Adlington Wagner's visit to Passaic County, May 26, announced today that among the many bands which have accepted invitations to participate in the parade in honor of the National Commander of the American Legion is the First Army Band from Governors Island, New York.

the Trade Union Consulting Committee of the Rutgers Institute of Management and Labor Relations. Security problems will be examined by working groups of the delegates headed by nationally known experts on industrial security and civil rights.

Leaders for the equally discussion groups include Herbert Hill, director of the NAACP; Harry Fischelmann, director of National Labor Service, and for the freedom group, Ben Segal, Trade Union Consultant for the Fund for the Republic, and for the plant chairman, chief steward, and bargaining committee members of AFL-CIO, and independent unions. The conference will be opened by Richard H. Wood, director of the State University's Institute of Management and Labor Relations, and Joel R. Motor Vehicle Director Stresses Correct Address

TRENTON—The importance of correct addresses for driver licenses and vehicle registration under the new motor vehicle law was stressed this week by Motor Vehicle Director Frederick J. Gassett, Jr.

Anxious to avoid some of the problems that hampered the smooth operation of the recent conversion program, many of which were the result of failure of motorists to report address changes, Director Gassett reminded motorists that a state law requires such changes to be reported within a week.

"Non-compliance with this statute may result in the delayed delivery of prepared renewal applications for both driver licenses and car registrations. These applications will be mailed each month to motorists in plenty of time for them to either drive the matter by mail, or at a motor vehicle agency," said Director Gassett.

A change of address can be reported by mail to the Division of Motor Vehicles in Trenton, or at any motor vehicle agency. In notifying the division of a change, the individual should give his full name, new and old address, driver license number, and license plate number.

Persons living in townships and on rural routes are advised to check their licenses and note that they contain a proper mailing address. During the recent conversion months, many applications and licenses were returned by the postal authorities because of incomplete rural route delivery information, and also because they contained only a township address. There are several townships in New Jersey bearing the same name, and this situation makes it difficult for the postal authorities to pin point the exact location of a township given on a license or application form. Motorists residing in townships should give the name of the post office where their mail is to be delivered.

IS YOUR TV ANTENNA SAFE?

If your television antenna is not power lines it is a source of real danger! TV antennas are metal—a conductor of electricity. If your antenna touches a power line, electricity can be carried into your home through the leading wires right to your TV set. This may result in a fire and personal injury.

SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

- Place your antenna mast so that it is should swing or fall no part of it will come closer than six feet to an electric power line.
- Make sure that the structure to which the mast is fastened is strong enough to carry the added weight—allowing for wind, ice and vibration.
- Anchor the TV mast securely using rust resistant fittings.
- Strengthen antenna more than ten feet high with at least three equally spaced guy wires made of rust-resistant cable. Add a set of guy wires for every ten feet on taller masts.
- Have your TV antenna installation checked every year or two.

Did you realize that there probably are a dozen good float-fishing streams within easy driving range of your home? Some of these have never been fished, and most of them have never been seen. When Monte Carlo's royal yacht, the Princesse Alice, was in the harbor, it was the only place where you could see the fish. The fish were so big that they were called "princes" and "princesses."

Wear a Buddy Poppy

This month representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be offering Buddy Poppies for sale shortly before Memorial Day. The slogan of the VFW drive is "Honor the dead by helping the living."

This is a commendable slogan and represents the fine rehabilitation program which the organization has under way. The money collected in the Buddy Poppy drive goes for the needy and disabled veteran, his widow and his orphans.

The Hawthorne Press recognizes the worthy efforts being made by the VFW and thousands of our members are affiliated with this organization. We strongly urge support of the drive and we hope that the 1956 effort sets a new record in rehabilitation help by the VFW.

Army Recruiting Bus to Be in Legion Parade

The First Army Military Personnel Procurement Service's mobile exhibit (recruiting bus) is all dressed up, inside and out, with the latest of Army color tones. The exterior is brilliantly painted in the Army's newest "Forest Green" shade. This Army Recruiting Bus will be on display to the public, free of charge, on May 20th at 1 Legion Place, Hawthorne.

While serving as a stimulant to the local Army recruiting campaign, the recruiting bus brings to the public, through many six-wheeled male personalities on its side, a preview of the United States Army, and of the many opportunities and benefits available to the young men and women of Hawthorne. During its stay in Hawthorne it will bring to both the young and old the graphic story of the real, present-day Army.

The bus is piloted by Sergeant First Class Jack Stock, of New York City.

for the average age of women. The Pageant is officially sponsored by the City of Asbury Park, the N. J. Clubbers and Furnishers Association, The Men's Apparel Club of N. J., and nationally-known makers of men's wear.

Top winner in the event will be awarded a year "round ensemble" of men's wear, valued at more than $400.

Pre-nomination for the event will include a men's wear industry pageant to select the most desirable to the public, through many six-wheeled male personalities on its side, a preview of the United States Army, and of the many opportunities and benefits available to the young men and women of Hawthorne. Poisoning Danger Is Great During Housecleaning Time due to accidental ingestion of household cleaning equipment.

Spring housecleaning time is the danger signal for an increased number of deaths among children

John J. Debus, secretary of the New Jersey Pharmaceutical Association, urged housewives to alert themselves to the need of keeping household cleaning supplies out of the reach of children.

Said Debus, "Past experience indicates that about 50 per cent more children will be poisoned during spring housecleaning time than is usual during other periods of the year. The death toll from these accidents can be reduced to a minimum if mothers of small children will exercise every possible caution in keeping their household cleaning supplies safely out of the reach of children."

Holiday Rush

This month we have another holiday, Memorial Day. It so happens that the annual holiday comes in mid-week. This means that we will not have a long weekend such as would be true if the holiday fell on Friday or Monday. Perhaps this occurrence of the holiday in midweek is a blessing, at least insofar as traffic casualties are concerned.

Memorial Day ranks with the Fourth of July and Labor Day holidays as periods of high traffic casualties. Before each of these holidays, the National Safety Council issues a warning on highway safety and if the holiday happens to result in a long weekend, we are warned that casualties will be unusually high. At least that has been the experience in recent years.

A holiday rush is inevitable, but we should all remember that if we slow down a bit, we are likely to live a little longer. Teamsters in over-the-road driving are especially conscious of the holiday traffic dangers, for they have to fight these dangers resulting from heavy volume of cars and high speeds. Our drivers have a fine safety record, but even the best of our drivers cannot prevent irresponsible passenger traveling under today's high-speed cars. Our people, by and large, make a fine contribution to highway safety, and they are among the first to ask their fellow drivers in pleasure cars to slow down in the annual holiday rush.

In the afternoon they went first to Rockefeller Center where some time was given for visiting the shops and taking pictures among the flowers. Later they all enjoyed going to the Warner Theater to see the Cinema production, "The Seven Wonders of the World."

More Roosevelt Class Trips Made

Southern, Mrs. Freudenstadt and Mrs. Lucibello, also accompanied the class. The morning was spent at the museum of Natural History where the children saw much of the exhibit which they had previously studied. The children were particularly fascinated with the prehistoric mammals and reptiles. The group ate lunch at the Bronx Zoo and enjoyed walking around the grounds looking at the various species of animals, birds and reptiles. A good time was had by all.

New Books Listed at Library

Miss Schneider's and Mr. Nardone's seventh grade of the Roosevelt School enjoyed a trip to the Hayden Planetarium and the Museum of Natural History on Monday, May 11th. The lecture at the Planetarium gave the children a better understanding of the cause of eclipses, day and night and also how to locate some constellations. At the museum they had a splendid tour. They were shown African animals and implements. They were also given the opportunity to ask questions about the things they saw.

Accompanying the class were the following mothers: Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. De Block, Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Thee and Mrs. Evans.

Republican National Convention Opens at Cow Palace Aug. 20

On Monday, August 20, the 26th National Convention of the Republican Party opens in the Cow Palace, San Francisco. While it has a number of duties to perform the principal business of the Convention is to nominate the Republican candidate for President and the Republican candidate for Vice President of the United States.

The 146 Members of the Republican National Committee on February 17, 1935, unanimously approved the site, date and place for the convention. This convention will be unique in many respects. It will mark the 100th anniversary of the first Republican nominating convention, in Philadelphia, June 17-19, 1856 and it is the first GOP convention to be held in San Francisco or the Far West. It will be the latest date a major political convention has been held. Only once before (1856) have the Republicans held their convention after the Democrats who meet this year in Chicago on August 15. Applications from more than 4,000 representatives of radio and TV, newspapers, news photographers, daily and weekly press, and

Is socialized federal power a bargain?

An answer is provided in this sentence from one of the Hoover Commission reports: "Inquiries resulting from Federal Government invasion of the field of electric power is illustrated in the case of the states of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, which have 10 per cent of the population and pay 29 per cent of the net cost without receiving any federal power."

From that it is obvious federal power is cheap for but one reason—because the taxpayers of the entire country subsidize and pay a part of the electric bills of that fraction of the population which uses the federal power.

There are two diametrically different ways in which this inequity could be ended. One would be to create a national federal power monopoly—which is what many socialist-minded people really want. Then everybody would get federal power, and everybody would pay for federal power's subsidies, exemptions, and other artificial advantages.

The next logical step, of course, would be to put the federal government into the food business, the insurance business, the farming business, the auto business, the newspaper business, and all other business. If it is right and proper for the federal

Comm. Wagner Addresses Vets

Wagner failed to achieve in his first attempt on veterans' benefits.

"I promise you today," Wagner continued, "that the Bradley Commission is not going to succeed. The American Legion is not going to permit the second, necessary structure of veterans' benefits which has been built up over the past 156 years to be torn down by the Bradley Commission."

"The American Legion's position is not based on emotionality or snap judgment. It is based on a thorough, 18-month study of the veterans' benefit program by a special American Legion Committee headed by Past National Commander Donald R. Wilson of West Virginia," Wagner said.

Wagner said the Bradley report asserts that the veteran was "merely doing his duty as a citizen in serving in our Armed Forces during time of war."

"If I find it hard to believe that an act of this kind," Wagner continued, "could come from General Bradley and his predominantly military associates on the commission... From one viewpoint, perhaps we are surprised at the conclusion reached by General Bradley and his fellow career officers on the commission. Most of them have never known an insecure day in their lives."

More than 10,000 men, women and children watched a spectacular parade on Saturday afternoon in Hawthorne as the National Commander Wagner and his fellow career officers on the commission prior to June 11, 1956.

Wagner entered a flashy sport car and was escorted by a band of brass instruments starting point at Wagon Road, and Lafayette Ave. for a parade that continued for three hours on the avenue and passed in front of a reviewing stand at the municipal building.

In the car with Wagner were James Ryan, past chairman of the American Legion, and Albert D. McCormack, President of the American Legion, and William G. McKinley, the New Jersey representative on the national executive committee; Dan

Drive Carefully

The State of New Jersey is example of traffic safety in the country.

If it is your journey in New Jersey over any of the major highways you see one of these 2,700 commuters daily from their homes to their businesses.

State reports that adequate alternate means of transportation are not available.

That the discontinuance of service would have an adverse effect on the development of individual municipalities and Bergen County as a whole.

Citing an example of a P.I.C. action favorable to the public he described the attempt of the New Jersey and New York Railroad to discontinue its earliest morning passenger train in 1958. The petition was denied even though only 144 persons used the train daily between Spring Valley and Paterson.

The regular meeting of the C.Y.O. has been cancelled on account of the holiday, but all members are urged to attend the rally.

The next meeting, on June 6, will be held at the St. Anthony's C.Y.O. in Memorial Day.

Lawyer Joseph Harrison of Newark to Spearhead Fight of Suskie Commuters

The fight by the Susquehanna Commuters Transit Association to retain commuter service on the North Jersey Commuter Line will be spearheaded by a lawyer, Joseph Harrison of Newark.

Harrison, who from 1947 to 1952 was a deputy attorney general assigned to the Public Utilities Commission, has long experience in transportation problems and is also counsel to the Hudson Line Transportation Association engaged in a fight to retain commuter service on that branch of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western. He has been officially engaged by the Susquehanna Commuters' group to represent them.

Harrison told a large assembly of the commuter association held at the Hackensack Civic Center Friday evening that they could retain passenger service on the Susquehanna railroad if they are willing to wage a firm and militant fight.

He outlined a three pronged attack which he expects to present before the P.U.C. on June 11th. Points maintained were:

—That continuing passenger service is necessary to provide adequate, convenient and safe transportation for approximately 2,700 commuters daily from their homes to their businesses.

—That adequate alternate means of transportation are not available.

—That the discontinuance of service would have an adverse effect on the development of individual municipalities and Bergen County as a whole.
