

Strolling Along

With Patrick J. Ferro

Up at Yale, track coaches still enhance his great talent. He accepted Paramount's bid and after a series of shorts, made a full length movie, "Meady in Europe," followed by "College Rhythm." "The Lady Object" which he has just completed, for Columbia, is his third movie.

In 1928, the year he became National A.A.U. 500-yard champion—but that was also the year the Yale Olee Club landed a coveted European tour. Because Lanny would rather sing than eat, he chose to eat in his hotel with the Olee Club. He has never regretted it, for it led to singing engagements on the concert stage, radio and the screen. Here, (his pseudonym named him Lanny Patrick) was born in Seattle. His mother was an accomplished musician, being accompanied for the great Fanny. His dad, Douglas Ross, was a Shakespearean actor who toured the country with repertory companies. Lanny made his first public appearance at the age of four, with Ben Greer's Shakespearean company, in "You Like It" and two years later, a Pat Dehli, Fifth Avenue book-seller. Knowing that the program has a following of booklovers, Patinus in every Tuesday at 8:30 and his sister in every Wednesday at 8:30. One of the reasons that Clifton admires, noted book critic, is the questioner on the program. "The idea isn't copyrighted," says Pat. "and we've found out that lots of folks like to listen to the quiz."

N. J. TAXPAYERS ISSUE BULLETIN

Local Tax Rates Are Discussed—Waging Fight For Improvement

An inspection of municipal tax rates in New Jersey reveals a wide variation, with the lowest at $1.56 and the highest at $10.45, per $100 of assessed valuation.

Although methods of making assessments alter to some degree the significance of comparative tax rates, it is evident that the cost of government differs vastly in the various municipalities.

Christmas Cards

The Junior Pledge, in order to make money for their annual trip to Washington, are selling Christmas cards.

They have small boxes of 12 cards for 60 cents. These cards are more of the amusing type, and have funny little verses on them. Then for those who like something more serious, they have the $2.00 box. Any member of the force, or Mr. Hamilton will be glad to show you these cards.

If you are the least bit interested, take a look at them and I'm sure they will sell themselves to you. You will be settling the task of selecting cards for yourself, make your friends happy and admire your good taste, and help the boys.

Editorial Comments

Is The Average American A Born Gambler?

Well Bill, "where are you going tonight? I am going to play a 'Night of Games' over to such and such a place tonight, is what seems to be the fact now a days. There is nothing like making a little easy money. However, the odds are so overwhelmingly against the player that it can only be counted as a charitable contribution in most cases.

The old game of "Lotto" has taken the country by storm. It has fascinated the young folks; the old folks and has even secured a firm grip on the young children. An Englishman once remarked, "That America has gone in for a new kind of a game." He said: "A group of people get together, some one starts calling out a lot of numbers, and then some one shouts, 'Bingo!' and the rest of the crowd cry out in unison 'Oh Shucks,' and there you have it.

The real truth about the American people is they like to kid themselves. It is no secret that "Bingo is gambling." Then, why don't we pass the necessary legislation and legalize this ever increasing tide? Women have become the worst offenders. It has become the get quick profit scheme of different organizations. It would not be surprising to see these same people object strenuously if any legislation proposing legalizing gambling were to be enacted.

It will not be long before the legislators of New Jersey spend between $300,000.00 and $500,000.00 to pay for the expense of placing the Horse Racing Bill on the ballot; so the people can vote for or against it.

What is happening in the meantime? Millions of people on Relief, Fighting, Praying, Begging the Legislators to keep them in their jobs. How many of the poor unfortunate who have become sixty-five are forced to take the meager Pension of Ten to Twenty Dollars a Month known as the "Old Age Assistance Fund." IT SHOULD BE KNOWN AS THE DIE QUICK PENSION FUND. How many of our law-abiding citizens would like this kind of treatment? They knew this was about to take place, but why should they be concerned? They have kidded the easily flattered Voters in re-electing them as their representatives to Trenton or to Washington. Then all of these silver tongued Orators occasionally give a speech denouncing "Insns", when they indirectly are the causes of people becoming deranged in body and soul, by their disinterest in the Human Welfare.

Why should we allow the American Born gambling Public to contribute to keep Ireland and many of the promoters a nice juicy sum of money to swell Hospital funds abroad by playing the IRISH SWEEP STAKES? What glamorous publicity the American Press give to the few people who win a few paltry dollars and the spirit of gambling on the Irish Free Stakes goes on unrelenting. Yes, the Authorities prosecute illegal tickets, but the genuine tickets are sold and sold! There have been some of the Legislators who have proposed such a Bill legalizing Lotteries. Unfortunately Ex-Congressman William Kenney a sponsor of such a bill came to a tragic end. He surely would have continued his fight to pass such a Bill.

The Average American is a born gambler. Americans are constantly betting on Horse Racing, Prize Fights, World Series, Football Games and etc. Then, why are we not big enough to have the courage of our convictions and agitate for the legalization of American run Lotteries? This revenue could be put toward meeting the ever increasing Relief burdens; and ease the continual drain on Real Estate taxes which have passed its saturation point years ago.

We Americans are a funny people. Is that not so?

HOPE FOR A HAPPY CHRISTMAS

An investigating committee with an appropriation of 300 thousand dollars is looking into the morals of monopolies. The job contemplates a complete study of the nation's economic system.

To begin with, there is a general admission that a monopoly may not be a monster, after all. That seems to be a case of giving the defendant the benefit of doubt. The inquiry may separate the sheep and goats.

Dr. J. Edgar Latta, United States Commissioner of Labor Statistics, told the Committee that the average American family in the $1,250 class was unable to swing itself. A little boost of $250 a year for each family, he said, would increase movie admissions approximately $45,000,000 a year; and a hypothetical increase of $2 a day for each of the 5,000,000 families would make every industry prosperous because there would be plenty of purchasing power.

Most of the testimony during the first week related to patents and the automobile industry. The patent system did not suffer much under the searching investigation. Charles F. Kettering of General Motors, was a star witness.

"May I say to you, Mr. Kettering," interrupted Senator O'Mahoney, chairman, "that I feel very much stimulated by your testimony. I think a good many of us here at the Capital appreciate the fact that the time has come, if we are to preserve free government, when we have got to discover the natural laws which govern governments, and how we can work in accord with them."

Representative Sumner added: "If we cannot preserve this government, all these big fortunes that are being built up, and all these mechanical developments would be a mockery."

Doctors will try out a new idea on a guinea pig first, and they will be pretty cautious. Of course, they are not.

Mr. Kettering added about all the human touch there was in the proceedings. He traced the progress of industry, and predicted that the next half-century would be one of unprecedented technological and scientific progress, more than ever before in the history of industry.

With all this optimism being generated in the government's legislative body, the people of our country may have a Happy Christmas.

GOV. MOORE ADDRESSES PHYSICIANS

Governor A. Harry Moore and three nationally known physicians will address a meeting of physicians and state legislators from four northern New Jersey counties to be held at the St. Peter's College auditorium, Jersey City, December 16, at 7 P. M.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, of Chicago, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association; Dr. William A. Carrington, of Atlantic City, president of the Medical Society of New Jersey; and Dr. William S. Reed, of Ventnor, will be the physicians speaking at the meeting of the Second Judicial District of the Medical Society of New Jersey.

Governor Moore will extend greetings; Dr. Fishbein will discuss "American Medicine and the National Health Program," the subject of Dr. Carrington will be "Medicine in the New Year," and Dr. Reed will talk on "Voluntary Medical Costs Insurance."

The Second Judicial District includes the county medical societies of Bergen, Hudson, Passaic and Sussex Counties. Dr. Vincent J. Butler, of Jersey City, is co-counsel for the Second District.

A Judicial District is a regional, judicial subdivision of the Medical Society of New Jersey which includes several county medical societies. Organized medicine in New Jersey has five of these districts. The council of each district is a judicial adviser to whom any physician in the district may submit complaints or problems relating to the practice of medicine and receive a hearing. The council also for each district is elected by the House of Delegates of the Medical Society of New Jersey.

Representatives of the four counties in the Federal Congress, State Senate and House of Assembly have been invited to attend the meeting.

Dear Mr. Warner:

I appreciate very much the courtesy of your invitation that made possible my seeing in pre-

Hearing of it the first time, I remembered, "What a title! Now,

I would eagerly add, "Yes, but what a picture!" It is altogether the most outstanding I have ever seen for a long, long time.

When the last scene faded I said,

"Whispering to the person next to have been in similar mood, for the picture, that prevailed afterwards

was decidedly unusual for a pro-
