The Time - October, 1968

October is a pleasant month, one of the few in the New England climate... the favored.

It is a month when novelties are pulled off the store shelves. The social season is in full swing with a flourish.

We have started the last of our own new model toys. The next time they are drooling, we'll be able to offer them another wonderful year of seasonal enjoyment.

November will be spent in the yard and in the garden. Lumber sales are at their peak, as are building material sales.

Newspaper advertisements are a good bet for anyone interested in a new model toy.

Democrats Salute Canfield

"We in the New Professional Movement are not, as some critics have charged us, an organization of activists. We are a movement that seeks to bring about a new era of leadership in American politics. We are committed to the principles of liberal democracy. Our goal is to create a more just and equitable society for all our citizens."
