How can we get the fire chief to the scene?

In this age of the SWAT and medics carrying more to the scene, it is impossible that in any of these cases, we can get our fire chief to the scene. A case is pointed out to Sunday's emergency call for a fire when the rain or fire was out. Any- one listening to the police radio could have heard the call for S-9 fire chief and the team to a question about their location. "The same situation.

It is a common knowledge that this is the first time the chief has been needed and not able to reach the scene in a matter of minutes. The chief's car was taken and shut down and 1S/2" is not far. Only a small time difference between the 1989 station wagon and the emergency vehicles is possibly considered.

Most municipalities have their fire chief vehicle ready every two years, but in Hawthorne, we're approaching a decade. This does not mean that the station is the criteria by which we determine whether to include this purchase, but when there are mechanical problems that are apparently bypassed, the line is only a line. This being budget time, we think it is a good opportunity to discuss the purchase of a new vehicle. Let us sound like some old liberal politicians for this suggestion, here are some alternatives to the logical response that our municipality cannot afford this expenditure. How about providing Chief Addalora a bicycle, a new pump, a new block and a hose, or a new hose engine? Maybe we could do something about the engines using our trucks and pick him up on his way to the fire. At least that way, he'd be able to get to the scene during an emergency.

Hawthorne School Board

Knows how to handle the employment situation

As the principal of the Hawthorne Board of Education and the employed person in the position of superintendent of schools, it was the intent of the board to hire the most qualified candidate. The board has been working on this for months, and a decision will be made in the near future.

We commend the board for adopting the "team effort" philosophy that works so well in the business world. Our company believes in a "team effort" approach to the board because it is managed by a team of professionals. We hope the board will continue to work together.

Another area where the board has been working is in the area of finance. During the fiscal year, the board has been working on this for months, and a decision will be made in the near future.

A few years ago the board of education in New York City had a similar problem. They hired a new superintendent, who turned out to be a disaster. The board was about to fire him when a new superintendent was hired. This new superintendent turned out to be a disaster.

Railroad Station renovation denied

After seeking new funding for the renovation of the railroad station for the last 18 months, the Board of Adjustment could not agree on a proposal that would maintain the original structure while allowing for improvements. The project was deadlocked for the second time, ending its hopes for federal funding.

The original plan had been to renovate and restore the historic 1920s-era station, which has been a symbol of the town's history. However, the Board of Adjustment could not come to a consensus on the details of the plan.

The decision to deny the application was based on the Board's inability to agree on a single proposal that met the criteria for federal funding. The Board faced several challenges in reaching a decision, including disagreements over the scope of the renovation and concerns about the potential impact on the station's historic integrity.

The denial will be a blow to the town, which has been working to bring the station back to life. The station has been a fixture in the community for decades and is a symbol of the town's past. The Board of Adjustment has expressed interest in exploring other options for the station, including potential partnerships with other organizations or communities.

The denial of funding will be a setback for the town, but they are not discarding the idea. The Board of Adjustment will continue to explore alternative funding sources and work with partners to bring the station back to life.

The Old Hawthorne Railroad Station is the intersection of Diamond Bridge Avenue between Railroad and Grand avenues, near the property on Railroad Avenue.

A Hazard is A Hazard

"A hazard is a hazard is a hazard." This is borrowed from Genesis 3:17, which says, "A man is a microcosm." However, the phrase applies to the case of the application before the Board of Adjustment to convert the old Saugus train station into a small clothing store. If the station house converts a hazard (and no one has proven this to be the case), it is to be noted that there may be more than one hazard in a hazard. If a hazard is a hazard, it is still a hazard.

The advantage of converting the old Saugus train station into a small clothing store would provide an opportunity for the town to have a destination for visitors and tourists to shop and explore. The train station could be used as a cultural hub and a community gathering place for events and activities. It would also provide an opportunity for small businesses and entrepreneurs to start up and thrive in the area. The conversion of the station would not only benefit the town but also benefit the people who live and work in the area. It would be a win-win situation for everyone involved.

The hazards of not converting the station would include the loss of a valuable piece of history, the potential loss of revenue, and the potential loss of future opportunities for the town. The town has a rich history, and the train station is a symbol of that history. It would be a tragedy to lose that history and the potential for the town to grow and thrive.

In conclusion, the Board of Adjustment should consider converting the old Saugus train station into a small clothing store. This would provide an opportunity for the town to have a destination for visitors and tourists to shop and explore. It would also benefit small businesses and entrepreneurs in the area. The hazards of not converting the station would include the loss of a valuable piece of history, the potential loss of revenue, and the potential loss of future opportunities for the town. The town has a rich history, and the train station is a symbol of that history. It would be a tragedy to lose that history and the potential for the town to grow and thrive.
