C. D. IS AIMED AT DEFENDING BORO FROM "ALL" DANGER

Spring floods can strike with only a few hours' notice—disaster fires within minutes. If either of these happens in the quiet town of Hawthorne, what will the people do? Where will they turn for help?

In case of flood, we may be cut off from outside help. In case of fire, the first five minutes are the most critical, and it takes time for equipment to arrive from neighboring communities. What will be needed most of all is manpower, trained and willing hands to rescue trapped victims, to evacuate danger areas, to salvage food and personal property, to warm, feed, and even clothe those who have been driven from their homes, to prevent looting, and to direct traffic.

For such emergencies, Hawthorne must be prepared to help itself, and it has an organization ready and willing to swing into action at any moment, day or night. Its name? Civil Defense.

The organization exists, but it is woefully short of manpower because so many residents have the mistaken impression that Civil Defense is intended for protection against atomic bombs and enemy action only. And regardless of Russia's growing might, of her rubbers, savagery in Hungary, they stoutly maintain that, "It won't happen here." Probably it won't happen here in our lifetime, but not in our defense.

But Civil Defense is not designed for only that eventually. As its name implies, it is a corps of civilians organized to defend their own community against all dangers, and joined together through State and Federal laws for mutual assistance.

The first objective of the Hawthorne Civil Defense unit is to protect Hawthorne, and it is, and must be, ready to function when normal police and fire services are overloaded to the point where they can no longer control the situation. If floods containable are our water supply, if a blizzard disrupts our telephone service, if a train wreck spills hundreds of injured persons into our town, if an exploding gasoline truck erupts fire on our homes and businesses, if a severe case of, or a gas leak, bursts, Civil Defense is ready to lead.

But it needs help. It needs men and women who know what to do and when to do it. It needs men who are willing to take some of the time and effort that is required to lead.

Cards of Appreciation Sent to Volunteer Workers of 1958 Heart Fund Campaign

Cards of appreciation were sent out to volunteer workers of the 1958 Heart Fund campaign.

The time has come for subscribers to desert their living rooms and kitchens in favor of the outdoor barbecue and picnic.

With all its joys, this season also presents a few problems—burned fingers, overdone steaks, mosquitoes, the weather and frequent mud dashes into the house to answer the telephone.

There are, of course, solutions to all these problems, including the last one. As a matter of fact, the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. has several answers to that one.

First there is the outdoor telephone enclosed in a small weatherproof box which can be attached to the back of the house in any convenient spot. This little outdoor bell which will ring when the phone inside the house rings. This bell is equipped with a cutoff key so that it can be turned off when its use is not required.

The outdoor living room also can be equipped with a light that glows when the telephone inside the house rings.

For families whose leisure activities are divided between the yard and house, a button and buzzer setup may be more suitable. When Mom who is reading inside can push a button which sends a "buzzer" outside that lets Dad, who is gardening, know there is a call for him.

"On behalf of my fellow volunteers throughout the county, I should like to thank the good folks who gave generously, from the heart, to the Heart Fund," declared, "In expressing special gratitude to the volunteers who so willingly gave of their time and energy each year to help keep this important fight, the Passaic County Heart Association."

Little League to Officially Open Season Saturday

The Little League will officially open the baseball season Saturday at the new baseball field on the pump house grounds on Goffe Road.

League teams will parade from the Municipal Building to the field at about 1 p.m. Opening day ceremonies will be followed by an all-star exhibition game. Three players from each of the eight teams that played last season will comprise the all-star team.

The first official game of the season will be played May 5 at 6:30 p.m. The season school, for league games may be obtained from league secretary William Lough, 44 First Ave.

St. Anthony's First Friday Breakfast

First Friday breakfast will be served to the children of St. Anthony's School after the 8 o'clock Mass on Friday, May 24. Mothers are needed to help set the tables on Thursday, May 23, and to serve on Friday, May 24. Anyone who wishes to help will do so carefully chosen group please come to the school cafeteria on either day.

Mayor Comments Michael Costello

Mayor Louis B. 2nd, has commented Michael F. Costello, president of the Hawthorne Boys Club, he said Costello's efforts with the club were instrumental in keeping juvenile delinquency in the borough at a minimum.

Lincoln Choral Group and PTA Stage Success

A very successful performance of a musical entitled, "It's Nice To Go Trav'ling" was staged recently by the PTA choral group and children of the Lincoln School, Hawthorne.

Fifty grader, Terry Landini, as a love? Senorita, danced the Spanish, Castanet Pasodoble "España Cani".

The mother's chorus sang "Three Coins in the Fountain," "It's Nice To Go Trav'ling," and many other selections.

Some of the children who performed included: M. Roberts, M. Presing, L. Robinson, D. Pieling, C. Martin, J. Avanzo, R. Hammerlin, M. Costello, P. Costello, M. Luckman, L. Muscarello, W. West and V. Strach.

Ushers for the evening were Joan Bauer, Nana Bordonaro, Pat V. Gills, Municipal Building, or the office of the County Board of Elections, in Paterson, New Jersey.

Mrs. H. Slanigan and Mrs. F. Connel had charge of the sale of tickets while Mrs. A. Girard and Mrs. W. Meister handled properties.

The choral group is deeply appreciative of the time and effort put forth by Miss Haskins, District Clerk, and Mrs. W. Meister, past president, and Mrs. Hetherington, accompanist, without whom the program would not have been the great success that it was.

Toward 'Powerless Satellites'

So alarming has grown the increasing trend toward Federal control of state government that President Eisenhower has asked for a program to save the states from becoming "powerless satellites of the national government."

A bill (H.R.3) to protect the sovereignty and power of the states against encroachment by the Federal government has been introduced by Rep. Howard W. Smith, of Virginia.

It recognizes the supremacy of Washington over the state governments in matters in which it has jurisdiction. But it provides that where the state law does not conflict with the Federal law, the states may also exercise their jurisdiction.

Noting the multitude of subjects with which Congress is now dealing, it is with reason and grave concern that Rep. Smith warns "it is inevitably merely a question of time before the states will be deprived of practically all power and sovereignty in enactment and enforcement of laws for the protection of the health and welfare of their local citizens."

Reception Honors Bishop McNulty

Bishop McNulty, who arrived in Passaic County last night, was the guest of honor at a reception given by the Passaic County Board of Education at the Passaic County Board of Education building. The reception was held at 7:30 p.m. and was attended by a large number of guests. Bishop McNulty was introduced by the Rev. John J. McDevitt, pastor of St. John's Church, Passaic. The bishop was then given a tour of the board building and the Passaic County Board of Education building. He was then given a tour of the Passaic County Board of Education building. 6. One of the most important advantages is the junior high income offers opportunity to concentrate on behavior problems of adolescents in the average age span of 12-15 years.

Supt. Moshier and Dr. Wilhelm said, "It should be kept in mind the real purpose of spending money for school purposes is better education. If, by educational opportunity is meant the offering of the best experience for development of the young person for himself and society—then the junior high school's advantages are considerably greater than the old type traditional school as we now have it in Hawthorne."

Stamp and the third Senate member of the conference committee, is quoted as saying: "I don't see how President Eisenhower could possibly sign this bill."

And perhaps he shouldn't. It is not a good bill in any sense. It is, at best, a stop-gap measure that will increase revenues, raise pay and leave the post office in the hands of the most important, collectively, over the nation, it will bolster our somewhat sagging economy by cutting out post office services that should be supported by postal revenues, and the authorization and financing of a long-range full-scale modernization program, as urged by Senator Johnston.

Both of these, as the Senator has pointed out, are essential to the formulation of proper postage rates and pay scales.

Perhaps a vote will clear the way to start over on a really cent for food and beverages, and 20 cents for operating costs. But, interest and profits account for 5 cents depreciation, 6 cents taxes total ten cents out of every dollar. . . . We do our heavy spending—for services and supplies—right in the community in which we operate."

In addition to the pleasant influence of out-of-town visitors on local business activity, they also reduce everybody's local taxes. Mr. Bennett cites "a Southern city of 125,000 population" which estimates that hotel taxes plus taxes paid by tourists on direct purchases made by every single visitor to the city reduce the local tax burden by 60 cents!

More than a good-will ambassador for the community, the hotel is also the best out-of-town salesman.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS
"Government Competition" is title of a talk by Representative . . . . This was the [Harrison of Virginia, at a Climate Drive Workshop sponsored by the Citizens' Committee for The test for consumer acceptance on Hoover Report. He elaborated his point in these words: "Government competition is not competition as the competitors presumably start the game all-even. When the

There are, he goes on, all manner of excuses for government business operations. Whatever the particular excuse in any particular case, it is always based on a claimed necessity. In this connection he quotes something the consultant William Pitt said two centuries ago: "Necessity is the plea for every infringement of human freedom."

The problem is not a new one. In 1923 a House committee listed 232 Government business enterprises which had been created to meet the emergency demands of World War I, yet were still in existence 15 years after that war's end. These, the committee then said, ". . . reduce the private initiative, curtail the opportunities, and infringe upon the earning powers of tax-paying individuals while steadily increasing the levies upon them."

In 1946, by contrast with the 1923 situation, a world-wide inventory of business-type governmental operations conducted by the Budget Bureau resulted in a list of 19,771 items! And these were confined to activities providing goods and services for the government's own use and so don't tell the whole story. According to Representative Harrison, there are two other broad categories. The first is the purchase of goods and services for public consumption, such as commissaries and post exchanges. An estimate holds that 18 per cent of the civilian personnel of the government is on the payroll of business-type activities.

The Hoover Commission has presented blueprints for eliminating many such activities and cutting the cost and the scope of others. The hope has been held out that this will be a "climax year" in which aggressive action will be taken. Of that Mr. Harrison says: ". . . this may well be the climax year, but a tremendous job of public education remains to be done if it is to be a climax favorable to the cause of lean and efficient Government."

James Lubell, an analyst of the state of mind in the United States, says that "the public's strongest single desire is for a halt in the upward spiral of prices, wages and profits"—that people are strongly opposed to another nation-wide round of wage boosts because they would mean price boosts.

There are, he goes on, all manner of excuses for government business operations. Whatever the particular excuse in any particular case, it is always based on a claimed necessity. In this connection he quotes something the consultant William Pitt said two centuries ago: "Necessity is the plea for every infringement of human freedom."

The problem is not a new one. In 1923 a House committee listed 232 Government business enterprises which had been created to meet the emergency demands of World War I, yet were still in existence 15 years after that war's end. These, the committee then said, ". . . reduce the private initiative, curtail the opportunities, and infringe upon the earning powers of tax-paying individuals while steadily increasing the levies upon them."

In 1946, by contrast with the 1923 situation, a world-wide inventory of business-type governmental operations conducted by the Budget Bureau resulted in a list of 19,771 items! And these were confined to activities providing goods and services for the government's own use and so don't tell the whole story. According to Representative Harrison, there are two other broad categories. The first is the purchase of goods and services for public consumption, such as commissaries and post exchanges. An estimate holds that 18 per cent of the civilian personnel of the government is on the payroll of business-type activities.

The Hoover Commission has presented blueprints for eliminating many such activities and cutting the cost and the scope of others. The hope has been held out that this will

Three Years of Salk Vaccine

Just three years ago this April the Salk vaccine was officially pronounced safe and effective and licensed for use by the U. S. Government.

Since then, the polio picture in this country has undergone a radical change. Before the Salk vaccine we struggled with an erratic but mounting series of polio epidemics that reached their peak in 1952 with 77,879 cases. Last year, owing to widespread vaccination, the number dropped to 5,894. By this time it is clear that the Salk vaccine, developed on grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is one of the triumphant milestones in the history of modern medicine.

The first year it was given mainly to grade school children—some 10 million of them. The second year it was made available to young persons up to 20 and expectant mothers, and some 35 million were injected. Last year a crash vaccination program directed at all persons under 40 added 20 million more, making a total of 65 million.

A big job done in a remarkably short time.

But not good enough. For Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, warns us that, with 46 million Americans still unvaccinated, we may still have polio epidemics next summer.

The answer? There is enough vaccine for everybody now, regardless of age. It's painless. It's inexpensive. It's effective protection against a lifetime of paralysis.

You're listening to the moaning and groaning of the Boston Red Sox players this year, especially, were looking for Mike Higley. The Williams & Co. to get off to a flying start and go all the way to the pennant.

INSTEAD, the boys from Boston, after burning up the Grapefruit League, lost 10 out of their first 14 games—the worst Red Sox performance since 1913, the year Tom Yawkey bought the club.

IT'S INTERESTING to note that Ted Williams' batting average in his lowest over at this early date—down to .213 after 14 games. Jensen, Malone and Pottall are struggling to stay above .200 and, of the regulars, only Sammy White, Don Bud-din and Pete Runnels have been clubbing in respectable figures.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Keating

This spring, as every spring, a "toughness" epidemic will sweep across the land, says outdoor writer Edwin A. Bauer in Sports Afield Magazine.

It's sure to affect far more citizens than the recent Alan Hale, but by any name it's simply a "toughness" virus that strikes and spreads from winter hibernation. Perhaps it's the same virus that strikes fish moving and migrating around the country. That these events happen simultaneously is no coincidence.

March is the time, for example, when the jumbo shovels head eastward become restless beneath their giant, hydroelectric dams as Pickwick on the Tennessee River. It's also the time when anglers can catch scores of trout. The "toughness" virus is a highly selective nature, and was conducted among those who had actually applied to the Fund for redress in the case of an accident caused by uninsured required insurance rather than the present abuse as a replacement for financial responsibility. (The U. C. J. F. was created to protect motorists and pedestrians in cases involving uninsured drivers. It derives its money from fees levied against insured drivers, uninsured drivers and insurance companies.)

Mr. Bugbee declared that three separate opinion polls clearly showed strong support for an equal responsibility law. The first survey, conducted by Benson and

Benjamin, Inc., a public opinion organization of Princeton, revealed 95 per cent in favor of a compulsory insurance law, 3 per cent opposed, and 1 per cent expressing no opinion.

The second, and more extensive survey, was performed by The Princeton Poll, and showed that 91 per cent were in favor, 7 per cent against, 2 per cent no opinion.

The most recent survey, supported by Benson and Benjamin, was of a highly selective nature, and was conducted among those who had actually applied to the Fund for redress in the case of an accident caused by uninsured

PARIS—Everyone is now aware that the American attitude toward school examinations and reports is a bit casual and unbusinesslike. Here in Europe, on the contrary, the children are currently being urged to treat their studies a little less seriously than they are accustomed to do.

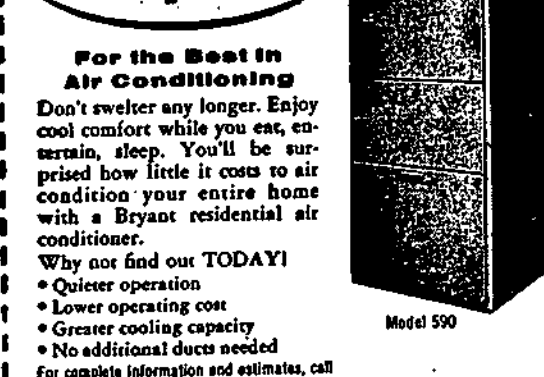

In Bielefeld, Germany, a special contingent of police are stationed in the schools on the days when report cards are handed out.

HHS to Hold Spring Concert

The Schoggeny who has a lovely soprano voice, will sing a May Day Carol by Deems Taylor and Sumnerby by Gershwin. Then will follow in music in college upon graduation this June. Judy Hartling, well known for her singing, will do "Younger Than Springtime" from South Pacific.

Patricia Noonan, brilliant young pianist, will play "Elizabethe" (Soprano) by Moszkowski.

We cordially invite all the parents of our student body and interested friends of the school to attend.

There is no admission charge for this Music Festival. It is a National Junior Week and we present this concert for the enjoyment and benefit of the people of the community and surrounding areas.

At the close of the concert, an offering will be taken at the door for those who wish to contribute to our fund for their robes.

PART OF THE FUN of a vacation trip is planning it. Frequently, however, too much time is spent worrying over maps and road books, while certain annoyances—most important—details are left for the last minute.

And, in the final rush to "get going," you may find yourself wondering about whether you left the stove on or let the car insurance lapse.

First, prepare a list of things to do around the house before you leave. Stop delivery of newspapers, stop mail, and shut off all home utilities.

When you return, check on the status of your car and home. Make sure you have a forwarding address in case you are called away from home. Check on the status of your car and home.

Discourage prowlers by asking someone to now your lawn periodically so that your house looks "lived in." Lock all windows and doors. Check on the status of your car and home.

State proves it with the publication of a new 48-page full-color vacation brochure now available free to the public.

Joseph E. McLean, Commissioner of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development, says the booklet "Vacation Guide to Fun in New Jersey" is primarily designed to provide out-of-state tourists and vacationers with a general idea of the Garden State's varied recreational facilities and scenic attractions, and to acquaint the public with one of the country's foremost resort areas.

More than 25 popular shore resort communities and 21 miles of boardwalk lined with seafood restaurants and amusement features, make New Jersey's 128-mile stretch of white sand beaches a key attraction for millions of vacationers each year.

The new Vacation Guide also features attractions for vacationers to inland New Jersey. Swimming, boating, fishing, picnicking, and hiking are available in the beautiful inland and rolling mountains of Northern New Jersey.

An easy-to-read map showing the location of State parks and forests and a chart indicating on-line, camps, picnic sites, boating, fishing and fishing facilities are contained in the Guide.

A new feature in the Vacation Guide is a section devoted to "Vacation Guide to Fun in New Jersey," which is a new feature in the Vacation Guide.

THE DRIVER'S SEAT
Most men like their men in a dark and handsome. But the man for the girls at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts, they have to fit in that category.

A recent poll of 486 Mount Holyoke students unearthed the criteria in making a man eligible for their dream list. An overwhelming majority of the girls want a safe and sane driver who keeps both hands on the wheel and his eyes glued to the road. They want a man who never leans on the horn and one who never leans "one for the road."

So, modern-day swains in their dream lists think they can be as safe as a two-wheeled vehicle, so long as their convertible is too, are due for a shock. If no main-line trends start on the East Coast, the majority of mankind is in for trouble. With drivers who never lean on the wheel and one who never leans on the horn and one who never leans "one for the road."

Most men like their men in a dark and handsome. But the man for the girls at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts, they have to fit in that category.

A recent poll of 486 Mount Holyoke students unearthed the criteria in making a man eligible for their dream list. An overwhelming majority of the girls want a safe and sane driver who keeps both hands on the wheel and his eyes glued to the road. They want a man who never leans on the horn and one who never leans "one for the road."

So, modern-day swains in their dream lists think they can be as safe as a two-wheeled vehicle, so long as their convertible is too, are due for a shock. If no main-line trends start on the East Coast, the majority of mankind is in for trouble. ### State proves it with the publication of a new 48-page full-color vacation brochure now available free to the public.

Joseph E. McLean, Commissioner of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development, says the booklet "Vacation Guide to Fun in New Jersey" is primarily designed to provide out-of-state tourists and vacationers with a general idea of the Garden State's varied recreational facilities and scenic attractions, and to acquaint the public with one of the country's foremost resort areas.

More than 25 popular shore resort communities and 21 miles of boardwalk lined with seafood restaurants and amusement features, make New Jersey's 128-mile stretch of white sand beaches a key attraction for millions of vacationers each year.

The new Vacation Guide also features attractions for vacationers to inland New Jersey. Swimming, boating, fishing, picnicking, and hiking are available in the beautiful inland and rolling mountains of Northern New Jersey.

An easy-to-read map showing the location of State parks and forests and a chart indicating on-line, camps, picnic sites, boating, fishing and fishing facilities are contained in the Guide.

Drawing False Conclusions

One common error we hear for not getting polio shots is that "There's no reason to worry about polio any longer. Why, there were less than 6,000 cases in the whole United States last year." The person who says that is well-informed on statistics. But the conclusion he draws is dangerously incorrect.

Polio did drop off from 25,983 cases in 1955 to 15,400 in 1956, and then to 5,894 in 1957. But the principal reason for the encouraging drop in incidence was the fact that millions of Americans were taking advantage of the protection offered by the Salk vaccine. Most of the cases recorded last year were totally unnecessary, the result of failure to vaccinate.

It is difficult for some people to understand that they receive no protection whatever from their neighbor's vaccination. The protected neighbor may not get the paralytic disease, but he still is capable of passing the virus on to others. Lulled into a false sense of security, the unvaccinated may walk the streets with no more protection than those who fell victim to the disease during the terrible polio epidemics of the pre-Salk era.

Many parents who have been quick to insist upon vaccinations for their children of school age fail to realize that these same children can still bring the disease into the home, where it may find prime targets among infants and adults who have not had the Salk shots.

No one can tell how widely the virus will be distributed during the coming months. Certainly, you will not be able to detect its presence in your community. There is only one way to remove yourself and your children from the target area. Go to your doctor—or to your polio vaccination clinic—and start the three-shot series TODAY. Don't be among those unfortunate people who waited until it was too late.

THE WATER'S FINE

If the county is going to the bowwow—it looks as if they would be water specialists or China peaks Bay reviewers. Zacher, Williams, the glamorous Hollywood normal who has gone into the swimming pool business, reports that she is selling backyard swimming pools. Among them, it was pointed out, is the famous actress who has been seen in the swimming pool. It is understood, of course, that the personable Miss Williams might have a certain advantage over a mere male salesman—especially on a subject who is so well equipped to discuss. Nevertheless, basic economics rates its impressive head when a company reports its 1957 first quarter as 150 per cent ahead of the same period in 1956.

We were going to add that this is all the more confusing with respect to an investment in local swimming pools. But Miss Williams would be pretty upset at such a remark. In her view, a swimming pool is an essential to the well-equipped home as an air-conditioner is to the modern office. It is, she says, "a real improvement in property, family health and family relationships."

In other words, a pool is great fun for everybody; the kids learn to swim like fish; you know where they are and who their friends are.

Committee Heads Named for Dance

President—Mrs. Dorothy Stultz, chairman; Treasurer—Mrs. E. McElroy; Secretary—Mrs. Mary Smith, co-chairman; Publicity—Mrs. J. C. Summers, county registrar of deeds and mortgages.

Refreshments—Joseph Mucilo, West Paterson GOP leader, chairman; William Turner, William Ferraro and Frederick J. S. Marotta.

General Chairman Marsh also announced that the serving of the many-faceted dinner will be started promptly at 7 P.M. in order to afford more time for the big program of entertainment and dancing to music by a big-name band which will follow the repast.

He also emphasized the fact that this year's dinner dance will be absolutely devoid of politics and guest speakers, adding that the entire evening will be completely devoted to the very best of food, entertainment and dancing.

Justice Joseph Weintraub at the Yuletide Shellebourn, Atlantic City, N. J., last night. He is seated at the Mirror before him while in attendance at the New Jersey State Bar Association's annual convention and dinner.

Chief Justice Weintraub previously certain administrative matters of the Supreme Court, the Surrogate's Court and the Appellate Division.

are involved. Methods of interest to the Public, Lawyers and the Corporation will be discussed at some length.

The Surrogate's Adrian M. Fuley, Jr. of Essex County, Carroll J. Stark of Passaic County, and Edmund H. Mulliken of Essex County were called upon to present the views of the Surrogate's Court.

First Grade pupils of St. Anthony's School who recently recited the Pledge of Allegiance will be the guests of the Mothers' Group at First Friday Breakfast, which will be held on May 15, 1936, at 12:30 o'clock.

This program, which has been running for 10 years, has raised a total of $125,000 from North Hallowell. The money is used to help the poor and to help them all the benefits of education. This represents a rise of nearly 180 points in the tax rate which has been maintained in 1960 and an average of $100 or more per house valued at $4,000.

Pool Association Card Party Great Success

The card party held Friday, May 16, by the Hawthorne Swimming Pool Association was a great success. A party of Roosevelt School students gave an original and musical show, "Wagon Wheels," at the annual spring concert. The program was created by Mrs. Josephine K. Hutterbach, music instructor, Mrs. Shirley Martin and Miss Alice Duryea. The cast of 54 students selected for the musical studies of the school.

Still the board president at the time, Mrs. Hutterbach said the card party cost increase per $100 in valuations, second it will cost $25 a year on each tax bill.

At the time of the card party, the figures are not known. We don't think their quote as correct. We don't think the statement is true. The statement is that have come from the Board of Education of Alameda County.

Holds Monthly Meeting

New Officers of Mother's Group Are Announced

New officers for St. Anthony's Mothers' group were elected at the annual meeting held on Monday, June 2, at the Municipal Building, at 8:30 p.m.

Participants in the contest, sponsored by the National Public Information Office for Civil Defense (NAPHOC), will compete for an array of luxury prizes including a Philco Phonograph Console II set with AM-PM radio, and a new color television set.

The contest was presented by Sister M. Edwards, principal sponsor of the group and its question and answer period.

Mrs. Robert Scheldorf, membership chairman, announced the winners of the contest. The grand prize went to the attendance banner, and the prizes for the month. Mr. John Beckes won the door prize.

Jr. High School Split Sessions

They have made no effort to explain the reason for the overestimate in the Rutgers Survey for the first year.

They haven't thought out very clearly what this expenditure will do to the financial program in Hawthorne.

They haven't given one very important segment of our population any consideration as far as their taxes are concerned. We speak now of our older neighbors. They are the ones who have carried the burden of the schools, of the sewer system of our town.

They haven't thought out very clearly what this expenditure will to carry another heavy financial burden when in many cases they can't afford it.

We'll point out another unfair advantage when the Board in going on split sessions was timed very nicely with the Junior High School election.

They could have waited until they saw the entire picture as to what the school population would be in August and then made their announcement but they took a course which we believe was intended to literally scare these parents into supporting the Junior High School proposal.

We challenge them to tell us that isn't it a fact that with a little planning by the school superintendent and with the use of two buses that children could be transported to schools having smaller classes thus avoiding overcrowding in the system.

On good authority we know that a plan was presented to the board only recently that would have relieved the overcrowding by the use of buses but it seems that the Board of Education felt that it couldn't be accomplished.

Why not? The Board is transferring children from the Roosevelt district to the Washington School and the plan has worked out all right for three or four years.

In conclusion we state that we are not happy in our opposition to the Junior High School plan. But we cannot all jolly by and see the town burdened with a debt of almost $2 million when the need for this school is questionable.

We urge the people of the town to study very thoroughly the school program. Assuming that the Junior High School proposal and as which we are sure will not, is their plan in the making to spend any money to improve the conditions which they speak of in the High School. Have they told the people what this will cost. Will it be another million dollars. They should prepare us now so that we can further study this proposal.

Is this a part of the program Jersey State Employment Service instituted by the Citizens Committee for Education which only H. Platter has announced. The last year proposed a $2 million office response Monday morning.

Let the Board of Education tell us that it is not.

We are told through the public jobs. Some are seeking full-time employment but others are only interested in summer work because they intend to enter college this fall.

Many of the students who intend to enter the labor market for the first time on a permanent basis have been given the agency's tests in cooperation with the local high schools.

These tests measure general learning ability, and verbal, spatial, form perception, motor coordination, clerical, numerical, finger and manual dexterity in the employee's plant possess.

Dr. Platter said that arrangements to interview students interested in full-time or seasonal work can be made by telephoning his office at MUberny 4-6098.

One advantage of these tests to employers is that they indicate qualities who have the same degree of aptitudes successful employees in the employer's plant possess.
