The Third Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money? For 40 years A&P has done all the work to this end. For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been going about the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company. They have been making false and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A&P to give the consumer better food values.

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false by evidence. In the table below you can read what the federal judge had to say about three cases. Now we are going to tell you of the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1924 the federal government won a case against A&P in Dallas, Texas. The case was one of the most important anti-trust suits ever heard by the federal courts. The federal judge told the anti-trust lawyers that they had proved nothing.

When this case was tried in the Dallas Federal Court, Judge Davis stated that the evidence was insufficient to prove that A&P had monopolized the retail grocery business in Dallas.

Judge Davis told the anti-trust lawyers:

"If I thought I was justifying a suit against a company I would not bother to try it. I would simply ask the company to move out of the market."

The federal judge also told the anti-trust lawyers:

"If the indictment is not good, if it is better to find that the burden of proof has been met, let the government be vindicated. If it is not good, let the government be vindicated."

But the anti-trust lawyers never succeeded in getting any other state to take up the Dallas case, because the judge said it was not good enough to prove a violation of the anti-trust laws.

In short, Federal Judge Davis threw the anti-trust lawyers out of the court.

In the Dallas case the anti-trust lawyers were completely defeated, and the case was dismissed.

In our next column we will tell you how they continued to try to destroy A&P. We will show you other cases where they have failed to destroy the company.
