State approval delays budget adoption

A special session called by the Board of Commissioners on March 20 to adopt the 1979 municipal budget was delayed until a formal hearing on the budget was held last week by the municipal council. The council, which had adopted the budget earlier in the month, was forced to reconsider its decision due to a lack of funds for the upcoming fiscal year.

Girgenti seeks aid for flood problems

Assistant John J. Girgenti (D-2) comes to the defense of a new budget proposal to save the town from flooding in the future. The proposal calls for the construction of a new flood control system to protect the town from future flooding. Girgenti believes that the proposed budget is necessary to ensure the safety of the town's residents.

No more leaf collections

The Department of Public Works has stopped collecting leaves due to budget cuts. The department has been struggling to manage the high costs of leaf collection in recent years.

Hydrant flushing underway

The Borough Water Department is flushing water hydrants throughout the borough. This process helps to maintain the water supply and prevent water contamination.

Passaic Avenue as it looked during last week's flooding

The town suffered significant flooding last week due to heavy rains. The flooding caused damage to homes and businesses in the area. The town is working to repair the damage and prevent future flooding.

The Wagarsen Road baseball fields

A new baseball field has been constructed in the town. The field is being used by local teams and will help to promote community sports.

Incompetence is not acceptable

Will state bureaucracy ever cease? It appears that the red tape involved in the state review process will go on forever. Even worse is the fact that those who work in state government accept delay and procrastination as just another working condition.

Those of us who work in the private sector find this attitude incomprehensible, if not revolting. While all of us need to work overtime and work in lesser ways to do our work or to make the work run smoothly, the state is frequently inefficient and inefficient. A state employee is sometimes paid more than a private sector employee, but the inefficiency of the state is often the reason for this.

The failure of the state Department of Local Government Services to approve one municipal budget by the day set by the Board of Commissioners for adoption has little effect on the workings of the state. But in a small municipality like Hawthorne, the presentation puts a strain on those who have the job of implementing local services.

This is one of the cases reported by New Jersey's municipal leaders when they comply with the required regulations imposed by the state. The state is too big for the local government to cope with. We urge our legislators to consider how much paperwork will be involved in any future legislation.

It's not only reasonable to expect that those who make the rules and execute the regulations be able to meet the whole process.

The Crusaders have set their sights on getting back to the Super Bowl. If they can do that, it will be their second straight appearance in the championship game. They have a tough road ahead of them, but they are confident in their abilities. The team is, once again, led by quarterback Jerry Butler, who is expected to have another solid season. He is joined by a strong cast of receivers and a solid running game. The defense is also expected to be strong, with a group of veterans returning and some promising young talent coming in.

On Friday, the Crusaders will face off against the rival St. Mark's. This game is always highly anticipated, and both teams are looking to get off to a strong start. The Crusaders have the upper hand in this matchup, but St. Mark's is a tough opponent. The game will be a test of both teams' abilities, and fans are excited to see how it plays out.

The Crusaders' season opener against the St. Mark's is scheduled for Friday. Both teams are looking forward to the game and are expecting a tough battle. With the playoffs on the line, every game counts, and the Crusaders are determined to come out on top.

1976-77 Season

The Crusaders had a successful season last year, finishing with a record of 10-2. They advanced to the semifinals of the Division II playoffs, where they were ultimately defeated by a strong team. The loss was disappointing, but the Crusaders were proud of their effort and were looking forward to the upcoming season.

The team has high expectations for the season and is determined to make it to the playoffs again. They have been working hard in practice and are confident in their abilities. With a strong roster of returning players and some promising newcomers, the Crusaders are ready to make a run for the championship.

Collier hurls 3-hit shutout

By Jack Satter

The Monday afternoon game was fun and the audience loved the Georgia Tech baseball team, but the 3-0 shutout victory over the University of Maine in the opening game of the 1973 season was satisfying. The Georgia Tech team is now 1-0 after winning the opening game of the season. Maine is without a victory.

Cardinals win in round robin

Last week's winning Florida State University baseball team was again in action on Saturday, winning its third game in a row over the University of Georgia. The Cardinals defeated the Bulldogs 8-2.

Dan Bonafico, a senior at the College of Saint Rose, has been named the all-suburban wrestler of the year by the Times Union. Bonafico was 120 pounds and has an impressive record of 18-1. He defeated his opponent from the University of Maine, 7-0.

Mad Dog Sincavage doubles out

By Bill Rose

Mad Dog Sincavage, a long-time baseball player, has doubled his season total. Sincavage, who has a .300 batting average, has now hit two doubles in a row. He was 2-for-4 in his latest game against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Dinner and fashion show will benefit Multiple Sclerosis patients in state

A dinner and fashion show will be held on Saturday night at the Empire State Building, to benefit the Multiple Sclerosis Society of New York State. The event will take place at 7:00 PM and will feature a fashion show, dinner, and dancing.

The highlight of the night will be the unveiling of a new fashion collection designed specifically for patients with multiple sclerosis. The fashion show will feature models with multiple sclerosis, as well as models without the condition, to raise awareness and support.

The event will take place at the Empire State Building, located at 350 Fifth Avenue, New York. Tickets are available for $100 per person or $150 per couple. All proceeds will go to the Multiple Sclerosis Society of New York State.
Forties show scheduled

You have to think of the old Forties show as an event to attend. It's a throwback to a time when music was simple and songs were meaningful. The Forties show will be held at the Hawthorne Press on April 6th. It's a great opportunity to relive the past and enjoy some of your favorite Forties tunes.

Film in NYC set for discussion

State releases report about boro schools

In Trenton, New Jersey, the state released a report on boro schools, which included a detailed analysis of school funding, enrollment trends, and educational outcomes. The report highlighted the need for increased funding to support equitable access to high-quality education across the state.

The report addressed various issues, such as the need for more resources to support special education programs, the importance of addressing the digital divide, and the challenges faced by schools in rural and underserved areas. It recommended strategies to improve teacher retention and development, as well as the implementation of evidence-based instructional practices.

The report also acknowledged the significant impact of COVID-19 on educational outcomes and recommended strategies to support students and staff during the pandemic.

The release of the report was met with mixed reactions from educators, parents, and policymakers. While some praised the comprehensive analysis and recommendations, others expressed concern about the lack of funding to implement the suggested changes.

The report called for a collaborative approach among state officials, educators, and community leaders to address the challenges faced by boro schools and to ensure that all students have equal opportunities for a high-quality education.
Senior citizens to attend convention in Trenton

Ameri-Teen Club, which features archery and fishing, among other activities for teens, is hosting a convention for senior citizens at Friends Community Center in Trenton. The convention is scheduled for April 30 and will include a variety of events such as dancing, games, and a special meal. The cost for attendance is $10, and reservations can be made by contacting the club at (609) 531-3000. The convention promises to be an enjoyable experience for all those who attend.

State releases report about bored schools

As students return to school after the holidays, many are looking for ways to keep themselves entertained and engaged. One idea that has gained traction is the implementation of "boredom clubs," where students can gather to discuss their existential concerns and share their experiences with others who may be feeling similarly. The clubs have been organized in a number of schools across the state, and they have been met with varying levels of success. However, many parents and educators are concerned about the potential for these clubs to become a breeding ground for negative behaviors and ideas.

Smoking regulations —
insuring majority rights

New Jersey residents will see a slight increase on July 1 when new regulations pertaining to smoking take effect. The rules, which have the force of law, were adopted by the State Public Health Council on Monday. The regulations prohibit smoking in any museum, library, theater, hospital, senior citizen's center, or "exclusive public meeting place in which persons are gathered for religious, recreational, educational, social, or any other public purpose.

The law also mandates that no more than 25% of the smoking area be open to non-smokers. A fine of $25 to $100 is imposed for violators.

While the rules are nothing new for New Jersey, there are already 20 states that have similar laws. In Florida, for example, while riding the elevator in the hotel at Disneyworld, we observed that visitors are being asked if they smoke and are told where to smoke. In some states, fines are imposed. In New York, for example, violations are subject to a fine of $100. Compared to those penalties, the New Jersey rules are lenient.

Opponents of the new regulations claim that they will be difficult to enforce. We disagree. In the event of the lawsuit on the elevator in Florida, it took only one call to make another aware that he was violating the law and bringing the elevator down to earth with a sickening thud. If laws are going to be effective, they have to be enforced. The new regulations will be an improvement.

Smoking is a significant public health issue. It is estimated that one in five adults smoke, and smoking is linked to a variety of health problems, including cancer, heart disease, and respiratory illness.

The Central Jersey area is home to many smokers, and we support efforts to reduce smoking in public places. We believe that this new law will be an effective step in this direction.

Cancer control month

April 1978 has been proclaimed Cancer Control Month by the American Cancer Society. This is the first time that New Jersey has celebrated Cancer Control Month to raise awareness and encourage action to combat cancer.

In New Jersey, cancer is the leading cause of death for both men and women. It is estimated that 40,000 people in New Jersey will be diagnosed with cancer this year, and 12,000 people will die from the disease.

The American Cancer Society is the largest voluntary health organization dedicated to preventing cancer and fighting back against it. They support research, advocacy, education, screening, and support for those affected by cancer.

This month, the American Cancer Society has launched a campaign to raise awareness and encourage people to take action to reduce their risk of cancer. They encourage people to make healthy lifestyle choices, such as eating a balanced diet, exercising regularly, and avoiding tobacco.

The American Cancer Society offers resources and information on their website, including information on early detection, treatment options, and support for those affected by cancer.

We encourage everyone to take part in Cancer Control Month and support the American Cancer Society's efforts to fight against cancer. Together, we can make a difference in the fight against this deadly disease.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor,

The public is often divided over the handling of the local school board, the way things are run, and the overall performance of the board. Too often, the way that the public feels about the school board is not fully represented or understood by the board members.

Sincerely,

Editorial

Our misfortune

Although Socrates' fire appears as with a good cause not to write the week's editorial, we're decided against it because of the sheer number of responses we have been bombarded with during our recent meetings, this column provides a means to answer many of the questions.

First, the obvious: How can we possibly determine whether publication would be suspended this week? The answer is simple: all of you who were worried about having no newspaper this week simply replaced the finer-than-your-pet-poodle's-cage food line for one more.

At the request of the readers of the Los Angeles Times, we've tried to answer the question: "Does the building have a fire alarm?" We don't know the answer. It's business as usual as we've never been present in the house on the floor below us.

From your office, please let us know if there are any mistakes in the text. We are very well aware of the possibility of mistyping.

Sincerely,

Auto Racing Scene

On Saturday night, the Orange County Fairgrounds in Brea, California, was host to the Stock Car Racer of the West. The starting grid was filled with drivers from all over the country, each vying for the chance to be the king of the track. The excitement was palpable as the drivers prepared for the big race. The high-speed turns and steep inclines required skill and precision from the drivers, who had to work hard to keep their cars on the track. The audience was on the edge of their seats, cheering and shouting as the drivers pushed their cars to the limit. In the end, the winner was crowned, and the crowd erupted in cheers. It was a thrilling night of racing that left the audience wanting more.
Bears lose 8-2 to Ramsey

The Hawthorne High School baseball team did one thing right on Friday afternoon against the Ramsey High School Bears — they did strike twice in the first two innings. It was the only time the Bears scored against the Rams.

The Bears scored on a walk and a single in the first inning. On a 2-0 count, the Bears' leadoff hitter drew a walk. The runner then took off for second and a errant throw to second base allowed the runner to advance to third. On the next pitch, the runner scored on a wild pitch.

The Rams' first and only earned run came in the fourth inning. With the bases loaded and one out, the Rams' second baseman caught a fly ball and then threw out the runner at home plate to score the run.

The game ended with the Bears losing 8-2 to the Rams. The Bears' next game is scheduled for Saturday against the Parsippany High School Hornets at 11 a.m. at the Bears' home field.

Girls defeat Waldwick 14-11

The Hawthorne High School girls field hockey team defeated the Waldwick High School Hodags 14-11 on Thursday afternoon. The Bulldogs scored the first goal of the game when they scored off a penalty corner. Waldwick tied the game with an unassisted goal by senior captain Sarah Karp. The Hodags scored three unanswered goals in the first half to take a 3-1 lead at halftime.

The Hodags continued to score in the second half, taking a 7-2 lead at one point. Hawthorne scored the final goal of the game on an own goal by a Hodag defender. The Hodags scored six unanswered goals in the second half to win the game 14-11.

Another problem we didn't anticipate

Last week we prepared a lengthy explanation relating to our readers, that degree of one of our printing plant. The paper was on schedule, and we had agreed to anticipate our problem—distribution. Our addressing machine had been checked out on Monday and appeared to be functioning. Yet, when the time came to press the paper for mailing, the machine would not function.

We are fortunate to be the back-up system late. Wednesday morning, but even though both systems are similar, they are not exactly the same. A small, occasional subscription piece was skipped or only partially printed. Although we left a note at the post office about the situation, postal regulations require that a complete address be affixed to the newspaper.

This is the answer to all the questions we received regarding why we did not deliver last week's edition. We know some of you were missed, but we had no way of identifying which subscribers were affected. Some of you called and made arrangements to pick up a copy. Others, without receiving a newspaper, had no way of knowing what had happened with regard to our misfortune during the past week.

We wish to switch to a different system of mailing as you can probably tell by the new address that is found on the front page. In our way of notifying the plan that "ou were, in fact, the problem, but the second time, it becomes inefficient.

It is not our intention to keep using the editorial columns as the place to explain problems. However, in this case, we find our readers deserve an explanation.

Thanks again to all those who have offered their help and expressions of good will. We will have no final estimate of damages, but we are going and will start making our commitments.

How to avoid estimated electric and gas bills.

When we can't read your meter, a person may estimate your energy usage.

If reading your meter is a permanent problem... We may need your help in making certain our estimates are correct. Contact us at any time by calling the PSE&G customer service center.

Keep all meters uncovered and accessible.

Can attach special equipment to your meter to make it more difficult to alter the reading. No cost. You can also request that the meter be read by someone other than PSE&G.

All meter readers have been carefully selected and trained. If you feel your meter is not being read accurately, just contact your local PSE&G customer service center.
