Borough Commissioners Election Tuesday May 11

Rhodes Agency Responds to Charge      Englehardt Is Not Endorsing Mele      Dominic Mele Answers Terrizzi      Macfarlan Urges Vote for the Team

Dominic Mele, independent candidate for Commissioner, recently charged the incumbent commissioners with giving insurance business to only one agent, Raymond Rhodes, president of the Rhodes Agency, Inc. responded to that criticism with the following statement:

"By his charge that there is only one agent being given the Borough business without competitive bidding, Mr. Mele apparently wants to bring this Agency into a political campaign."

Mr. Mele decided not to face the incumbent commissioners in a "face to face" debate but, chose instead, to issue a circular with some of his views. I don't intend to engage in any running political battle with him. I'm sure if he makes any worthwhile criticism in his campaign, the incumbent commissioners will respond appropriately. My concern with his statement on insurance is simply to protect the integrity of the Rhodes Agency and all of its owners and staff, which in any opinion Mr. Mele attempts to discredit.

The best way to refute groundless charges and to present the truth is simply to document the irrefutable facts. As far back as I can remember, the Hawthorne Commissioners (no matter who they were) have always tried whenever possible, to do business in Hawthorne with Hawthorne businessmen.

Their only concern was to get value for any tax dollar they expended. Mr. Mele supported that policy for many years as a Board of Education Commissioner, sometimes as Chairman of the Insurance Committee.

Presently, twelve other agencies in the Borough of Hawthorne share in a portion of the commissions earned from Borough insurance business. Should Mr. Mele get this information before he suggests that only one agent is profiting from Borough business?

The reason for the "one agent" concept is a simple and fundamental one. Any sound and responsible insurance or business consultant will recommend that one office be held accountable for the insurance needs of a company or a town. To divide an insurance portfolio is to fragment responsibility. No one then truly becomes responsible for the entire program. This generally produces a slight loss for those who administer a company or municipal program and chaos for the Commissioners of a town or the company officers. The concept has nothing to do with commissions. Mr. Mele knows this and has supported the concept for years.

So far as bidding is concerned, Mr. Mele is well aware that this office has obtained competitive bids from the over 15 companies it represents. We do it as part of our responsible service to the municipality to make certain it gets value for every premium dollar.

Any professional agent will tell Mr. Mele, if he would only try to find out, that insurance for municipalities and Boards of Education has become more and more expensive and difficult to obtain. We can point with pride to the fact that we continue to provide "insured" coverage for both the municipality and the Board of Education, producing a minimum 20% savings in each case over the cost of individual policies.

While we have served as the Broker of Record in Hawthorne, we have initiated without compensation, two separate programs to lower the fire insurance rates for the entire town. This significantly benefited the people of Hawthorne, its business and its industry.

Very simply, the Commissioners of Hawthorne made a judgment that this office had the staff, the underwriting facilities and the professional backing to best equipped to handle the complexities of a municipal insurance program. Our service has stood on its record. In all of the years we have served as Hawthorne's Broker of Record, I know of no instance of valid criticism regarding either service or cost brought before the Borough Commissioners.

We intend to continue that service to Hawthorne, and to Mr. Mele whom we number among our insured, for as long as we are asked.

No business, including the Rhodes Agency, should be carelessly entrusted in a political campaign, particularly when it has reputationally dis-charged its responsibility to its clients. If Mr. Mele has facts to indicate otherwise he ought to present them to those from whom he is seeking support. To simply make statements or ask questions designed to injure or malign a firm's reputation, is indefensible, and hardly reflects credit upon men who so act.

Paul Englehardt, President of the Board of Education, announced yesterday that he is not backing school trustee Dominic Mele for Borough Commissioner.

"Since Mr. Mele announced his candidacy for Borough Commissioner, it has been rumored around town that he has my endorsement. Whether this thinking was a carry over from February's School Board race or deliberately circulated in an attempt to mislead some people is at this point immaterial. However, I feel that those who have supported me for the past four years are entitled to know why I supported Mr. Mele for school board commissioner and where I stand in this up coming commissioner election.

"In my opinion, the borough elementary schools have been grossly neglected for the past ten years because the Board of Education, or the citizens wanted this, but because of a strong difference of opinion as to which concept of education was best for Hawthorne. These in favor of a new school had had an opportunity to present two referendums, each defeated by a large majority. In order to offer the public a choice, it became obvious that the makeup of the Board had to be changed. With this thought in mind, I carefully listened to all of the candidates and publicly endorsed the three who were in favor of additional. All three were elected and I'm happy to report that an elementary school expansion program (additions) is well on its way. This is the only reason I endorsed Mr. Mele.

I won't belabor the subject of the Commissioner election. However, having been associated with Mr. Mele a few years on the school board, I do not believe he will be able to spend the time necessary to research and study any real Borough problems. I chaired the committee on teacher negotiations last year, of which Mr. Mele was a member. Had he spent nearly as many hours as I did, negotiating with the teachers' union, he would have learned first hand that an enviable community this is and having fostered this, he hopefully would not have allowed his public relations people to distribute to many half truths throughout the borough.

I'm for change for the better, not just for the sake of change. When I ask myself whether or not a vote for Mele would mean a chance for the better, the answer comes up definitely NO."

Dominic Mele this week issued the following release: "In a recent newspaper article submitted by Mr. Terrizzi, a campaign manager of the Incumbent Commissioners and all in a member of the Board of Education, he asked the question, 'How can one person satisfactorily handle two public offices?' I would like to inform Mr. Terrizzi that this question was answered when it was proposed to me by my worthy opponents. I sincerely hope this was answered by Mr. Terrizzi and not merely a publicity scheme."

Since Mr. Terrizzi felt it appropriate to pose a question to me, I would like to put a question to Mr. Terrizzi. "How are you fulfilling your obligation to the Board of Education and as the same time supervising a political campaign? I would like to ask Mr. Terrizzi, 'How are you going to make independent decisions, as a member of the Board of Education, when you have obviously relinquished your independence for the sake of political activities?'"

I'm for change for the better, not just for the sake of change. When I ask myself whether or not a vote for Mele would mean a chance for the better, the answer comes up definitely NO."

A fellow School Board member, who incidentally teamed with me in a recent election, found it necessary to attack me in the newspapers, rather than to personally confront me with any legitimate questions he might have.

Do you feel, Mr. Terrizzi, that Mayor Bay can fulfill his dual role as a Hawthorne Borough Commissioner while at the same time being a member of the Pasatic Valley Sewerage Commission?

Do you know how much Mayor Bay gets paid for his position on the Sewerage Commission? As you know, I receive no pay for my position on the Board of Education. How many hours a week does Mayor Bay spend on his job as Pasatic County Sewerage Commissioner?

Do you feel, Mr. Terrizzi, that Mayor Bay was capable of holding the dual role a number of years ago, as Pasatic County Freeholder and Hawthorne Borough Commissioner?

If he was capable of holding both positions, I surely am capable of performing my duties as a Board of Education member and Borough Commissioner. For your information, I made certain pledges to the people of the Lincoln School which I intend to keep.

Finally, Mr. Terrizzi, don't you think it would have been appropriate for you to inform the people of your position as campaign coordinator for Bay, Brokaw and Ploetz? Perhaps you would want the public to think your article was not politically motivated.

Malcolm V. Macfarlan, campaign manager for the Mayor Bay team, today asked the voters of Hawthorne to seriously consider whether Dominic Mele has the ability to go to Washington or Trenton and to convincingly talk for federal and state financial aid for the borough of Hawthorne.

"Mr. Mele runs a friendly neighborhood butcher shop in Hawthorne, but is he well versed enough to move into the big leagues?" Macfarlan asked.

The campaign manager, whose father was the first mayor of Hawthorne, under the Commission Form of Government, pointed out that hundreds of thousands of dollars in federal and state aid have come to Hawthorne, lessening the local tax burden, because of the efforts of Mayor Louis Bay II and his team.

"A town literally has to fight for federal and state funds because there are always professional lobbyists from other municipalities who are doing the same," Macfarlan continued. "Could Mr. Mele, who refused to debate the incumbent candidates, put up a convincing debate for federal and state aid?"

Macfarlan said that Mayor Bay and his running mates, David Flood and Arthur Brokaw, are all professionals whose daily duties in their private lives "require them to communicate and communicate well."

"A handshake is not enough to convince high level state and federal officials that Hawthorne should get priority attention," Macfarlan continued. "Strenuous and convincing arguments must be presented."

Macfarlan emphasized that teamwork is important in obtaining federal and state aid. "The importance of teamwork in Hawthorne is that while Mayor Bay, Commissioners Flood and Brokaw may sometimes disagree with each other they are reasonable and experienced enough men to intelligently resolve their differences for the best interest of Hawthorne."

Macfarlan said, "This is very much unlike some of the other municipalities we read about in our newspapers where the town fathers are constantly at each other's throats and no one gains by it."

Macfarlan contended that Mele's campaign has been one of "inference and innuendo" and that the opposition candidate has not offered one concrete criticism of the present administration.

"Mr. Mele can now only resort to last minute desperate tactics that are typical of a candidate who realizes the other have seen through his sly campaign conceived, directed and produced by his Ridgewood public relations firm and his campaign manager who is a lawyer," Macfarlan stated.

"As a longtime resident of Hawthorne, I am proud of this town and its reputation," Macfarlan said. "Let's not have it measured all over the newspaper by a commissioner whose main aim in life is personal aggrandizement and power. Let's elect the Mayor Bay team by a huge margin for the benefit of Hawthorne and, most of all, for its residents."

County May Give Park to Boro

The Pasatic County Park Commission is considering a plan to give the Goffe Brook Park to the Borough of Hawthorne.

The Commission met Friday night in a special session on at which a proposal set forth by Frank X. Graves was approved to give Goffe Brook Park to Hawthorne and also to give Wendell Brook Park and Playground to Cliffon.

Opposition to the proposal was voiced from Park Commissioner Sam Cohen who questioned whether the county had a legal right to give away property.

Parks Council William Culler was instructed to consult N. J. Statutes to determine whether the lands can be legally given away.

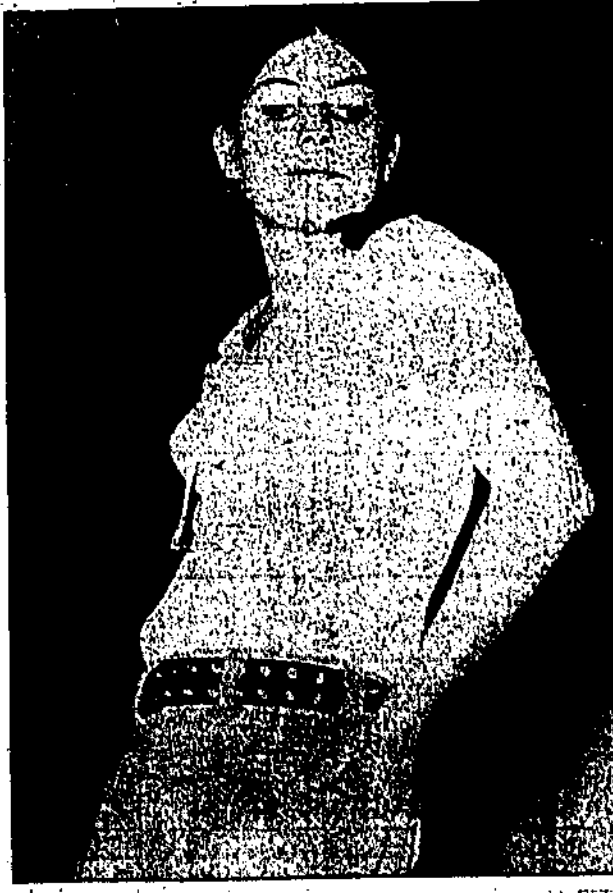

Another question to be considered is whether town officials would accept the parklands and making whatever renovations and repairs are necessary. The reason for considering giving Goffe Brook Park to the Borough, according to Commissioner Frank X. Graves is that the County "is bogged down with trivia in dealing with our smaller parks."

Graves added that the Park Commission had just received a federal grant of $152,507 and planning development of Rife Camp Park and the 225-acre Sand Gap tract in West Milford.

"Let's concentrate on these major parks instead of being involved in smaller parks," Graves said.

Goffe Brook Park contains 185 acres and contains a picnic area, a small playground, a pond, three baseball diamonds, which are used by the Hawthorne Boys Clubhouse in a Revolutionary War period building.

Many area residents use the park for winter sports such as ice skating and sliding.

Police Lt. Alfred Scott and Boston Police Officer James J. Pylargus handled the police investigation.

All four fire company representatives attended under the direction of Fire Chief James Aldi, Jr. The chief reported that the fire was confined to the chair, but that the apartment contained heavy smoke damage and little water damage.

At 8:15 a.m. police were notified that the Eckman and Terry Kings, age 1 and 2, had been complaining of stomach pains and were vomiting. The children live on the first floor of the home where the fire occurred.

The children were taken to Valley Hospital by their parents, where they were treated for smoke inhalation and released.

SMALL BUSINESS ADVISOR

ARE YOU INVITING BURGLED?

Ronald J. O'Neil, ACE Counselor, Small Business Administration, says that thousands of small businesses are being burgled every year by burglars. Most of these could have been prevented or the losses greatly reduced with some simple common-sense precautions. What are you doing to prevent your business from becoming another victim?

According to the FBI, burglary accounts for more than 40 percent of all serious crime, and the losses in more than half these cases are small businesses. This Federal report states that in most cases the burglar is not a professional thief, but a person who is looking for a quick profit. Burglary is defined as unlawful entry with or without force to commit a theft. And because of lack of evidence and the fact that most burglars are not repeat offenders, it is almost impossible to catch them. However, small business owners can afford to invest common burglar-proofing measures.

According to the May issue of The Journal of Insurance Information, "A sturdy lock can often completely discourage a timid burglar and at least make a bold one work harder." Locks that automatically catch when the door closes are easy prey for the burglar. By slipping a piece of cardboard between the edge of the door and the jamb, this type of lock can be easily opened. To really frustrate a burglar, install a double-cylinder dead lock. This requires a key to enter the door from either side, and is particularly effective in making it difficult for a burglar hidden in a building to get out.

In addition to strong locks on your doors, a bar across the inside of the rear door has been found to be an unsatisfactory or other openings through which a thief might try to enter.

The most obvious means of burglar protection is a burglar alarm. Yet the New York City Police Department found that only 36.1 percent of commercial sites had burglar alarm systems at the time they were burglarized, and a surprising 45.6 percent of these systems failed to work!

For the best protection, use the latest burglar alarm. This type of alarm goes off at the local police station or at an independent protection agency. The alarm is unknown to the burglar who keeps working, assured by the silence.

If you find this silent alarm too expensive, then the cheaper local alarm might be for you. This is the ordinary type of alarm which alerts the burglar while also waking up the entire neighborhood. It is better than no alarm at all and often costs less in securing off the thief before he's completed his work.

What about the thief who enters your business despite the locks, bars, alarms and lights? What can you do to slow his progress or perhaps discourage him completely? One method used to frustrate thieves is to place a chain of electrical appliances together. Bitter or bicyclic or other high-risk items can easily be chained together. Many clothing store owners alternate the direction in which the burglar can place on the rack. This makes it impossible for a thief to grab a large quantity of merchandise off the rack with one sweep.

Back to Office Brush Up Needed to Return to Work

With the ever-increasing cost of living, many women who left office jobs 5 and 10 years ago are reluctant to return to work as office tempers to help bolster the family income. But there's a happy news according to a leading temporary help firm. Many of these women are afraid to return because they lack confidence.

The Gile, a nationwide temporary help agency of Detroit, Mich., recently polled the opinions of its 24 offices located throughout the country to find out if indeed women were hesitant about returning to work, and for one reason, that would help build the family income.

The majority of women confirmed that many of their clients were unsure. As the firm's president, Mr. J. J. Gile, said, "Many women worry about their ability to do the job, and are reluctant about the prospect of going from company to company for a job." Another said, "Women who were once highly qualified fear that they will be inadequate on a new job, and make an error when they begin competing again." Others stated lack of confidence and "rusty office skills" as reasons many women are hesitant about returning.

What can a woman do to help prepare herself?

All managers answered that she should first brush up on her office skills, particularly typing and shorthand. Most even have built courses where office workers are taught the "Mam Dot" management office firm, including Dot, offer free brush-up courses on the latest office machines and equipment.

A positive attitude was stressed by many of the office managers. The Gile, S. C. manager volunteered, "It would help if a woman got a new attitude and bought an attractive new suit to wear to job interviews or temporary help assignments." She added, "If you look good, you'll feel good. It's all in the attitude."

Another manager suggested that women should try for "less demanding jobs at first, such as a receptionist or general office worker, until they become reacquainted with today's business environment." She added, "As confidence returns, usually fairly soon, she can take on more demanding and better-paid work."

Other suggestions offered were that temporary office assignments for the ease of your children; get to know your way around town so you'll be on time for assignments; be mentally prepared to take on a challenge, and be cheerful.

Most of the managers polled said that temporary office work offers the woman wishing to return to work one of the best means. "She can select her own hours, has variety in job assignments, and is free from the day-day commitment of a permanent job," one manager said.

All agreed that the first step is the hardest, but, as the manager of the firm's Washington, D.C. office said, "All they need is that first push!"

New Jersey Bell points out a wonderful gadget for reducing phone bills.

Your index finger.

Use it to dial all out-of-state station calls. And no matter what other state you call (except faraway Alaska and Hawaii), it will always cost less than if you had placed the call through an operator. Especially on week-ends and evenings when the savings are especially big. For example, during week-end bargain-calling times, a 3-minute, coast-to-coast station call costs $1.40 plus tax - if you use the services of an operator. But the same call is reduced even more - why down to just 75¢ plus tax - if you dial it yourself without the services of an operator.

So, remember to dial your own station calls without an operator. And fight inflation with just one finger.

Try it now. Call 1-800-NEW JERSEY, and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Mayor Bay Endorses School Additions At Borough Reorganization Meeting

Mayor Louis Bay II publicly endorsed the school expansion, which will go on referendum on June 29, at Tuesday's reorganization meeting of the Hawthorne Board of Commissioners.

Mayor Louis Bay II publicly endorsed the school expansion, which will go on referendum on June 29, at Tuesday's reorganization meeting of the Hawthorne Board of Commissioners.

The mayor emphasized co-operation between the Commissioners and the Board of Education on the elementary school situation. "Reports to the Lincoln School are urgent," Bay stated, "and there are requirements in each and every school."

He added that there is a desire for an overall program to alleviate conditions in all the schools, but the emergent part is Lincoln School.

"There is a need to give thought to the welfare of the children in this borough."

As a good progressive town, we want the schools shaped up," he continued, urging residents to approve the planned expansion program.

Three windows would be open from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 3 to 5 p.m. If this can be guaranteed, there would be an outpouring of service to the customers," the mayor said.

The postmaster said that he could not give such a guarantee. He said that there would post only two windows open and that at all times the customer would be able to get a stamp or a letter.

Merchants Discuss Post Office With Postmaster Frank Murphy

Proposed changes in the Hawthorne Post Office were discussed Tuesday evening by Postmaster Frank Murphy and the Diamond Bridge Merchants' Association.

Proposed changes in the Hawthorne Post Office were discussed Tuesday evening by Postmaster Frank Murphy and the Diamond Bridge Merchants' Association.

Stating that so much misinformation was being spread about Mr. Murphy's proposed changes, he explained the following changes: nine to ten clerks would be transferred from the Hawthorne branch to the Paterson branch; the mail picked up in Hawthorne would be taken to Paterson to be sorted; and the mail would be delivered in Hawthorne by the Paterson branch.

That meant that Hawthorne mail would be processed in the Paterson Post Office each night after 3:30 p.m. and returned here in the morning, all routed for the carrier.

Presently mail that is dropped in the post office after 3:30 p.m. sits here until the next morning.

Mr. Murphy said that two windows, possibly three, would be open in the Hawthorne office each day.

"The merchants expressed concern over Hawthorne losing its identity of having a post office and objected to the fact that fewer people would be coming down to Diamond Bridge Avenue to use the post office and the business would suffer."

Mr. Al Greenstein, president of the Merchants' Association, questioned whether service in the post office would be impaired by the cut in three clerks.

Murphy answered that there would be no curtailment of service, due to the fact that there are only three windows at the present time.

Mayor Bay asked Murphy if he could guarantee that the

Kiwana Korner

From 98 to 175 pounds, and that due to the numerous weight divisions it is possible for boys, not equipped for football or basketball to participate in a competitive contact sport. As a result, wrestling is rapidly catching on and we are most that Hawthorne High School ranks high in the wrestling in New Jersey. Our thanks to Mr. El Ryan, program chairman for presenting Mr. Puma Ladies night was a huge success. Almost 70 Kiwanians and their most were in attendance and the dinner and show were great. Mrs. Nelson Struck and Fred Van are to be congratulated for making facilities arrangements.

Mr. Puma Stallman announced that his Key Club at the High School would be involved in a "clean-up" of the school grounds on Thursday, May 27th. In this day and age it's a pleasure to see young people who really care. These young Key Clubbers don't just say it, they do it, and Mr. Stallman and his group are to be congratulated.

AUTO RACING SCENE

By HANK NAGELHOUT

For the second time this season, Carl Van Horn, Jr. of George Vander Vliet, No. 28 from North Haledon, wound up the winner in modified action Saturday night at Orange County Fair Speedway, Middletown, N. J. He had a fairly easy win as he bested Bobby Matzuda by about half a lap. Third went to Danny Mitchell, followed by Pat Patterson, Jack Zukowski and Rich Earick. The semi late models provided plenty of action for local drivers. Russ Myers and Jimmy Tate, both of Hawthorne, won their heat races. The feature race, won by Brian DeBols, saw Tate taking sixth with Myers having mechanical problems forcing him out. Another Hawthorne driver, Ted Wilkins, driving in the late model feature found himself a splat victim, ending up in the drainage ditch in the second turn. He escaped uninjured but a bit soggy. The limited sportsman feature was won by Nino Martello.

At Wall Stadium Saturday night Ed Goble, a two feature winner last year, won the feature for the limited sportsman stock race. Three quarter mile action saw Tony Roadi win the feature event for the third straight time this year. He was followed across the finish line by Billy Hughes and Doug Craig. His race from Wall this week is that the modified sportsman race will be back in action Saturday night, after missing the first four weeks of the season. To coincide with the modified this Saturday night, there will be limited sportsman stock and the A.R.I.C. Midgets, making their first appearance of the year. The show on Saturday night will start at 7:30, rather than 8:30 due to the 30-lap feature for the night. In addition to Saturday night racing, a full modified sportsman and limited sportsman stock car race will be presented Monday night at 7 p.m.

At Newark, Pa., Sunday afternoon 1971 Mike Grues of Somerset won the modified feature race. He bested Rich Earick, Roy Parel, Jack Kuns, Jr., Joseph Brochert, Frank Schender, Next Sunday racing goes to a night time schedule beginning with a 100-lap feature for the modified on the 1.4 mile track. This event has already drawn 50 entries. No handicapping will be done for the property and all starting positions in the heats and feature will be drawn from a hat, allowing each driver an opportunity to pick a top starting spot.

The winners will move on to the district competition to be held on the weekend of June 5-6.

LFI League Standings

After the first four weeks of the season and many rainouts, this is how the leagues begin to shape up. There are only two unbeaten teams in all four leagues and they are the Diamond Liqueur in the Midget Division and Van Orden's Road Race in the Girls' Softball Division. Two other teams hit the dust before press time. Rhodes Agency was beaten by previous unbeaten Hawthorne E. A. 5 & 10 and then Hawthorne Diner turned the tables on Hawthorne E. A. by a score of 15-7.
