $400 million per year . . . All of this loss of tax revenue would have to be made up by the taxpayers."

At the present time, the investor-owned, publicly-regulated electric industry pays taxes in the amount of $2.9 billion a year at all levels of government. The nation simply cannot afford the impairment of this source of tax revenue by a tax-privileged rural electrification program that is no longer rural.

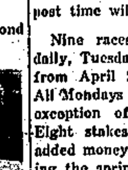
THE QUESTION

Would You Favor a N. J. State Lottery?

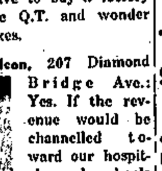
WHERE ASKED

Vicinity of Diamond Bridge

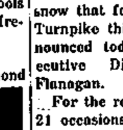
THE ANSWERS



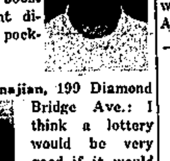
Rose Kernoff, 107 Diamond Bridge Ave.: Legalizing a lottery will benefit us in more ways than one. Our schools, hospitals, highways and many other research institutes would profit. Last, but not least, a person would not have to buy a lottery ticket on the Q.T. and wonder about the taxes.



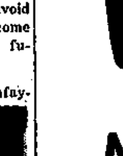
James Melcon, 207 Diamond Bridge Ave.: Yes. If the revenue would be channelled toward our hospitals and schools as they do in Ireland.



Getzy Schiff, 184 Diamond Bridge Ave. Yes. I can only see the little man and his family getting a boost in the right direction, his pocketbook!



Charles Pinajian, 199 Diamond Bridge Ave.: I think a lottery would be very good if it would bring in enough revenue to avoid a State Income Tax in the future.



Alfred Greenstein, 310 Lafayette Ave.: Yes. It would mean less taxation imposed upon the people. I see no harm in it, and only good can result from it.

Turnpike Spends $500,000 for Snow

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—It cost more than $500,000 to combat approximately 51 inches of snow that fell on the New Jersey Turnpike this Winter, it was announced today by Turnpike Executive Director William J. Flanagan.

For the results produced on the 21 occasions that Turnpike maintenance crews responded since December 13, 1966, "it was well worth it," commented Turnpike Authority Chairman Joseph Morecraft, Jr. It was noted that the roadway was cleared of snow in quick order and that most of the traffic delays during the heavy snowfalls were caused by back-ups on outlying roads and highways off the Turnpike.

In a preliminary report to Executive Director Flanagan, Howard S. Heydon, director of maintenance, estimated snow removal costs to his department alone of $460,000, and an additional $57,300 paid to the Authority's snow plowing contractors, who were called in on five of the 21 snow occasions from December 13, 1966 to March 23, 1967.

A total of 16,900 tons of salt were used by maintenance crews during the period.

Veterans Benefits May Be Tax-Free

Most veterans benefits are tax-free and need not be reported on income tax returns, Mr. P. M. Nugent, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Newark, N. J., announced.

However, interest earned on GI life insurance dividends left on deposit with the VA is not classed as a benefit but as earned income and must be reported on tax returns. Proceeds of GI policies and the dividends are non-taxable and need not be reported.

Other VA benefits not taxable include education and training allowances, subsistence allowance for disabled veterans in vocational rehabilitation training, compensation and pension payments, grants for "wheelchair" home automobiles and all benefits to families of deceased veterans.

Playhouse on The Mall

Almost every child is familiar with the wonderful fantasy, "The Emperor's New Clothes," one of childhood's best loved tales. Area children will be able to see it live when The Pixie Judy Troupe presents the story in musical form at the Playhouse on the Mall, Bergen Mall, on Saturday, April 15, at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Adult professional actors will portray the familiar characters and Judith Ann Abrams, as Pixie Judy, will narrate the story.

The tale is about the emperor who was convinced his favorite tailor made for him the most beautiful clothes in the world. One day this wicked tailor bewitched the emperor into believing he was splendidly dressed for a big parade. He becomes the laughing stock of his people as he marched along without his clothes.

Tickets are on sale at the Playhouse box office at $1.25 for child or adult.

Subsidizing Strikes

If the majority of New Jersey citizens do not protest vigorously they will soon be paying higher unemployment taxes to subsidize strikes. That is the purpose of Senate-400, a bill that would pay unemployment benefits to strikers after six weeks of striking.

Under this bill everyone holding a job covered by unemployment insurance would be compelled to contribute to a slush fund to pay strikers $60 a week in unemployed benefits. Strikes are customarily called by unions. Yet there are only 760,000 union members in the state but the cost of the strike insurance would be borne by the estimated 1,440,000 unorganized workers who have no prospect of ever receiving the benefits of Senate-400.

But this is not the only obvious injustice in the bill. A strike is an economic contest between organized employees and their employers. If the state is to tax non-striking workers and employers through their higher unemployment insurance taxes to pay benefits to strikers it will give them a subsidized advantage that will promote more and longer strikes, all at the expense of unorganized workers.

Unions call strikes at the risk of a loss of wages for the duration of the strike in the hope of obtaining increased pay and other benefits. Senate-400 would minimize the risk by insuring strikers against a total loss of wages while they refused to work. There is, of course, no provision in the bill to provide benefits for an individual worker who quits his job in the hope of finding a better one. Yet he will be compelled to pay higher unemployment taxes for the organized strikers who refuse to work in the hope of returning to better jobs.

Senate-400 is aimed at subsidizing strikes at the expense of the great majority of unorganized workers who are in no position to strike. By adopting this outrageous measure the legislature would be selling itself to the union lobby and selling out the vast majority of New Jersey workers.

HAWTHORNE'S NO. 1 GRIDDER

and its employees who all take part in the town's annual cancer drive.

Mrs. Hopper will be assisted by her husband, Norman, and members of the Lost Chords of New Jersey who will serve as "The Reserves."

Hawthorne residents and businessmen were responsible for the greatest goal ever achieved in their town when in 1956 it raised more than $8,000.00.

"We exceeded our goal of $8,000," said Mrs. Hopper. "It would be wonderful to do so again because last year the extra money went into research. To do this, and I'm certain all will agree it is necessary for accelerated research to be supported, I'd appreciate hearing from anyone who would like to devote a few hours of one year's time to the cause against cancer."

Mrs. Hopper requests that calls be made to her home only, 427-5947, after 5 p.m. or to mail their offer to her at 65 Dimmond Bridge Avenue, Hawthorne, N. J.

Macfarlan Named Campaign Head

regrets Commissioner Rozema will not seek reelection because of illness, "I am pleased to be able to support Mr. Floyd in his place."

"I have known Harold Floyd for many years and have found him to be well-qualified, dedicated and conscientious," said Macfarlan. "He will be a credit to the community as a member of the governing body."

Macfarlan's father, Ruben, was the first mayor of Hawthorne in 1898. His brother, the late Merrill Macfarlan, served as a member of the Board of Education with Commissioners Rozema and Kirkman.

Macfarlan has been a member of the Hawthorne Board of Recreation for 20 years and was campaign manager for Mayor Bay, Commissioners Kirkman and Rozema during the last two commissioners' elections.

He is vice-president and director of sales of the F.M.C. Corp., American Viscose Division, New York City, and is vice president of the Layman's National Committee which, among other activities, promotes National Bible Week. Macfarlan is a member of the national defense executive reserve and the Church of the Messiah of Paterson of Paterson where he also serves as an elder.

He is active in many charitable causes including the heart fund, the cancer drive and the Boy Scouts.

A life long resident of Hawthorne Macfarlan resides at 44 Brookside Avenue with his wife, the former Helen Murray. He attended Hawthorne elementary school, was graduated from Paterson Central High School and Pace Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlan have two sons, Robert, 27, an Army captain stationed in Germany, and Reid, 23, who this week reports to Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis, Ind. for active duty as an Army lieutenant.

Lowering of Voting Age have been graduated from high school and a sizeable proportion are now enrolled in college.

The Democratic Party is currently pushing hard for lowering the voting age—and for good reason.

If 18, 19 and 20-year-olds are enfranchised, it would change the present political balance and give the Democrats an even greater advantage than they enjoy today in terms of party allegiance.

Democrats among high school students outnumber Republicans by nearly 2 to 1.

The Democratic party also has a clear edge over the GOP among college students, 35 to 26 per cent.

U.S. Birth Rate Is Lowest in 30 Years

The Public Health Service has announced the lowest U. S. birth rate in 30 years. The PHS said the birth rate dropped to 18.5 births per 1000 population, continuing the decline from 1957, the most recent peak year, when the rate was 25.3.

Births totaled 3,629,000, down 131,000 from 1966, the PHS said.

The fertility rate also declined to 91.8 births per 1,000 women, the lowest since 1957, but well above the 16-79 rate of 1933-39, the PHS said.

The health service said the declining percentage of women 15-44 of age in the total population was one reason for the lower birth rate.

Another factor was the drop from an unusually high birth rate during the 1950s among women over 30. The high rates during the 1950s were attributed to the making up for births postponed during World War II and the late 1930s.

The PHS made no mention of the effect of improved birth control techniques. It said the causes of the declining birth rate among young couples had "not yet been decided with certainty."

March of Dimes Ahead of 1966

TRENTON, N. J. — "Incomplete returns from the 1967 New Jersey March of Dimes Campaign are very encouraging," stated James A. Skidmore, Jr., State Campaign Chairman.

Already, twelve of the Twenty-one counties have reported receipts exceeding last year's campaign with several more getting close.

The State's share of the campaign will be used to finance three New Jersey Birth Defect Centers in Newark, Trenton and Willingboro; and two centers in Philadelphia. These March of Dimes Centers are open to the child "born less than perfect." In addition the funds will provide direct medical, professional education and public information materials.

"I urge every resident of New Jersey to support this worthy cause. Please send a generous contribution to your Community Chairman today. It's not too late for your gift," Skidmore concluded.

A final Campaign report will be published in early June.

Rutgers Seminar on College Transfers

The transfer of students from two-year colleges to four year colleges in New Jersey will be the chief topic of discussion at a state-wide conference to be held at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, by the State Department of Education. All educators have been invited, public and private, and the development of procedures and policies along these lines will be discussed. Meetings are being held this week.

MOTTA - INCREMONA

The wedding of Miss Loralee Incremona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Incremona of 56 6th Avenue and Alfred Motta Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Motta of 32 Outlook Avenue, took place Saturday afternoon at St. Anthony's R.C. Church.

MRS. ALFRED MOTTA JR.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Russo. "Ave Maria" was presented as the bride placed a bouquet before the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

A reception for 150 guests followed at The Manor, West Orange.

Miss Francine Barone of Hawthorne was her cousin's maid of honor and Miss Hilda Dalton of Palr Lawn, was bridesmaid.

Richard Layman of Hawthorne served as best man. Ushers were Alfred Vela, William Ryerson and William McLoughlin, all of Hawthorne.

Mrs. Motta was graduated from Paterson Eastside High School and the Berkeley School, East Orange. She is a secretary with Edward B. Du Lee Co., Inc., Paterson.

Her husband, a graduate of Hawthorne High School, is serving with the New Jersey National Guard and is a carpenter with MacDonald Brothers of Hawthorne and Ramsey.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Sylvester Ruzo of Hawthorne.

A wedding trip to the Eastern States followed.

Engagements

- Diane Ravella -

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ravella of 42 Hawthorne Ave. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Diane Ravella, to Joseph A. Speranza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Speranza of 245 Hawthorne Ave.

The couple will be honored at a dinner for the immediate families at Berta's Chateau, Midvale.

DIANA RAVELLA

Miss Ravella is a graduate of Hawthorne High School and Eastern School for Physicians Aides, New York City. She is a laboratory technician with Wilco Chemical Co., Paterson.

Her fiance, also a graduate of Hawthorne High School, served two years with the U.S. Army Military Police in Augsberg, Germany. He is an architectural draftsman with the Grand Union Co., Paramus.

A June 12 wedding is planned.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Rose DiLascio of Paterson.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, There are, in the Borough of Hawthorne, a number of outstanding women who have united in the cause known as Altruus, and

WHEREAS, Altruus with its motto of "Patriotism, Efficiency and Service" has already contributed much to elevate need in many areas, and

WHEREAS, Altruus's members give of their time and talents to creatively meet new needs as they arise, since, while specific need may change with time, need is ever present.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the Mayor and Commissioners of the Borough of Hawthorne, that the week of April 9th through 15th, 1967, be known as "Altruus Week" in the Borough of Hawthorne and in recognition of the efforts of our local women who are members of this worthy group and also in recognition of this International Service Organization's 50th Anniversary on April 11th, 1967, the intersection of Grand Avenue at Warburton Avenue will be known as Altruus Avenue.

Hartley's Hatchery

By JIM HARTLEY

TRENTON — Thousands of New Jersey anglers will take to Garden State streams and lakes this Saturday when the trout season opens at 8:00 A.M.

A festive atmosphere will surprevail, regardless of the weather. As the day progresses, the crowds will dwindle as fishermen reach their limit of six trout. By afternoon, opportunities for quiet, contemplative angling will be available on many streams.

Water conditions are the best in several years, due to substantial precipitation during the winter. Northern District Conservation Officer John O'Dowd of the Division of Fish and Game reports that streams are high and clear but not overflowing. His southern counterpart Alfred Jones says that water is abundant throughout southern New Jersey fishing areas.

The pre-season stocking schedule involving over 220,000 adult trout will be completed by opening day, according to Superintendent Robert Williams of the Charles O. Hopford State Fish Hatchery. Although four stocking days were lost due to March snows, trucks were re-scheduled, and hatchery personnel worked over the April 1 weekend to make sure the trout will be in the streams. Bad road conditions prevented access to a few stocking points, but high water helped disperse the fish through areas of good habitat.

The quality of the trout is very good, according to Fisheries Manager Chief Robert A. Hesford. The yearling fish are about the same size as last year, and the two-year-olds are the largest in several years. Anglers on major streams and lakes will find substantially more trout over 12 inches in length.

Cooperation of anglers in being asked in several surveys aimed at improving future trout fishing. Fishermen on coastal streams streams or tributaries of the Delaware River are asked to report any trout bearing a tag or with a fin removed to the State Fisheries Laboratory, Lebanon. These fish may be rain-bow brown or steelhead trout which the Division of Fish and Game has attempted to introduce in these waters.

Golden . . . Harvesters

The Golden Harvesters of Hawthorne opened their regular weekly meeting with one hundred and fifty-two members and five guests.

President John Tomahe presided over the birthday celebration for all having birthdays in April, which totaled twenty-nine place settings at the tables, most beautifully decorated for Springtime, carried out in pastel shades even to the Umbrella. The credit for this artistic work goes to Edith Lewis and her loyal committee. Those whose birthdays were celebrated were: Laura Bertolla, Lou Beveridge, Lucy Biscotti, Elizabeth Cooper, Louis Dahlinger, Mary Dermot, Marie Elskamp, Helen Florence, Elizabeth Fontanella, Mae Furno, Eugene Gardiner, Theresa Gheaquier, Mabel Grek Lasky, Frank Hanna, Alice Landi, Florence Likefield, Mirtle Lutz, Helen Morrison, Elizabeth O'Grady, Alonzo Reynolds, Mary Riva, Ruth Schaible, Louise Tenbus, Mamie Turele, Lillian Vandrbeek, Ann Van Stone, Emily Williams, Louis Williams and Helen Starr, Honorary Member.

May you all have a Happy Year.

Bell Telephone Co. Labs Give $108,000

WHIPPANY, N. J.—The Passaic Valley United Givers Fund was among 42 united community organizations and three American Red Cross chapters in New Jersey that received contributions from Bell Telephone Laboratories employees in their recently completed Service Fund Drive.

Bell Laboratories employees at the Whippany, Murray Hill, and Holmdel, N. J., locations gave more than $160,000 in this fourth annual drive in which they were given a greater opportunity to contribute to their home locations. When making donations, they directed them to their hometowns' united fund or community chest organizations. In addition, four Red Cross chapters at the work locations and the Greater New York Fund received contributions.

This year the record was broken as Bell Labs for average contributions per participating employee. The average was $11.08 per employee compared with the previous record of $10.49 set in 1966; an increase of 14 per cent.

Even though 1206 less employees were solicited at the New Jersey locations this year, the $108,600 in donations slightly surpassed the amount collected in 1966. This decrease in employee population was due to the closing of Ord Lasky, Frank Hanna, Alice Landi, Florence likefield, Mirtle Lutz, Helen Morrison, Elizabeth O'Grady, Alonzo Reynolds, Mary Riva, Ruth Schaible, Louise Tenbus, Mamie Turele, Lillian Vandrbeek, Ann Van Stone, Emily Williams, Louis Williams and Helen Starr, Honorary Member.

Affair For Blind Called Triumph

Last Friday evening's Benefit for the Blind held at the Casino de Charts was a successful affair; a result of well-planned entertainment and hard working Volunteers.

One who gave so willingly was Frankie Randall, television and recording star, who was originally scheduled to accept an award in Chicago for his work on muscular dystrophy that evening. He had his manager accept the award in his name in order to perform so unselfishly for the blind.

Another volunteer was Ron Hickman, WKEE announcer who served as master of ceremonies.

Ben De Franco, chairman of the affair, planned the program which included singer and orchestra leader, Tony Cee; Ben Bartol, comedian and Giacomo Rondinelli, MGM recording artist, accompanied by concert pianist Nick Avezzano.

DePrance thanked all who contributed to the triumph of the event.

"This, our first annual dinner dance was a huge success," said DePrance, "and we firmly believe that we have achieved our goal of showing the blind the interest that the more fortunate—the sighted—have for them.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

The people of New Jersey may be called upon to decide whether to lower the voting age from 21 to 19. The proposal is contained in a resolution which, if adopted by the State Legislature, would submit the question to voters in the form of a constitutional amendment.

Background of the voting age question was reported in a statement submitted at a recent legislative hearing on the proposal by Clarence J. Ziegler, Executive Director of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

This showed that, traditionally, voting age has been 21 throughout the United States. However, when Congress lowered the minimum military draft age from 21 to 18 in 1942, with contention arose that "if a youth is old enough to fight for his country, he is old enough to vote."

Four states — Georgia, Kentucky, Alaska and Hawaii—subsequently reduced the voting age variously to 18, 19 or 20. However, Congress at the national level and the legislatures of 29 states defeated similar proposals. Michigan voters last year rejected a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18.

Arguments on the question range from the view that opening the vote to teen-agers would bring a new enthusiasm, interest and a better informed element into the voting process, to the opposite view that it would lead to immature and irresponsible balloting.

Preliminary estimates indicate that approximately 200,000 persons in the 19 and 20 year brackets would qualify if the voting age were to be lowered in New Jersey next year.

Without taking a position on the question of proper voting age, the Taxpayers Association spokesman recommended to the House of Assembly's Judiciary Committee that the question be submitted to voters for their decision.

YOUR CAT: A GLAMOUR KITTY?

Some of history's most coddled cats lived in ancient Egypt, where they were held sacred to the god Ra and the goddess Isis. Egyptians even built cat temples!

Today, many cats retain an aristocratic bearing, and proud cat owners across the U.S. can enter their pets in the 1967 Glamour Kitty Contest, until April 16, 1967, sponsored by makers of Kitty Pan Cat Litter.

All cats—alley cats (with sponsors), housecats, kittycats and regal cats—are eligible. Pedigrees aren't necessary.

The four finalists and owners will be flown via Eastern Airlines to Miami Beach for the pageant and coronation at the Fountainbleau Hotel. The grand winner will wear a mink-trimmed coronation cape and be crowned with a jewel-studded tiara designed by Morris Goodman.

King (or Queen) Cat will also make guest appearances with (human) celebrities, and have his own personal butler from Call Arthur Treacher Service System.

To enter your favorite feline, you'll need a "glamorous" picture of the cat, a 100-word-or-less essay on "Why My Cat Should Be Glamour Kitty of 1967", and the entry blank or a facsimile of it. Entry blanks may be found inside any size bag of Kitty Pan Cat Litter that bears the new contest design.

HAVE A HEART

"Are You Smoking More and Enjoying it Less? Then Stop!"

"Brighten Up Your Taste. Quit Smoking."

"For That Springtime Taste . . . Stop Smoking."

The schoolchildren who penned these parodies as part of a classroom project have the right idea, the Passaic County Heart Association agrees, in hope that this sentiment will snowball into a teenage trend with more staying power than hula hoops and Beatle haircuts.

It takes a lot more than a passing fad to undo the damage that the smoking habit can do to a whole generation of youngsters now growing up. According to the American Public Health Association, approximately one million school-age children now alive are doomed to die of lung cancer if current teenage smoking patterns are not reversed. Deaths from premature heart attacks aggravated by smoking would more than double the toll.

All studies of the harmful consequences of smoking point to the teens as the critical years. Adults who started smoking at the earliest ages have the highest death rates, as well as the highest incidence of circulatory and respiratory diseases associated with cigarette smoking.

It is not surprising, then, that smoking among teenagers today is a cause for concern to physicians and teachers, as it should be to parents. One authoritative estimate places one high school student in three as a regular cigarette smoker. Children also appear to be taking up smoking at a much younger age than they used to, many starting as early as the 5th or 6th grade.

HEALTH EDUCATION AND WELFARE

Proposed regulations on the physician certification and recertification requirement of the medicare law have been submitted for publication in the Federal Register, said Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security.

Ball pointed out that the Social Security Act specifies that payment for covered services may be made to a hospital or other participating organization only if there is a physician's certification concerning the necessity of the services furnished. For certain services continued over a period of time the Act requires, as a further condition of payment, that a physician recertify to the continued need for the covered services. The proposed regulations, Ball said, are consistent with information issued at the start of the program to the medical profession, as well as with the claims operating instructions previously provided to the fiscal intermediaries making payments under the law.

The proposed regulations, involve payment for the institutional services of a hospital, an extended care facility, or a home health agency. It is necessary for the institution or agency to have at hand the statement of the responsible physician as to the necessity of the services furnished to a medicare beneficiary. There is no requirement in the proposed regulations that a specific procedure or form be used by physicians. Ball said the regulations permit the hospital medical and administrative staffs to work out those procedures for obtaining certifications and recertifications that are most convenient and satisfactory. The statements can be entered on forms or records the physician normally signs in caring for a patient.

Certification and recertification statements do not have to accompany the claim for payment submitted by the hospital or other provider. Instead, the hospital certifies to the medicare fiscal intermediary that the statements have been obtained and are on file. The proposed regulations also make provision for the obtaining of delayed certification and recertification statements.

Top U. S. amateur orchestras, concert and marching bands, choirs, dancers and even handbell ringers have been chosen to take part in an international festival of amateur entertainment at Expo 67 in Montreal.

Well designed open air stages with acoustic shell backing and stereophonic sound reinforcement have been built at five different locations on the Exhibition site especially for the festival.

United States participants are selected by the office of the Commissioner General for U. S. Participation in the 1967 World Festival.

Forty-two States are represented among the 150 American groups so far chosen, with the largest participation—30 groups —from the State of New York.

Total number of groups in the program so far is 536, representing more than 25,000 performers, and it is estimated that before entries are cut off early in April there will be 600 per forming groups accounting for substantially more than 30,000 people.

ROTARY Headlights

LAST WEEK . . . We were very proud to have Chet Wilhelm present Midshipman Glenn Lattig once again. Two years ago he visited with us as Junior Rotarian from the high school, and now a midshipman from the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis. Congratulations to you Glenn for a fine talk and a very informative film on the Academy entitled "Ring of Valor." A very fine and heart-warming program, Chet.

NEXT WEEK . . . April 6, John Vander Eems will present Bert Kawyn, a reporter with the Paterson Evening News, who will talk to us on "Stamps."

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS . . . They were sung to Clarence Briggs, Walt Schoeder and John Kozema, who is home recuperating from a recent illness. Hurry back, John, we miss you.

BLOOD BANK . . . Each member was asked by Russ Jordan to obtain one new donor for the Blood Bank. This is essential if we are to keep this program functioning. Tuesday, April 4, from 5 to 7:30 p.m., the drawing will be held at the First Reformed Church.

SEEN AND HEARD . . . Fort Meyers Beach, Florida — Our past president, from 1934, Tom Heathcote and his wife Blanche celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last week.

AL AXT is still holding a $5.00 Gift Certificate from the card party—what is he afraid of?

ATTENDANCE . . . Sam Masker, attendance chairman, pleaded with the club to bring the attendance up by making-up when missing a meeting. Our attendance has been dropping and there is no excuse. We can all make-up if we have a mind to do so.

TO EZ HALL, HAPPINESS IS —Everybody heating electrically.

TO ROY MacKNIGHT, HAPPINESS IS—Outsmarting that wise guy who wants a loan.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE at the Hotel Concord, April 6, 7, 8 and 9th, 1967. President George will see you there.

RACING NOTES
MONMOUTH PARK
EATONTOWN, N. J.

OCEANPORT, N. J. — Three prominent American sportswomen whose horses are very much in the news these days have nominated many of their best 2-year-olds to Monmouth Park's $100,000 Sapling and Sorority for 1967, it was announced here by H. A. (Jimmy) Jones, Director of Racing.

Track officials have received a total of 46 Sapling and Sorority nominations from Mrs. Cloyce Tippett, Mrs. Ethel Jacobs and Mrs. Edith Bancroft. Mrs. Tippett's Pretense recently won the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap and the $100,000 Gulfstream Park Handicap. Mrs. Jacobs' Reflected Glory is the winter favorite for the Kentucky Derby while Mrs. Bancroft's Damascus is second choice for the Derby.

More than 1,350 2-year-olds are currently eligible to Monmouth Park's two complementary events. The six-furlong Sorority for 2-year-old fillies will be presented on July 29 while the six-furlong Sapling for 2-year-olds is to be run on August 5. A payment of $50 per nominations is due on or before April 15 to maintain eligibility in these rich races.

Give yourself time to get to know the feel of your new car before attempting to drive on high speed roads or in congested traffic, advises the Institute for Safer Living. Each car handles differently and the good motorist takes pride in being a professional driver on the road.

First thing to adjust on your new car is your safety belt. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company urges that before leaving the dealer the safety belts be adjusted to fit snugly on the driver and passengers. Seat belts save lives.

MEDICAL RESEARCH

If Sandy Koufax had been playing baseball in the 1930's, chances are that several of his teeth would have been pulled in an attempt to cure his sore arm. At the time, most doctors felt that infections were the cause of all types of arthritis.

As scientists learned more about the disease, they discovered that bacterial infections did cause some types of arthritis—but only a small proportion of the total. Other varieties of the disease, including rheumatoid arthritis, the type that causes most disability, remain a mystery. The U. S. Public Health Service estimates that 1.6 million Americans have rheumatoid arthritis.

Animals, too, have their aches and pains — several arthritis-like diseases are common in farm animals and sometimes affect other species. Studies of these afflicted animals have given valuable clues to medical scientists.

One possibility which is being actively investigated in laboratory animals is that the causative agents for arthritis might be mycoplasma. The mycoplasma are still not too well understood, but scientists believe they are tiny organisms falling somewhere between viruses and bacteria.

Last year a group of researchers called together by the National Institutes of Health agreed that there is enough evidence of the possible role of mycoplasma in arthritis to justify an intensive research effort. Mycoplasma are known to cause arthritis-like disease in swine, turkeys and other fowl, and in some cases, laboratory mice.

A number of research scientists are now exploring the mycoplasma theory, and some of their investigations are yielding hopeful results.

At Texas A & M, for example, Dr. Wayne Moore and his associates isolated a mycoplasma species from swine with arthritis and injected this organism into normal pigs. These pigs also developed symptoms of arthritis, an indication that mycoplasma did cause the disease.

More recently, the same investigators isolated mycoplasma from joint fluid and tissue in 17 of 19 patients with rheumatoid arthritis. The arthritis was in the quiet stage in the two patients from whom the mycoplasma could not be isolated. Testing the joints of eight normal volunteers, the doctors could find no trace of mycoplasma.

A lot more work will have to be done in both animals and humans before the case is proved, but according to the National Society for Medical Research, these findings may be of major significance to the total arthritis research effort.

First National Has Stock Split

This stock split of two and one-half for one will be effective to Shareholders of record at the close of business on April 7, 1967. Present certificates are to be retained by the shareholder and will have a par value of $10 per share. Additional shares will be issued on the basis of one and one half new shares for each old share. No fractional shares will be issued, but order cards will be furnished which may be used until May 15, 1967, to purchase the additional fractional interest necessary to constitute one full share, or to sell fractional interests, at a proposed price of $21 per half share. The fractional interest of any shareholder who does not avail himself of this opportunity will be sold on May 15, 1967, for his account. It is expected that the new stock will be placed on a quarterly dividend basis rather than semi-annually as in the past with quarterly payments to begin July 1, 1967 at the anticipated rate of 45c per share.

Grocers Hold 2nd Annual Convention

The Grocers Association of New Jersey will hold their second annual convention at the Claridge Hotel in Atlantic City, Sunday and Monday, April 16 and 17. It will be a combination fellowship and business weekend.

All independent retail grocers in New Jersey are urged to attend. Grocers in nearby Pennsylvania, New York and Delaware will also be welcome, as will brokers, manufacturers and suppliers in the food business.

In addition to the business sessions, the program includes a cocktail party, banquet, show and dance, magnificent door prizes and—for those staying over—ocean view accommodations.

For registration, write or phone the Grocers Association of New Jersey, Trenton Trust Building, Trenton, New Jersey.

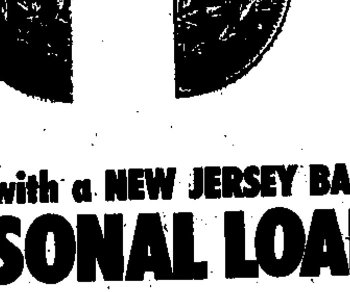
Got a Money Gap?



Fill it in with a NEW JERSEY BANK
PERSONAL LOAN
If you're like most people, you've probably been on the far side of a Money Gap more than once.
You know the situation: It could be an unexpected car repair . . . a set of new tires . . . a dental or medical expense . . . a new refrigerator . . . an investment opportunity . . . a chance to take advantage of sale savings—it could be almost anything. But the name is the same: When you want to make a purchase that's timely or make an expenditure that's necessary—and it's beyond your budget at the moment, you've got a Money Gap.
What can you do about it? Plenty. Close it up completely with a low-cost NJB PERSONAL LOAN. Remember, it's not unwise to borrow; it's only unwise to borrow at excessive rates. (What's more, life insurance on loan balances is always available at nominal cost.)
It's the smart answer to any money problem. And it's the easy answer, too—as easy as calling New Jersey Bank. Here's the number and name:

WHEN IN ROME

VIN McALOON, JR.

.. (ROME CORRESPONDENT) ...

IT used to be our "Year Abroad" U.S. collegians who took Rome at Eastertime: Even if they took it in a manner unlike their peers at Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

THEY continue to come in great numbers from London, Paris, Angers, Fribourg, Salzburg, Innsbruck, Vienna, Madrid and Salamanca. But this year they have been lost in the gargantuan mass of American "high school kids."

SOME alert travel organizations have successfully performed their alluring song-and-dance in school offices this past year and have sold hundreds of high schools to climb onto the bandwagon (jets, that is) for Easter vacation in Rome.

WELL, they are here, and how! And they seem to be a huge delegation from the New Jersey-Pennsylvania area. We don't detect any "you all" deep south drawl, but plenty of up north chirping. When we heard they were descending on us, we prepared for a respectable sampling of "long-haired" Harrys; I've yet to spot one.

THEY are very largely well behaved and responsibly chaperoned. If a way to keep youth out of prankish mischief (like dunking one another in the Trevi Fountain), is to wear them out with sightseeing, it is working out wonderfully well. Ninety percent are armed with cameras and take their photography very seriously, almost religiously.

THEN, both as economy and as a tranquilizer, they have these thousands of human energy-units housed in hotels out in the country, up to fifteen miles up or down the coast. After being blessedly bushed in "doing" catacombs, ruins and the seven hills, they are bussed back to their hotels for dinner and dancing.

WHICH reminds me: Notre Dame International School, an American Prep School in Rome (whose four hundred teenage students are out of Rome on trips to the Holy Land, France and Spain) received a telephone call last night from the local police station.

COPS reported that a boy with a U.S. passport was there trying to say something to them. We asked to speak to the lad. He was trying to find his hotel, had missed the tour bus from downtown. What was the name of his hotel?

BOOMERANG, no less, was the name of the hotel. Sorry, son, but your hostelry is fifteen miles up the coast and it is eleven o'clock at night and no more interurban bus service tonight. We called the Boomerang, but that call boomeranged as his student group were at a dance at another hotel. We wailed our frustration to the cops: With genuine Italian enthusiasm in an emergency, they ungaraged their squad car and raced New Jersey Ned up the highway to bed.

THEN there were those giggling high school girls this morning. Could have swatted 'em, only this was over-the-phone again. As we have been doing for centuries, we answered the phone in clear, measured, etched-out English. In reply we got a giggle that giggled, "Do you speak English?"

MARY ANN Somebody finally calmed sufficiently to ask us how to get to the North American College to enquire about a papal audience. We asked her if she was one of the million Yank high school students in Rome? Yes. Then why wasn't she with them at this very moment in St. Peter's where the audience was underway? Well, you see, Mary Ann had a letter from Cardinal Spellman requesting an audience. She was counting on that, so felt downgraded to fight her way into the Basilica with the unwashed mob. Young lady, we yelled, get into church, and quick; then come over and see me!

ALL these American High Schoolers plus thousands of French Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts were a part of the 30,000 people who filled St. Peter's Square for the Holy Father's Easter Mass which he offered outdoors. The exodus after his annual Urbe et Orbe Blessing from the loggia, produced the most thrilling traffic jam that dear ancient Mother Rome has faced.

TO the high measurement of all, the French Scouts added to the snarl by carrying out a national holiday custom. They linked arms, row after row, across the width of all streets leading away from the Vatican, chanting and dancing along, impishly causing all motorized traffic to follow them at funeral pace. The frustrated Roman drivers tried to blast the French into the Tiber with their horns, which only entrenched the French.

BEFORE the U.S. youngsters leave Rome, they will have a day or two free to go about on their own. So they are asking us how to get to the beach? In March? It is only a half hour by subway, but the wind out there would blow you off the beach and all the concessions are still locked up tight. Yonder Yanks came to Rome dreaming of the Italian Riviera warmed by somewhat legendary Sunny Italy.

IF no beaching, where can they find American movies (in English) and hamburgers? We are maliciously tempted to gently suggest that they "get lost," but we do realize that they have been bravely facing up to spaghetti, veal-and chicken, fruit and cheese in their suburban hotels for a solid week. It's only when they criticize our Italian pizza because it has too much dough and not enough of "the works," that I turn on my best and most forbidding school teachery face: It gets through to them.

AFTER the U.S. "Chucks" and "Mary Anns" have departed, Rome will be marched through by hordes of Germans and Scandanavians. The Romans refer to it as "the current German re-occupation of Italy." They roll into town in big shiny Mercedes, roll right through and pitch their tents at the Camping sites. They come loaded with their own sausage and cheese and Rhine wine. The Italians make faces at them, mumbling that they don't spend much while here. Not much comfort to the national economy.

COURAGE! The national economy if not boosted by the American kids and the German campers, will be honored from June through August by "the American Tourist." Assuming, Gentle Reader, that you will be among these, come with a predisposition to enjoy things "different." Attune your ear to the lyrical Italian language even if it is all quite Greek to you.

TRY unfamiliar dishes on the menus. Drink a little wine. Then have some more. Like Guinness Stout, it's good for you. Drink our water: Unless you are marooned on a back road in an antediluvian crumbling village, our water is processed as yours in Hawthorne, N.J. or in dearly beloved Woonsocket, R.I. Mineral water too, yes; it is very refreshing after a man-sized Italian meal.

WEDNESDAY is always the Day: Travelers, Jew and Gentile, are interested in attending the weekly papal audience. It takes place each Wednesday, usually at 11 a.m. Upon arrival apply for ticket at: North American College Audience Office, Via Dell 'Umilta' 30 (Trevi Fountain). Or if you foresee a late Tuesday arrival, write.

EVERY DAY is Open House (Noon to Nine) at The Notre Dame Hospitality Center, Largo Brancaccio 82 (St. Mary Major Basilica) Tel: 730.002. Everyone is welcome, even yelling teenagers.

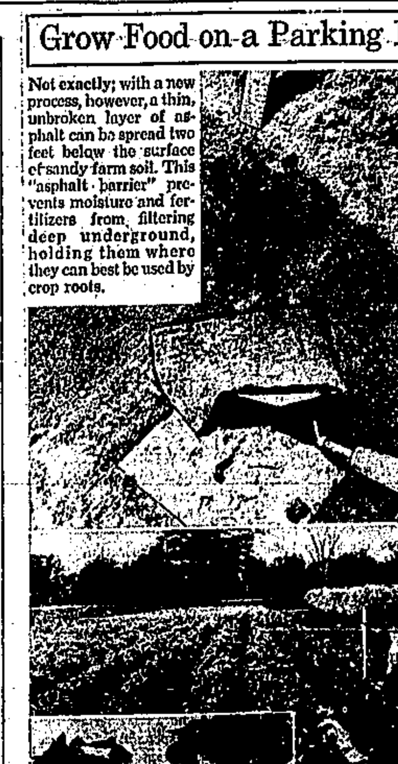
Grow Food on a Parking Lot?

Not exactly; with a new process, however, a thin, unbroken layer of asphalt can be spread two feet below the surface of sandy farm soil. This "asphalt barrier" prevents moisture and fertilizers from filtering deep underground, holding them where they can best be used by crop roots.



Crops planted over an asphalt barrier grow faster and more verdantly than those in the same soil without a barrier. Inset shows how an individual asphalt barrier plant (right) compares in quality and quantity of yield with one grown in untreated soil. Besides producing more and better food crops, asphalt barriers could reclaim acres of land presently unfit for farming. The process was developed by American Oil Company and Michigan State University soil scientists.

Lincoln Institute First N. J. School To Be Accredited

NEWARK—Lincoln Technical Institute, 472 Market Street, has been granted accreditation by the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools.

The first New Jersey school of its kind to be accredited, the Institute offers courses in automotive, refrigeration, heating and air-conditioning technology as well as in diesel engine mechanics and automotive air-conditioning.

The National Association, formed i n1965 by representatives of more than 100 trade and technical schools throughout the country. A major step toward that goal is the accreditation program, which was started last August. Lincoln Tech is one of twenty-four schools in the nation that have met the association's standards so far.

Among the factors considered by the examining committee were the school's history and integrity of operation, its course offerings, faculty, admission rules, enrollment, and business policies.

"Once a school has been accredited, a prospective student or his guidance counselor has assurance that courses are administered professionally and meet the standards of industry. And a future employer has a similar assurance that a student has been well trained," stated J. Warren Davies, head of the school.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

WONDER WHERE THE TAXES GO?

For taxpayers settling their income tax accounts with Uncle Sam as of April 17, a tabulation of prospective governmental spending of one wage-earner's tax dollars may be illuminating—and somewhat ironical, if the taxpayers has to borrow to pay his tax bill.

Next to defense, the largest bite of the individual tax payment will go to pay interest on the Federal debt, reports the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The Association cited a tabulation which calculates that a married man with two children and earning $10,000 a year will pay $1,114 in taxes.

Using the Federal Government's proposed $135 billion administrative budget for the 1968 fiscal year as a guide, the tabulation shows that more than half the $1,114 in taxes, or about $623, will go for the nation's defense. The next $117 will pay interest charges on the nation's debt which, according to budget estimates, will total more than $327 billion on June 30, next.

The various categories for expenditure of one taxpayer's $1,114 income tax are listed in the tabulation prepared by The Tax Foundation as follows:

Defense	$523
Interest	117
Health, Labor & Welfare	93
Veterans' Services & Benefits	51
Space	44
International Affairs & Finance	39
Commerce & Housing	34
Natural Resources	29
Agriculture & Agricultural Resources	26
Education	23
General Government	23
Miscellaneous	12
TOTAL	$1,114

Interstate 287 Plans To Be Completed

Transportation Commissioner David J. Goldberg announced that studies of various alignments for Interstate Route 287 from Montville in Morris County north to Mahwah Township in Bergen County will be completed this summer.

The announcement was made to clarify a published report that the original alignment had been abandoned. The Commissioner explained that the final alignment will not be selected until the study, which encompasses various alignments, is completed and the findings have been discussed with the affected municipalities.

The Department's proposed alignment was presented at public hearings held in July, 1965, at which alternate alignments were submitted by local groups. The original alignment and the alternates are now in the process of evaluation.

Playhouse on The Mall

PARAMUS—"Calculated Risk," starring Dana Andrews, opened at the Playhouse on the Mall, Bergen Mall, Tuesday, for two weeks. It is an engrossing story about piracy of industrial secrets. From the opening lines to the final curtain suspense built up on stage and in the audience. While there isn't a murder to be solved, the play is a classic whodunit.

Dana Andrews is president of an old-line family business, known for the quality of its products. The firm is the target for a stock raid and a bid for takeover by a man who intends to use it in his shady manipulations. A member of the mill's board of directors is secretly imparting company information to the manipulator. The play revolves around "Who is the traitor?" The business theme is combined with the theme of the unhappy home life of the young president.

Wayne Tippit who is noted for his portrayals of the hero, plays the villain of the piece. Both he and Dana Andrews give magnificent performances. The entire cast, which includes five members of the original Broadway cast, perform brilliantly. Director Howard Erskine, who plays the role of Chairman of the Board, produced the play on Broadway and played the same role. Others from the original Broadway cast are Alexander Clark, Cliff Carpenter, John McJunde, and Lucy Prentis. Also in featured roles are Tom McDermott, Al Hinkley, and Gaylord Mason.

Robert Conley is the set designer. Lighting is by Charles La Martin.

"Calculated Risk" is by Joseph Hayes, who wrote the hit play and motion picture "The Desperate Hours." The drama will be at the Playhouse on the Mall through Sunday, April 23.

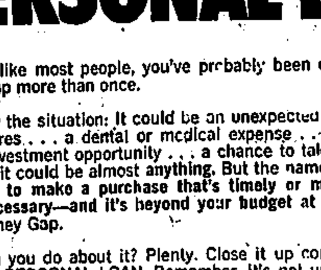
Got a Money Gap?



Fill it in with a NEW JERSEY BANK
PERSONAL LOAN
If you're like most people, you've probably been on the far side of a Money Gap more than once.
You know the situation: It could be an unexpected car repair . . . a set of new tires . . . a dental or medical expense . . . a new refrigerator . . . an investment opportunity . . . a chance to take advantage of sale savings—it could be almost anything. But the name is the same: When you want to make a purchase that's timely or make an expenditure that's necessary—and it's beyond your budget at the moment, you've got a Money Gap.
What can you do about it? Plenty. Close it up completely with a low-cost NJB PERSONAL LOAN. Remember, it's not unwise to borrow; it's only unwise to borrow at excessive rates. (What's more, life insurance on loan balances is always available at nominal cost.)
It's the smart answer to any money problem. And it's the easy answer, too—as easy as calling New Jersey Bank. Here's the number and name:

Atom Bomb?

Hindsight, conjecture, postmortum, or Monday morning quarterbacking . . . any of these terms would be applicable, might well magnify the most awful tragedy to befall Our Town. As it turned out, a powder keg with all of the potentiality of an atom bomb, has been nestling almost within the walls of our homes. Industrial dust particles, peculiar to this manufacturing plant, interspersed with air becomes most volatile and explosive. A few years back a destructive fire in the same plant, resulted in a larger facility which became the funeral pyre for eleven people. There have been also a number of smaller reported fires and probably a number of smaller unreported ones. Among the latter group was the incident related by one of the more seriously burned and hospitalized victims. Shortly before the explosion and fire there was a smell of smoke on the third floor, and together with a fellow worker they went as far as the first floor to investigate, and on inquiry a third worker said "Yes, there had been trouble but all was taken care of now." They had barely reached the third floor on their return when the explosion took place.

There are many imponderables and the exact truth may never be known. Now let your mind wander, and ask a few questions as many must have asked. What if it had happened the day before? (The day of the high winds.) What if the force of the explosion had been expended in an easterly, a southerly or westerly direction instead of its northerly route toward open lots? Could the nearby propane or rubber plants have added to the already tragic havoc? If the firemen, at great risk to their own lives, had been less diligent, and failed to 'wet down' the huge supply of drums of flammable solvents, (the name Toluene has been bandied about), where might the slaughter have spread to? One does not have to 'Conjecture' too hard to visualize a much greater loss of life and property had any of these hypothetical conditions been a part of the story. It is to be hoped that sufficient resistance from the public and from public officials can be imposed upon any effort to rebuild this plant in its present location. Also, with sod and sober thought, all plants engaged in the manufacture of dangerous and quasi-dangerous materials should be immediately and thoroughly checked. Remember, we are a highly industrialized community, which is not too far from residential areas.

Humane For Animals and Humanity,
970 Broad Street,
Newark, N. J., 07102
April 7 1967

All the furor re: Use of Animals from Pounds for Medical Research can be resolved by each thinking person asking and answering three questions:

1. "Would I rather have a doctor use my child or someone elses child as the experimental animal on the first surgical operation he has ever performed?"

2. "Do I think God believes it more in line with moral law to uselessly kill one of his creatures in a pound or shelter resulting in no benefit to man or animals?"

3. "Would it be more in line with God's will to utilize his impounded creatures to learn how to heal the hearts of children and other animals needing surgery or helpine to produce better vaccines and medicines of benefit to humans and animals?"

In no case has anyone recommended that any claimed, owned or adoptable animal be offered for medical research. Only those animals that "so called Humane Persons" wish to kill are those which the bio-medical community desires to save from the gas chambers and then and only then to be usefully utilized in valuable studies of benefit to man and animals. To state otherwise is to twist the facts and misinform the public.

Very sincerely yours,
C. F. MANZIANO, D.V.M.
President.

well versed in their subjects and made to serve an apprenticeship under actual teaching conditions.

In addition to the teacher training reforms, is the orderly transfer of authority from the State Board of Education to the Board of Higher Education. The new board does not come into being until July 1, '67, and any decisions by the old board at this time affecting colleges, may well be nullified at take-over time. Present board members believe that the transition will be hampered because there is no one from the new system to talk to, nor has there been a liaison group appointed to help them in the change. Both public and private educators have asked the Governor to establish a transition committee; since the Legislature passed the Higher Education Act of 1966, last November.

Ladies Auxiliary Wm. B. Mawhinney Post No. 1593

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Wm. B. Mahwinney Post #1593, VFW, was held at the Post Home, 46 Royal Ave., recently, with President Patricia Orthmann in charge. Two new members, Amy Van Treuren and Gretta Meyer, were initiated and welcomed into the organization. The sympathy of the Auxiliary is extended to Cecilia Gibson and Florence Boyd on the loss of their husbands, both of whom were members of the Post. Commander Ed Van Treuren of the Post thanked all members who attended the joint Memorial services at the Post on Sunday.

Chairman Beatrice Meuer thanked all who helped make the recent Fish and Chips supper a success. Treasurer Pearl Neuman reported that the Auxiliary has 100 percent paid up membership. Announcement was made of the next meeting of the District #1 convention committee at the Post on Friday, April 28th.

A request was received from Boy Scout Troop #24 of the First Reformed Church for an American flag, and it will be presented at a future troop meeting. Hostesses for the April 18 meeting will be Alice Vanderwalk, Hannah Van Saun, Ruth Kenyon and Margaret Breeze.

Romney Rambles

ly abrasive passage was, "Vietnam has given rise to a rupture and the governor for which it is difficult to find a parallel in American history. The President's message of congratulations to his most likely GOP rival was on the way before the close of Romney's speech.

Comments ranged from mild to vitriolic. Some of the more exciting were something like the following. Senator Javits said the speech was a, "well balanced, constructive and reasonable approach to this difficult issue." Senator Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) said, "He says everything and nothing. He is all things to all men." Said Senator Eugene J. McCarthy (D.,Minn.), "Hardly worth waiting for. It would have been better if he had not made "it." Senator Thomas J. Dodd (D.-Conn.) made this acid remark, "I don't think he knows what he is talking about." Senator Hugh Scott (R.-Pa.) made this comment,"His demonstrates the weaknesses and the kind of leadership qualities which have been lacking too long in dealing with Vietnam." Press Secretary George Christian's comment was, "Obviously Romney had to throw a few partisan morsels to his fonts"; but he did point out that Johnson was pleased with the speech. Senator Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky.) said "He has taken the position that Johnson has taken." Sen. Bibicoff (D.-Conn.) said, "It's good from Johnson's point of view. It tends to take the war out of the political arena." And finally one unknown Democratic dissenter on the war said," Romney sought to become a dove, a hawk, and a chicken hawk, all at the same time."

Surrogate Reports Quarter Increase

Surrogate Carroll Joseph Stark reported that the gross receipts of the Surrogate's Court for the first three months of 1967 were $23,666.30, as compared with $17,910.14 for the same period in 1966 of $21,726.58, showing an increase of $1,766.44. These funds were turned over to Alec Kosnar, Passaic County Treasurer.

The total number of transactions likewise increased to 1926 matters in 1967 over 1870 cases in 1966.

There were 486 wills admitted to probate, 149 general administrations, 54 guardianships, 34 adoptions processed during this period.

The gross value of all estates have appreciated because of the general increase in values of all properties.

The steady climb in the number of cases demonstrates the sound and steady growth of Passaic County. It is reasonably estimated that our present population approaches 450,000 and is constantly on the rise.

Four New State Taxes

ployed, such as member of professions, and unincorporated businesses and partnerships, will be paying taxes for the first time, in addition to the sales tax and excise levies generally imposed; and in this category it is estimated that 200,000 persons will be affected.

To further harass the taxpayer will be such terms as fiscal and calendar years, annual gross receipts, and many other intriguing terms, understandable only to the professional tax consultant. There is some relief, gross receipts amounting to less than $5,000 a year are not taxed at all, while those over $5,000 are taxed in full.

New Jersey does not permit professional incorporation, but now has the gross tax against such practitioners nonetheless, and is apparently one way of imposing a limited income tax, in spite of the fact that a state income tax is not law. Added to all this is the federal income tax, and countless hidden taxes; which of course proves the old adage that the taxpayer is always fair game.

BERLIN

Berlin should be on the itinerary of every visitor to Europe if only for the sake of seeing the remarkable recovery in West Berlin and to contrast it with the desolation of the Eastern sector of this huge city. Nightlife in West Berlin is gay, giddy and varied—Berliners seem to have a penchant for things a little off the beaten track. A tip to the traveler—unescorted ladies are welcome in most Berlin nightspots. One place you should try is Resi—a monstrous barnlike structure on Hasenheide, which is only about a twenty-minute cab ride from most of the major hotels. Try to categorize the age groups, and you find that it's the place for every conceivable male or female. There's a 50-cent admission charge, and drinks cost approximately $3.00 per person, but don't let that scare you off as you can nurse one drink for the entire evening without being frowned upon. Dress is informal and the best time is to go after ten any evening but Monday. It's virtually impossible to describe, but the fun comes with unique water games, watching the "water floor show," and communicating between tables by means of telephones or mailing tubes. There's dancing and the music is strictly for fun. No food is served, but don't miss Resi's.

Scholarship Info

The Allstate Foundation has announced plans to award $90,000 in nursing scholarships in 1967, continuing a program in support of nursing education begun in 1960.

The 1967 grant will bring the allocation of the Allstate Foundation since the program was instituted to $405,000.

"The ever-increasing need for nurses is a challenge we all must help meet," said Judson B. Branch, who heads the Allstate Foundation and who also is chairman of the board of the Allstate Insurance Company.

There now are 206 students receiving nurses' training on Allstate Foundation scholarships. Nearly 300 others have received their diplomas since the program began.

Scholarship grants are made through state units of the National League of Nursing, with whose cooperation the program was established. Scholarship winners may attend any nursing school accredited by the National League for Nursing. The maximum grant is designed to cover average tuition charges in a hospital school of nursing.

Information concerning the Foundation's nursing scholarship program may be obtained from the Careers Committee of the National League for Nursing at 10 Columbus Circle, New York City.

TODAY'S INVESTOR

by Thomas E. O'Hara

Q.—I am a widow, 59. I have a 36-year-old handicapped daughter whom I must support. I have built up an estate of about $120,000.00, mostly of mutual funds and bank savings, and have managed to live on the income from my small shop, reinvesting all increments from the investments and also investing the $61.00 a month which my daughter receives in social security as a dependent of my late husband. I want to leave her enough to live on and also help another daughter with the education of her children. But I would also like to go into semi retirement. Do you think I dare to do it, and how deeply can I dip into the income from my mutual funds?

A.—I think you are wise in pausing to take stock of your assets and consider your work load in the years ahead.

You have done an outstanding job of accumulating assets and it would appear to me that you are in an excellent position to begin to enjoy some of the fruits of your work. Right now dividends and interest paid by your various mutual fund shares, bank accounts and stock holdings amount to about $3,500.00 a year. It seems to me that in the fairly near future you could cease reinvesting your dividends and interest income and begin to use it to meet your everyday expenses and also provide you with some of the "extras" you might want.

Even if you do not add to your holdings between now and retirement, it would appear that, with dividend income and your social security plus that of your daughter, you two should have at least $6,000.00 a year to live on.

In addition, if you set up your mutual funds so that you receive monthly or quarterly payments of about five per cent of their value, your yearly income could be increased by about $2,000.00. And assuming that these particular funds continue to earn as they have in the past, you should be able to continue receiving this amount indefinitely, without any depletion of your capital.

How to arrange for the eventual distribution of your estate to your two daughters so the one is provided for and the other is helped with her children's education is a problem you should discuss with an attorney.

Q.—I have a chance to invest in a small company that my son-in-law is helping to form. Can you tell me about the prospects of rendering plants and do you think I would be wise to borrow the money to invest in this? Also where might I get the money?

A.—While I am in no position to give you any information or advice about the type of plant you mention, I would like to caution you that there is a good deal of danger involved in borrowing the money to invest in any new firm. It would be different if you had the money lying idle.

As for where you could borrow the money, why not try your bank? You're likely known there and quite possibly its officials will also know something about both the company that is being formed and the individuals who are forming it.

Have you a question about your own or your club's investment programs? Mr. O'Hara will be glad to answer it. Write to T. E. O'Hara, National Association of Investment Clubs, Department 9, Box 1056, Detroit, Michigan 48231, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Reading Clinic Planned For FDU

Miss Joanna Sullivan, Director of the Reading Clinic at Fairleigh Dickinson University, announces that appointments may now be made for testing applicants for the summer session of the Reading Clinic. Testing terminates on June 16. Although all of the testing is being done by appointment in East Rutherford, classes will be held on both the East Rutherford and Teaneck Campuses.

There will be two sessions this summer. Each course consists of thirty hours. The first session begins Monday, June 26, and the second session begins Monday, July 31. Students attend classes 1½ hours daily, five days a week, for a period of four weeks. For appointment call The Reading Clinic, 933-5000.

THE QUESTION

What objections, if any, do you have to this area being called the "Gold Coast"?

WHERE ASKED

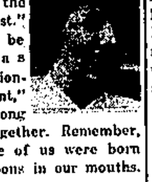
The North End of the Boro.

THE ANSWERS

Jean Tristaino, Ridge Road: "Whether it's called the "Gold Coast" or any other name, all of the people living up here worked very hard for whatever they have. Call it what you will, if there's any gold up here I hope it's on my property."

Doris Chapnick, Mandon Terrace: "I have no objections since I have always felt that the expression belongs to the African Continent. More power to all of us if we have any diamonds in our back yards."

Joan Di Prima, Sunrise Drive: "I don't refer to living on this hill as the "Gold Coast" although some people may. It's a beautiful section of town, and I enjoy living up here, but when the heck are we going to get sewers?"



Sabena Gallagher, Beverly Rd.: "I don't have any objections to this area being called the "Gold Coast." We'd rather be known as the "International Settlement," who get along very nicely together. Remember, also, that none of us were born with silver spoons in our mouths.

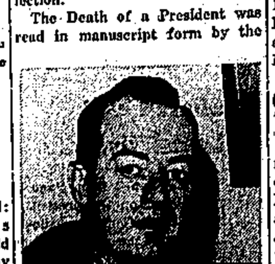
Sorry!!! This answer melted the rest of the film.

The worst tornado disaster occurred March 18, 1925 killing 689 persons in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

Death of President Is Book-of-Month

William Manchester's "The Death of a President, one of the most widely discussed books in publishing history, will be the May Book-of-the-Month Club Selection.

The Death of a President was read in manuscript form by the Club's four-man Editorial Board in August, 1966, and was chosen unanimously by the members.



William Manchester

William Manchester, in his Foreword to The Death of a President, writes: "On February 5, 1964, Mrs. John F. Kennedy suggested that I write an account of the tragic and historic events in Texas and Washington ten weeks earlier." The Kennedy family, he continues, had not been eager to have any book written about the assassination, but soon after the President's burial in Arlington a variety of writers began soliciting the family's help in such a project.

Thus it became clear that books would appear on the subject whether the Kennedys wanted them written or not. "Under these circumstances," Mr. Manchester continues, "Jacqueline Kennedy resolved that there should be one complete, accurate account." Mr. Manchester himself was not among those who had approached the family (he was at work on another book, a history of the Krupp dynasty), but both Mrs. Kennedy and her brother-in-law Robert Kennedy remembered that the President had mentioned Mr. Manchester favorably and had spoken well of him and his work. As a result, Mr. Manchester says, Mrs. Kennedy concluded that "it would be wise to have a book written by an author whom the President had known."

William Manchester was born in Attleboro, Massachusetts, in 1922, fought as a Marine in the Pacific in World War II, and later attended the University of Missouri.

His books include four novels, an earlier book on John F. Kennedy (Portrait of a President, 1962) and A Rockefeller Family Portrait, 1958. He and his wife and their three children live in Middletown, Connecticut.

On the Lawn

WITH LARRY LAWRENCE

I used to make New Year's resolutions but gave them up because they depressed me. Instead, I switched to Spring resolutions and found they encouraged me. Just when it looked as if winter the Bird Market is in session for with Nature. I resolved to do a better job outdoors. And even if I don't keep all the promises I make to myself I keep enough to show a profit. I would be ashamed to list them all but here are three that will serve most anybody:—

Resolve—to start early. I find that the best time to start work on lawn and garden is any day after the first of March when you can do so without freezing to death.

Resolve—not to be afraid to reseed bare patches and to give the lawn its first feeding even though you think the ground is still frozen.

Resolve—to start mowing the grass this year before the wife can say "Isn't it time you mowed the grass?"

And if nothing else will get you outdoors early, think of the money you can save. Many stores are now offering early bird savings on top quality lawn products such as Turk Builder and the new Windsod seed.

Over The... Fence

by lee missonellie

Take one or more normal children, provide with

One Mother—patient, loving; God-fearing and reverent

One Father—honest, industrious, devoted and reverent

One Home—wholesome food, modern clothing, clean and comfortable shelter

One Spot—a room, closet, nook or corner for toys, books and junk

One Meal—out of three where the entire family assemble for the table grace

One Right-of-free-speech to be heard in behalf of his own rights

Two Privileges—privacy when needed, ownership and care of personal property

Two Requirements—courtesy and kindness

Two Commandments—Obedience and Reverence

Half Dozen Daily Chores—to feel family responsibility and to develop dependability

One Yard—for friends, fights and fun

One Community—where the salutations are "Hi there, neighbor."

One School—for educational opportunity and talent development

One Church—for spiritual guidance and brotherly fellowship.

Put into warm oven of family love and let alone long enough to get into mischief, but watch closely enough to keep out of devilment, and in magic time, you will have a child—fool proof against delinquency. (If substitute must be provided, remember to use a substitute and not an imitation and success can still be achieved.)

Sen. Williams Tells Of Scholarship

U. S. Senator Harrison A. Williams announced today that his ninth annual summer scholarship contest is under way.

The contest is open to graduating seniors in New Jersey High Schools. Three winners are selected; one each from North, Central, and South Jersey.

They spend two weeks, immediately after graduation, as guests of Senator Williams in Washington, getting an inside look at the workings of the federal government.

The deadline for entries is May 15. Notices and entry blanks have been sent to every high school in the state. The entrants are judged on class standing, extra-curricular activities and a 500-word essay on "The Student's Role in Government and Politics."

During their stay in Washington, the winners will view the workings of a U. S. Senator's office, attend committee sessions in both the Senate and the House, tour and speak with people in key positions in government departments and agencies, talk to diplomatic representatives of foreign powers and, in brief, obtain an inside view of the workings of government that no textbook can provide.

OBITUARIES

A. SABATELLO

Anthony Sabatello, 54, of 125 Fifth Avenue, died April 10 at Saddle Brook General Hospital, following a lengthy illness. He was a stone mason.

Born in New York, he moved to Hawthorne, then to Paterson for two years, and back to Hawthorne, where he made his home for the past 23 years.

Mr. Sabatello was a parishioner of St. Anthony's R. C. Church, Hawthorne, Columbus Circle and the John F. Kennedy Democratic Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Rose Gioia, sister of Dr. Michael Gioia, Superintendent of Paterson schools.

He also leave a daughter, Miss Dolores Sabatello, at home, and a son, Michael of Hawthorne, three grandchildren, three brothers, Louis of Paterson, Michael of Wyckoff, and Daniel of Hawthorne, and two sisters, Mrs. Frank (Jean) Malzone of Hawthorne.

ZALENSKI

Waldaw Zalenski, 72, of 83 First Avenue, died April 10 at the Paterson General Hospital after a short illness.

A native of Poland, he came to Paterson at the age of 15. He resided in Hawthorne for the past 40 years. His parents were the late Adam and Rose Zalenski.

Mr. Zalenski worked in the silk industry before his retirement. He was a member of St. Hyacinth's R.C. Church, Paterson and the St. Anthony Society of Paterson.

He is survived by his wife, a son and seven daughters.

C. C. Schmidt

Cornelius C. Schmidt, 76, of 9 Roosevelt Ave. died April 7 at Paterson General Hospital after a brief illness.

A native of The Netherlands, he resided in Hawthorne for 58 years and prior to that lived in Manchester, N.H. He was a cigar maker and operated his own business in Hawthorne for many years.

Mr. Schmidt retired from the Interchemical Corp. of Hawthorne in 1953.

Surviving are one daughter, Miss Johanna Schmidt of Hawthorne, and one brother and four sisters in Holland. His wife, the former Wymanda Van Reenen died in 1924.

Walson Hospital Unit Efficient

the death rate for last year was approximately 100; a very low death rate. Surgery of all kinds, with the exception of brain and open heart surgery are done at the hospital. The type of cases treated are similar to those treated in any acute general hospital in this Northeastern United States area.

Presently an inquiry is being conducted, based on a number of complaints received over the last year. There were a number of malpractice complaints in 1965 but an investigation ended without a case. The present inquiry, initiated by Senator Williams, has resulted in a full scale review by a blue-ribbon team of six Army colonels; and this seems to be the bone of contention, for how can a facility examine itself? Of the six Army officers it is not indicated if any are physicians. Perhaps an impartial review board, would be able to come up with an explanation which would satisfy the parents of our service men (especially those who have been involved in the unfortunate circumstances), servicemen themselves, congressmen, and the public at large. It is suggested that this review board be made up of seven members, including: 1 Congressman, 1 Army Doctor, 1 Civilian Doctor, 1 High ranking Army officers, 1 Hospital Administrator, 1 Pathologist (PhD) and 1 GI. A board of this make-up, upon making a decision should more than satisfy all segments of our citizenry, and in all probability come up with the right answer. Although this proposal may not be consistent with military procedure, it is a fresh approach to a problem that has been with us since 1963.

Golden . . . Harvesters

The Golden Harvesters of Hawthorne, opened their last meeting with an attendance of One Hundred and forty-four members and two guests, namely, Catherine Matchett and Maude Reilley. There were twenty-six more present. Elizabeth O'Grady played the piano for the singing, and President John Tomsho presided. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Ruth Schabitz and approved. Herbert Shelton was welcomed to the position of treasurer, congratulations Herbie, and we all know you will fill the position, as did your previous officers, with accuracy and efficiency. Our most sincere thanks and admiration goes to Marion Perutti who is the chairlady of Rides and Outings. The conversation Monday was that of our recent trip to Radio City and to the Blue Swan for dinner. We all enjoyed the day, with the exception of the weather. There were two hundred who went, everything was handled perfectly, and was a huge success.

We also extend our thanks and appreciation to Sarah De Young, who rendered several vocal selections, during the meal, and they were much enjoyed. There is another outing in the making, that of the annual Mystery Ride. Tickets are now available, members $3.75 and we welcome non-members, whose tickets will be $5.25. This too is to be an outstanding affair, so come and join in with us. Buses will leave at 9 a. m. from the uniclad Building, and return at 5 p.m. from "OUR THERE." The date is May 9th.

Seven Demo Doves Face Extermination

Of the twelve most prominent senate democratic critics of the President's Vietnam policies, seven go before the polls for reelection next year; and two of them, Fullbright of Arkansas and Morse of Oregon may have to face bitter and dangerous primary battles against avid Johnson supporters. The other five seem also to be headed for trouble from a rejuvenated GOP.

In nearby Pennsylvania, Senator Joseph S. Clark has not as yet announced that he will seek reelection, awaiting the run for Mayor of Philadelphia by Democrat-turned-Republican Arlen Specter. If Specter were to win, Clark would probably not make the Van.

In Idaho, Senator Frank Church will be pitted against a resurgent Republican Party with good prospects of victory. The South Dakota Republicans will be aiming four strong candidates at Senator George McGovern, the eventual candidate will be the winner of the GOP primaries.

Wisconsin's Senator Gaylord Nelson will probably be opposed by the strong GOP Governor Warren P. Knowles. Eighty year old Senator Ernest Gruening of Alaska, probably has the least problem in being reelected as he has great voter appeal.

The remaining five "Doves," Kennedy-New York, Kennedy-Massachusetts, Hartke-Indiana, McCarthy-Minnesota, and Young-Ohio do not come up for reelection until 1970. The "Doves" or "Hawk" designation may or may not be the deciding factor in the coming elections but it is also keenly believed that every candidate is hopeful that the Vietnam crisis will be settled so that it will not be a political issue.

Short Lived Legislative

19. Based on the present standing it is difficult to believe that the Democrats should be worried, but with all of the apparent strength, the Democrats can only count as sure eight of the 40 Senate seats and 23 of the 80 Assembly seats. The remainder of the seats could go either way and scorch lies the joy of the Republicans.

According to the GOP count they are sure of 10 seats from the Senate Democrats which include Atlantic, Cape May, Gloucester, Burlington, Ocean, Monmouth, Morris, Somerset, Passaic, Warren and Hunterdon Counties. The eight sure seats in the Democrat column are, Cumberland, Hudson, Middlesex and Salem. In the Assembly lineup the GOP counts four in Atlantic, Cape May and Gloucester, four in Burlington and Somerset, two in Monmouth, two in Somerset, four in Morris, two from the Warren-Sussex-Hunterdon district, four of Essex County's 12, two of Union County's Six, four of Bergen's 10, two of Passaic County's six; a total of 32. The Democrats count, two from Cumberland and Salem, six in Middlesex, eight in Hudson, Six of Essex's 12, two of Union's six, two of Camden's six, and two of Passaic County's six.

After the GOP successes in Passaic County last November, a new Democratic ticket is needed to repair the existing rift in the party. With Grossi not running, Commissioner Robert Roe might well be the adhesive element needed. "Bread King" and Freeholder Joseph Lazzara, a winner in last November's "slim" Democratic victory, might well be the catalyst for a win. Paralleling the possibility of relinquishing state control, is the one of county control after eight years of Democratic rule. (The GOP had failed this county for 25 years prior to this).

Case, Hughes At Odds On Parkway "Grab"

Senator Clifford P. Case is strongly opposed to Governor Hughes' efforts for federal legislation that would enable the Garden State Parkway to buy toll-free sections of the superhighway. Case's answer has been long delayed but there is no doubt now that his stand will endanger the proposed Central Jersey Expressway. The Parkway Authority had planned to finance a large segment of the proposed cross-state freeway with the toll-free sections.

Big Davenport Dinner Best Tribute Ever

Republicans and Democrats joined on Tuesday night at the Meadowbrook in Cedar Grove, to honor Sheriff Frank Davenport. In the greatest tribute ever given the popular sheriff, were more than 1200 friends. George A. Medlin, chairman and master of ceremonies made the introductions and the only short speech of the evening. Reverend James Doyle, Pastor of St. Theresa's R.C. Church, intimate friend of the sheriff gave the convocation and shared the dais with the Sheriff, George Medlin, Undersheriff and Mrs. John Scancarella and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendt.

Besides many gifts the Sheriff received the "Clown Statuette" from Mr. Morton Manfield, of The Circus Saints and Sinners. The Sheriff was the highest man at all balleting, last November and is the County's first three term sheriff. His career in the sheriff's office spans 36 years. He is a native Paterssonian, and is the father of nine children. He was married to the late Mae Sisco who died early this year.

All Municipalities Must Observe Daylight Savings

Daylight Savings Time, which is the standard time under New Jersey Law (Revised Statutes) and is binding on all municipalities, begins at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 30.

The Board of Commissioners of the borough has resolved that the people of Hawthorne, all public offices, official proceedings and other business in the borough be regulated according to Daylight Savings.

This resolution is made because the cities and railroad companies of the metropolitan area observe daylight savings time and confusion would result if our local time should differ.

The six-month period of daylight time is initiated by advancing the clocks one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday, April 30 and ended by retarding the same on hour, Sunday, Oct. 29, 1967 at 2 a.m.

Car Insurance Complaints Need Legislative Airing

New Jersey appears to be losing its long record of high standing in the field of insurance. The list of complaints by New Jersey motorists grows longer every day, and the loser for the most part seems to be the motorist. The range of complaints is wide and variable; none of them make any headway as the underwriters are able to reclassify the motorist almost at will. High on the list of motorists' "beefs" is the sky-rocketing premiums, for which the motorist has no defense. Next is the inexplicable number of arbitrary cancellations; for what reason is there for a motorist who is cancelled out for even the most trivial claim. (One motorist believes that his policy was cancelled because of a tow claim). The dwindling ranks of the "preferred risk" group is another sore spot with the motorist; for here the filing of the most minor claim can change his classification to the assigned risk class. It is in this latter class that the motorist thinks that most of the so-called "sharp-practice" takes place. First there is no consistency of the underwriters in their criteria for determining at what point, a preferred risk becomes an assigned risk. The augustine increase in the number of policyholders in the assigned risk group as a result of "blacklisting" from the standpoint of the motorist and the use of a softer word by the insurance companies, "selectivity". Also contributing to the difficulties if indirectly investigation by credit bureaus and treasure by insurance underwriters on independent agents to accept reduction in commissions without any benefit to the policyholder.

County Republicans Pick Entire Candidate Slate

In an apparent showing of party harmony and unity of purpose, the Passaic County Republicans have beaten the Democratic Organization in the selection of the entire ticket for the November election. The three senate candidates are Paterson City Clerk Frank J. Sciro, Wayne Mayor Edward Sisco, and Clifton Councilman and former Freeholder Ira Schoem. The senate candidate issue was settled by the withdrawal of Eugene Doyle.

For the Assembly, Ringwood Mayor Elmer Van Voorhis and John F. Evers will run in the county district. The Reverend Frank Melton will get approval for one assembly seat in Paterson. Alfred E. Pestanella, brother of former city COP Leader, Richard Pestanella is being backed by rank-and-file Republicans (65% to 41% for Romney.)

Results of county chairman polls however, is not considered as a barometer. In 1952 Senator Robert Taft went to the Republican Convention with the overwhelming vote of the county leaders, only to lose the nomination to Dwight D. Eisenhower. However in the 1964 GOP convention Barry Goldwater, went into it with 878 chairmen on his side; and this was roughly his first convention roll-call vote.

The feeling that the GOP was coming back into its own, was evidenced by the widespread in-

Committee Shows Pollution Plans

Richard Luscher, Chairman of the Hawthorne Jaycees Clean Water Program, announced the committee's plans today. The Clean Water Program is designed to clean up the pollution in the Passaic River and Goffle Brook within the boundaries of Hawthorne. The six point program is as follows:

1. Survey of the river and brook pollution.
2. Analysis of survey.
3. Public Education
   a. In the schools
   b. news media
   c. use of speakers to civic and other organizations.
4. Endorsement and assistance by other organizations, industries and individuals.
5. Clean up the debris in the river and brook.
6. Stop pollution at its source.

The Jaycees started their program in August 1966 with a film survey of the debris in the Passaic River. During the past six months they have been analyzing the films and preparing their plans. On April 1, 1967, they began the school poster and essay contests. These will end May 1, 1967. The Jaycees are now preparing speakers to present their program to other organizations. Any one wishing to have a program presented may do so by contacting Richard Luscher, 77 Eberon Ave., Hawthorne.

Arthur Hesser Selected Judge For Dog Show

Forty-four judges from 16 states, the District of Columbia, England, and Canada, have been approved by the American Kennel Club for the 39th All-Breed Dog Show and Annual Obedience Trial of the Trenton Kennel Club.

Arthur Hesser, of the borough, has been selected to judge St. Bernards.

The show will be held May 7 on the Artillery Armory Grounds, Egerton Crossing and Lawrenceville Road.

The Trenton KC event has become the successor to the famed "Morris-Essex" and is now the country's largest outdoor, benched dog show. The show will cover thirty-six acres of the Artillery Grounds with another twenty acres set aside for parking space. The show is expected to have an entry close to 7,500 dogs.

Gallup Poll of County Leaders Put Nixon First

The latest Gallup Poll puts former Vice-President Richard Milhouse Nixon first as far as the Republican Presidential hopes are concerned. The county chairmen, who are the local party leaders, and have a leading role in the selection of convention delegates and in many instances wear both hats; gave Nixon a commanding lead in the straw stakes. In all 2,137 straws were cast; with Nixon receiving 1,527, Romney 544, and Reagan 233. The rest of the votes, not anywhere near the leaders were spread out among the following in this order; Percy, Rockefeller, Rhodes, Morton, Hatfield, Brooke; Lindsay and others. In addition to his great strength with the local leaders, Nixon holds the lead over Romney with the rank-and-file Republicans. (65% to 41% for Romney.)

Results of county chairman polls however, is not considered as a barometer. In 1952 Senator Robert Taft went to the Republican Convention with the overwhelming vote of the county leaders, only to lose the nomination to Dwight D. Eisenhower. Lazzara Gets Democrat Nod For Senate

County politics seem to have assumed the status of an oversized chess game. It is a question of moves. When the name of Lazzara was mentioned a few weeks back as a potential senate candidate, the publication covered, almost immediately by nominating Paterson City Clerk Frank J. Sciro. Politically it is construed as an obvious move to nullify or at least equalize the Italian vote.

Now three weeks later Freeholder Joseph Lazzara has received the backing of Paterson Democratic ward and party leaders. Lazzara was chosen at a meeting of ward leaders with Passaic County Democratic Chairman Anthony J. Grossi, vice-chairman Assemblywoman Mrs. Betty Kordja, Ben Mannery, state committeeman and former

Special Ceremony Friday To Honor All Volunteers At Morningstar Disaster

A special ceremony honoring those who worked for the community in the recent Morningstar-Paisley disaster will be held at the high school auditorium on Friday night at 8, Mayor Louis Hay II announced today.

The mayor's commendation bar for extraordinary service will be presented to fireman, police, ambulance corps members, Civil Defense auxiliary police and CD nurses who actively participated in lending assistance. Mayor Bay will make the presentation in behalf of himself and Commissioners James A. Kirkman and John G. Rozzano.

The Mayor extended an invitation to all residents of the community to attend the program.

"The borough of Hawthorne can be proud of itself for the manner in which its people responded to community service," Mayor Bay said. "Out of this terrible tragedy it is encouraging to note that our populace displayed through actions, not just words, that we are a town with a heart. The ceremony on Friday night will be our way of thanking the firemen, the policemen, the ambulance corps, the auxiliary police and the Civil Defense nurses who gave of many hours to assist in this moment of need. I urge all residents to come to the high school Friday night to pay tribute to these people who worked so diligently."

Boro Elks Dinner Dance April 22

Localite Enters Drexel Program

Nancy Dunsont, of 17 Tenth Avenue, Hawthorne, has recently returned to the Philadelphia Center Department Administrative Services Office for her third internship period with this company, under the Drexel Institute of Technology cooperative education program. Dunsont, a Drexel junior majoring in commerce and engineering, is employed as a technical administrator.

The cooperative education program, which Drexel pioneered in 1919, enables the student to apply classroom academic theory to study-related organizational positions for alternating six-month periods. In addition to gaining valuable professional experience and guidance, the student is salaried by the cooperating organization. There are instances in which the job location is that of

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Politicians never tire of expressing soliciture for "senior citizens." But, it seems this concern has strict limits. With as little publicity as possible, the authorities have recommended that certain social security benefits henceforth be considered taxable income. Heretofore, they have been tax free. Since the establishment of the social security program, those approaching retirement age have been able to base their future plans on a supposedly fixed return from their social security pensions. Apparently, this will no longer be true.

Social security, as people are learning, is not a form of guaranteed income. It is subject to the whims of political experiency, and the security it provides is subject to change without notice. Moreover, there is impressive evidence that juggling social security taxes and social security benefits is to be used as part of the mechanism of managing the economy.

YONKERS RACEWAY

Robin Dundee, the only pacer in Australian history to be clocked in "faster than 2-minutes," has been leased for $75,000 to a three-man syndicate headed by leading U. S. driver Eddie Cobb and will make her first American start in the $100,000 International Pace on June 1 at Yonkers Raceway, according to a joint announcement today by Cobb and raceway president Martin Tananbaum.

Tananbaum also revealed that fleet New Zealand pacer Elegant Hanover will be flown to the U. S. with Robin Dundee to compete in the eighth annual International Pace slated for 1½ miles.

Accompanying Elegant Hanover will be the famed Down Under driver Peter Wolfenden, who drove the incomparable Cardigan Bay in the southern hemisphere, and the horse's owner Eric L. Haydon of Papakura, N. Z.

Cobb disclosed that he had leased the 9-year-old mare, Robin Dundee, with Leon Machiz and William Schlesinger of Great Neck, N. W. from her owner, Jack W. Hewitt of Matauri Island, N. Z. Under the terms of the lease, Robin Dundee will race in this country this year and next and then be retired to be bred to world champion Adios Butler who Cobb drove to wealth and glory from 1959 to '61. Adios Butler ranked as the fastest standardbred of all time on the basis of a 1:54 3/5 clocking until last year when Bret Hanover erased the mark with a brilliant 1:53 3/5.

The leasing of Robin Dundee climaxes more than two months of negotiations between Cobb and Hewitt. Cobb flew expressly to Australia and New Zealand in February in hopes of landing Robin Dundee for the International Pace as well as the $50,000 Good Time Pace and $50,000 National Championship Pace on June 8 and June 15. The three events comprise Yonkers' $200,000 International pacing extravaganza in June.

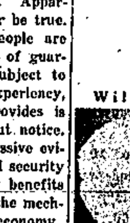
THE QUESTION

Do you think Mickey Mantle playing first base will benefit the Yankees?

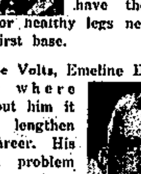
WHERE ASKED

Around Town

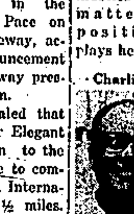
THE ANSWERS



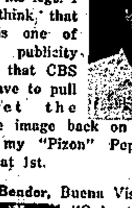
William Brasel, Warburton Ave.: "Manager Houk made a "boo-boo" playing Mantle at 1st. Mickey has had many years experience playing center field and he doesn't have the footwork or healthy legs needed to play first base.



Ernie Volta, Emeline Dr.: "No matter where they put him it cannot lengthen his career. His main problem has always been pulling leg muscles and, no matter what position he plays he still has to run the bases.



Charlie Nicol, Diamond Bridge Ave.: "It is a sad fact that Mickey's physical problems are curtailing a great career. It is highly probable this will happen regardless of where he plays. However, I feel any experiment that has the slightest chance of adding to his playing days is worth trying, for the Yankees, for Mickey, and for the fans who derive so much pleasure watching him perform.



Jim Confrancisco, Sunrise Dr.: "No, I believe the infield will be more harmful to his legs. I also think that this is one of many publicity stunts that CBS will have to pull to get the Yankee image back on top, besides, my "Pizon" Pepitone is better at 1st.

Joe Bendor, Buena Vista Ave.: "Only time will tell — but if the "gimmick" doesn't work, where will they play him next? Maybe on the bench for $100,000—or maybe out.

Playhouse on The Mall

PARAMUS — Motion picture and television star Gardner McKay will open on April 26 for two weeks at the Playhouse on the Mall, Bergen Mall, in America's longest-running musical, "The Fantasticks," now in its seventh year in New York. Vince O'Brien, Playhouse audience favorite, will have a leading role.

McKay is known to millions who saw him in the successful television series "Adventures in Paradise" which ran for several years. He has starred in motion pictures, the most recent being "The Pleasure Seekers," co-starring Ann-Margaret and Carol Lynley.

"The Fantasticks," by Tom Jones and Harvey L. Schmidt, is an enchanting idyll about a boy and a girl who must arrange secret trysts because their fathers are enemies. They have to pursue their romance from tree branches that meet over the wall erected between their fathers' gardens. The fathers are really the best of friends who, having fond hopes that their children will marry, have deliberately promoted the match by pretending to forbid it. They increase the romantic element by hiring an actor to stage a kidnapping of the girl so that the boy can play hero rescuing her.

McKay will portray El Gallo, the narrator who progresses in due time to the role of professional abductor. Vince O'Brien will play the part of the father of The Boy, who will be Buddy Jarvis.

David Dunham will be seen as father of The Girl; Michael McKenna as The Mute; Lionel Wilson as The Old Actor; and Lou Ciulla as The Man Who Dies.

Gian Pace will direct. Musical Director and Conductor will be Jane Douglas White. Robert Conley will create the sets.

"The Fantasticks" will play through Sunday, May 7.

KNOW YOUR GOVERNMENT

Public employees would be beneficiaries of a major share of increases recommended in the Governor's billion dollar budget proposed for State Government in New Jersey in the 1967-68 fiscal year. The overall budget, as recommended to the State Legislature, totaled $998.8 million for the year beginning July 1, up $108.4 million over the present period.

Over $40 million of a proposed $68 million increase in operating costs for State Government (aside from State aid and capital spending) would provide State employee pay and benefit increases and new positions. These include salary commitments (resulting largely from previous legislative action) of $9.6 million; new pension and benefit commitments of $7.8 million; proposed pay increases totaling $12.4 million and appropriations for new positions on the State payroll costing $10.4 million. These total $40.2 million in added payroll and benefit costs, or 19% above present allocations of $211.7 million.

The operations budget would abolish 58 present jobs and provide for 2,785 new positions, according to tabulations set forth in an analysis of spending trends shown in the "Governor's Budget for 1968", an annual publication of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The new positions include 905 new jobs in the State Department of Institutions and Agencies, 740 in the Department of Treasury, mainly for tax administration; 416 in the State's new Department of Higher Education for State college personnel and 171 in the Department of Law and Public Safety for Motor Vehicle employees and State policemen. The employment figures do not include 283 additional personnel for Rutgers, the State University, 69 jobs in the College of Medicine and Dentistry, nor 113 additional jobs provided in the State aid and capital sections of the proposed State budget at a total cost of $3 million.

Trenton 150-Mile At Speedway Sun.

TRENTON, N. J.—A pair of rear-engine Fords and a trio of rear-engine Offenhausers are among the first five entries released by Race Director Sam Nunis for the sixth annual pre-Indianapolis, USAC-FIA sanctioned Trenton 150-mile championship car race on Sunday, April 23 at Trenton Speedway.

Popular Johnny Rutherford of Fort Worth, Tex., and Pikes Peak Hill Climb champion Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N. M., will be in the rear-engine Fords, Rutherford making a comeback after a year's absence because of injuries in the Weinberger Homes Special and Unser piloting the Leader Cards Rislone Special.

Flying the Offy banners will be Bud Tingelstad of Dayton, Ohio, in the Federal Engineering Special, Al Miller of Roseville, Mich., in the Caves Buick Special, and East Brunswick's Wally Dallenbach in the Vatis Enterprises Valvoline Special.

Toss in the luring $21,550 minimum guaranteed purse, including accessory monies or 40 per cent of net ticket receipts, whichever is greater, and the FIA sanction which opens the door for foreign participants, an dthe sixth annual Trenton "150" has the makings of the best in many years—perhaps even with some international flavoring.

Some choice tickets still remain for the early birds, so make plans to come out and cheer your favorites. Write now for reservations to Trenton Speedway, P. O. Box 2148, Trenton, N. J., phone 609-587-6551 or stop at the speedway office, located on the New Jersey State Fairgrounds.

The oldest known harness driver was Charles Taylor who toured the New England circuit in the latter half of the 19th century. In 1907, at the age of 101, he was still driving. Mr. Taylor had witnessed the entire evolution of the trotting horse sport from saddle, to high four wheeler, on to the high two wheels, and finally the "bike."

Can people work and enjoy living in a place where winter drags eight months a year and the mercury much to often goes down to 80 or even 90 degrees below zero?

The northern part of the Soviet Union is just such a place but with one addition — it abounds in gold, diamonds, oil, coal and other natural riches. People have to work there. Why not make their life enjoyable? With this idea a group of young architects from the diamond city of Mirny headed by Nina Bant, an experienced designer of northern towns, set to work and produced a plan of a new town. It is called Aikhal and is to be built near one of the rich diamond deposits of Yakutia, a Soviet republic in Siberia. Construction work starts this year. Displayed at Expo 67 will be a scale model of the first stage of this town.

This stage will occupy 30 acres. Its eight five-story apartment houses, accommodating 5,000 people, will be linked by streets which are in effect broad glassed-in galleries. The streets will connect the houses with all the other buildings, forming a single urban complex. Because of permafrost conditions in the area all the houses and streets of Aikhal rest on piles.

The town is to be provided with a micro-climate of its own so that the glass-covered streets will have a winter temperature of not less than 50 degrees F. This will be a suitable transitory temperature for the inhabitants — diamond miners, geologists and builders— who on leaving the town may find themselves exposed to severe cold. Of course, bus stops will be as close to the houses as possible.

Milk Dating Law Urged

Democratic Assemblyman Vito A. Albanese (Bergen) today urged passage of a milk dating law.

"Housewives deserve the right to know when the milk they purchase was pasteurized," Albanese said, "and protection against a few unscrupulous businessmen who would peddle last week's milk if they could.

"It is incredible to me that when a person shops he or she has no way to find out how fresh this product is without counting the number of days in the year. I would suppose that even a mathematics student would have to pause to figure it out by the time November rolls around," Albanese said.

Albanese reported that a milk dating bill had already passed the Senate and was now under consideration by the Assembly Committee on Agriculture, Conservation and Economic Development and the Committee on Revision and Amendment of Laws. He expressed hope that this measure would reach the floor for a vote.

"Of Thee I Sing"

Where has patriotism gone? When did it commence disappearing from the American scene. More than a generation has passed since the Atomic Age was ushered in; yet contemporary life is a personification of the confusion that such an awesome weapon can instill. It appears that the once strong voice of patriotism is muted somewhere amid the turmoil. In a costly war, diverse and diametrically opposed opinions are heard each day. All levels of administration and citizenry disagree. Protests and demonstrations against the war used to include only a motley group of the "way-out" variety who disgusted the public. Last weekend's New York "Peace March" attracted a more responsible segment of the population. As the crowds grow, the voice of patriotism grows weaker.

The ordinary American citizen who used to rise with pride at the sound of "The Star Spangled Banner" or "My Country 'Tis of Thee" has grown too feeble. The patriotic song that was an integral part of every war prior to Korea has faded.

Perhaps what is needed to awaken the people that any attempt to keep the Communists off guard is worthwhile is some rousing music—some new patriotic song, as yet uncomposed, but already existing as a haunting tune in the heads of those who sacrifice and die, in the hearts of those who wait and mourn. Some great song—to fire the hearts, to rejuvenate a dwindling patriotism.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the William B. Mawhinney Post #1593, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the fine publicity you have given our organization during the past year. We are looking forward to another fine year under our new officers, and hope our relations with you will remain on the same cordial level.

Sincerely yours,
DOROTHY VAN DER WALL
Public Relations Officer.

Lazzara Gets Democrat Nod

His name now goes before the party's executive committee which has final say on candidate selection.

Lazzara won re-election last November in a race that saw his two running mates go down to a narrow defeat.

He is a World War II veteran, former member of the Paterson Board of Adjustment and Housing Authority and has been a Freeholder since 1961. He is the first Democrat to have served two terms as director of that Board. In private life he is president of Lazzara Baking Company and is active in the Italian Circle, UNICO, Fidelians, Pasquariello-Bradle Post, American Legion and a number of Italian.

Weight Control Course Begins

The Passaic County Heart Association will sponsor another of its highly successful Weight Control courses beginning Thursday, April 20, it was announced recently.

The 10-weeks course will be held each Thursday evening at 8 at the Association's headquarters, 625 Broadway, Paterson, and will be under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Brooks, Nutrition Consultant to the Heart Association. Each session runs between one and one-half hours.

There is a $10 fee for the course, and, as Mrs. Brooks pointed out, it will end June 22 "when the Summer holiday season is in full swing and people are anxious to look their best in bathing suits."

Mrs. Brooks pointed out that the Weight Control course is open to anyone who has a weight problem and not just cardiac patients. The only requirement is that they have written approval from their private physicians to take the course.

That the course works is borne out by the fact that one was just completed this past week in which eight women lost a total of 87½ pounds, or an average of a pound a week for the 10-week period.

27,500 PENNIES! The bags are small but each weighs 50 pounds. F. Raymond Peterson, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Passaic County, accepts a $275.00 check from Thomas C. Butler, (left), chairman of the board of the Grand Union Co. and one of the bank's directors. The pennies were pasted into copies of Grand Union's employee publication, Progress, as part of the company's campaign to impress upon employees and the general public the low profits which supermarkets make. The average supermarket makes little more than one penny of profit on each dollar of sales.

Teens On Way to Increased Social

Admission cards are now being ly reduced admission price at the dances.

The Jaycee Teen Organization is currently planning projects which will be open to card holders, i.e., a bus trip to the Jersey Shore during the late spring-early summer season, a picnic and outdoor dance at a nearby camp on Memorial Day, and a bus ride to the Giants-Eagles football classic at Princeton during September.

The tentative date for the next dance is May 20. The place and the band will be announced at a later date.

Before presenting their papers at the conference, all the scholars must pass a comprehensive examination in their special field.

After a year of preparation, they present their papers before a group of fellow scholars, faculty members and the public. The chairman of the Henry Rutgers Committee is C. E. Turner, a professor of romance languages at Rutgers.

County Republicans Pick Entire Slate

The Freeholder candidates will be Bess Doty of Wanaque, longtime Chairman of the County Republican Women's Division, Incumbent Freeholder Victor E. Wangner of Clifton, and Anthony J. Orrico, of Wayne, who lost in the 1966 Freeholder race.

Candidate for surrogate is James D. Ward, who lost the election for Register of Deeds, last year by only 617 votes.

The only weakness in the slate appears geographic, three candidates are from Clifton, and three from Wayne. Stephen Dudiak is the Passaic County Republican Leader.

Gallup Poll Of County Leaders

(Continued from Page One) terest in the straw-poll and the speed with which the ballots were returned. Within 14 days about 66% of the 3,300 county straws sent out were returned.

Also revealed by the poll was convincing evidence that the Right Wing of the GOP party that nominated Barry Goldwater in 1964 is still in command of the party. More evidence of this right wing strength, as opposed to the liberal or moderate wing that supported Governor Scranton in 1964, can be found in the large vote cast for Reagan.

The only strength that Romney seems to be carrying into the convention is his appeal to the independent voter and dissident Democrats. This is important since the Republicans are now considered the minority party and in order to win it must attract independents and defeating Democrats.

N. Y. Generals to Begin Season Sat.

NEW YORK—Sports fans who like to recall they were there when history was made, can be in on a memorable event Saturday, April 22 at Yankee Stadium when the New York Generals will play their home opener in the first Major League soccer game in the city's lustrous annals.

The Generals will open National Professional Soccer League competition against the Chicago Spurs in an afternoon game at 2:30 p.m.

They become the city's seventh Major League sports organization, joining the Yankees and Mets in baseball, the Giants and Jets in football, the Rangers in hockey, and the Knickerbockers in basketball.

Precedent will be against them when they kick off after colorful inaugural ceremonies in a quest for the Eastern Division Championship. If you were there at other history-making events you will remember that only one of the other teams now operating in New York managed to score a victory.

The charter date for the Generals falls on the anniversary of what is now the oldest professional sports team in town, the Yankees, following the departure of the baseball Giants and Dodgers to western climes.

On April 22, 1903 the Yankees (then called the Highlanders) launched their American League history on a sad note with 3-1 loss to the Washington Senators, just 64 years ago and how were your seats.

On Oct. 11, 1925, the football Giants suffered a 14-0 defeat against the Providence Steamrollers.

The only victory came on Nov. 16, 1926 when the Rangers skated to a 1-0 decision against the Montreal Maroons.

The Knickerbockers got off wrong in 1946 when they lost their first test as pro basketball went big time after World War II, dropping a 78-66 decision to the Chicago Stags on Nov. 11.

The Mets wrote the first chapter in their zany history in the Polo Grounds on April 11, 1962 when they fought the first of many losing battles and went down, 11-4 against the St. Louis Cardinals.

On Sept. 8, 1963, also in the ancient Polo Grounds, the football Jets were trimmed, 38-14 by the Boston Patriots.

What is in store for the Generals can only be a wild guess because all of the 10 teams in the NPSL have been involved in a massive world-wide recruiting drive, bringing in top stars from 36 different nations for the charter campaign. There is no past line on performance and all teams are likely to make personnel shifts once the season is underway.

The Generals will be battling for the Eastern Division championship against the Atlanta Chiefs, Baltimore Bays, Philadelphia Spartans and Pittsburgh Phantoms. They will play an interlocking schedule of 16 home and 16 away games, meeting all teams both here and away. The Western Division teams along with the Chicago Spurs are the California (Oakland) Clippers, Los Angeles Toros, St. Louis Stars, and Toronto Falcons.

At the conclusion of regular season play on Sunday, Aug. 27, the top teams in each division will battle in a two-game total goals playoff for the league title with the final game on CBS Television Sept. 3. That will be the climax of a 21-week Sunday afternoon Game of the Week Television series in color over a 190-station CBS network.

There are approximately 18,000,000 bok titles, with an average edition of 3,000, giving us about 54 billion books.

OBITUARIES

Nicola Diva

Nicola Duva, 76, of 140 Lincoln Avenue, died April 16 in St. Joseph's Hospital, Paterson, after a short illness.

Born in Italy, Mr. Duva came to the United States in 1904 and settled in West Virginia prior to moving to Paterson in 1925. He had resided in Hawthorne since 1952.

He is survived by his wife, a daughter, three sons, several brothers, sisters and grandchildren.

Andrew Antonik

Andrew Antonik, 129 Hillcrest Avenue, died April 16 at the home of his daughter after a lengthy illness.

Born in Czechoslovakia, he arrived in this country approximately sixty years ago. He formerly was a resident of Garfield.

Before his retirement he was employed by the United Piece Dye Works. He was a parishioner of Three Saints Russian Orthodox Church.

Mr. Antonik's wife Elizabeth predeceased him.

Alicia Quinn

HACKENSACK — Mrs. Alicia C. Malloy Quinn of 61 South Lake Drive, formerly of 94 Franklin Avenue, Hawthorne, died Thursday in her home after a long illness. She was the widow of John F. Quinn, who died in 1938.

Born in Paterson, Mrs. Quinn resided in that city for 30 years, prior to moving to Hawthorne, where she lived for 50 years. She resided at the Hackensack address for five months with a niece, Mrs. Stephen Q (Helen M.) Butler. Mrs. Quinn was a parishioner of St. Anthony's R.C. Church, Hawthorne, and a member of its Rosary-Altar Society.

Richard Wilkinson

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Richard John Wilkinson supervisor of maintenance of St. Anthony's Guild, Paterson, who died April 17, in Valley Hospital, Ridgewood, at the age of 63. He had a heart condition.

Born in Paterson, Mr. Wilkinson resided in Clifton most of his life. He moved to Hawthorne 10 years ago, and resided at 51 Victor Place, with his wife, the former Loretta C. Murray. His parents were the late John and Minnie Straskie Wilkinson.

He was a parishioner of St. Anthony's R. C. Church and a member of the Holy Name Society of the church.

Surviving, also, are two brothers, David of Paterson, and William of Clifton; two sisters, Miss Ann Wilkinson of Clifton, and Mrs. Louise Farber of Port Jervis.

Car Insurance Complaints

(Continued from Page 1) motorist's dilemma, and also that of the insurance agent, is the long list of classifications which would require a lexicographer to decipher. In this jungle of terms can be found such gems as: Principal Driver, male or female; New Business-Policy cannot be issued to one over 63. New Risk-applicant who is 65 years of age or over and apply as a new risk. "If owner or principal operator (regardless of sex) is under age 21 (married or single), under age 25 (single).

So called "Agent Guides," distributed by some out of state underwriters help to confuse the issue further. Here selectivity has little or nothing to do with the driving record; but there is a collective discrimination, because of occupation or circumstance. These motorists, regardless of their driving records, are not acceptable and may not be written Rates are determined on facts which discriminate against someone and are based on such factors as age, social conditions, mental stability, geographic areas, etc. The insurance actuaries say there is no other way to compute insurance. So far the insurance industry has offered its own formula for resolving many of the problems and injustices of which it is awade. Several bills are before the legislature in an attempt at solution. If these fail perhaps the state should explore underwriting; for has it not had some insurance experience in the Uninsured Motorist Fund.

THE ARTICHOKE

In ancient times, whenever the gods of mythology became angry with a mortal, they hastily turned him into something else. This was the fact that befell a lovely young nymph of Cynara. She had the bad luck to arouse the wrath of a diety who promptly turned her into a thistle. At least she was transformed into the best kind of thistle, for she became Cynara Scolymus, otherwise known as the artichoke. Thus goes the history of that delectable epicurean delight, the artichoke.

The artichoke was at one time thought only good enough for fodder for beasts of burden. The gourmets of Venice finally hailed this gastronomic novelty.

They thrive in California and southern Louisiana. The once wild plant was cultivated and domesticated by the French and today is thought of as a somewhat fashionable farm product.

A good artichoke will be plump, globular and heavy, and should be responsive to gentle pressure of the fingers. The petals, or leaves, will be pale green, shaded with faint tints of blue, violet, red or brown . . . but not too much brown, or this is a sign of over ripeness.

Cooking artichokes involves nothing more than dropping them into a kettle of boiling salted water containing a generous amount of lemon juice to preserve their color . . . cook for about 40 to 45 minutes and drain. Serve hot with melted butter or hollandaise sauce, or serve cold with mayonnaise or sauce vinaigrette. The edible parts are the fleshy pulp at the bottom ends of the leaves, and the fond or base of the flower, which epicures consider the best part of all.

To eat an artichoke, remove a leaf with the fingers and dip the tender, meaty end in the sauce. Pull the leaf gently between the teeth, somewhat in the manner of a stalk of asparagus, scraping off the succulent pad at the bottom. The remainder of the leaf is not eaten. At the center of the artichoke there is a smaller cone of compact tender leaves enclosing the "choke," a core of fuzzy bbristles which must be scooped out and discarded.

You may stuff the artichoke also. Next week I will have a recipe for Stuffed Artichoke.

MONTICELLO RACEWAY

MONTICELLO, N. Y. — The snow is vanishing from the hills and slopes, the ice from the lakes and rinks. Skis and skates are mothball bound, a sure show parley hereabouts that, in the immortal words of someone, "Spring has sprung."

Hereabouts is the world famous Catskill Mountains Resort Area with its fantastic supply of luxurious hotels. A disbeliever need not travel from hotel to hotel while determining the winter season is near its end for another year. He need only venture to Monticello Raceway, New York State's third largest harness racing emporium which is daily surrounded by all this fun and frolic.

For here at this scenic standardbred showcase, the Mighty M has come out of hibernation. Melting snow has revealed the same lightning-fast, half-mile oval, the same color-drenched grandstand which has provided so many thrills in that extra-special friendly atmosphere.

Presently there are no fields of straining horseflesh, no throngs of yelling, cheering fans. That comes later. Instead, there are sounds of hammers, saws, tractors and graders as the Mighty M prepares for its tenth season of operation.

Post time for the tenth tenure is May 11. Then, it will be 115 programs of harness racing, including four matinees, before it all ends on Sept. 16.

Management is determined to make No. 10 the best ever and all hands are present or accounted for. Workmen are busy cleaning, sweeping and painting. Trackmen are involved in grooming and coaxing the slick half-miler back to life after a long winter's rest.

Word is being spread. Promotion is at full tilt and racing personnel have been reminding horsemen, old and new faces alike, that the bugler's call is just a furlong away.

The track's renovation program has continued. Additional rest rooms have been remodeled, joining those that brought plaudits last season. Covered walkways from the main gate to the grandstand will greet the patron on opening night as will six lanes of highway approaching the main entrance on Route 17B instead of two.

Racing-wise, the Mighty M will present no less than 33 stakes and special events this season in addition to the nine nightly classified and claiming events. The mainstays in this select group are the plant's six premier Excelsior Stakes which will be sprinkled throughout the meet.

Savings Bond Drive Begins In N. J.

TRENTON—Gov. Richard J. Hughes today announced the appointment of Commissioner David J. Goldberg, head of the Department of Transportation, as general campaign chairman of the 1967 United States Savings Bond Drive for State employees. The drive will be held from April 24 to May 12.

In his role as general campaign chairman, Commissioner Goldberg will act as the Governor's representative among State Department heads during the drive designed to achieve greater employee participation in the purchase of U. S. Series "E" bonds and the new Freedom Shares.

Commissioner Goldberg announced that he has established a campaign goal to achieve a minimum of 65 per cent employee participation in the U. S. Savings Bond Payroll Plan. He pointed out that last year New Jersey led all State governments with an enrollment of more than 60 per cent in the payroll deduction plan.

In recognition of this achievement, New Jersey became the first State to receive the U. S. Treasury Department's coveted Minute Man Flag Award.

"This outstanding accomplishment in 1966 led to President Johnson's selection this year of Governor Hughes to serve both on the National Industrial Payroll Savings Committee and as chairman of the State Governor's Campaign for State employees," Commissioner Goldberg said.

GOLDEN O

STONEBRINK

There was no meeting of the Golden Circle of Hawthorne due to the bus ride to Radio City Music Hall to see the Easter show. After the show we left New York for the Swiss Chalet in Rochelle Park for dinner.

The show was beautiful and the steak and mushroom dinner was enjoyed by all. Ceil McDonald was complimented on a job well done.

The following members are on the sick list: Dorothy Pepling, Helen Stchulka, Theresa Bonino, David Blauvelt, Roy Kithcart, Mary Goodwin, Herbert Pillsbury, Marion Anderson and Joseph Snyder.

Our next regular meeting will be held on Thursday, April 20.

Roosevelt RACEWAY

Nine three-year-olds, including Cardinal Jamie, entered the $35,425 United States Harness Writers' Trot this Saturday at Roosevelt Raceway. It is the first major test of the year for Hambletonian candidates and has been scheduled at one mile.

Cardinal Jamie is familiar to Roosevelt fans as a colt who broke at the outset of the Volomite Trot last year making up many lengths to win in 2:07 1/5. But the Frank Mollica trained son of Jamie was plagued with injury problems and didn't have the year that was predicted for him. The Harness Writers' will be his first start of this season and he will go with a stable-mate, Meadow Weller.

Stanley Dancer is bringing in a highly regarded colt, Dazzling Speed. This product, unraced at two, hasn't lost in preliminary tests this year at Liberty Bell. The son of Speedster has won in 2:05 1/5.

Other starters include Biloxi Hanover, Beau Diller, Jamie's Beauty, Rhythm Duke, Stone Mountain and Sharp Cat.

Willie Shoemaker is the leading money winner among jockeys — winning purses of more than $2 million dollars.

AUTO ASSOCIATION OFFICERS—The newly formed Passaic County Auto Dealers Association recently elected officers shown here displaying "Win The 1967 Car of Your Chance" material promoting the Association's month long contests. From left: Edward Kanter, Lexington Chevrolet of Clifton, treasurer; Fred Meyers of Hawthorne Chevrolet, vice president; Don Oberman of the New Jersey Auto Trade Association and Jerry Atkins of Atkins Chevrolet, president of the county association.

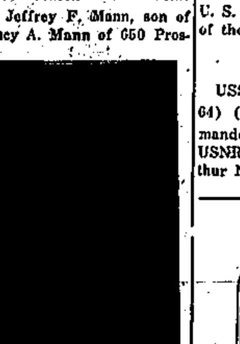
It's the right time to look at the 1967 model cars and take a chance on winning one in a month long campaign sponsored by the Passaic County Automobile Association.

The newly formed association recently elected the following officers: Jerry Atkins of Atkins Chevrolet of Wayne, president; Fred Meyers of Hawthorne Chevrolet, vice-president, Frank Nappa of Wayne Ford, second vice-president and Edward Kanter of Lexington Chevrolet of Clifton, treasurer.

"1967 is The Prime Time to Buy a Car" campaign will get started this Saturday at association dealers who will have entry blanks to take a chance on winning a new car.

SERVING OUR COUNTRY

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. (FHTNC) March 21 — Marine Private Jeffrey F. Mann, son of Mrs. Lucy A. Mann of 650 Prospect Street, Glen Rock, N. J., has completed four weeks of individual combat training at this Marine Corps Base.



During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veteran instructors. They taught him how to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons.

He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit. Marines going to combat units will get detailed training in the particular combat skill they are designated for. Those who are going into technical fields will receive their advanced training at one of a variety of technical schools throughout the country.

USS ALDEBARAN — Seaman Leo B. Fiorilla, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Fiorilla of 612 Lincoln Ave., Hawthorne, is taking part in "at-sea" replenishment duties in the Mediterranean with the U. S. Sixth Fleet, aboard the refrigerated stores ship USS Aldebaran.

During her "Med" cruise, the Aldebaran may be called on to service over 50 ships in that area, all part of the attack carrier forces.

While on deployment from her home port of Norfolk, Va., the Aldebaran is scheduled to visit Naples and Genoa, Italy; Barcelona and Rota, Spain; and Palma, Mallorca.

The Aldabaran is one of six "reefer" ships assigned to the U. S. Atlantic Fleet, and is a unit of the Service Force.

USS CONSTELLATION (CVA-64) (FHTNC)) March 24—Commander Arthur M. Marston, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Marston of 87 Birchwood Road, Glen Rock, N. J., is off the West Coast of the United States aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation, serving two weeks active duty afloat.

The Constellation, homeported in San Diego, returned from a seven month Vietnam tour in December.

The "old gray mare" Lady Suffolk was the first trotter to race a mile in less than 2:30. In 1845, she travelled the Beacon Course in Hoboken, N.J. in 2:29½. The mare raced 14 years and met all the best horses of her day under saddle, to the wagon and to sulky, winning at one, two and three mile heats.

ROTARY Headlights

LAST WEEK . . . Howard Herman sponsored Robert F. Bennett, Regional Director of CARE (and we'll bet that you can't tell us what the letters stand for), who emphasized the new phase of "self-help" that is being used in all of CARE's projects.

"Bob" has been with CARE for twenty-one years and the first CARE packages were delivered just 21 years ago—to LeHavre, France. His territory, or "region" covers New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. Besides telling us what CARE is, Bob told us who CARE is. CARE is all of us.

By showing us a most interesting film, AND THE EARTH TREMBLED, the speaker demonstrated how natives of Nuhum, Iran, rebuilt their town after thousands were killed November 1, 1962, by a devastating earthquake. Although CARE supplied materials, food and tools, the native villagers rebuilt the region better than it had been before—and just about 'quake-proof'—by means of their own labors.

Thanks, Howard, for bringing Bob Bennett to us—he really made us care about CARE.

Stamp and Coin Bourse to Be Held

PAMELA SYMINGTON

Pamela Symington

Mr. and Mrs. William Symington of 656 Goffle Road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Pamela Lee Symington, to Donald W. Clark of 325 Campgaw Road, Mahwah. He is the son of Mrs. W. E. Clark of Healdton, Okla., and the late Mr. Clark.

The bride-elect was graduated from Hawthorne High School and is an assistant bookkeeper with Scalfon's, Ridgewood.

Her fiance, a graduate of Dundee High School, attended East Central State College in Oklahoma and served three years with the U.S. Army. He is a computer-analyst with the industrial engineering department of the Ford Motor Co., Mahwah.

The couple plans a June, 1968 wedding.

Demarest Awarded Membership In Ford's 300-500 Club

Demarest Sales & Service, 63 Royal Ave., Hawthorne, N. J. will be honored for outstanding sales performances during 1966 at a banquet at the Concord Hotel in Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., Sunday, April 23, 1967. They are among approximately 470 dealership car and truck salesmen in Ford Division's Newark sales district who are being awarded Ford's 300-500 Club membership award for "excellent retail sales performance."

J. W. McClanathan, manager of Ford's Newark district sales office, said the 300-500 Club was founded by Ford in 1950 to "focus attention on car and truck selling as a profession that gives home a valuable service to the national economy and the local community."

Mr. McClanathan noted that the average 300-500 Club member in 1966 sold nearly $500,000 worth of automotive merchandise to qualify for the national honor.

Local Ford retail salesmen qualifying for the 300-500 Club are: Harold Paulson, John F. Foyle.

Mgr. M. MacFarlan Flays Female Aspirant For Her "Liar" Attack on Mayor

Malcolm V. Macfarlan, campaign manager for the Bay-Kirkman-Floyd team in the May 9 commissioners' election, said today he "was astonished by the unladylike behavior" of a candidate at last week's meeting of the Board of Commissioners.

Macfarlan, whose father was the first mayor of the borough of Hawthorne, said the conduct of the candidate "was an insult to the fine women of our community who are a part of the mainstream of this well-respected borough."

"Never have I seen a candidate so office display such immaturity and such impolite behavior," said Macfarlan. "Mayor Bay and Commissioner Kirkman were subjected to such harassment that they would have had every right to deny her the floor. However, in the 'true American' tradition of fair play, they gave her the opportunity to speak despite her vilifications for political purposes."

Macfarlan said the candidate's conduct was "an indictment against her for not having the proper qualifications for public office."

"Can you imagine this candidate, with her immature judgment, being in charge of the borough's police and fire departments, the finance department or the public works department?" Macfarlan asked.

Macfarlan said that at the commissioners' meeting, which he attended, Mayor Bay told the candidate that he would treat her in a gentlemanly manner, but insisted that she behave like a lady.

"The main impression upon me on the candidate, however," Macfarlan said. "She continued her tirade of ill-spiking unbefitting that of her sex."

Jersey Residents Warned On Lottery

Stop! Don't buy that New York lottery ticket if you are a New Jersey resident. All types of consequences, all of a legal variety, may befall you if you succumb to this urge. The New Jersey penalty for this grievious offense is 1 to 3 years in jail plus a heavy fine. The federal "rap" is more staggering, and may involve a 5 year federal prison sentence and a fine as high as $10,000.00.

Healthy Baby Week Proclaimed Official

Local Merchants Provide Gifts for Boro Baby Week

Mayor Louis Bay II has proclaimed "Healthy Baby Week" April 29 through May 6. The Junior Women's Club of Hawthorne will present a gift to the first five babies from Hawthorne born during this week. Gifts have been provided through the courtesy of Mckeon's Pharmacy, Little Folks Shop, Birk's Pharmacy, Hawthorne 5 and 10, and Olsson's Pharmacy. Also a fruit basket donated by Bill's Fruit and Vegetable Store will be sent to the first mother for the week. The Hawthorne Press will donate an engraved Birth Announcements to the first Hawthorne babies born this week.

This is in connection with a joint project of the March of Dimes and the General Federation of Women's Clubs to educate people in the necessity of prenatal care. The Hawthorne Junior Women have placed pamphlets on birth defects in the Library. Anyone who has not sent in their contribution to the March of Dimes is urged to do so.

Public Utility Post For Sen. Anthony Grossi

State Senator Anthony J. Grossi and Passaic County Democratic leader was nominated and confirmed by the senate on Monday, as a member of the State Public Utility Commission. "The salary is $18,000 per annum and is for a term of 6 years. Grossi said that he would keep his senate seat until the end of the present session in June, and will not seek re-election.

The senator had been advised by his attending physicians to lighten his activities since his illness of a few years back. With the curtailment of state activities, the senator can now devote more time to county problems; and be in a better position to bolster some of the weaknesses which were apparent in the last general election.

Voting Machines Can Be Inspected

Voting machines to be used in the Municipal Election May 9, 1967, for the borough will be ready for inspection at the Passaic County Service Building, 317 Pennsylvania Ave., Paterson, on May 1st at 1 p.m. sharp. The public will have an opportunity to see that machines are in proper order, that all counters are in order and set at zero and that the machines are so sealed by the officials of the Passaic County Board of Election. This procedure is in accordance with the Election Laws of the State of New Jersey.

Elks Ladies Plan May Smorgasbord

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hawthorne Lodge No. 2260 of BPOE Elks will hold a Smorgasbord at the Lodge Hall on Wednesday, May 3rd from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Chairman for this affair will be Mrs. Ruth Braen and her co-Chairman is Mrs. Nancy Kimble. Tickets may be obtained by Ticket Chairmen Jeanne Hushler and Yvette Ross, or from any Auxiliary member. Dark Horse Chairman is Annamee Ferial. Tickets for adults are $1.75 and $1.00 for children under 12 years of age. Many delicious dishes will be made through the Auxiliary members. Come out for an enjoyable evening.

Commendation Awards Presented By Mayor Bay

The last chapter of the tragic Morningstar Paisley explosion and fire was written last Friday night in the High School Auditorium, when Mayor Bay presented commendation Award Ribbons to all groups who gave yeoman service to their less fortunate neighbors. Included in the group were the Police Department, the Fire Department, the Auxiliary Police, the Ambulance Corps, and the Civilian Defense Nurse Corps.

Citations were presented to the Rev. Paul E. Spiecker, of the Methodist Church, and Monsignor Joseph H. Brestel of St. Anthony's R. C. Church. Expressions of thanks were also given to the Ladies Auxiliaries of the Fire Companies, the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, the Teaneck Fire Department CD Mobile Unit, the many volunteers, men and women from the borough and from surrounding towns.

Proclamation

It is especially fitting at this time that each of us, as citizens of this great Nation, should reaffirm our faith in the rule of law and in the supremacy of government by laws rather than men.

The Congress of the United States, and the President, by official proclamation, have designated May 1st as Law Day USA. The basic aims of Law Day are to foster increased respect for law, for independent Courts which uphold the law and for a deeper awareness of the benefits and responsibilities of citizenship.

Liberty and equality for the individual are what distinguish our system of government from communism, under which millions of people today live in fear and tyranny. No better time could be chosen to call public attention to our great heritage of individual liberty under law.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Louis Bay, 2nd, Mayor of Hawthorne, New Jersey, do hereby proclaim Monday, May 1st, 1967, as Law Day USA. in the Borough of Hawthorne, New Jersey, and call upon all citizens, organizations and schools to recognize this special day, with suitable programs, ceremonies and educational activities.

Dated at the Borough of Hawthorne this 15th day of March, 1967.

LOUIS BAY 2nd, Mayor.

Whereas, the best of health should be the birthright of every American baby, and

Whereas, healthy mothers tend to have healthy babies, and

Whereas, an alarming number of pregnant women do not seek medical attention until they arrive at a hospital for the actual delivery, and

Whereas, every prospective mother should see a doctor as soon as she thinks she is pregnant, and

Whereas, The National Foundation-March of Dimes is conducting a nationwide birth defects education program aimed at protecting mothers-to-be and their babies through prenatal care, and

Whereas, every citizen should support this most worthwhile public education program.

Therefore, I, Louis Bay, 2nd, Mayor of Hawthorne, N. J., do hereby proclaim April 29 through May 6 HEALTHY BABY WEEK, and call on all citizens to learn about and to help educate their neighbors, about measures so important to the health of our children.

Borough Collects Over 97 Per cent Of 1966 Taxes

Hawthorne placed sixth on the Passaic County list of municipalities percentage of taxes collected for 1966. The percentage figures for all municipalities in the state released by the Division of Local Government, Trenton, records that the borough has collected 97.46 per cent of its taxes.

When a municipality has a high percentage of taxes collected, this reflects in a lower tax rate for the following year, since more taxes paid during a given year results in surplus which can be allocated in the next year's budget, thus reducing the tax rate for that year.

The annual budget of most municipalities is based on tax collections ranging from 92 per cent to 96 per cent, which is permissible by law. When higher percentage of tax collections result, surpluses follow.

Taxes paid by property owners, are for three purposes only, the operation of schools, county government, and local municipal functions.

Only Prospect Park, Haledon, Wayne, North Haledon and Little Falls had higher percentages.

LBJ Swamps Nixon In New Harris Survey

If former Vice-President Nixon is running against LBJ today he would make the poorest showing according to the latest Harris Survey. Johnson would receive 54 per cent of the vote and Nixon 46 per cent. Nixon's weakness is shown by the fact that 9 per cent of his loss of too many elections; 61 per cent think this way. (Nixon has not won an election for himself since 1950). Poll questions elicited that 1 voter in 5 is prepared to believe the old criticism of Nixon as a "dirty campaigner." The hilarious sheet on whether Nixon really means what he says, an old charge, against him is positive—but only by a slim 4-3 margin. A fair amount of

Mrs. Alfred Meneve Elected Head Of Junior Women

Mrs. Alfred Meneve was installed as president of the Junior Woman's Club of Hawthorne at the Mother-Daughter Banquet on April 26 at the Brownstone House. Other officers installed by club advisor Mrs. Gordon Smith were Mrs. Joseph Schab, first vice president; Mrs. Ronald Brain, second vice president; Mrs. William Robinson, recording secretary; Mrs. Clarence Wiepelweg, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Russell Meneve, treasurer. Mrs. John Kowalian, president of the Woman's Club, was a guest of the Juniors. Following the installation, Van's Salon of Beauty presented the program.

Department chairmen for the coming year are Mrs. James Farrell and Mrs. Paul Kane, American Home; Mrs. Joseph Kean, Braille; Mrs. Leo Brady, Art; Mrs. Bert VandenBerg, International Relations; Mrs. Ronald Brain, Membership; Mrs. Joseph Schab, Program and Yearbook; Mrs. Gordon Keeper and Mrs. William Robinson, Public Relations; Mrs. Clarence Wiepelweg, Public Welfare; Mrs. Alan Andrews, Scrapbook, and Mrs. David Smith, Youth.

Norman W. Hopper Begins 13th Term As President of Hawthorne Unit Of Passaic County Republican Club

Mr. Norman W. Hopper of 66 Diamond Bridge Avenue, Hawthorne, New Jersey, will be installed for the 13th consecutive year as President of the Hawthorne Unit of the Passaic County Republican League at the 52nd Annual Installation Dinner-Dance on Saturday evening, April 29th at the American Legion Hall in Hawthorne, N. J.

Other officers to be installed are as follows: Raymond L. Rhodes, honorary president; Norman W. Hopper, president; Mrs. Louise Bay, first vice president; Mrs. Ellen Sheppard, second vice-president; William Symington, third vice-president; George Weir, fourth vice-president; Walter G. Penney, Sergeant-at-arms; James F. Evers and Robert Allegro, Counsel; Bert Vandenberg, Jr. 1969, Louis Bay II. 1968 and John Grady, 1967, trustees.

NORMAN HOPPER

Tickets deadline for this affair will be Wednesday, April 26th. For additional tickets any of the following committee could be contacted: Henry Jonstrin, chairman, Bill Symington, Al DePalma and Betty Tonis (tickets and program), Norman and Isabel Hopper, John Grady, Al Crawley, Anita Grady, Bette Vecheest, Bert Vandenberg Jr. or Jean Hughes. The next meeting of the Unit will be held on Monday evening, May 3rd at 8:30 p.m. at Llewellyn Avenue Firehall.

Three Patrolmen Appointed For Boro Police Force

David Baker, Theodore Widmer and Robert Beattie, the three top men in the recent patrolmen examination, will become members of the Borough Police Force on May 1.

Baker is 22 and resides at 29 Minerva Ave. He served four years with the U.S. Air Force and is presently employed by Sears, Roebuck Co. He graduated from Hawthorne High and Lincoln School. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Baker and he has two sisters, Nancy, 21 and Robin, 16.

Widmer is also 22 and resides with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Albert Widmer at 68 Alexandria Ave. He is an assembly line worker at the Mahwah Ford Plant. He is single and a graduate of Hawthorne High.

Beattie, 24, was married recently to Nancy Donnafield and they reside at 236 Ninth Ave. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beattie, 81 Cornell Ave.

He attended Hawthorne schools and graduated from the high school. He served six years with the Navy.

As a night foreman employed by Gingert Lace, Inc., 19 Cook St., Haledon, Beattie is an active member of Hawthorne Volunteer Fire Co. 4 and was one of the recent recipients of the Mayor's Commendation Award Ribbon for his part in the Morningstar-Paisley, Inc., blast on Feb. 17. He was the second man to drive a fire truck onto the scene.

The three will take a State Police course at Sea Girt, New Jersey.

With the death of Patrolman Albert Pidzecki last year, and the pending retirements of Sergeant William Walker in June, and the mandatory retirement of Chief Charles F. Kenyon Sr., who will be 70 in October, the new men will keep the force at full complement.

Mele Chairman of Dinner Testimonial for Mayor

A friendship dinner will be hosted at the Columbus Circle to honor Mayor Louis Bay II for his election as president of the New Jersey League of Municipalities.

The affair will begin at 7 p.m. with Attorney Robert Parano serving as toastmaster for the affair.

The chairmen for the Domato Mele, Robert Browning and Police Capt. Walter W. Vandenberg.

Other committee members include: Joseph Mainardi, Dom De Stefano, Anthony Della Bosno, Jack De Feo, Al Afonso Mosco, Jack Di Paola, John Valle, John Panarese and County Detective Lt. Vincent De Simone.

Sen. Harrison Williams Wants Asian Peace Team

Senator Harrison A. Williams is urging President Johnson to send a peace negotiating team to Southeast Asia. He suggest a five or six member peace mission be sent to a neutral nation showing American willingness to negotiate, and will include the recommendation in a senate speech in the near future.

The senator made this proposal because of lack of interest in peace talks by Hanoi or the Viet Cong. He felt that if the team were made available, it would be ready to sit down for negotiations when the Viet Cong, as it must do some day, announce a willingness.

Furthermore the senator felt that it would show an earnest-ness on our part, in saying we want peace, and would eliminate some of the "red-tape" that might be encountered through other

School Bd. Awards Fire-Alarm Bid

Schirmer-National Fire Alarm of Bergenfield has been selected by the Board of Education to install a fire detection equipment in the Washington School. According to state law all schools must be equipped with fire detection equipment prior to September 1968.

Since Franklin is the only borough school with the equipment, bids will be accepted for the other schools as funds and architect's plans become available.

Anthony J. Barone was awarded a contract to pave the playground at Jefferson School for $1,995.

Diminishing Returns From Aid

Federal aid to the states means, by proves the business axiom of diminishing returns. For each dollar of federal aid received by New Jersey in 1966 the taxpayer had to pay $1.82. Private business could not survive this type of arithmetic; only a government agency with the unlimited source of ready income—the tax dollar—can continue. However, the New Jersey taxpayer did evolve out of this transaction with the dubious distinction of paying the highest price among all states. All federal aid to New Jersey in 1966 amounted to $276.5 million; and in return the prolific New Jersey taxpayer paid back an estimated $426.1 million. At this

THE QUESTION

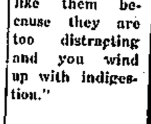
What do you think of the topless waitresses?

WHERE ASKED

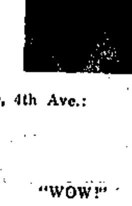
Where Ever

THE ANSWERS

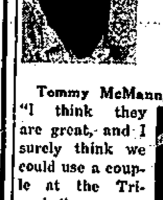
George Terkmany, Diamond Bridge Ave.: "Why should they take all the mystery and illusion away from us men. I don't like the idea."



Jean Makoujy, N. 17th Street: "Well, I don't like them because they are too distracting and you wind up with indigestion."



Clarence Kay, 4th Ave.: "WOW!"



Tommy McMann, Leo Avenue: "I think they are great, and I surely think we could use a couple at the Triangle."

Emily Terkmany, Diamond Bridge Ave.: "They're O. K. if they have a nice shape but if they look like Phyllis Diller — forget it."

May Designated for Senior Citizens

TRENTON—At a recent ceremony, Governor Richard J. Hughes signed a proclamation designating May 1967 as "Senior Citizens Month." Mrs. Eone Harger, Director of the Division on Aging, who witnessed the signing, called it a signficant recognition of the "wealth of developed skills and experienced judgment represented in our older citizens." Other witnesses to this year's signing included the Executive Directors of six Centers on Aging now in operation in the State. Providing information and referral services to county and municipal populations, these centers were established through federal grants administered by the Division under Title III of The Older Americans Act.

The Division is mailing sample proclamations to the state's mayors, suggesting that each town set aside a special day or week to honor its older residents. Accompanying the sample proclamation is a list of suggested community projects and activities to be initiated during this special month. Similar mailings will be addressed to Boards of Chosen Freeholders and to the leaders of senior clubs.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT

KIDS HAZARD

They seem to come out of the woodwork. As soon as springtime rolls around, the block becomes jammed with children: big ones on their two-wheelers, smaller ones with tricycles, little girls and doll carriages, little boys on skates and skateboards. They're having fun and aren't worrying about cars, trucks, motorcycles or anything else on wheels.

It is for this reason that you, the driver, must continuously worry. You must anticipate the moves of children . . . you may not see them, but you have to assume they're around.

It all boils down to defensive driving. You have to anticipate. You might be observing every rule in the book, but even at the proper speed limit it is difficult to avoid a youngster darting into the street from between parked cars.

It is the driver's responsibility to drive through residential neighborhoods or city streets with extreme care . . . as though there is a little boy or girl behind each auto. Some other good advice follows: Don't anticipate lights—stop at red and do not go until the light turns green. Turn corners slowly and under control. Turn lights on before dusk; this is truly the most dangerous part of the day from the standpoint of vision. Don't double park, for this can be a starting point for a child to make his dash to the other side of the street. And simply be basically intelligent about your driving habits in any area where children may be playing.

But the question of responsibility with regard to children is two-fold. As careful and as safety conscious as the driver must be, so too must the parent be constantly teaching the child the rules for play.

Rome on Wheels

by Pietro Foresi

THIS correspondence should be called "Rome On Skis" but still one needs the wheels to get to the ski resorts near Rome.

BUT who thinks of skiing when they think of Rome? Most likely, people think of "Sunny Italy" where you can swim at the beach all year: Which is not true.

FOR twenty years now, I have been enjoying the skiing season at the ski resorts within easy driving distance of Rome. And even now in April, we can still go skiing at five different areas within eighty miles of the Eternal City.

THE nearest ski resort is Terminillo, a two hour drive north east of Rome. Therefore it is almost always crowded with Romans. But there too, you will always see American high-school and university students who go up in their school buses from Notre Dame International School and from Loyola University of Chicago Rome campus.

MONTE LIVATA is sixty-two miles due east of Rome. This is a ski and sleigh paradise for children because the slopes are so gentle. I like to take my children there as well as the students from the Christian Brothers Rome School of San Giuseppe. Yet, now that my oldest son is growing, he wants to try the others. Monte Livata is near the famous Italian hilltown of Subiaco made famous centuries ago by Saint Benedict and his Monastery which still exists. But it is also famous for being the birthplace of the cinema queen, Gina Lollobrigida!

CAMPO STAFFI is also due east into the mountains and is the favorite of professional skiers. Just south of it is Campo Catino which is a very popular resort, with the skilled and the unskilled enjoying themselves.

FINALLY, there is the immense "Area Del Parco Nazionale Di Abruzzo," Italy's National Park or wildlife reservation. This zone is east and somewhat south of the other resorts. There you find not so much ski lodges and hotels but very elegant villas built and enjoyed the year round by the wealthy. The beauty of both the countryside and the fabulous villas is breathtaking and leaves a person dreaming of being one of the wealthy!

THE skiing season usually starts in December and depending on the national weather goes well into April. This year we had a notably cold winter in Italy and the spring is still chilly; that leaves the mountains near Rome covered with snow.

AN American friend just came into Rome last week, having flown up from the Adriatic coast city of Bari (where the original Santa Claus, St. Nicholas was bishop). Bari is away south, on the heel of Italy and Rome is the doorway to the south. But this American was amazed when he looked down from the plane in that one hour flight and saw endless mountain tops — in the "Sunny South" — crowned with snow and skiers.

IT is amusing to walk over to the Rome railroad station and watch the tourists coming to a surprised stop when they see large groups of Romans going toward the trains with skis over their shoulders. One tourist said to his wife, "I bet that they are making a movie about skiing." But you need our wheels to get to the skiing: train wheels, bus wheels, even Forsei's wheels. When you come to Rome, we will be glad to wheel you to the ski slopes and wheel you back to nice hot pizza!

The Artic Tern will fly as much as 22,000 miles in a year.

A fly cannot hear as is the case with most insects.

The first mistake hunters unfamiliar with caribou make is to try to catch up with moving animals. Caribou characteristically feed on the move—a mouthful here, and another there, as they walk. But a feeding caribou, moving seemingly at a snail's pace, will travel faster than a man can walk.

...Editorial...

Is This Necessary?

The lone opposition candidate, running against the Regular Republican Standard Bearer, BAY-KIRKMAN-FLOYD displayed a fiery temper and lack of good judgment at the recent Commissioners' meeting, largely attended by local high school civic students engaging in a practical lesson in government. Students and the resident voters were stunned at the "LIAR" epithet hurled at the mayor. Instead of an orderly transition of municipal business the young and impressionable future voters were exposed to an ugly facet of politics. This episode was not the first initiated by the lone opposition candidate; past commissioners' meetings, Board of Education meetings, Planning Board meetings, have all been 'harangued' in the same manner. No substitute has ever been found for quiet, orderly discussions. Excerpts from her publicity releases state that she wants to represent those Hawthornites who are "mature and adult enough to think, speak, and vote for themselves." Her past performances at public meetings does not establish this premise.

Distressing to the residents of this quiet town, of good solid people and good solid homes is that part of her platform which states, "Let's keep Hawthorne clean and decent." No comment is needed now to defend Hawthorne against this insinuation. On election day, the mature voters of this town will show that it has always been clean and decent and that it does not need a champion for an accomplished fact when they vote into office the Regular Republican team of BAY-KIRKMAN-FLOYD by an overwhelming majority.

Ladies Auxiliary Wm. B. Mawhinney Post No. 1593

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Wm. B. Mawhinney Post 1593, VFW, was held on April 17 with President Patricia Orthmann in charge, at the Post Home, 45 Regni Ave. Grace McConville and Margaret Kominiak were initiated and welcomed into membership. The charter was draped in memory of Gisela Rischer, Gussie Mazzella, Margaret Newby and Clara Rollo. Ritual Memorial services for all departed sisters will be held at the next meeting, May 2nd. Elizabeth Fantanella is reported still on the sick list. Viola Tellegen was appointed Installation Chairman. Bertha Reade has been appointed Hospital Chairman by President-elect Genine Kreps, filling the illness of Elizabeth Fantanella. The next meeting of the District 1 Convention Committee will be held at the Post on Friday, April 28th. Tickets for the Convention dinner, to be held at Cedar Grove VFW Post on Saturday, June 3rd, are available from Secretary Mirele Lutz. All chairmen are reminded to observe the deadline for filing District and Department reports. Hostesses for the next meeting will be Louise Aiken, Jessie Hering, Jennie Kent and Florence Boyd. The door prize was won by Bertha Reade. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Alice Vandervelde, Hannah Van Gaun, Ruth Kenyon and Margaret Breese. The wife, mother, sister or daughter of an overseas veteran of any war, including Vietnam, desirous of joining the Auxiliary, is invited to contact membership chairmen Mirele (Mrs. Gus) Lutz, 75 Minerva Ave., at 427-6832, for further details.

LBJ Swamps Nixon In Harris Survey

sympathy is directed toward Nixon because of his close ties to Kennedy. The biggest boost comes from his service as Vice-President, during which time he traveled abroad fighting Communism. One in four believe that Nixon has inherited the leadership of the Goldwater wing of the Republican Party. Added to the above is his humiliating defeat by Pat Brown in his home state in 1962 and his vitriolic criticism of the press after his many losses; which further cut deeply into his political reputation. While the poll brings Nixon's weakness into sharp focus it reveals Romney as a "Tower of Strength," who would today defeat LBJ, who is at this time at the new low point of personal popularity.

GOP Replaying '52 "Record" In Present Presidential Race

Some Republicans, especially the Romney backers are beginning to think that the present GOP Presidential Sweepstakes is a replay of an old theme, a re-run of the 1952 contest; that of the 1952 convention which resulted in the selection of Eisenhower "like" emerged as the compromise candidate with the Dewey "Moderates," who were unable to win an election on the one side and the Taft "Conservatives" on the other, who were given little or no chance to win a national election. Present polls put Romney in the column of the common people, the voters and Nixon is in the column of the strong county leaders. Romney's bid does not have the strong appeal that was Eisenhower's, for his role as the conquering hero was still fresh in the minds of the public. However, Romney is conceded the support of Rockefeller's New York delegation and if he could uncover the powerful Illinois delegation his chances would be more than excellent.

Sen. Harrison Williams Wants

government and regular diplomatic channels.

Williams also reiterated his plea for a pause in the bombing but does not advocate a permanent end. The senator said he did not contact the President and he felt that the team should be sent with full and official authority and no deadline.

The peace proposal was made known in a taped television interview which was broadcast on Sunday. Senator Williams stated, "It seems to me that the majority of people in New Jersey would like to see us find some way to come down off the military effort." This statement seems level and straight-forward; but in this age of labeling it will be interesting to see if the nomenclature 'Dove' will be used on an honest senator who expresses an honest opinion.

DRIVE SAFELY!

Playhouse on The Mall

PARAMUS—America's longest running musical, "The Fantasticks," opened at the Playhouse on the Mall, Bergen Mall, Tuesday night and it was easy to feel the magic that has kept it a hit for seven years. Gardner McKay in the starring role of El Gallo, delight the audience. Vince O'Brien, a great favorite at the Playhouse, was warmly received and gave an unusually fine performance as the father of The Boy.

The play tells a delightful story about a romance between a boy and a girl whose fathers pretend to be feuding to deliberately promote a match between the two young people. El Gallo is the narrator who later takes the role of abductor and fakes a kidnapping of The Girl so that The Boy can play hero in rescuing her. The fathers who are behind the plot are delighted with the results.

The supporting cast is excellent with outstanding performances by Virginia Sandifur as The Girl; Bodé Jarvis as The Boy; David Dunham as The Father of The Girl; Michael McKenna as The Mute; Lionel Wilson as the Old Actor; and Lou Ciulla as The Man Who Dies.

Glen Pace has done a fine job directing the musical. Jane Doucher White is musical director and conductor and provides fine arrangements of the unforgettable songs.

Robert Conley's sets add to the magic, complemented by Charles La Martin's lighting.

"The Fantasticks" will run through Sunday, May 7.

Cows have a special stomach with four chambers.

Case to Tour Asia In Near Future

Senator Clifford P. Case will tour Southeast Asia in the very near future; and high on the agenda will be a study of the impact of U. S. actions in Vietnam on other Asian Nations. In a televised interview, the senator said, "We didn't think enough importance has been attached to the effect of U. S. actions in Vietnam on Thailand, Burma, Ceylon, Japan, The Philippines and other countries.

He also stated "The problem should be considered in the light of how the United States can extricate itself, honorably and without causing great damage." Case further elaborated,—"It isn't just a matter of face-saving; World peace is involved, the security of that whole area of the world is involved and that is one thing I want to get a better view of."

Will Stassen Try Once More in '68?

Every four years, Harold E. Stassen becomes reactivated and makes a bid for the Republican Presidential nomination. At times the campaign is direct and spirited as in 1964 when he entered primaries in Indiana, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and Texas. This time it is expected that he will run as a "peace candidate"; and while he has not actually made a decision yet, he has confirmed that he has retained a Washington public relations firm to help publicize his program for peace in Vietnam and rebuilding the United Nations.

Stassen said, "that he believes that continuation of expansion of the United States military effort will not lead to a solution in Vietnam. In the matter of the UN he is advocating universal membership to include Red China, North Vietnam and South Vietnam.

SERVING OUR COUNTRY

NEWPORT, R. I. — Ensign Rene E. Laguerra Jr., USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rene E. Laguerre of 180 Forest Road, Glen Rock, N. J. was among the 291 officers of Officer Candidate School Class 704 who graduated recently at Newport, R. I.

The Officer Candidates, from 392 colleges and universities across the nation, became proficient in the Naval sciences in the 16 weeks of intensive training comprising the difficult course.

During their four months at OCS, the candidates spent a total of 520 hours on military, tactical, organizational, and technological subjects. In addition to the classroom time, two hours a day was devoted either to close-order drill, swimming lessons, physical training or similar activities.

Candidates received actual seagoing experience aboard a squadron of Yard Patrol Craft which are attached to the school and operate daily on Narragansett Bay near Newport.

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. — Marine Sergeant John V. Ttarta, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Tarta of 54 11th Ave., Hawthorne at Camp Lejeune, N. C., was promoted to his present rank while serving with the Second Marine Division.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, and his knowledge of selected military subjects.

USS POINT DEFIANCE—Radioman Seaman Clifford W. Smith, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Smith of 251 Boulevard, Glen Rock, helped land troops and equipment at Kin Beach, Okinawa during amphibious exercise "Beach Baron 1," while serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Point Defiance.

"Beach Baron 1" is a joint Navy-Marine Corps training operation made up of Seventh Fleet amphibious forces, with aviation elements and Marines of the Ninth Marine Amphibious Brigade. It is designed to exact the science of amphibious operations between the two services, by polishing the many complex phases of conducting "over-the-beach" assaults.

The Point Defiance put her Marines ashore by landing craft, while other participating amphibious assault ships of the Seventh Fleet flew their troops in by helicopter.

PENSACOLA, FLA. — Engineman Frederick D. Wilson, Jr., USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Wilson of 135 Goffle Hill Road, Hawthorne was graduated fro mthe Basic Naval Aviation Officers School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

The 11-week course included classroom instruction in aviation technical fundamentals including navigation, aircraft communications, meteorology, air intelligence and Naval leadership.

He will now enter Flight Preparation School at the Aviation School's Command at Pensacola to continue his training under the Naval Aviation Program.

FT. DIX, N. J.—Army Private Robert A. Weisse, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Weisse, 121 Genevieve Ave., Hawthorne, completed a light vehicle driver course at Ft. Dix, N. J., March 31.

During the course, he was trained in the operation and maintenance of military vehicles up to and including the two and one-half ton truck. Instruction was also given in the operation of the internal combustion engine and chassis assembly.

U. S. ARMY, VIETNAM — Army Private First Class Ryan E. Ackerman, 19, son of John R. Ackerman, 81 Roosevelt Ave., is participating in "Operation Junction City," the largest military operation to date in Vietnam.

The operation was launched on the theory that national Viet Cong political and military headquarters might be located in the area along the Cambodian border.

The finding of the largest enemy encampments in the war tend to support the theory.

Meeting little VC resistance, the operation has been successful in the confiscation of large quantities of food and arms. He is a rifleman in Company C, 2nd Battalion of the 1st Infantry Division's 16th Infantry.

His mother, Mrs. Margaret De Santis, resides at 45 Sewall Ave., Clifton, N. J.

Let's get back to a few household tips for a change. Spring is here (at least we hope so) and any tip to aid in housework and short cuts in cooking are always welcome thus giving us a chance to get out and enjoy the beautiful breath and taste of "Spring." Wash out and save some of those plastic containers in which sour cream, ready-to-eat salads, cottage cheese, and the like are sold. The containers are wonderful for storing parts of games and odds and ends that children collect. Label the containers and keep them neatly on the toy shelf.

These handy little items are great for grown-ups too. One can store buttons, rubber bands, string, change for delivery men, a host of things for Dad's workshop.

When you accidentally spray hair lacquer on the mirror, you can make the glass spotless again simply by wiping it off with a sponge or cloth that has been dampened in rubbing alcohol.

Do you have an ice bucket that you rarely use for ice? Why not store your cookies or nibbles in it? They'll stay fresh and crisp, for the lids on most ice buckets are designed to make them airtight.

Keep a set of graduated scoops in your laundry. They're handy for measuring powdered detergents, soap flakes, dry bleach, and other washday products used often.

If your furniture is over waxed, remove the sticky film and restore the lustrous finish by cleaning it with a solution of 1 quart of warm water to which 1 tablespoon of turpentine and 1 tablespoon of olive oil have been added. Swirl a soft clean cloth in the mixture and wring it out. Rub the furniture briskly. Repeat until the excess wax is removed. Dry and apply a thin coat of paste wax and buff the surface. To prevent this from happening again always use wax sparingly, and buff the surface often.

Stuffed Artichokes Sicilian
4 large artichokes
1 cup of bread crumbs
4 tbs. grated Caciocavallo cheese (Romano may be substituted)
4 chopped anchovy filets
2 cloves garlic, chopped
2 tbs. parsley, chopped
6 tbs. olive oil
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut off stems and about ½ inch tips of artichokes. Remove tough outer leaves. Wash carefully. Tap on table to spread leaves open. Shake out water. Mix thoroughly bread crumbs, grated cheese, chopped parsley, anchovies, garlic, salt and pepper. Divide mixture into four parts. Distribute one portion between the leaves of each artichoke. Then close. Place up—right in saucepan to fit snugly. Pour 1 tablespoon olive oil over each artichoke. Put remaining oil in saucepan. Add one cup water. Cover tightly; cook slowly for ½ hour or until tender. Test by pulling outer leaf. If it comes out easily, they are done. Watch water carefully, if it evaporates add a little more. Serves 4.

Preakness Auxiliary Holds Luncheon

Members of the Preakness Hospital Auxiliary were guests at a luncheon on Wednesday, April 12, 1967 in the dining room they recently furnished in Unit II of the hospital. Dr. Morris Jacobs, Superintendent, was host with Mr. Donald Farinella, Chairman of the Welfare Committee, representing The Passaic County Board of Freeholders. The event was a gesture of appreciation to the group for their efforts in behalf of the hospital patients. The menu was prepared and served by the hospital staff under the direction of Mrs. Grace Flynn, food service supervisor. Those attending were Mrs. Irving Johnson, Mrs. Matthew Capetta, Mrs. William Patz, Mrs. Wilbur Wharton, Mrs. Neil Ituit, Mrs. Ursula Podnos, Mrs. Michael Cimiluca and Mrs. Paul Davis of Wayne; Mrs. George Staruch, Mrs. Vincent Healy, Bloomfield; Mrs. Vincent Sharkey, Nutley; Mrs. George Conklin, Mrs. David McComb, Lincoln Park; Mrs. Nicholas Cook, Totowa Borough; Mrs. Ethamer Dunn, Mrs. William Millar, Mrs. James Spina, Sr., Mrs. John Palonis, Paterson; Mrs. Alan Statham, R.N., Hawthorne, and Mrs. Bertha Hudak, R.N., of Wayne.

Advance Ticket Sale Extended

NEW YORK—Savings of up to one third off the gate price of admission tickets to Expo 67—the international exposition opening in Montreal April 28—are available to Americans who purchase their admission tickets prior to leaving the United States.

These savings are possible through an arrangement between the Canadian Crown Corporation producing Expo 67 and American Express Company, exclusive general agents for Expo 67 in the United States.

Visitors will enjoy the unique opportunity of seeing multi-million dollar pavilions and exhibits of 70 nations, including the Soviet Union, the United States, Great Britain, Czechoslovakia, France, Yugoslavia, and most other major nations of the world.

To insure maximum attendance during the six months of the exposition by U. S. residents, Expo 67 agreed to continue offering tickets of admission — called "Passports"—as well as Expo 67 Bonus Books, which contain vouchers exchangeable for single-day admission, food and drink, rides, amusements, entertainment and an Official Guide Book or Map, in the United States at discounts of up to 1/3 off the prices to be charged at the gate.

Expo 67 – Fair With A Philosophy

MONTREAL, Canada (Expo 67)—Expo 67 is a fair with a philosophy.

When the men who planned the Universal and International Exposition of 1967 set out to give the fair some unifying concept, they laid down three guidelines for themselves to follow:

First, they said, Expo 67 should try to show the effects of man's achievements on his environment, and, in turn, how the achievements affect man himself.

Second, the exposition should show its visitors that mankind is inter-related and inter-dependent, and that what man does in one part of the world will affect man throughout the rest of the world.

And third, the planners wanted to show the international aspect of man, and to encourage the nations that would participate to co-operate with the exposition in expressing this.

The Canadian scholars and scientists who developed Expo 67's theme, meeting at Montebello, Quebec, in the spring of 1963, found in the French writer Antoine de Saint-Exupery the idea that they would like Expo 67 to express, not only in its theme but in all connected with it. Saint-Exupery wrote, in his book "Terre des Hommes," that "To be a man is to feel that through one's own contribution one helps to build the world." The book's title inspired the over-all theme of Expo 67: Man and His World.

This theme is so vast, however, that the planners deemed it wise to create a number of sub-themes, so Expo 67 could show, in an orderly fashion, man's major accomplishments They hoped that Expo 67 would be a world in microcosm—the world in a thousand acres.

Pacers considerably outnumber the trotters at today's harness tracks. But it wasn't always so. The pacer more than a century ago was looked down upon as a poor relation to the trotter. The horse fancier wanted a "blooded" animal and "no gentleman ever drove a pacer." The pacer did not have the looks. He swung from side to side, hence the name "sidewheeler." It wasn't until 1881, when Little Brown Jug electrified the turf with three record shattering heats, did the trotting world notice their laterally gaited brothers.

HEALTH EDUCATION AND WELFARE

Most people are worrying about filing their income tax return this time of year, but equally important for millions of social security beneficiaries is the filing of their annual report of earnings, Andrew J. Gessner, social security district manager said today.

The annual report of earnings form, a salmon colored card, will not automatically be sent to beneficiaries who received no benefit checks last year, Gessner said. All beneficiaries who earned more than $1,500 between January 1, 1966, and December 31, 1966, and who were under 72 for at least one full month of the year should file an annual report for 1966. It is particularly important, Gessner said, for beneficiaries who had earnings lower than originally estimated to make a report since they may be eligible for some benefits as a result of their lower earnings.

Gessner notes that under changes in the social security law made in recent years, many older people can earn more money and still be paid some benefits. Also under an important exception to this yearly rule, no matter how much a beneficiary earns in a year, he can still be paid for any month in which he neither earns wages of more than $125 nor is actively engaged in self-employment. The deadline for filing the annual report of earnings for 1966 is April 17. Gessner cautioned beneficiaries that late filing may cause a loss in benefits.

An annual report of earnings, with instructions on completing the form, is available at your local social security office located at: 52 Church Street, telephone: 279-4700.

You may write or phone, or if you have a special problem, you may wish to visit the office.

The Social Security Office at 52 Church Street, Paterson, N.J., will remain open Thursday evenings until 8:00 P.M. These extra hours are for the convenience of those people who because of work or some other demand are unable to call at the office during regular work hours between 8:30-5:00 p.m. The phone number is: 279-4700.

This high performance passenger car tire got its start from Firestone racing research. Like Firestone racing tires, it's wider from side to side than from road to rim.
The Super Sports Wide Oval tire puts 20% more rubber in contact with the road than our original equipment Deluxe Champion tire—lets you stop in 25% shorter distance.
This remarkable new tire has been tested and proved at speeds in excess of 130 MPH to give you the ultimate in safety at today's turnpike speeds.

There are only 2 kinds of COLOR TV:
1. RCA VICTOR—the one that experience made dependable!
2. All the others—from A to Z!
RCA VICTOR was the first to put Color TV into large-scale production.
RCA VICTOR was the first to pioneer and develop Color TV.
RCA VICTOR was the first—and for many years the ONLY one to manufacture Color TV... while other makers watched and waited. Today, those years of experience are paying off for you ... in superlative picture quality ... in lifelike color-fidelity ... in rugged dependability ... and in sensible prices! What the others still must learn about building Color TV, RCA VICTOR already knows!
That is the simple reason why, in the big-volume production required by today's popular demand for Color TV, NO competitive maker has yet been able to approach RCA VICTOR'S superior quality and performance.

point "The Madison Avenue Boys" would ask, "Is that the way to run a business." In addition to all this federal aid has become so complex that it is now necessary for some states, counties and even municipalities to hire specialists known as "grantsmen" to help find available aid programs and the methods needed for qualifying. Perhaps an easier method would be for us in New Jersey, to give "Uncle Sam" the 83c overpay and administer the 21 portion ourselves. At least no great mathematic involvement would be necessary; to say nothing of the money that will be saved by not having to hire specialists.

ROTARY Headlights

LAST WEEK—Al Axt presented Maxwell Hertz who represented Transco (short for Transcontinental Pipeline Corporation). Mr. Hertz presented a sound film entitled "Flame of the Future."

The film showed the amazing possibilities of natural gas, not only for the present, but for the future. To "Ye Editor" the laying of the billion dollar pipeline which carried gas from the southwest to the urban northeast was, in itself, a modern miracle of accomplishment. Most amazing was the new concept of utilizing infrared rays to heat not only enclosed buildings but to make even out-of-door areas (such as a baseball park) comfortable. Not only can gas heat, but it can cool. It can heat the ovens in our homes as needed from 200 degrees Fahrenheit to 500 degrees Fahrenheit, but, it can also be used in the "ovens" of industry for heat up to 6,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Thank you, Al, for bringing Maxwell Hertz to us—he convinced us that the flame of the future is, indeed, some "flame."

NEXT WEEK—May 3rd—Jim Evers will either present a speaker or will be the speaker himself to observe "Law Day." (We hope it is the latter because Jim has always proved himself to be an exceptionally inspiring talker.) In either case, "Law Day" needs to be observed on this date and every day. "Ye Editor" predicts a worthwhile program.

Manager Macfarlan Flays Aspirant

Macfarlan said Mayor Louis Bay II, Finance Commissioner James A. Kirkman and Planning Board Chairman Harold Floyd "offer the people of this town experience in government, maturity in judgment, a record of progress and excellent ability."

"The Bay-Kirkman-Floyd team will continue good government in Hawthorne, Macfarlan stated. "Our tax rate is the third lowest of the 16 Passaic County municipalities. Next year the town's municipal indebtedness will be wiped out completely. This has all been accomplished without inspiring needed municipal services. We are progressing at a minimum cost to the taxpayer. Can we sacrifice all this for an immature candidate?"

Romney Raps LBJ On 'Great Society'

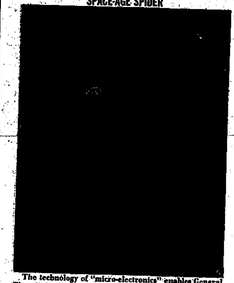
One week after taking sides with LBJ on his Vietnam policy; George Romney took a firm stand against the president on the tender subject of the "Great Society." As a Republican this was not an unexpected action. What was significant was the locale of his attack, Williamsburg, Virginia, and states which is generally believed to be the stamping ground and strong territory of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon; now thought to be the man he will have to beat for the nomination. Romney has still to make a firm commitment and his attitude seems to be "I'll run if my party wants me to."

GOP U.S. Senators Favor Romney

An unofficial poll of the 36 Republican United States Senators has 18 in Romney's corner, 6 for former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and twelve uncommitted. The poll conforms to the rank-and-file poll but is contrary to the recent county leader poll which puts Nixon 'way ahead.

DRIVE SAFELY!

SPACE-AGE SPIDER



The technology of "micro-electronics" enables General Electric engineers to construct entire circuits about the size of pinheads.

The eye of this "electronic spider," no bigger than a period at the end of this sentence, is the circuit. The legs are "output-input" connectors which tie the circuit to other circuits.

The Electronics Laboratory, where the tiny circuit was developed, is one of more than 50 General Electric centers involved in advanced scientific and technological projects.
