

Chief Lauds Safety Campaign; Offers Pledge For Drivers

Police Chief Ryan Vandervalk yesterday lauded the civic-minded firms of Hawthorne which sponsored the traffic safety campaign appearing currently in the Hawthorne Press.

Chief Vandervalk stated, "Campaigns of this type aid tremendously in helping carry the message to the driving public. These promotions are important additions to the program of traffic safety carried by the police department."

The chief asked the motorists to take a four-point pledge to reduce traffic accidents around schools. "We have been fortunate in that we haven't had a traffic death in the past four years," he said, "but we must maintain our vigilance to keep the good record."

The four-point pledge the chief asks motorists to take is as follows:

POINT ONE: "I WILL DRIVE SLOWLY."

"When in the vicinity of schools, I will keep within the speed limit—much less than that. I will be always ready to STOP in a flash—for that youngster who may dart from behind a parked car, or the unpredictable kid on his bicycle. I will execute all traffic hand-signals."

POINT TWO: "I WILL OBSERVE ALL SIGNS."

"I will heed signs that warn me where to-and-fro school traffic is heaviest. Before coming to a crosswalk or safety cone—I will give the proper hand signal, and if children are about to cross, come to a full STOP."

POINT THREE: "I WILL NOTE THE TIME OF DAY."

"I will be doubly alert during the hours when school children are on the streets. Before, during, and after school hours, I will be alert for these peak periods will find me ever-vigilant—and prepared. In bad weather, I will guard against traffic 'unforeseeables.'"

POINT FOUR: "I WILL KEEP MY CAR TIGHT-TO-TOE."

"No matter how willing I am, I'll always remember that my car could be weak—just at the crucial moment. I will not handle the wheel unless I am certain that my car is in first-rate mechanical shape. I will have it checked and inspected, regularly, to be sure."

The chief further stated that as soon as school opens next week, the police department will again (Continued on Page 8)

Sister Kenny Drive Now In Full Swing

With Governor Robert B. Meyner as honorary chairman, the annual Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation fund appeal is now "Year" in full swing in New Jersey. Many of the volunteer workers are assisting in the campaign. The goal for the state is $250,000.

Among those serving as community and county chairmen are municipal executives, leaders in business and industry, and in the professions.

More volunteers are needed. Chairman reported that if a day or more could not be given, in hour's solicitation in a volunteer's immediate neighborhood would be gratefully welcomed.

HELPS THE COMMUNITY! WHAT HELPS LABOR,

We salute the working men and women of this area and pay particular tribute to your efforts on behalf of the progress of this community, and the nation. By work and action, thought and deed, you are the foundation of our community life. The dollars you earn here and the dollars you spend here, help the growth of this community, and contribute to the prosperity of all. So, let's march on to greater progress and achievement, hand in hand with LABOR.

Just A Wheel

It's just a wheel. A steering wheel. And you're my captain. Behind me you're the lord and master of a miracle. You can make me take the kids to school. You can turn me down the sunny road toward town. With me you can guide your goods to the market place. . . you can rush the sick to be healed. . . you can go in minutes to places hours away. You can do magic. . .

Yet, in the blink of an eye, in the tick of your watch, I can turn deadly killer. I can snuff out the life of a kid full of life—maybe your kid. I can twist a smile into tears. I can wreck and cripple and destroy. I can deal out death like the plague. And I'm no respecter of persons. A child, a grandmother, even you, my friend. . . it's all the same to me.

I'm sensitive. I respond to the hands you give me. Give me calm hands, steady hands, careful hands. . . and I'm your friend. But give me unsteady hands, fussy-minded hands, reckless hands. . . then I'm your enemy, a menace to the life, the happiness, the future of every person, every youngster, racing, walking, playing.

I was made for pleasure and usefulness. Keep me that way. I'm in your hands. I'm just a steering wheel. And you're my captain. Behind me you're the lord and master of a miracle. . . or a tragedy. It's up to you.

Bingo Commission Corrects Impression On Sale of Merchandise Raffle Tickets

NEWARK—The Bingo-Raffle Commission this week corrected an apparent widespread misconception that tickets for merchandise draw raffles could not be sold off the premises prior to the drawing.

A spokesman for the Commission stated:

"Where the prize is merchandise, the tickets for draw raffle may be sold as long as a year before the drawing and may be sold at any time and at any place in New Jersey in the State, which has adopted the Raffle Licensing Law. It is only where the prize is cash that the tickets may only be sold on the premises on the occasion of the drawing and the winner must be present (Continued on Page 8)

Bingo Commission Corrects Impression

The Commission further pointed out that before the adoption of the Raffles Licensing Law it was illegal to hold any type of a raffle.

Where merchandise prizes are donated, there is no limit on the amount of the prizes that an organization may offer. Where the prizes are purchased, there is an annual limitation of $5,000.00, or of one item of merchandise in excess of that amount. This limitation on the amount of the prizes is to insure that all qualified organizations, small as well as large, will be able to compete on an equal footing for the public's charity dollar.

In a recent hearing to revoke a license issued to St. John's Builders Club because of off-premise sale of tickets for a cash raffle, Victor S. Killebrew, Chairman, called upon all organizations to comply with the games of chance laws and particularly with the restrictions against the off-premise sale of tickets for a cash raffle. His request was directed to Father George M. Kander, Pastor of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Bayonne, New Jersey. After finding as a fact that St. John's Builders Club violated the law, the Commission revoked its license and declared it ineligible to apply for a license under the Raffles Licensing Law for one year.

How to Save Billions

A complete list of the commercial business which the federal government is engaged in and operator would take many pages. It is a major electric power producer, a major bank and lender. It is also involved in manufacturing, retailing, transportation, construction, and various service activities.

Congressmen of New Jersey are working to get the government out of business, and has introduced a bill to that end. And here, according to him, is what it will mean to the taxpayers if he succeeds: "We can reduce the national debt payments of at least $10,000,000,000, cut annual interest rates $500,000,000 or more and reduce the huge annual appropriations; now being made to finance these bureaucratic undertakings; and collect from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 annually in new federal income taxes." Mr. Osmar could have added that state and local government would also be given important new sources of tax revenue.

The best beginning for the government-out-of-business movement is probably electric power. No one can any longer argue that private, taxpayer enterprise is incapable of meeting our demands in this field. It has proved, time and time again, that it can successfully undertake any needed project, no matter how big or expensive. And the argument that it is necessary to put government in the business in order to get "cheap power" is completely untrue. Government power is "cheap" because, and only because it pays little or no taxes, and because the capital is provided by the taxpayers without interest.

HEALTH HINTS

THE GREEKS HAD A WORD FOR IT Occasionally we find that an cient truth has very timely contemporary application. Thus, many of us today in our search for health and happiness can benefit by considering the maxim which was the guiding principle of all art and artists in ancient Greece. "Nothing too much" was its message. Nothing too much put in or left out; nothing too much done or left undone...

For health, the rule is much the same—nothing too much of anything. Indulgence or denial, or working or lounging, or eating or fasting, or concern or disregard for self, just enough to maintain the nice balance of physical function which is health. The same standard applied to our intellectual, emotional, and spiritual states and activities would add much to the measure of our happiness...
The Greeks had a word for it. "Nothing too much." Perhaps you'll like the Greek expression in place in your vocabulary, and in your life.

The New Jersey Weekly Child Safety Quiz

What's Your Answer?

The question below was asked of 30,000 New Jersey parents recently in a study of parental attitudes toward situations which may prove hazardous to children.

The study was the joint effort of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers, the New Jersey State Safety Council, the New Jersey State Department of Health, and the National Safety Council.

It is endorsed by the Medical Society of New Jersey and the New Jersey Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

There is frequently more than one solution to a given situation. In the situations used in this series, however, there is one answer which would be the best of the four choices.

Check the answer which you think would be most likely to insure the safety of the child without being an unreasonable burden on the parent. Then compare your answer with the one given below.

1. "Saying 'no' while allowing him to touch something just wasn't enough to startle him so that he will understand the word 'no' when used as a warning."

2. "Saying 'no, no, hot!' to him and pulling him away each time he approached the heater, a stove, or a heated iron."

3. "Repeating the word 'hot!' and spanking him whenever he got dangerously near a hot object which may injure him."

4. "Demonstrating the meaning of the word 'hot' by quickly and then explaining."

5. "Saying 'hot' while allowing him to touch something just wasn't enough to startle him so that he will understand the word 'hot' when used as a warning."

Social Security Disproves Adage

By GEORGE H. ROWE

District Manager of the

Paterson Social Security Office

The person who said "Tomorrow never comes," has been proved wrong by the social security program. For today there are about six and a half million men, women and children who are living in the "tomorrow" which either they or their retired or deceased breadwinner helped to earn. They are the people over 65 and their dependents and the dependents of survivors of deceased workers who have become entitled to social security benefits.

The credits which these people or their loved ones earned in work under social security have entitled them to the right of receiving their retirement or survivors benefit check each month.

I mentioned these beneficiaries in my recent article when I said that the new law would enable them to receive their benefits.

I explained recently, this increase has been written into the new law which may increase your benefit amount if you are receiving old-age and survivors payments. Since does not permit you to go into detail about any of the new law, you may want to follow my later articles. You may learn about some other ways in which the new law will be advantageous to you.

There are other provisions in the new law which may increase your benefit amount if you are receiving old-age and survivors payments. Since does not permit you to go into detail about any of the new law, you may want to follow my later articles. You may learn about some other ways in which the new law will be advantageous to you.
