This is a scan of a newspaper page containing various articles and advertisements. The page includes a section for Want Ads, an advertisement for heating and plumbing services, and an advertisement for shoes. The main section contains articles on local events and developments, such as a memorial fund drive, a talk by a past director to a Rotary Club, and the completion of bonds refinancing by the mayor. There are also notices about mail packages, police headquarters, examinations, and a committee for auto owners. The page features various headlines and paragraphs, typical of a local newspaper.
