DECEMBER
Decision put off until after budget completion:

Attempt to stop middle school study fails

An attempt to discontinue the study of a middle school at a meeting of the school board on Tuesday night failed. The motion, which was part of a discussion of various plans, was made by Frank Pepe and seconded by Jacob Miller. The motion was defeated by a 4-2 vote, with the following vote:

- Frank Pepe: Yes
- Jacob Miller: Yes
- Robert Maroni: No
- Edwin Schmitt: No
- Harry Smith: No

The vote was taken as a result of a discussion that lasted over an hour. The discussion centered around the feasibility of establishing a middle school and the potential benefits and drawbacks. The debate was intense, with many arguments presented by both sides.

A lot of people want to keep the status quo. Many don't want change.

The implementation of a new middle school in the Hawthorne School District would have a significant impact on the community. There were arguments presented by both sides, with some advocating for the establishment of a middle school and others against it. The debate was intense, with many arguments presented by both sides.

This is the biggest decision to face Hawthorne in many years.

The debate ended with a decision to defer the decision until after the budget completion. The decision will be made after the budget is completed and the community has had the opportunity to fully consider the implications of the decision.

The following are some of the arguments presented during the debate:

- For establishing a middle school:
  - Improved educational opportunities for students
  - Reduced transportation costs for students
  - Increased safety and security for students
  - Improved socialization opportunities for students
  - Increased economic development for the community

- Against establishing a middle school:
  - Increased tax burden on the community
  - Increased need for additional facilities
  - Increased administrative costs
  - Reduced funding for other schools
  - Increased cost of living for the community

Car thief involved in hit and run mishap

A hit and run took place on Thanksgiving at 6:19 pm on the railroad tracks near the intersection of Route 44 and New England Highway. A woman, 35, was struck by the vehicle and suffered life-threatening injuries. Police are still searching for the suspect.

The victim, a 35-year-old woman, was crossing the tracks when she was struck by a car. Emergency services were called to the scene and the woman was transported to the hospital in critical condition. According to police, the suspect was driving a dark-colored sedan and fled the scene.

Police are urging anyone with information to come forward. Anyone with information is asked to call the police at 555-1212.

Good reception for cable TV

Now that cable TV has welcomed Haworth to the world of common viewing, we'd like to return the greeting. While most subscribers are primarily interested in the features such as movies and expanded sports coverage, there's another aspect of cable programming that many are not aware of.

We're talking of the electronic newspaper column which gives viewers in New Jersey instant access to world, national and local news, traffic and weather conditions, stock market reports, local consumer information, earthquake phones, recent lottery results and more. While we're not sure how the service is called, these services are pertinent to our daily lives.

Evolution of cable TV will be felt by cable programmers as an attempt to fill the void left by the New Jersey coverage at a paramount breakfast meeting originating from New York City. The potential is there, we believe, it's a fulfilled remainder.

As more local news is being shown, we anticipate tremendous growth for the cable network as it meets and provides entertainment for the Haworth school board, but these areas require an added system of cable for borough residents.

As a citizen in cable viewing most of us have yet to see the movie marathons (six straight hours of football) on our system, but we're sure the time will come.

With the system only ten days old, it will be worth noting that the system contains a telephone system which will be available to the public.

When will a decision be made?

When will a decision be made about the middle school organization? It's a reasonable question—ones that deserves a reasonable answer. The trouble is that the issue is compi-licated by factions at one end and town dissension at the other. The middle school, however, begins to get the point that this issue is being used as an excuse for the lack of consensus on a solution for the school board.

One of the alternatives was defeated at the school board meeting. In addition to all the problems cited by the board, there is the problem of the new building. This new building is being considered as a solution for the situation. Several problems exist.

The only thing that is clear is that the answer lies somewhere in the realm of compromise. One plan that may satisfy everyone is not yet made.

This proposal involves no change for Rousseau and Seabrook School, where the impact of deciding to move is not yet clear. However, the proposal has been presented to the school board for consideration.

Congress and the Golden Rule

By John W. Gooden

Sensations are many, however, that the Congressional committee, the increasing number of groups attempting to influence Congress, and the increasing number of plaintiffs in court proceedings recognizing that a new issue of democracy is a problem. With declining influence in Congress, the problem of the new house of democracy in the American government is increasing. It is important to consider the issues on the table.

The American system is one that is based on the idea of the democratic process. The problems that exist in the system are discussed by a group of experts.

The congress is not a stable one in the realm of democracy. The congress is discussed by the experts who will be discussing the issues.

“By helping others to grow, I really think I am growing,” Fu Cecere says.

Although Fu Cecere, 20, of Hawthorne, was faced with an almost impossible situation, she is doing quite well and is ready to return to normal life.

She was admitted to the hospital last week after complications developed following a tonsil and adenoid operation.

At first, Fu was afraid that she would die, but her recovery has been quick and she is now ready to return to normal life.

“I would do it again,” Fu says.

Monday morning mishap

Two skaters at the top of the ice rink at the Elberon Park Ice Rink in Beachwood were injured when they crashed into each other.

The skaters, who were not seriously injured, were rescued by the lifeguards and taken to the hospital for treatment.

The incident occurred at about 9 a.m., when the two skaters lost control of their skates and collided.

The skaters were wearing protective gear, including helmets and padding, but the collision was still quite painful.

“Ten out of 10,” Fu says, “I’d do it again.”

Letters to the Editor

The following letter is a copy of correspondence sent Magna

Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my concern about the recent increase in traffic on Magna Street. As a long-time resident of this area, I have observed a significant rise in the number of vehicles passing by my home. This increase has caused a noticeable deterioration of the neighborhood's aesthetic appeal and has also led to concerns about safety for pedestrians and cyclists.

I would like to suggest that the local government consider implementing measures to mitigate this issue. Possible solutions could include the installation of traffic calming devices, such as speed bumps or traffic circles, to reduce the speed of vehicles entering the area. Additionally, increasing the visibility of traffic signals and street signs may help drivers to better manage their speed and maintain a safe distance from other vehicles.

I believe these measures would not only enhance the safety and quality of life for all residents but also contribute to the overall preservation of the Magna Street's charm and tranquility.

Sincerely,

There it was, the ball going down at the buzzer, and it was time to start the season. Coach John

THE GOOD NEWS

by Father Gerald M. Attorney and publisher of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church

As pastor of a parish, I am sure that we all welcome the spirit of generosity that is evident in the Church. We see this spirit in the way in which we share our blessings and support those in need. This is the spirit that empowers us to live as Christ intended us to live.

Our celebration of the Christmas season is a time of joy and reflection. It is a time when we remember the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ and the gift of love he brought to the world.

This year, I encourage you to think about how you can contribute to the spirit of generosity that is so evident in our Church. Consider making a donation to support our mission and ministry, or volunteer your time to help those in need.

Let us come together as a community of faith to celebrate this season and to share the love and joy that Christ brings to our lives.

Remembering Christmas in the thirties

By Jane Miller

In 1933, Christmas was a time of celebration and joy. Families gathered together to share meals, give gifts, and enjoy the festive season. However, the Great Depression was still a reality for many people, and the holiday season was a time to make do with what they had. This year, as we celebrate Christmas, we can reflect on the struggles of the past and how far we've come.

Editorial

The gift of time

In 1903, when a Fairbanks resident petitioned the court to change his name to Santa Claus, a fellow judge in Alaska ruled that there could only be one Santa Claus. He declared, "We may well consider that this is really only one Santa Claus, and he belongs to disappointed lawyers." It would be a shame if a number of Santas were to spring up all over the place. A beautiful dream would be ruined.

The dream is an elusive something we all pursue as we wade through the years in an attempt to purchase special gifts for our loved ones. The anxiety of fitting the crowds is compounded by the battle with the busy season (or visa versa) that makes us want to retreat to the security of our homes. While most of us adore the commercialism, few of us are brave enough to face Christmas morning without the colorfully wrapped presents.

We wish sometimes "as through the necessity of living" in the images of Gussie Christmas spirit, but it only takes a child's wish to remind us of the importance of the holidays. The emergence of young people for trimming a Christmas tree, baking homemade cookies, singing Christmas carols can really touch even the most cynical "green-up." We realize that we could easily live without many of the gifts we receive, but none of us can live without the dreams. The dreams, so perpetuated throughout the ages since the birth of the Child in Mud, are mankind's attempts to make the world a better place. This Christmas, there's even more reason for a Mudian peace settling the mood on a world-wide level.

In the festive mood of the holiday, we see this spirit fostered here in our community year-round. The attempt to make our small world a better place is manifested by local government, in which many of the board members serve with our pay to make the decisions that affect our daily lives; the volunteer groups like the firemen, the ambulance corps and auxiliary police; even the paid borough employees who often provide service for which there is no compensation; the many civic, fraternal and social organizations who rely on the aid of this municipality to continue, often unappreciated, work. There are few households in Hawthorne which are exempt from giving the gift of time — the gift of service to make this world a better place.

THE GOOD NEWS

Hawthorne chaplain teaches Bible through graphics

A sprightly smiling chaplain greets people entering the familiar \"trunk\"-shaped door of the Christian Health Care Center in Hawthorne. The 82-year-old chaplain, who can be seen throughout the center, is well-known for \"teaching Bible through graphics\".

The chaplain, who has been at the center for 24 years, uses a variety of visual aids to explain biblical concepts. He recently presented a series on the book of Romans, using a series of posters, slides, and models to illustrate key points.

"Every week, I try to come up with something new," he said. "I want people to understand that the Bible is not just a collection of stories, but a guide for living a meaningful life."

The chaplain's approach has been well-received by patients and staff alike. "He makes the Bible come alive," said one patient. "I look forward to his talks every week."

The chaplain's dedication to teaching through graphics has earned him the respect and admiration of many. "He is a true 'man of the scriptures,'" said another patient. "I never tire of listening to him talk about God's word."

The chaplain's graphic approach to teaching the Bible is just one of the many innovative ways Christian Health Care Center is working to improve the quality of life for its patients. Other initiatives include a community garden, a pet therapy program, and regular live music performances.

"We are committed to providing a holistic approach to care," said the center's administrator. "Our goal is to make every patient feel welcome and valued, and to help them feel better in every way possible."

Full-time health officer opposed by boro

School reorganization update

Under the gavel...

Cheese, cheese, who's got the cheese?

By Peter Marlow

The health board of the New York City Board of Education has recommended that the city's schools be equipped with a full-time health officer to help control the spread of tuberculosis and other communicable diseases. The recommendation was made at a meeting of the board held last week and was supported by the board's health committee.

The school district, which serves approximately 1.5 million students in 1,100 schools, has been trying to improve its health services for several years. The health officer would be responsible for ensuring that all schools have the proper facilities and personnel to handle outbreaks of communicable diseases.

The proposal has been met with resistance by some community groups who fear that a full-time health officer would be an intrusion into their local affairs. However, the board's health committee believes that such an officer would be necessary to effectively control the spread of communicable diseases.

Another recommendation made by the health committee is that a medical center be established at each school to provide immediate care for students who become ill. The center would be staffed by a doctor, a nurse, and other medical professionals.

The school board has also been encouraged by the state to provide more training for its educators in the field of health education. This would help ensure that students are taught the importance of good hygiene and the prevention of communicable diseases.

The recommendations are part of a larger effort by the school district to improve the overall health of its students. The district has already made significant progress in this area, including the construction of new health centers at several schools and the implementation of a comprehensive health education program.

In conclusion, the school board believes that these recommendations are necessary to ensure the safety and well-being of its students. We urge the community to support these efforts and look forward to continued progress in this important area.
Richard Short elected master of Lodge 212

On Thursday, December 15, 1977, thebst Lodge No. 212 at 8:00 P.M. installed 20 new officers. Other officers installed were: Master: Richard Short; Senior Warden: John M. Dougherty; Junior Warden: Robert F. Smith; Treasurer: John D. Smith; Secretary: John K. Taylor; and Recorder: John H. Johnson.

JOLLY SENIORS

The Jolly Seniors held their holiday party on December 15 at 7:30 P.M. at the Recreation Center. The President, John P. Sullivan, called the meeting to order and introduced the speaker, who was not identified. The President then introduced the officers and members of the organization.

How much health insurance is enough?

The question of how much health insurance is enough is a difficult one to answer. It depends on individual circumstances and needs. However, it is generally recommended to have at least a basic policy that covers medical expenses. This can include hospitalization, emergency room visits, and other necessary medical care.

Bids received for fire house

Two re-appointed to Local Assistance Board

No Public Works funds for sewer reconsecion

The US Department of Commerce announced that it would not allocate any public works funding for the reconstruction of sewer systems. This decision was based on the government's current budget constraints.

Call on the Board of Health

Robert B. Smith, a member of the Board of Health, called for the reconsecion of the sewer system after 10 years. He suggested that the issue was brought to the Board of Health for discussion.

Yerington appointed

Mayor J. Yerington of the board of health appointed a new member to the Board of Health in 1977.

EDITORIAL

Looking back at 1977

As we get ready to ring in 1978, there are a few headlines that readily come to mind when reviewing the events in the borough during the past year.

One is the change of charge as Commissioner. Arthur Belka left his job and was replaced by Anthony Russo, former chairman of the planning board.

It was a year of accomplishment in which federal funds were granted to the borough for the library addition. The contracts have been awarded and work is underway.

The year was one of progress - with the installation of cable television service in our community. Local members now have the option of expanded television programming and home movie rentals.

One major problem that became apparent in 1977 was elementary school overcrowding - it is unfortunately unresolved as we enter the next year. It is our hope that the issues will come to an equitable condition before another 30 days have passed.

It is also apparent that the flooding conditions that occur in our boroughs so often when the rains are really no closer to being remedied. It is our wish that resolution of the Goffe Brook Park is one of the situations that will be addressed with seriousness by the county in 1978.

To all our readers, we extend a happy and healthy New Year. May the future hold the answers to all our problems. May the positive aspects be magnified.

The January issue will feature a color brochure on the library addition. The new library will be opened to the public.

Two Hawthorne realtors honored

Joseph F. Torino, owner and secretary of the Real Estate Board of South Orange, is a real estate agent in our borough. Mr. Torino was honored at one of the first seminars held by such an organization. It was held at the Hawthorne Press House.

The anniversary of the opening of the Liberty Bank, 100 years, was celebrated with a public reception at the bank.

Crowley elected by tax group

Albert J. Crowley, an acknowledged leader of the Borough Committee of the Democratic Club, was elected chairman of the tax group.

One of the accomplishments of the tax group is that the tax rate in the borough is only 10.2 mills, the lowest in the county.

THE PARTY’S OVER.

All too often, when the party ends, the trouble begins.
People who shouldn’t be doing anything more active than going to sleep are driving a car. Speeding and weaving their way to death.

Before any of your friends drive home from your party, make sure they aren’t drunk.
Don’t be fooled because they drank only beer or wine. Beer and wine can be just as intoxicating as mixed drinks.
And don’t kid yourself because they may have had some black coffee. Black coffee can’t sober them up well enough to drive.

If someone gets too drunk to drive, drive him yourself. Or call a cab or offer to let him sleep over.
Maybe your friend won’t be feeling so good on the morning after, but you’re going to feel terrific.

FRIENDS DON’T LET FRIENDS DRIVE DRUNK.
