Tax decrease of four points:
Municipal budget introduced

by Mary-Mar Louis

A municipal budget reduction of four points was announced at the meeting of the Hawthorne Board of Adjustment held Wednesday. The new plan, which involved $1,342,470 on the 1972 budget of $3,827,827, is based on a decrease of $1,342,470. The discussion of the report included the removal of items considered to be important or necessary, which resulted in the proposed budget. The move was made to reduce the tax rate in compliance with state regulations and the anticipated decrease in revenue.

The tax rate is 0.0444 per $100 of assessed value. The current tax rate for Hawthorne is expected to remain at the current rate of 0.0444.

Municipal financial aid to the Board of Education is required by the state to be in line with the current municipal budget. This aid is determined by the amount of state aid and district aid received.

The board also reviewed the fiscal year budget with the caulking companies, and the community. The budget is subject to approval by the New Jersey State Tax Commissioner. The budget plan has been approved by the Board of Education.

Three variances granted by Board of Adjustment

Three variances were approved by the Hawthorne Board of Adjustment at its meeting on Wednesday. The request was made by the Calen George Homes on 19th Street. The variance is for the removal of a tree on the property line.

Board Chairman John Coughlin denied the request, stating that the tree is a valuable asset to the property and should be retained. The Board decided to uphold the decision of the Board of Adjustment.

Those who work for a living vs. those who don’t

Agitated voices of apprehension regarding Vietnam and Cuba have been heard far and wide since the late 1960s. Many have expressed concern that Vietnam may become the new Cuba in terms of the threat it poses to American security and sovereignty.

Our children, however, may not understand the historical significance of Vietnam and Cuba. They may not realize how the United States has been involved in both conflicts. As a result, they may not be as concerned about the issue as their parents and grandparents were.

The American people are divided on the issue of Vietnam and Cuba. Some support the intervention in Vietnam, while others oppose it. Similarly, some support the embargo on Cuba, while others oppose it.

Some people argue that the United States should abandon its policy of containment in Vietnam and Cuba. They believe that this policy has failed and that it is time to change course.

Others argue that the United States should continue its policy of containment in Vietnam and Cuba. They believe that this policy is necessary to protect American interests and to prevent the spread of communism.

We believe that the United States should continue its policy of containment in Vietnam and Cuba. We believe that our children will need to understand the historical significance of these conflicts and that they will need to be prepared to face the challenges that come with them.

The School budget will be reduced $15,000; No temporary redistricting for next year

by Steve Nayar

The Hawthorne School Board last night voted to cut the 1979-80 budget by $15,000, or a little more than 1 percent, in order to reduce the property tax levy on the school district. The school board made the decision because of the continued decline in the state's economic conditions, and because the district was unable to raise enough money through its capital campaign.

The school board also voted to maintain the existing attendance zones for the upcoming school year, despite the fact that the district's enrollment has declined by 100 students in the past year. The board said that it would continue to monitor the enrollment trends and make adjustments as necessary.

In other action, the board approved the appointment of a new superintendent, Dr. John Smith, who will take over on July 1. Dr. Smith has been the principal of a neighboring district and is considered to be one of the leading educational administrators in the state. He will be responsible for overseeing the district's operations and ensuring the continued success of its educational programs.

The board also voted to approve the district's budget for the upcoming school year, which includes an increase in the school district's expenses of 2 percent. The budget is expected to remain within the district's revenue, and the district is expected to have a balanced budget.

The board also discussed the possibility of implementing a new program for at-risk students, which would provide additional counseling and support services. The board agreed to explore the feasibility of this program and to report back to the community at a later date.

The board also discussed the need for additional funding for the school district's technology program, which has been lagging behind other districts in the state. The board said that it would continue to advocate for additional funding and to collaborate with local businesses and community organizations to increase the district's technology resources.

The presentation on outdoor education was made by the representatives of Camp Firewood and the Outdoor Ed Project. The presentation was well received by the School Board and it was agreed that they would consider the proposal for outdoor education at their next meeting. The representatives of Camp Firewood and the Outdoor Ed Project were pleased with the reception they received and they look forward to working with the School Board to make outdoor education a reality for the students of the school district.
What are your rights?

By Mary Matlab

Having reviewed your entire run-in with the Harvard Police Department and speaking with two other journalists who have had similar experiences, I believe that you have been treated shabbily and that you should consider legal action. They had no right to take your camera and do not have a legal right to search you without a warrant. You have the right to be treated with respect and to be given the benefit of the doubt. Your name and information should have been included in the police report. Without that, you have no way of knowing whether the information is accurate. You should also be able to contact the police department to see what they know about your case.

Your legal rights are not just theoretical; they are enforceable. You can sue the police department for violation of your rights. The police should have been more professional and should have treated you with more respect. They should have made it clear that they were not searching you for illegal purposes. They should have treated you with the same respect that they would have given to an average citizen. You have the right to be treated with respect.

If you are stopped and ordered to empty your pockets, you have the right to ask why. If you are searched, you have the right to ask why. If you are arrested, you have the right to know why. If you are given a ticket, you have the right to know why. You have the right to know what is going on. You have the right to know what is happening to you. You have the right to know what is happening to your property. You have the right to know what is happening to your rights.

The right decision

The decision by the school board to return the $4,000 to the Franklin and Washington Schools represents a reasonable way to deal with the problem of the spate of thefts in the district. However, it is easy to see why many of the students in other districts did not want to adopt the Franklin and Washington Schools as a permanent solution to the problem of theft. In essence, if the board is not taken seriously, it will seem to be pandering to the students' desire for an easy solution.

Fortunately, the neighborhood school board, which represents the type of education most of it needs, is no longer willing to work with decreasing enrollment, shrinking core and state laws mandating equal education throughout the district.

As the board gets ready to present its referendum on the middle school later this spring, parents of children in the two smalldistricts, should feel confident that the seriousness of the situation will not affect classes in September.
Hawthorne loses state title by 2 points

By Don Wilson

Spring really meant a lot to Hawthorne and its Lady Hawks. For the first time since 1973, Hawthorne made it to the state track meet and was ready to go.

Many thought this year would be one of the best for Hawthorne. The Lady Hawks were returning a lot of experience and were looking to make a run at the state championship. However, the road to the championship was not easy.

The Lady Hawks faced tough competition from rival schools. One of those schools was New Florence. The Lady Hawks and New Florence were neck-and-neck throughout the meet. In the end, it came down to the final race, the 4x400 relay. Hawthorne was leading, but New Florence made a late surge to take the lead. The final score was 98-96, with New Florence winning the title by 2 points.

The Lady Hawks were devastated by the loss. They had worked so hard all season and came so close to winning. However, they were proud of their efforts and the strong season they had.

Despite the loss, the Lady Hawks had a great season. They set several school records and had many personal bests. The future looked bright for the Lady Hawks, and they were excited to see what the next season would bring.

The Lady Hawks were on a roll. They had won back-to-back conference championships and were looking to make it three in a row. However, their path to the championship was not easy.

The Lady Hawks faced tough competition from rival schools. One of those schools was New Florence. The Lady Hawks and New Florence were neck-and-neck throughout the meet. In the end, it came down to the final race, the 4x400 relay. Hawthorne was leading, but New Florence made a late surge to take the lead. The final score was 98-96, with New Florence winning the title by 2 points.

The Lady Hawks were devastated by the loss. They had worked so hard all season and came so close to winning. However, they were proud of their efforts and the strong season they had. The future looked bright for the Lady Hawks, and they were excited to see what the next season would bring.
Double overtime for Nets & Bullets

After the double-overtime thriller Friday night, the Nets and Bullets showed they could get there with a little help from the fans.

Drunken Five continues their hot streak

The Nets' five-game winning streak continued with a 127-125 victory over the Bullets.

Men battle for third

The Nets and the Bullets are both fighting for third place in the Eastern Division.

The Hawthorne Board of Education adopted a decision to purchase a new school building and a $150,000 addition to the former building at 400 Lincoln Avenue. The farmer from Pennsylvania said on March 17 that the board voted to purchase the property and that it would be used to accommodate the new building. The board also approved a $150,000 addition to the former building.

After almost two hours of testimony from the farmer, the board rejected the purchase of the property at 400 Lincoln Avenue. The farmer, who was against the purchase, opposed the addition, the board denied the purchase and the farmer's number was reduced to $150,000. The farmer's attorney, Mr. David L. Wolman, made several arguments, including the farmer's opinion, and the board rejected the purchase of the property.

The proposed purchase of the school building at 400 Lincoln Avenue is in the amount of $150,000. The board voted to purchase the property at 400 Lincoln Avenue and that the purchase would be used to accommodate the new building. The board also approved a $150,000 addition to the former building.

The farmer's opinion was rejected by the board.

For more information, contact Mr. Charles J. P. Brown, 23 E. Lincoln Ave., Hawthorne.

GUIDE TO GAS SAFETY:

Light your oven carefully.

Good Housekeeping Tips:

1. NEVER store or use igniters in or near any gas-appliance area.
2. NEVER store any flammable liquids or materials near gas appliances.
3. Do not use matches or lighters to light a gas pilot, never use an electric igniter or a battery-operated igniter.
4. When lighting a gas range or oven, always use the lowest flame possible, and always use a long-handled lighter to avoid accidental burns.
5. Never use a gas range or oven if the pilot light is not working properly.
6. Always turn off the gas supply to your appliance when you are not using it.
7. Never leave a gas range or oven unattended while it is in use.
8. Always keep the area around your gas appliances clear of clutter and debris.
9. Never use a gas range or oven if the pilot light is not working properly.
10. Always make sure the gas supply to your appliance is turned off when you are not using it.

Other safety tips:

1. Never use a gas range or oven if the pilot light is not working properly.
2. Always turn off the gas supply to your appliance when you are not using it.

The Rutherford Press

A Rutherford man has been named president of the town’s chamber of commerce, a group dedicated to promoting business in the borough.

Robert M. Carlson, a 33-year-old Rutherford native, is the new president of the Rutherford Chamber of Commerce. He succeeds Robert C. Moncrief, who has been the chamber’s executive director for the past three years.

Carlson, who has his own business in the town, said he is excited about the new role. "I’m looking forward to it," he said.

The chamber has about 100 members, ranging from small businesses to large corporations. Carlson said he plans to work with these members to promote the town and attract new businesses.

"The chamber is an important link between the business community and the residents," he said. "We want to make sure that everyone knows what the chamber is doing and how it can help them.

"We want to promote Rutherford as a great place to live, work, and play," he said.

The chamber’s main goal is to attract new businesses to the town and help existing businesses grow. Carlson said he plans to use his personal network to help achieve these goals.

"I have a lot of contacts in the business community, and I hope to use them to help promote Rutherford," he said.

Carlson said he also hopes to strengthen the chamber’s ties with the town government.

"I think there’s a lot of potential for cooperation between the chamber and the town, and I want to explore that," he said.

The chamber’s board of directors meets on a regular basis to discuss issues and make decisions. Carlson said he plans to be an active participant in these meetings.

"I want to be involved in all aspects of the chamber’s operations," he said. "I want to make sure that we’re doing the best we can for the community."

APRIL FOOL!

Hastings police officer will go on active duty tomorrow. Police Chief Wood will join the department on April 1st to replace a new permanent officer. Chief Wood has said that he will focus on reducing crime in the city. Hastings has had a reputation for being a safe community, but Chief Wood wants to ensure that everyone feels safe and secure.

After serving his new position in Hastings, Wood will become the Assistant Mayor of the city. His new role will involve overseeing the city's public safety and emergency management.

Our newspaper noticed a unique sight in the usual school setting. Students were dressed as ancient археologists. This event was organized by the school's history club. The students werelearning about the ancient world and how it has influenced our modern society.

A rare species of waterfowl was discovered nesting in Gracie Brook Park. The duck population, which was previously thought to be declining, has now recovered. The animals are being closely monitored by park officials.

Lahti's Angel's annual fundraiser to support local poultry farmers was a huge success. The event included a chicken roast and a chicken dance. The proceeds will go towards supporting local farmers, who are facing challenges in the poultry industry.

Sally Warren, Hastings' new city council member, was spotted at her first meeting. She is looking forward to working for the community and making a difference.

Recently fired as a bellman, Sterling Jones is now working at a newspaper. He is researching the history of Hastings and plans to write a book about the city's past.

Doris Asbrooke, Hastings' new mayor, is already making a difference. She has vowed to bring new life to the city and make it a better place for everyone.

Despite the challenges, Hastings has remained a strong community. The people are working together to achieve their goals and make a positive impact.
