INTRODUCTION

What's Happening in New Jersey

Once in a while, it seems, there's a rush to publish an article about what's happening in New Jersey. However, there are many areas where such events are less than glamorous. Nevertheless, one must strive to cover all aspects of public life, and this is what we do. This article is an attempt to describe some of the less glamorous aspects of life in New Jersey.

Unemployment Insurance

The unemployment rates in New Jersey have been quite high, especially in the past year. The state has been hit hard by the economic downturn, and many New Jersey residents are struggling to find work. However, there are some positive signs. The state government has implemented a number of programs to help those who are unemployed, and these have helped to alleviate some of the hardship.

Employment In

The state government has been working hard to create new jobs in New Jersey. They have implemented a number of programs to support businesses, and these have helped to generate new employment opportunities. However, the state still has a long way to go, and there is a need for more support for small businesses.

Special New Jersey Deduction

The state government has implemented a number of special deductions for New Jersey residents. These deductions are designed to help those who are struggling to make ends meet. They have also helped to alleviate some of the hardship caused by the economic downturn.

In Conclusion

In conclusion, what's happening in New Jersey is complex and multifaceted. There are many areas where the state government is working hard to create new opportunities and support those who are struggling. However, there is still a long way to go, and more needs to be done.
