Borough receives insurance settlement

Local Wednesday, the Borough Councilman voted to agree a figure of $50,000 from the insurance company for the demolition of the Hawthorne Municipal building. The building on the west side of Main Street was to be razed and replaced with a new building.

The building will be auctioned in a few months and will be sold to the highest bidder. The proceeds will be used to pay for the new building.

Tenants to amend rent control proposal

In 24 pages, the Hawthorne Tenants Association submitted a proposal on rent control to the Board of Lithographers. The proposal calls for a 3% increase in rent every three years. The proposal also includes a provision for a 10% increase in rent if the cost of living increases by 10% or more.

The proposal was submitted to the Board of Lithographers and is currently under consideration.

Annual Inspection Monday

The annual inspection of the city will be held on Monday, the 2nd of December. All residents are encouraged to attend.

The inspection will be held at the Fire Department
Station on Main Street and will start at 9:00 AM.

The inspection is open to all residents and will be conducted by the Fire Department.

Egg thrower gets $500 fine and jail term

A Pennsylvania man was charged with a $500 fine and a 30-day jail sentence after he allegedly threw a hard-boiled egg at a group of people watching a parade on Market Street in Pittsburgh. The man, identified as James Taylor, 40, of Pittsburgh, was arrested by police officers who were called to the scene after receiving reports of an egg being thrown at the parade. Taylor was charged with disorderly conduct, harassment, and criminal mischief.

Aviation of a bygone era

By Theron L. Davis

As we recall the many brave men who have served in the armed forces, we should remember those who have served in the air. They are often forgotten, but they are just as important. They have risked their lives and have made many sacrifices to keep us safe.

The history of aviation is full of interesting stories. From the Wright brothers' first flight to the space shuttle's journey into orbit, aviation has come a long way. Each generation has its own challenges and achievements.

In conclusion, aviation is an important part of our history. It has brought us closer together and has opened up new possibilities for exploration and discovery. We should never forget the brave men who have served in the air and the many sacrifices they have made.

The Homemade device goes off pressuringly:

Girl injured by explosive

A 15-year-old Hawthorne High School girl who said she was injured by an explosive device in her home said the device went off in her hand, a threat to her safety if she held it any longer.

The device, which was described as a "smoke grenade," was reportedly thrown at her by a Hindu man, according to the girl, who was not identified.

The girl said the device went off in her hand after she picked it up to investigate it.

State cities deficiencies in safety standards for boro schools

Statewide, the schools have been criticized for their safety standards, according to a recent report by the New Jersey Department of Education.

The report, released last week, found that many schools do not have adequate safety measures in place, such as fire alarms, escape routes, and safety drills.

According to the report, a fire in the New Jersey School District on May 1, 2023, caused damage to multiple classrooms and forced the evacuation of students and staff. There were no injuries reported.

The report also stated that some schools do not have adequate emergency plans in place, such as evacuation drills and fire drills.

Additionally, the report found that some schools do not have adequate safety equipment, such as smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors.

The report recommended that the state provide additional funding to schools to improve safety measures and equipment.

Body of drowned man recovered

The body of a 24-year-old man who went missing in a local pond was recovered by authorities on June 6, 2023.

The man was reported missing by family members on June 5, 2023, after he went into the pond to retrieve his dog.

The search for the man was ongoing until the body was recovered on June 6, 2023.

There were no other details available about the man's identity or his cause of death.

Dog's behavior can be costly for owner

by Steve Rutter

Christine M. Casadei, of Golden, noted that her dog, a male 4-year-old chihuahua named Taco, reacts aggressively toward strangers. She said that the dog is fearful and attacks people who come near him, including those who are within 50 feet of his home. Casadei said that she has noticed that Taco becomes more aggressive when he is anxious or scared, which often happens when he is alone. She said that she has tried various methods to calm him, including medication and training, but none of them have been successful. She said that she is considering taking him to a behaviorist for further evaluation.

New grade point average system at HHS

by Steve Rutter

Hickman High School has implemented a new grade point average system to better reflect the students' academic performance. The new system, which is based on a 1-8 scale, was introduced at the beginning of the school year. The goal of the new system is to provide a more accurate representation of the students' academic performance, which will help them in the college application process.

FATHER'S DAY IS JUNE 18

by John Wilke

This Father's Day, make sure to show your dad how much you appreciate him. Whether it's a thoughtful gift or a simple gesture, the important thing is to show him that you care. Here are a few ideas to help you celebrate Father's Day in style:

1. Surprise him with a breakfast in bed.
2. Plan a fun day out, like a hike or picnic.
3. Give him a gift that he'll love, like a new tool or gadget.
4. Write him a thoughtful letter or card.
5. Show him that you appreciate him by doing something for him.

Be sure to make Father's Day special for your dad and let him know how much you love and appreciate him. Happy Father's Day!
LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Is private property really private?

June 2, 1970

I received holiday letters from every special special person and organization to whom I wrote. I believe there is no way to improve this system and make it better, and I am confident that the people who sent these letters meant well. However, I would like to see a change in the system and make it possible to send letters directly to everyone who wants to receive them without having to pay for postage. I also would like to see a change in the way that letters are handled, so that they are not opened before they are delivered to their intended recipients. These changes would allow me to make better use of my time and prevent unnecessary expenses. We should be able to communicate with one another without having to pay for postage, as this is not necessary. George M. Anderson

EARNS 7% INTEREST ANNUALLY and take home this NEW 1979 RCA Color TV immediately

Here's how it works. Buy a Franklin Bank $7,000, 7 year Savings Certificate which earns 7% interest annually. Upon purchase of Savings Certificate, Franklin Bank will give you a NEW 1979 RCA Color TV with automaticCaption generated with high confidence and likely correct but may not be perfect for all content. The content appears to be a combination of text from a newspaper article and an advertisement. The text is about a sports event, likely a football game, involving the Bears and Leavenworth. It mentions a financial offer at Franklin Bank for purchasing a Savings Certificate, which includes a free color television. The advertisement also talks about school children having a field day, possibly at a sports event given the context. The text is not fully transcribed or formatted, but it seems to be a mix of news and advertisement content. The overall theme is focused on financial offers and community activities. It does not appear to be a question or a request for specific information.

Two borough men fined $500 each in BB gun incident

Lieutenant J. W. McRitchie, Jr., of the Township Police, and Lieutenant J. F. Cummins of the Borough Police, have each been fined $500 for bringing a BB gun into their respective boroughs. The men were fined under the provisions of the Borough Blue Law, which prohibits the use or possession of BB guns.

The incident occurred on the evening of July 15, when Lieutenant McRitchie, Jr., was on duty in the Borough of New Brunswick. He was observed carrying a BB gun, which he had purchased for personal use. He was promptly arrested and charged with violating the Borough Blue Law.

Similarly, Lieutenant Cummins was also observed carrying a BB gun in the Township of Woodbridge. He was also arrested and charged with violating the Township Blue Law.

Both men pleaded guilty to the charges and were each fined $500. They are scheduled to appear in court on August 1st to pay the fines.

Under the provisions of the law, any person found guilty of bringing a BB gun into a borough can be fined up to $1,000 and/or imprisoned for up to six months. The law was enacted in an effort to reduce the number of BB gun incidents in the area.

The two men have been given one week to pay the fines. If they fail to pay, they will be subject to further legal action.
Let's do something about dangerous students

Students have to be shown about dangerous students. That's the message to the NEDA (National Educational Development Agency) at a recent meeting by students in the state.

It's not just one or two students. It's an epidemic, and the administration has been getting by with education that's too soft.

Entertainers sought for Falls festival

The City of Paterson, sponsor of the Four Loko Lake Drag Race, The Great Falls Festival, is seeking entertainers for presentation during this traditional event.

"We are looking for top-quality entertainment, whether it's a rock band or a country组合," says festival director Tony Ruggiero. "Paterson, with its rich history of both rock and country music, deserves a special performance to celebrate the beauty of the Great Falls and the heritage of our city."

"We are not limiting ourselves to a specific genre," Ruggiero adds. "We are open to all forms of music that can captivate our audience."

For those interested in performing, contact Tony Ruggiero at (973) 354-5678 or visit the festival website at www.thegreatfallsfestival.com for more information.

Dedication of new facility at Hawthorne Gospel Church

There were many eyes on the dedication service of the new Hawthorne Gospel Church on June 13. The ceremony, which was held at the church's new location, included a tour of the building's new facilities. The new building, which was completed in May, includes a large worship center, classrooms, and a new parish hall. It also features a state-of-the-art sound system and a video conferencing system. The dedication ceremony began with a prayer by the Rev. Dr. John Scott, who has been the church's pastor for 10 years. Following the prayer, Mr. Scott shared some words about the church's history and its future. He also thanked the many people who worked on the project, including the parishioners who contributed financially and the contractors who helped to make the building a reality. The ceremony concluded with a ribbon-cutting ceremony and a tour of the building for those in attendance.

OBITUARIES

FRANK C. MAYO

A funeral service will be held for Frank C. Mayo, 83, of Hawthorne, who died June 11. Mayo was a former mayor of the city and served as a state senator for 32 years. He was born in New York City and grew up in East Orange. He served in the Army during World War II and was a member of the 6th Infantry Division. Mayo was a lifelong Democrat and was often described as a moderate politician. He served as mayor of Hawthorne from 1953 to 1963 and was re-elected to the state Senate in 1964. He was a member of the New Jersey State Assembly from 1968 to 1972 and served as the Assembly Speaker from 1971 to 1972. Mayo was a lifelong resident of the area and was a member of the Hawthorne Lions Club. He was the father of two children and the father of many grandchildren.

Junior Women's banquet held

The Junior Women of the Hawthorne Chamber of Commerce held its annual banquet at the Hawthorne Golf Club on June 12. The event was attended by many members of the community and featured a keynote address by Mr. Smith. The banquet included a dinner, silent auction, and dance. The theme of the banquet was "Celebrating Women in Business," and it featured a number of successful female entrepreneurs who shared their stories with the audience. The Junior Women of the Hawthorne Chamber of Commerce is a group of women who work to promote women in business and to support local businesses. The organization has been in existence for 25 years and has served as a valuable resource for women in the community.

Tenants continue rent control proposal's work

The tenants who work to protect their rent control program, which was sponsored by the group SaveYourRent during the 1978 state legislative session, have been working to gain support for their proposal to extend rent control to all properties in the state. The proposal would only allow buildings in the borough to have rent control, so as to not discourage the buildings from going up on a seasonal basis. The proposal has been controversial, with some supporting it and others opposing it. The proposal would also provide for a rent board to be appointed by the governor, who would have the power to regulate rent increases. The proposal has been opposed by some who believe it would lead to a decrease in the housing stock. The proposal has been supported by others who believe it would protect tenants from unfair rent increases. The 8 45% "MoneySaver" based on the effective annual yield of the continuous compounding of the principal is the best deal for you. For as little as $9,000, you can earn as much as 8.45% yield. This special Alexander Hamilton Certificate is compounded continuously and credited quarterly. Your Savings must remain in this account for 8 years.

Six Month Saver Plus "Money Market Certificate"

This special Alexander Hamilton Money Market Certificate is another MoneySaver that can work for you. Interest is equal to 1.4% more than the rate of U.S.Treasury Bills and 1.4% more than similar certificates from commercial banks. In addition, the Money Market Certificate is also compounded continuously to give you the highest effective yield possible. Since Treasury Bills are auctioned weekly, the interest earned will be based on the rate quoted the day you purchase your certificate. Once the Money Market Certificate is issued to you, your interest rate will remain the same for the six month period of the certificate.

The Money Market Certificate is limited to deposits of $10,000 or more.
A diploma should represent achievement.

For many kids today, when they see a high school diploma in their hand, they should see a passport as much as a piece of paper. In the past, high school diplomas had a certain amount of weight and respect. They meant something. But today, the value of a diploma is often underestimated. Many students view it as just another piece of paper, something they have to get through to move on to the next stage in their lives.

One reason for this is the increasing cost of education. With rising tuition fees and the high cost of student loans, students may feel pressure to find a job as soon as possible, even if they're not sure what they want to do with their lives. This puts the emphasis on getting a diploma, rather than on the value it represents.

Another factor is the growing number of alternative education options. Online courses, homeschooling, and other forms of distance learning are becoming more popular. This can make it easier for students to get a diploma, but it also means that the value of a traditional diploma may be questioned.

To address this issue, schools and communities need to work together to emphasize the value of a diploma. Educators should highlight the opportunities that come with a diploma, and the skills and knowledge that it represents. Parents and families should support their students in pursuing their goals, and not just in getting a diploma.

In the end, a diploma should represent more than just the completion of a high school education. It should represent the value of education itself, and the opportunities it can open up for students. By emphasizing the value of a diploma, we can help ensure that it remains a valuable and respected symbol of achievement.

The Power to Be Dependable
North Haledon teachers vote 'no confidence' in principal

By Don Edmond

North Haledon teachers have voted their principal, John Roche, unconfident in his abilities. The vote, taken at the request of the teachers union, was 299 to 38. The vote took place during a meeting of the teachers union at the end of the school day. Roche was not present at the meeting.

The vote came as a surprise to Roche and to the school district. Roche has been the principal of North Haledon High School for the past 10 years. He is a career educator with a Master's degree in education.

The union's vote was a response to a series of concerns raised by the teachers. These concerns include issues such as discipline, curriculum, and school safety.

The union has given Roche until the end of the school year to address the concerns raised by the teachers. If the concerns are not addressed, the union will consider taking further action.

Roche said he is committed to improving the school and is open to working with the union to address the concerns.

Mayor concerned about lack of progress on building

By Don Edmond

Mayor John Donahue has expressed concern about the lack of progress on the new high school building. The project, announced last year, is still in the planning stages.

"I understand that the project is in the design phase," Donahue said. "But we need to see some concrete progress soon. The community is waiting for this new building." Donahue said the project was scheduled to be completed by 2022.

The school district has faced challenges in obtaining funding for the project. The district has applied for state and federal grants to help fund the building.

Donahue said he will continue to work with the school district to ensure that the project stays on track.

Girgenti introduces flood control legislation

On June 5, Assemblyman John Girgenti introduced legislation that would provide a comprehensive approach to flood control in the state. The bill, A.4445, would authorize the Department of Environmental Protection to conduct a study on flood control measures along the state's coastline. The study would include an assessment of the current flood control infrastructure and recommendations for improvements.

According to Girgenti, the proposed legislation is necessary due to the increasing frequency of flood events in recent years. He explained that the state's coastal communities are particularly vulnerable to flooding, which can cause significant property damage and disrupt local economies.

The bill would require the Department of Environmental Protection to conduct the study and report its findings to the Legislature by January 1, 2022. The report would include recommendations for flood control measures that could be implemented at the local, county, and state levels.

Girgenti emphasized the importance of addressing flood control issues in a comprehensive manner, stating that "we cannot afford to have our communities constantly threatened by floods. We need a plan that will protect our residents and their properties."
