AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE FROM YOUR PHARMACIST

PRESCRIPTION PRICING RECENTLY HAS BEEN IN THE LIMELIGHT

Certain pharmacies, using newspaper and direct mail advertising, would lead individuals to believe that they have instituted a "New Pricing Policy on Medications." Well, here are the real facts!

It has been the custom over the years in all ethical pharmacies to give special consideration to the patient on long term medication for chronic illness. By eliminating the need for frequent refills, medication dispensed in larger quantities allow the pharmacist to give the individual lower prices when such quantities are authorized by the physician.

If the physician feels that the medication you are using will be the drug of choice for you for a prolonged period of time, he will then prescribe the larger amounts of medicine to be dispensed by the individual pharmacy of your choice.

Any of the pharmacies listed below will be happy to continue to supply the person needing quantity medication at the best price possible.
