Who Runs America?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The job of running America is no longer the exclusive domain of the President or the Congress. You and the man next door are now sharing this responsibility.

The purpose of this campaign is to raise public awareness of the role that citizens play in managing the nation's affairs. By engaging in activities such as voting, writing letters to elected officials, and participating in community events, you can become an active part of the democratic process.
