Borough resident found guilty on three separate counts

Edward Muriel Venojol Mateo of Hawthorne was fined $50 on each of three separate charges of wearing socks on his feet in public. The three fines were $150 each. A jury of four men and four women deliberated for an hour and a half before finding the defendant guilty on all three counts.

Under the gavel

Gina De Sordi

Borough University, a local legal expert, said the defendant, a 31-year-old man, had been found guilty of three counts of wearing socks in public. The defendant is accused of violating the Borough's ordinance, which prohibits the wearing of socks on the feet in public places.

The dimmer side

The judge ruled that the defendant had violated the ordinance by wearing socks on his feet in public. He further advised the defendant to obey the law and desist from any further violations.

We need to create respect for the American worker at every level of society.

People who enjoy their work and pride in spending many hours on the job is an indicator of a healthy workforce. The American dream is for the child to grow and graduate ready to enter the job market as a skilled worker. The problems with this vision are many: the work situation is often unfair, with low wages and long hours. The educational system is not providing the necessary skills to enter the workforce. We need to create respect for the American worker at every level of society. The American dream is for the child to grow and graduate ready to enter the job market as a skilled worker. Today's hysteria and the Moral Majority

The past week saw an outpouring of criticism from a variety of sources regarding the Moral Majority. Many are concerned about its potential impact on the American way of life. The Moral Majority, led by Jerry Falwell, has been accused of using scare tactics and misinformation to frighten Americans into believing that the country is in danger. It is important to remember that the Moral Majority is not a new phenomenon, but rather a resurgence of an older movement that has been around for many years. It is important to remain vigilant and not be swayed by fear-mongering tactics. The Moral Majority's tactics are not only harmful to the country, but also to the very principles it claims to represent. We need to stand firm against its efforts to divide and conquer.

HBO expands schedule to 24 hours a day

HBO has expanded its programming schedule to 24 hours a day. This news was met with mixed reactions, with some people excited about the increased availability of their favorite shows, while others were concerned about the impact on traditional broadcast networks. The expansion raises questions about the future of traditional television, and the role of cable and satellite providers in the industry. It remains to be seen how this change will affect the landscape of television.

Quick reaction to federal deregulation of interest rates planned by Citizens First National Bank

The bank plans no abrupt change, will increase interest rates 12 to 14 percent.

By Richard T. Vanek

When President Carter signed the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act into law last week, the 12- to 14-percent increase in interest rates was the first reaction of Citizens First National Bank. The bank plans no abrupt change, but it will increase interest rates.

Citizens First, like most banks, has a depository institution's interest rate policy. For example, the bank will increase interest rates 12 to 14 percent on all time deposits and checking accounts. The bank has received a recent deposit of $2 million from a corporation in the area.

"We're reacting to the federal deregulation," said Vanek. "We're going to increase our interest rates by 12 to 14 percent." The increase is designed to make the bank more competitive in the market.

The bank is trying to attract new deposits, Vanek said. "We're trying to get people to put their money in the bank. We're trying to attract new deposits." The bank is also trying to increase its market share in the area.

The return of book burning and some cause for concern

With the opening of school this year, the question of burning of "unnecessary" or "unwanted" books, or burning anything else that is unwanted by those who have the opportunity to destroy whatever it is, will, I fear, once again be on the minds of many people. Such acts, of course, are not new; however, there is cause for concern.

The reason for this concern is that books are not the only things that are being destroyed. There are other items, such as personal property and even human life, that are being destroyed in a similar manner. It is important to recognize that this is not a harmless act, but one that can have serious consequences.

It is important for us to remember that the destruction of books is not just an act of vandalism, but a form of censorship. There is a danger that this act could be used to suppress information or to limit access to knowledge.

In conclusion, it is important that we all work to prevent this kind of destruction. We should not only encourage the reading and use of books, but also promote the appreciation of literature and the importance of knowledge. Let us work together to ensure that books are not just burned, but cherished and protected.

North Haledon school board votes to oust its tax collector

By Chris M. Shafer
North Haledon - Last Wednesday, Board of Education members were weighing the pursuit of legal action against Harold C. Cole, former Tax Collector for the borough.

Edward A. DePinto, District Attorney, said the board is considering a lawsuit against Cole for allegedly defrauding the borough of $3,200 in 1981.

DePinto said he will file a complaint with the Essex County Prosecutor's Office against Cole for failure to hand over the necessary documents.

The board voted to pursue legal action against Cole and to seek reimbursement of the money.

Failure to file appropriate taxes is a criminal offense and could result in fines and imprisonment.

North Haledon police are also investigating the matter.

The board has already received a report from the Essex County Prosecutor's Office regarding the case.

DePinto said he will file the complaint as soon as possible.

The board also discussed the possibility of filing a lawsuit against Cole for legal fees incurred in the investigation.

Motorists deserve to be properly notified of Goffle Road detour

Motorists deserve to be properly notified of Goffle Road detour. It seems like this is a common issue in our area. I've personally been caught off guard several times when I've planned to drive through Goffle, only to find that the detour had not been properly advertised.

I propose that we request that the town consider implementing a more effective system for notifying motorists about detours. This could involve placing signs at key intersections, using electronic message boards, or even sending out notifications through social media channels.

In conclusion, proper notification is crucial for the smooth functioning of our transportation network. Let's work together to ensure that all motorists are adequately informed about any detours in our area.

Failure to pay the tab at the diner costs a Paterson man $150

An empty plate and an empty wallet didn't cut it for a Paterson man who failed to pay the $150 tab at the diner. He was fined $130 in a Hudson County Court.

A Logistics, Inc., a company that specializes in logistics and transportation, was involved in the incident. At 10:30 a.m. on August 25, the diner was closed for business. The man ordered a meal and ate it without paying. When he attempted to leave, the employee, who was the manager, told him to settle his bill or he would be called the police. The man refused and walked out of the diner. The employee then called the police.

The manager of the diner was quoted as saying, "I have never seen anything like this before. It's a real eyesore." The company's attorney, who was not available for comment, said the case was still pending.

The man was given a summons to appear in court on August 27.

Alternatives needed in dealing with increased garbage costs

After the administration of government agencies, highway protection of the streets and the borough headquarters is the next most important function of the borough. Officials who have been the police for the borough, have been charged with the care of the streets. All but one of the borough officials were removed from their positions by the borough commissioners. The Incumbent Borough commissioners would have had to fire a man for garbage collection that's nearly double the current rate. Now, the municipal budget of $25,000 will be paid to a private firm for garbage collection services.

Under the new plan, the borough would have to purchase a third of the collection at $52,000 per year, based on the comment

In defense of Dr. Jerry Falwell

Dear Editor,

I have read the letter to the editor, signed by several people, which appeared in the Northwest News on December 14, 1981. I must say that I found the letter to be a travesty of the truth.

The authors of the letter are attempting to discredit Dr. Jerry Falwell by maliciously attacking him in the press.

I am an ardent supporter of Dr. Falwell and his work, and I cannot allow this defamatory attack to go unanswered.

Sincerely,

Dear Sirs,

In support of the letter to the editor, signed by several people, which appeared in the Northwest News on December 14, 1981, I would like to add to the discussion.

I am not an ardent supporter of Dr. Falwell, but I support his work in the interest of the public. I believe that his work is important and that he is doing a good job.

Sasso seeks to ban conference attendance

By Dave De Novo

Sasso Replaces - President of Education President Joseph Sasso announced a resolution at the September 11th meeting, which he says removes from the conference attendance list. The resolution is expected to be discussed at the next meeting.

Sasso’s resolution aims to address concerns expressed by some members of the board regarding potential conflicts of interest or undue influence.

The resolution would remove any member who attends conferences that may have a financial or personal benefit for them.

Sasso said he was concerned about the potential for some members to attend conferences that could be perceived as placing personal or financial interests above the best interests of the district.

Sasso added that he had received some feedback from parents and community members who support the proposed ban.

He said he wanted to ensure that the board remains focused on the needs of the students and the district.

Sasso’s resolution is expected to be discussed at the next meeting.

Teachers at the Haledon Public Schools are planning to meet with a NJEA representative to discuss the contract negotiations. The meetings are scheduled for this week and next. Teachers have expressed concerns about the proposed contract and are seeking to ensure that their interests are represented. The NJEA has indicated that it is willing to negotiate in good faith and is committed to reaching a fair agreement.

Improvements sought at development

The Borough of Haledon is seeking public input on proposed improvements to a development project. The development is located near the Haledon Plaza and includes a new retail and commercial complex. The project is expected to bring new jobs and economic benefits to the community. The public is encouraged to attend the upcoming meeting to provide feedback and suggest ideas for the project.
