Payroll depository, attorney appointment surface again

The approval of a school board attorney, the renting of a book depository for the school district and the approval of the second part of the $100,000 bond issue were important items discussed at the regular meeting of the Hawthorne Board of Education held Tuesday evening in the newly constructed auditorium, which was used for the first time this year.

The board members were on the agenda for the hearing of the committee on the school bond issue Thursday evening, but none was met. The school board members' recommendations and the administration's comments were presented by a recent meeting of the board, which is to meet again on Thursday evening to discuss the $100,000 bond issue. The hearing is expected to take place on Thursday evening.

The board attorney will be appointed on the second part of the committee on the school bond issue, which is expected to take place this week.

A Hawthorne man had more than a new bridal gown when he and his bride-to-be, Ms. Lee Ann Jones, were married on May 29. Mrs. Jones had been in the hospital with a severe illness for several weeks, and her friends and family were overjoyed to see her looking well and smiling as she walked down the aisle, arm in arm, with her new husband. A large crowd gathered at the Hawthorne Community Center to witness the ceremony.

May 31

The Hawthorne Community Center was the setting for a special event on May 31, as the center hosted a fundraising gala for the local homeless shelter. The evening featured live music, a silent auction, and a delicious meal, all in support of the shelter's mission to provide shelter and support to those in need. Attendees enjoyed a night of entertainment and community involvement, with proceeds going towards the shelter's important work.

Burglary Prevention Month Campaign Begins

As Burglary Prevention Month campaign kicks off, residents and businesses are encouraged to take steps to prevent burglaries and protect their property. The campaign aims to raise awareness about common burglary tactics and provide tips for preventing home invasions.

Tips for Burglary Prevention:

1. Lock your doors and windows. Even if you live in a gated community, it's important to have a working deadbolt on your front door and to lock your windows whenever you leave the house.
2. Install motion-sensor lights or alarms in your yard. These can deter would-be intruders and provide you with valuable surveillance.
3. Be vigilant about your neighbors. If you notice suspicious activity in your neighborhood, report it to the police.
4. Keep your home organized and clutter-free. A clean and tidy home can make it less likely to be targeted by burglars.
5. Keep your home well-lit at night. Outdoor lighting is a great way to discourage potential burglars.

Join in the campaign to prevent burglaries and protect your property. Take these simple steps to keep your home and community safe from burglaries.

Kolb predicts opponents will see the light

GIRGENTI CALLS KOLB "LEADER IN EXILE"

John Girgenti has heard the word "leader" used a lot recently.

"As an active Democratic Party leader," he says, "I have been called a leader. But what I believe is the leader is not the one who says, 'I'm the leader.' No, the leader is the one who says, 'I'm doing what's right for the people.'"

Girgenti is a candidate for the office of U.S. Senate in New York State. He has been running against Conservative Party candidate John Kolb, who is also a candidate for the Senate seat.

"I believe the leader is the one who has the vision," Girgenti continues. "The leader is the one who has the courage to stand up for what is right, even if it means going against the status quo."

President Ford visits Paterson

President Gerald R. Ford arrived in Paterson Monday for an unannounced visit. Although Ford's itinerary was not released, sources say he will meet with Mayor Robert E. Paterson, Paterson City Councilmen, U.S. Senator Robert B. Case, Mayor of Haworth, and N.J. Governor Brendan T. Byrne. The president is expected to tour the city's industrial sector and hold a meeting with local industrial leaders.

The president said that he would address the state's economic situation, particularly its manufacturing base. Ford's visit follows a series of similar visits by other national leaders in recent months. The president arrived at the Paterson airport at 10:30 a.m. on Monday and was greeted by city officials and local dignitaries.

Administrators ratio system stopped

The ratio system for school administrators is no longer in effect, according to Vermont's Department of Education. The system, used to notify parents of changes in the ratio of teachers to administrators, provides the following guidelines:

For schools with a ratio of 1:30 teachers to administrators, teachers must be notified in writing of any administrative changes within 30 days of the administrative decision. For schools with a ratio of 1:20 teachers to administrators, teachers must be notified in writing of any administrative changes within 30 days of the administrative decision. For schools with a ratio of 1:10 teachers to administrators, teachers must be notified in writing of any administrative changes within 30 days of the administrative decision.

In other words, the school board must notify teachers in writing of any administrative changes that occur. Teachers are not required to meet with the school board, but they must be notified in writing of any administrative changes that occur.

Federal law prohibits the school board from exceeding the administrative ratio of 1:10 teachers to administrators. The school board is responsible for maintaining a ratio of 1:10 teachers to administrators. Teachers are entitled to maintain a ratio of 1:10 teachers to administrators. Teachers are entitled to maintain a ratio of 1:10 teachers to administrators.

The board officially accepted the resignations of David G. Jones, principal of Hawthorne High School, and Paul Cristolark, head of the board's administration. Jones and Cristolark were both appointed to the board in 1979. Jones resigned from the board in August, while Cristolark resigned in November. The resignations of Jones and Cristolark are effective immediately. The board expressed its gratitude for their service to the community.

Cristolark has been praised for his administrative skills and commitment to the school system. The board also praised Cristolark for his dedication and hard work.

The head of the board of education was chosen from a group of candidates. The candidates included former school board members and local business leaders. The board ultimately selected a candidate who had experience in the field of education. The candidate was then appointed to the board.

President Ford visits Paterson

President Gerald Ford visited Paterson, N.J., yesterday, but for 15 minutes and left for Washington without meeting with the city's leaders.

The president was greeted by a crowd of several hundred people who welcomed him to Paterson, the city where he was born.

Ford, who is on his way to New York City for a meeting with President Jimmy Carter, was accompanied by his wife, Betty, and a small entourage.

Ford said he was surprised by the warm welcome he received from the crowd.

"I was not expecting such a great turnout," Ford said. "I'm glad to see Paterson's spirit alive and well."}

Administrators ratio system stopped

The ratio system for school administrators is no longer in effect, it was learned today. While the Hawthorne Herald School Board voted to end the practice, the board's action was based on the recommendation of the school's administration.

The system was adopted in 1972 to ensure that each administrator had a specific number of students to oversee.

As of today, all administrators will be responsible for the entire school, regardless of the number of students in their charge.

Letter to the editor

John Persaud, head principal,感慨 that a commotion had been made in the community over the end of the ratio system. He noted that the change was made to better serve the needs of all students.

"We have always been concerned with the welfare of our students," Persaud said. "The ratio system helped us to keep track of the number of students we were responsible for, but it was not the best way to ensure their success."

A once-in-a-lifetime experience

Saturday, June 4 was a historic day for the residents of Paterson and its surrounding communities. President Gerald R. Ford's visit to the city to dedicate the Great Falls as a national historic site was the first time a president had come to the city since 1964.

Ford spent hours of standing in the heat, rain, and wind before the ceremony in Paterson. Despite the weather, the president's presentation of the Great Falls as a national historic site was a success. The event was an opportunity to celebrate the history and contributions of the city.

Tourists were also able to explore the site during the ceremony, which included a guided tour of the Great Falls and a presentation by the President. The event was a once-in-a-lifetime experience for many people.

The Great Falls are a historic site that has played an important role in the history of the United States. The site was dedicated by President Ford in recognition of the contributions of the city to the country.

On the day of the event, the weather was hot and humid, but the enthusiasm of the crowd was undeterred. The ceremony was a celebration of the city's history and the contributions of its residents.

The President was presented with a plaque commemorating the event, and the ceremony concluded with a symbolic lighting of the Great Falls.

The event was highly attended, with many people coming from surrounding areas to witness the historic moment. The Great Falls are a reminder of the city's rich history and the contributions of its residents to the country.

Court upholds zone change

A suit by Frank Cavan and John Mahoney was filed to have a court review a zoning action by the borough of Hawthorne. The two men argued that the zoning action was not in accordance with state law. After a thorough review of the case, the court ruled in favor of the borough and upheld the zoning action.

Why isn’t the borough pool open right now?

Now in our second week of hot, humid weather this month, we consider it ridiculous that the Hawthorne municipal swimming pool will not open until June 26. Why isn’t the pool open this week? Or, if it’s too cold a thought, why can’t it open the day after school is dismissed in June?

After years of asking this same question, we have yet to receive a satisfactory answer. The only semblance of a reply we ever get is that it will take more money to buy chlorine for the additional time.

This type of reasoning is foolish, especially since the rate went up this year. It is too much to ask that the borough residents get more swimming time for the increased fee?

We think the pool should be open all summer during the month of June, as is done in some of our surrounding communities. We also recommend that a family-plan badge be issued for residents, whose individual badgers would cost $50.

Many o the hard-working taxpayers in this borough each afford out-of-town summer homes. They rely on the borough pool as their family’s primary source of recreation.

An Open Letter to the Voters of Hawthorne:

The Hawthorne Democratic Unit and I would like to thank all of you who voted in the June primary for our candidates and for the concept of a strong Democratic Party in Hawthorne.

We appreciate your confidence in us and will do all in our power to fulfill our goal of establishing a two-party system in the borough. This will not be easy. We know that the work has just begun.

We feel sure that with your continued support, we can accomplish that which is important to all of us who live in Hawthorne.

Thank you again.

Sincerely,
John A. Girgenti

Auto Racing Scene

On May 23, 1976, the track was alive with excitement as the world-famous Indy 500 took place in Indianapolis, Indiana. Drivers from around the world gathered to compete in this prestigious race. The starting lineup featured some of the most skilled and experienced drivers in the sport, including Al Unser, A.J. Foyt, and Bobby Unser. The race was full of action and drama, with near misses and close calls keeping the audience on the edge of their seats. In the end, A.J. Foyt emerged victorious, adding another title to his already impressive list of accomplishments. The Indy 500 is a true spectacle of automotive engineering and skill, and it continues to draw millions of spectators each year.

Ranchettes Win fourteen awards

On May 23, 1976, the Ranchettes, a popular all-girl band from Texas, took home fourteen awards at the prestigious T.J. Scott Music Awards. Their most notable achievement was winning Best Female Group of the Year. The band's performance was a tribute to the late T.J. Scott, an influential figure in the music industry. The Ranchettes' success was a testament to their hard work and dedication to their craft. Their music was a fusion of pop, rock, and country, and it resonated with audiences across the nation. The band's dynamic stage presence and powerful vocals made them a force to be reckoned with in the music world.

19th Hole

High Museum member Adam Gilder was presented with the awards for excellence. Gilder's passion for art and design was evident in his award-winning project. The event was held at the elegant High Museum, where guests enjoyed a night of celebrating creativity and achievement. The awards ceremony was a highlight of the evening, with a host of notable figures in the art world in attendance. Gilder's achievements were recognized for his contributions to the art community, and his dedication to promoting cultural understanding and appreciation. The evening concluded with a gala dinner, where guests mingled and celebrated the honorees' accomplishments.

Investigation Now!

The issue of high school coaching appointments is the entire high school with students. Fortunately, the job as head coach went to Mr. DeMasi a few years ago. This action would be a significant improvement for the students and the school. The situation is a new face to that of head coach, and a significant change for the students.

There is only one thing certain about this controversy. It is that no one knows the entire story. On one side, the state fails to bring the thoughts of those students who feel that they need to be heard. The faculty is not on board with the idea of the new coach. The new coach is not a member of the administration, and he has a different view of the situation. The situation is not just about coaching, but also about the administration and the students.

Then we hear statements from one of the coaches' positions, allowing a "crisis situation." When we questioned one of them after Thursday's meeting, he was at first reluctant to talk. He was only heard to "feel that the larger issues are not being addressed." Unfortunately, the public is left wondering what they want in this crisis coaching situation. We think tonight's meeting with the staff is a step in the right direction.

An investigation is necessary if the board members are to act in the best interest of the students who are affected by the program.

the coaching staff controversy.

The handling has not been easy and some have had to face difficult choices.

One coach who has been particularly affected is Coach Smith. He has been working with the junior varsity team for decades and has had a lot of success.

Despite the controversy, the coaching staff remains committed to providing the best possible experience for the students.

In conclusion, the coaching staff controversy has been a challenging time for the school, but it has also brought opportunities for growth and change.

OBITUARIES
